Mrs Dodds: We are working with both Tourism NI and Tourism Ireland to consider their financial requirements in light of the impact of Covid-19 on tourism both domestically and worldwide. Both organisations have commissioned research to determine people’s propensity to travel both within, and to Northern Ireland, and this will help to inform decisions.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for the Economy to outline what discussions are planned with HM Government in respect of the Belfast Regional City Deal and the challenges facing projects as a result of COVID-19.

(AQW 4770/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Belfast Region City Deal (BRCD), through its proposed investment of nearly £1 billion in economic infrastructure, particularly in innovation and digital, will be critical in providing an important platform to support the rebuilding of the economy.

The impact of COVID 19, whether through uncertainty around future visitor numbers or future private sector investment in innovation and R&D, has heightened the challenges in developing value for money projects. However, with the support of HM Government, I am determined to support the BRCD Programme Board and its partners to address those challenges. My officials are continuing to work closely with the Universities and individual councils helping them to update their proposals to take account of COVID 19. In addition, Tourism NI have commissioned new market research which will further inform business case development, while additional work has been commissioned to look at alignment between the various innovation projects. The Department is also working closely with the Digital Task and Finish Group, which has been established by the BRCD Programme Board to assess the short term needs arising from the COVID-19 crisis and how those can be addressed by the City Deal programme.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for the Economy (i) for an update on the progress of the new Energy Strategy for Northern Ireland; (ii) advise when she expects the strategy to be published; and (iii) whether the strategy will detail proposed individual energy Infrastructure projects.

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) There is a substantial work programme ongoing to review the inputs provided through the Call for Evidence, gather further evidence where needed and develop robust policy options for a new Energy Strategy. This is detailed further in the recently published Energy Strategy monthly e-Bulletin, available on my Department's website.

A summary report of responses received will be published by the end of June, alongside each individual response (with personal information redacted). This will also be accompanied by a report on the five workshops that took place in February to highlight the key themes emerging from these.

- (ii) I intend to publish an options paper on the Energy Strategy for consultation by the end of March 2021. Following the consultation, and subject to securing Executive approval, I would aim to have the final Strategy in place by November 2021.
- (iii) The Energy Strategy will provide strategic direction on the pathway to net zero emissions by 2050 and the policy levers needed to deliver this. However, government does not determine what individual energy infrastructure projects are brought forward, and this detail will therefore not be included within the Strategy.

Ms Sugden asked the Minister for the Economy, further to her announcement to allow the reopening of public houses, bars, restaurants, cafes and coffee shops from 3 July 2020, whether she will consider reopening of sports and social clubs with similar restrictions.

Mrs Dodds: This is not within the remit of my Department.

Mrs Cameron asked the Minister for the Economy, how much financial assistance has been received, or estimated final figure, in the South Antrim constituency for (i) the £10,000 Small Business Support Grant; and (ii) the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant.

Mrs Dodds: For the £10,000 Small Business Support Grant, £10,490,000 of financial support has been provided to the South Antrim Parliamentary Constituency as of 19 June 2020.

For the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant scheme, £2,745,000 of financial support has been provided to the South Antrim Parliamentary Constituency as of 18 June 2020.

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) the impact of the apprenticeship levy on businesses in Northern Ireland; (ii) the net impact of the levy on the block grant since 2017; and (iii) what action her Department has taken to expand access to apprenticeship funding for businesses.

(AQW 5050/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The introduction of the Apprenticeship Levy, by the UK Government in April 2017, was unwelcome news for Northern Ireland's public and private sector employers with a pay bill over £3m; however, as a fiscal policy, it is a reserved matter for the UK Parliament. Northern Ireland receives the Barnett Consequential from the levy, but this had no significant impact on the block grant.

Although the collection of the levy is a reserved matter, with no scope for derogation for Northern Ireland, the delivery of Apprenticeships is a devolved matter.

In Northern Ireland, Apprenticeships are delivered through my Department's ApprenticeshipsNI and Higher Level Apprenticeship programmes. My Department provides funding to support the cost of apprenticeship training for private sector employers regardless of whether they pay levy contributions.

The introduction of the Levy has not resulted in a reduction in the number of Apprenticeships in Northern Ireland. The Department's apprenticeship programmes continue to offer support to over 6,000 new apprentices every year. These are demand led programmes, and I encourage all employers to avail of these Programmes to drive forward business growth.

I am also focused on ensuring the apprenticeships system best meets the needs of employers and participants in Northern Ireland. The Strategic Advisory Forum and Sectoral Partnerships are working on an ongoing basis to ensure employers play a central role in policy development and curriculum design.

I have met with a number of employers and representative bodies to understand the impact of the levy and identify opportunities to enhance our apprenticeship system. I will consider the issues raised by NI employers, on the impact of the levy in NI, including policy changes around the current age related criteria, potential public sector apprenticeships, and how to improve transparency for employers on the level of funding support they are currently availing of through participation in our apprenticeship programmes. I am committed to ensuring that the apprenticeship programme continues to meet the demands of the NI economy and will press for additional funding should this be required.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the number of unsuccessful applicants to the £25,000 Business Grant Scheme for businesses in the retail, hospitality, tourism and leisure sectors, broken down per constituency. (AQW 5084/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: At 22 June 2020, a total of 709 applications to the £25,000 Retail Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant scheme had been rejected on the grounds of duplication or ineligibility. A breakdown of this figure by Parliamentary Constituency is published in the 'Operation of the scheme by council, constituency and sector' section on the following webpage - <https://www.nibusbusinessinfo.co.uk/content/coronavirus-£25000-retail-hospitality-tourism-and-leisure-grant>.

Here you can find information about the operation of the scheme to date. Based upon applications received, this details applications by decision status (paid/rejected/being processed), and provides a facility to interrogate by District Council area, Parliamentary Constituency, and supported sector. This data will be updated on a regular basis.

Mr Buckley asked the Minister for the Economy to outline the steps being taken to reopen each sector of the economy in a timely and efficient manner. (AQO 492/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Northern Ireland Executive has published its approach to Coronavirus decision making, which includes a five step pathway for us to emerge from lockdown in a safe and sustainable way.

Northern Ireland Assembly Commission

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission why it agreed to light Parliament Buildings yellow on 6 June 2020 in support of the Black Lives Matter movement while refusing similar recognition of European Day for Victims of Terrorism. (AQW 4653/17-22)

Mr Butler (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): Under the Assembly Commission's Special Lighting Policy, the normal procedure for anticipated occasions is that the Commission may grant permission for special lighting, subject to receiving a request that fulfils the criteria no later than four weeks before the date(s) on which special lighting is being sought.

In 2019, an application under this procedure to light Parliament Buildings on the European Day of Remembrance for Victims of Terrorism on 11 March 2019 was accepted and the Building was duly illuminated.

In 2020, an application was received to light Parliament Buildings in conjunction with a Member-sponsored event on Friday 6 March 2020 to mark the European Day of Remembrance for Victims of Terrorism, which was actually on Wednesday 11 March 2020. That application did not meet the criteria of the Special Lighting Policy and the Commission, although understanding and sympathising with the significance of the European Day, was unable to approve the request.

In exceptional circumstances, and in order to react to unpredictable circumstances and current events, the Special Lighting Policy allows the Commission to take a decision, upon referral by the Speaker, to illuminate Parliament Buildings to mark those exceptional circumstances. On Wednesday 3 June 2020, the Speaker received a request to light Parliament Buildings on Saturday 6 June in opposition to racism on a coordinated day of solidarity. The request was submitted by:

- North West Migrants Forum;
- African and Caribbean Support Organisation Northern Ireland;
- Horn of Africa People's Aid Northern Ireland;
- Ethnic Minority Sports Organisation Northern Ireland; and
- United Against Racism Belfast

The Speaker referred this to the Commission for decision and, while it was mindful of previous decisions, the Commission agreed by consensus, and in line with the policy, to accept the request.

Written Answers to Questions

The Executive Office

Mr Givan asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister how many commissioners from the Equality Commission worked on the Lee v Ashers Baking Company Ltd case in its duration.
(AQW 2087/17-22)

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill (The First Minister and deputy First Minister): The Equality Commission for Northern Ireland is a Non Departmental Public Body and as such this is a matter for it to answer. We have therefore asked the Chief Executive to respond to you directly on this matter.

Dr Archibald asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, in relation to contingency planning to respond to a coronavirus outbreak, whether she will give consideration to supporting low-paid workers and workers on zero-hours contracts, who may be adversely affected by the advice on self-isolation and have less access to sick leave or sick pay, many of whom have front line roles in the hospitality or health sector.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: We recognise the importance of this issue and we are aware that the Minister for Communities is currently giving consideration to it. As we understood you have tabled questions to her in similar terms she will be best placed to respond in the first instance.

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister pursuant to Section 28 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 what, if any, changes have been made to the Ministerial Code since the publication of New Decade, New Approach.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: No changes have been made to the Ministerial Code since the publication of New Decade, New Approach.

Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs when he plans to reopen public toilets in country parks and forest parks.

Mr Poots (The Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs): I authorised the re-opening of toilet facilities at DAERA owned forest and country parks from Monday 15 June 2020. Toilets at many of our parks re-opened on that date and having urgently completed further work at remaining sites, facilities are now operational at all DAERA Forest and Country Parks.

I opened these facilities as a further step to aid recovery and to provide a more complete experience for people visiting these fantastic outdoor venues. In doing so, I stressed the need for visitors to use the facilities responsibly and continue to play their part in reducing Covid-19 risks for everyone.

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs whether there will be adequate veterinary capacity to meet the demands for veterinary certification, supervision for goods and equine and pet animals moving from Britain from 01 January 2021.

Mr Poots: Responsibility for the certification for movements of goods and animals to Northern Ireland from Great Britain will rest with Animal and Plant Health Agency (APHA) in Great Britain. DAERA is focussed on delivering a Minimum Viable Product (MVP) to implement the elements of the Ireland / Northern Ireland Protocol (the Protocol) within its remit to ensure that the Department is operationally prepared by the end of December. This includes planning for appropriate resources to be able to conduct regulatory checks on such movements.

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs for an update on the £1.3 million that was announced in December 2019 for eight new agri-food research projects.

Mr Poots: Of the eight projects my Department announced in December 2019 it would be funding in collaboration with the Department of Agriculture, Food and the Marine (DAFM) in the Republic of Ireland, one has now commenced.

As these projects create research posts for early career scientists, there is typically a lead time on recruitment following commissioning before the project is resourced and able to commence. The Covid-19 pandemic has caused some disruptions in terms of workforce availability and the application of social distancing measures in the workplace. My Department has been working closely with our research organisations to monitor and mitigate these impacts and I am confident the remaining seven projects will commence as soon as is practicable.

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs whether he has conducted an assessment of the potential impact the new immigration system will have on the capacity of veterinary businesses.

Mr Poots: While the systems governing immigration into the United Kingdom are a reserved matter, I understand that the addition of veterinary surgeons to the Shortage Occupation List, as requested of the Migration Advisory Committee by the British Veterinary Association and Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, should make it easier, quicker and less costly for employers to hire nationals from non-European Economic Area countries for roles where there is a lack of suitably skilled workers within the resident labour market. I anticipate this will help ensure there is no impediment to the recruitment of veterinary graduates into local veterinary businesses, from outside the United Kingdom in response to the usual supply, demand and job-pricing mechanisms.

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (i) whether his Department has considered and prepared for a no deal scenario between the British Government and the EU; and (ii) how this would impact on (a) points of entry; and (b) sanitary and phytosanitary checks.

Mr Poots: DAERA is focussed on delivering a Minimum Viable Product (MVP) to implement the elements of the Ireland/Northern Ireland Protocol (the Protocol) within its remit to ensure that the Department is operationally prepared at the end of the Transition Period in relation to sanitary and phytosanitary checks (SPS). Planning for the MVP includes dealing with the possibility of addressing a non-negotiated agreement between the UK and the EU (i.e. no Free Trade Agreement) and the Protocol will come into force.

It will be important for the UK Government and the EU to work together to ensure that trade friction is minimised and that Northern Ireland businesses and consumers do not face unacceptable costs.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs, given the Government has said that, under the Protocol on Ireland/Northern Ireland, there need be no further infrastructure in Northern Ireland's ports, why is his Department continuing to prepare for the same.

(AQW 5091/17-22)

Mr Poots: The recent publication by the UKG of the Command Paper on the UK's Approach to the Northern Ireland Protocol sets out a four point delivery plan for the implementation of the Protocol. The paper confirms that UKG see no need to construct any new bespoke customs infrastructure in Northern Ireland. The paper also confirms that existing facilities and designations for the arrival of agri-food goods to ports and airports in Northern Ireland will be maintained, and some existing entry points for agri-food goods will be expanded to provide for proportionate additional controls.

Following the publication of the Command Paper, the Northern Ireland Executive has agreed my Department as the lead for the implementation of the sanitary and phytosanitary elements of the Protocol.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs to outline the basis of his assertion to the Assembly on 16 June that the absence of any infrastructure at ports would lead to a situation where all Northern Ireland goods had to be imported through the Republic of Ireland.

Mr Poots: The recent Command Paper on the UK's Approach to the Northern Ireland Protocol clearly stated that there will be a need to expand some existing entry points in Northern Ireland for agri-food goods to provide for proportionate additional controls.

To achieve this under the Protocol means having approved port facilities designated by the European Union which enable the continued importation of animal and plant products and live animals into Northern Ireland. My Department is working towards ensuring that this happens.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs whether there was ministerial approval for the letter of 12 June 2020 from the Director of Brexit Operational Readiness to Larne port proposing Larne as a Border Control Post, internal to the United Kingdom.

Mr Poots: The publication of the UK Government's command paper on 20 May 2020, provided the necessary clarification to proceed to implement the Northern Ireland Protocol. As the lead Department for the implementation of our obligations in relation to the Northern Ireland Protocol on Sanitary and Phytosanitary (SPS) checks, my officials have had engagement with port officials following initiation of the programme on 26 May. Since then DAERA officials have been working at pace to work to deliver a Minimum Viable Product (MVP) for process design, IT, trained staff and supporting facilities in an attempt to deliver first day operational readiness for SPS checks at Northern Ireland's Points of Entry (POE) by the end of December 2020.

In addition to meetings, site visits and Operational workshops, part of the process for agreeing the Points of Entry was correspondence between officials and Senior Port Authority Officials. That process does not require Ministerial approval, and I did not therefore have sight of the letter dated 12 June 2020 issued to Larne Port.

Department for Communities

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Communities for an update on when a community hall funding programme will be established through a culture and community fund.

(AQW 759/17-22)

Ms Hargey (The Minister for Communities): The "New Decade, New Approach" agreement includes a number of commitments made by the British Government to the restored Executive including a commitment to provide funding to establish a Culture and Community fund.

The British Government have an obligation to resource the commitments set out in the deal. I will continue to keep this under review.

Ms Mullan asked the Minister for Communities for an update on the proposed redevelopment of Daisyfield sports facilities in Derry.

(AQW 2162/17-22)

Ms Hargey: My Department is not responsible for the development of the Daisyfield Sports Facility. I understand that Derry City & Strabane Council has developed plans to redevelop the facility and that a Planning Application has recently been approved.

I have asked my officials to engage with Council officials to hear more about their plans for the redevelopment of the Daisyfield site and the timescales for delivering the project.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Communities, in regard to her appointment of a special adviser, (i) whether she independently chose her special adviser or an allocation was made by her party; (ii) how it was made known, and to whom, that she was seeking to appoint a special adviser; (iii) whether a pool of candidates was considered; (iv) if so, how many were within the pool; (v) how any pool of candidates was assembled; (vi) what were the essential and desirable criteria set for the job; (vii) by what process was the choice made; (viii) what notes and records were made and kept of the process; (ix) how fair employment obligations were met; (x) on what date(s) was the job offered and accepted; (xi) what was the contractual start date; and (xii) was the range of available salary discussed with the appointee, or was the job offered and accepted without knowledge of the likely salary.

Ms Hargey: My special advisor Ronan McGinley was appointed on 15 June 2020. The appointment of my special advisor is in line with the Code for the Appointment of Special Advisers agreed by the Executive and published by the Department of Finance on 20 January 2020. Ronan was previously appointed by Minister Hargey on 20 February 2020. Salary details were confirmed by the Department of Finance on 14 February 2020.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Communities what her Department can do to stop Personal Independence Payment appeals being held in courthouses.

Ms Hargey: The Minister of Justice and Minister Hargey were scheduled to meet to discuss a number of issues, including the use of court houses for benefit appeals, prior to the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. However, due to the impact of COVID-19 it was necessary to postpone the planned meeting, but we are aiming to reschedule this meeting in the near future.

Before any venue is confirmed as suitable for a benefit appeal tribunal hearing, The Appeals Service (TAS) completes a health and safety risk assessment of the location and facilities to determine its suitability. These will be reviewed against current Public Health Agency (PHA) guidelines when oral hearings are reconvened.

The use of court houses has allowed TAS to arrange more tribunal sessions and subsequently has helped reduce delay to appellants in securing a hearing date. On occasions where availability causes difficulties other venues may be deemed suitable for consideration following a risk assessment on facilities.

Mr Chambers asked the Minister for Communities whether her Department has any intention of allowing people who bought their house from the Northern Ireland Housing Executive to extend their lease with the Northern Ireland Housing Executive. (AQW 2786/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Housing Executive has advised that there is no provision in the statutory House Sales Scheme under which flats are sold to sitting tenants to enable them to extend the term of the leasehold or to buy out the freehold, or, alternatively, seek to purchase the building in which the flat is situated.

However Section 1 of the Leasehold (Enlargement and Extension) Act (Northern Ireland) 1971 confers upon persons to whom the section applies a general right to acquire a fee simple estate in land or to obtain an extension of the leasehold estate in land (on one occasion only) for a term of not more than 50 years.

Whilst the 1971 Act does provide the right to extend a Leasehold, this cannot be exercised at any time earlier than five years before the expiry of the Lease. As such none of the Housing Executive's flat leaseholders would, at this point in time, be approaching the last five years of their Lease to enable them to extend their leaseholds.

The Housing Executive acknowledges that concerns have been raised around the requirements of lending institutions and the diminishing leasehold terms on its sold flats.

This is an operational matter for the Housing Executive, and it has already held discussions with Land & Property Services (LPS) in the Department of Finance (DoF) who are responsible for the relevant legislation, around the nature and scale of the concerns and the available options to appropriately address these. The Housing Executive has advised that it will be meeting with LPS again shortly to seek to progress the matter.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for Communities (i) whether she will review the effectiveness of the Discretionary Support Service telephony service; (ii) how many personnel are dedicated to the team accepting telephone claims; (iii) how many applications have been serviced in each month since the service was launched; (iv) what is the average length of time a customer waits to have a call answered; and (v) to detail the length of time an average call or application takes to process the data. (AQW 2805/17-22)

Ms Hargey:

- (i) A review of the Discretionary Support telephony service is currently underway.
- (ii) There are 100 Finance Support telephony agents available to answer this range of calls and to answer enquiries.
- (iii) On average 6156 applications each month have been processed since Discretionary Support was introduced on 28 November 2016.
- (iv) The average length of time a person waited to have their call answered for the period 1 January – 28 February 2020 was 21 minutes.
- (v) On average, during the period 01 January to 28 February 2020, each person spent 46 minutes on the phone having their Discretionary Support application completed.

The Discretionary Support service has significantly changed since 1 March 2020 with a number of changes made due to the increased demand and staff absences due to the Covid-19 pandemic. An on-line application was introduced for Discretionary Support living expenses grants (Universal Credit Contingency Fund, Covid-19 living expenses grant and Discretionary Support living expenses grant). All applicants are encouraged to use the on-line form to reduce waiting times and call duration.

From 1 June, the average waiting time has been just over 7 minutes and call duration time has also decreased to 7 minutes.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities to detail the waiting time for discretionary support calls to be answered and the average call duration. (AQW 2858/17-22)

Ms Hargey: On average length of time a person waited to have their call answered for the period 1 January – 28 February 2020 was 21 minutes.

On average during the period 01 January to 28 February 2020, each person spent 46 minutes on the phone having their Discretionary Support application completed.

The Discretionary Support service has significantly changed since 1 March 2020 with a number of changes made due to the increased demand and staff absences due to the Covid-19 pandemic. An on-line application was introduced for Discretionary Support living expenses grants (Universal Credit Contingency Fund, Covid-19 living expenses grant and Discretionary Support living expenses grant). All applicants are encouraged to use the on-line form to reduce waiting times and call duration.

From 1 June, the average waiting time has been just over 7 minutes and call duration time has also decreased to 7 minutes.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for Communities, in relation to contingency planning to respond to a coronavirus outbreak, whether she will give consideration to supporting low-paid workers and workers on zero-hours contracts, who may be adversely affected by the advice on self-isolation and have less access to sick leave or sick pay, many of whom have front line roles in the hospitality or health sector.

Ms Hargrey: Employers will be urged to ensure that they use their discretion and respect the medical need to self-isolate in making decisions about Statutory Sick Pay. Those workers on zero hours contracts may be entitled to Statutory Sick Pay and can check eligibility at: <https://www.gov.uk/statutory-sick-pay/eligibility>

Those who aren't entitled to Statutory Sick Pay, including those who are self-employed, can make a claim to Universal Credit and/or new-style Employment and Support Allowance depending on their circumstances.

Those whose employers ask them to stay away from the workplace due to Coronavirus concerns, and who do not qualify for Statutory Sick Pay, may be able to claim Universal Credit and/or new-style Employment and Support Allowance. Those who do qualify for Statutory Sick Pay will not be eligible for new-style Employment and Support Allowance but may still qualify for Universal Credit depending on their circumstances.

A person who is in a crisis situation can apply to the Discretionary Support scheme for assistance with short-term living expenses. Discretionary Support is available to people in employment provided their income does not exceed £16,286 per year. The income threshold is set with reference to the National Living Wage and will increase to £18,137 from April 2020.

I will continue to review the situation and take appropriate measures in line with any further developments.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for Communities, in relation to contingency planning to respond to a coronavirus outbreak, whether she will give consideration to supporting low-paid workers and workers on zero-hours contracts, who may be adversely affected by the advice on self-isolation and have less access to sick leave or sick pay, many of whom have front line roles in the hospitality or health sector.

Ms Hargrey: I fully recognise the potential difficulties that many low paid workers, including those on zero-hours contracts, may face as a result of the current outbreak. For this reason, Minister Hargrey has written to the Secretary of State for Work and Pensions urging that serious consideration be given to increasing the rate of Statutory Sick Pay, to better reflect the true cost of living and ensure that people are financially supported during this worrying time. While this proposed measure will not provide cover for all workers it would certainly provide further financial support to some.

In the meantime, the following measures are available to help workers impacted by the coronavirus outbreak:-

- Statutory Sick Pay is available from day one, instead of day four and for those who need to self-isolate for medical reasons to protect others.
- Statutory Sick Pay has also been extended to people classed as extremely vulnerable and at very high risk of severe illness from COVID-19 who are advised to remain at home, and cannot work, for at least 12 weeks (known as shielding).
- Anyone self-isolating on a zero hours contract or who works in the gig-economy, if they are not eligible for Statutory Sick Pay, can apply for Universal Credit or new-style Employment and Support Allowance, depending on their circumstances.
- All those in receipt of Employment and Support Allowance suffering from Coronavirus or required to self-isolate in line with guidance issued by the Executive will:
  - be treated as having Limited Capability for Work without the requirement for a fit note or undergoing a Work Capability Assessment; and
  - subject to the normal conditions of entitlement, waiting days will be removed meaning that Employment and Support Allowance will be payable from day one of their claim;
- The standard allowance in Universal Credit and the basic element in Working Tax Credit has been increased for one year. The increases to rates of Universal Credit mean that, on average, every Universal Credit award will go up by approximately £90 per month.
- There has also been adjustments to the local housing allowance rates that will make it more beneficial for private-rented sector tenants.
- In response to the Covid-19 outbreak, enhancements to the Discretionary Support scheme include increasing the amount of individual living expenses awards by increasing the rate of benefit used when calculating awards and allowing discretion to pay for longer periods. In addition, the Discretionary Support Annual Income Threshold has been increased to £20,405 from 22nd April. This will ensure that more people can access Discretionary Support.

I will continue to look for other ways in which I can help those in financial need arising from the current crisis.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for Communities how many eviction notices the Housing Executive has issued since the rollout of Universal Credit in Northern Ireland; and how many evictions have been completed.

Ms Hargey: The Housing Executive has advised that it has issued 1,428 eviction notices since 27th September 2017, which is the date when Universal Credit began to be rolled out across Northern Ireland. The total number of evictions it has completed for rent arrears only since 27th September 2017 is 66.

None of these 66 evictions for rent arrears only were in receipt of Universal Credit when the legal action to repossess the dwelling commenced (i.e. when the Civil Bill was served). 11 of these were in receipt of Universal Credit at the time the eviction took place. However, each case has been reviewed with the Housing Executive Income Collection Units and it can be confirmed that Universal Credit had no bearing on the decision to evict.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for Communities for an update on the future of Herdman's Mill in Sion Mills.

(AQW 3157/17-22)

Ms Hargey: I understand that Derry City and Strabane District Council, following stakeholder consultation, have developed a master plan for the village that aims to chart a holistic way forward for the whole settlement. I understand that this plan has been agreed by the Council's Environment & Regeneration Committee but not yet launched due to the Covid-19 pandemic. I hope that the plan will be successful in its aims regarding the village and in realising a long term sustainable use for this important former industrial complex. Herdman's Mill remains an important Grade B+ listed building which is highlighted on the Heritage at Risk (HARNI) register.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for Communities to outline the support her Department is giving to Derry City and Strabane District Council to repair river walkways in (i) Strabane; and (ii) Sion Mills.

Ms Hargey: My Department has not received any request from, or is giving support to, Derry City and Strabane District Council to repair river walkways in either (i) Strabane or (ii) Sion Mills. However, my officials are happy to engage with Council to ascertain if there is any support that can be provided.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for Communities what plans her Department has to alleviate urgent financial problems for people on zero hour and casual contracts who are laid off because of the coronavirus and who are without access to income.

Ms Hargey: People on zero hours contracts may be entitled to Statutory Sick Pay and can check eligibility at: <https://www.gov.uk/statutory-sick-pay/eligibility>. In response to the coronavirus, Statutory Sick Pay will be made available from day one, instead of day four and for those who need to self-isolate for medical reasons to protect others. Statutory Sick Pay has also been extended to people classed as extremely vulnerable and at very high risk of severe illness from COVID-19 who are advised to remain at home, and cannot work, for at least 12 weeks (known as shielding).

Employees laid off because of coronavirus concerns and, who will not qualify for Statutory Sick Pay, may be able to claim Universal Credit, New style Jobseekers Allowance or New Style Employment Support Allowance, depending on their circumstances. Further information can be found at the following - <https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/coronavirus-covid-19-and-benefits>

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, a number of measures have been taken to provide financial assistance to people adversely affected by COVID-19. These include -

- All those in receipt of Employment and Support Allowance suffering from Coronavirus or required to self-isolate in line with guidance issued by the Executive will:
  - be treated as having Limited Capability for Work without the requirement for a fit note or undergoing a Work Capability Assessment; and
  - subject to the normal conditions of entitlement, waiting days will be removed meaning that Employment and Support Allowance will be payable from day one of their claim.
- The standard allowance in Universal Credit and the basic element in Working Tax Credit has been increased for one year. The increases to rates of Universal Credit mean that, on average, every Universal Credit award will go up by approximately £90 per month.
- There has also been adjustments to the local housing allowance rates that will make it more beneficial for private-rented sector tenants.
- In response to the Covid-19 outbreak, enhancements to the Discretionary Support scheme include increasing the amount of individual living expenses awards by increasing the rate of benefit used when calculating awards and allowing discretion to pay for longer periods. In addition, the Discretionary Support Annual Income Threshold has been increased to £20,405 from 22nd April. This will ensure that more people can access Discretionary Support.

I will continue to look for other ways in which I can help those in financial need arising from the current crisis.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities what action has been taken to address the double earnings problem for Universal Credit claimants who receive two payments within one assessment period.

Ms Hargey: As you may be aware, the Department for Work and Pensions is appealing a recent Judicial Review on the way in which earned income is calculated within Universal Credit. Whilst we must await the outcome of that appeal to inform the way forward I remain concerned about the financial impact that this matter may have on individuals and families.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Communities to detail (i) how many staff are employed within her Department's information service; (ii) of these, how many are classed as press officers; and (iii) the annual cost of this service.

(AQW 3538/17-22)

Ms Hargey: There are currently (i) 7.34 staff employed within my Department's Information Service; (ii) 4.91 are classed as Press Officers; and (iii) the annual cost of this service in 2019/20 was £381,963.57.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for Communities for her assessment on replacing Universal Credit.

(AQW 3588/17-22)

Ms Hargey: Universal Credit for new claims, was introduced here on a phased geographical basis between September 2017 and December 2018 based on the principle of a single system of social security here and across Britain. Any divergence from this, such as a bespoke benefit system that replaces Universal Credit here requires legislative change, and would also need to be funded and maintained by the block grant.

I am committed to protecting the most vulnerable in our society.

I will constantly review all options available.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities whether funded community projects, impacted by restrictions as a result of COVID-19, will be given an extension to complete their scheduled programmes and activities after 31 March 2020.

Ms Hargey: Minister Hargey wrote to her colleagues in the Voluntary and Community Sector on 19th March to explain the steps she was taking to ensure that a high degree of flexibility was in place for groups who were at the front line of the community response to the pandemic.

My Department's contingency arrangements included the option to pay grants with less restrictive conditions attached that encouraged groups to find new and innovative ways to secure jobs and maintain essential core services, wherever possible, on the ground.

Given these flexibilities it was not considered necessary to universally extend the completion dates for programmes and activities past 31 March 2020. Our consideration of an organisation's performance is on a case-by-case basis with the option for key activities, disrupted by the COVID-19 situation, to be included within the following year's work programme without detriment to the organisation.

I am committed to working with other departments across the Executive to coordinate our support for the people in our communities.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Communities to detail the funding allocated to clubs affiliated to the (i) Gaelic Athletic Association; (ii) Irish Football Association; and (iii) Irish Rugby Football Union, in each of the last five years.

Ms Hargey: Table 1 below provides a summary of funding allocated up to 31 March 2020 to clubs affiliated to the Gaelic Athletic Association; the Irish Football Association; and the Irish Rugby Football Union, in each of the last five years. Given the period covered by the question, these figures include funding from the former Departments of Culture, Arts and Leisure and Social Development and rely on historical records and accounting procedures.

Funding has been provided through a range of programmes including Neighbourhood Renewal Investment Fund, Regional Shared Space Sporting Facilities Fund, Community Halls Programme, Small Capital Grants Programme, Access and Inclusion Programme and Building Successful Communities Programme.

Sport NI also delivered a series of good relations workshops to sports clubs across the 11 district council areas which focused on the priorities of Together Building a United Community (T:BUC) through sport and included the provision of sports merchandise. Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities how many prisoners in Northern Ireland are in receipt of Income Support. (AQW 3709/17-22)

Ms Hargey: There are no prisoners in receipt of Income Support.

The most recent benefit statistics, produced by my Department's Professional Services unit, were published on 27 May 2020 and can be found at <https://www.communities-ni.gov.uk/system/files/publications/communities/bss-income-support-feb-2020.xls>

Ms Sugden asked the Minister for Communities whether she intends to supplement Income Support, Jobseeker's Allowance and Employment Support Allowance payments as an Executive response to the impact of COVID-19. (AQW 3797/17-22)

Ms Hargey: I am pleased to advise that my Department has moved quickly in response to the COVID-19 pandemic to relieve hardship and ensure the people most in need get the help and support they require.

A number of changes have been made to the social security system in response to the Coronavirus pandemic. Alongside the temporary increases to Universal Credit standard allowances and the basic element of Working Tax Credits, which came into operation on 6 April and will remain in place for the tax year 2020/21, other measures include:

- Statutory Sick Pay will now be paid temporarily from day one of an employee's absence from work, where that absence is related to Coronavirus;
- Statutory Sick Pay has been extended to people classed as extremely vulnerable and at very high risk of severe illness from COVID-19 who are advised to remain at home, and cannot work, for at least 12 weeks (known as shielding);

- people unable to work for more than seven days because of Coronavirus can obtain an isolation note through a new online service;
- the Minimum Income Floor has been temporarily relaxed for all self-employed people in receipt of Universal Credit affected by Covid-19. This means a drop in earnings during the outbreak will see a person's Universal Credit payment increase;
- the Local Housing Allowance rates are being increased for those in the Private Rented Sector;
- the additional earnings disregard in Housing Benefit has been increased from £17.10 a week to £37.10 a week;
- people applying for or receiving benefits do not have to attend appointments at the Jobs and Benefit Office for 3 months, starting from 19 March 2020;
- all those in receipt of Employment and Support Allowance suffering from Coronavirus or required to self-isolate in line with guidance issued by the Executive will:
  - be treated as having Limited Capability for Work without the requirement for a fit note or undergoing a Work Capability Assessment; and
  - subject to the normal conditions of entitlement, waiting days will be removed meaning that Employment and Support Allowance will be payable from day one of their claim;
- disabled sick people who cannot attend a reassessment for Personal Independence Payment, Employment and Support Allowance or Universal Credit will continue to receive their payments while their assessment is rearranged.

In addition the Department also introduced a number of changes to the eligibility criteria for Discretionary Support, including the introduction of a living expenses grant for those directly impacted by Covid-19.

Minister Hargey has written to Members outlining the social security measures taken in response to COVID-19 to ensure people most in need get the help and support they require.

These are rapidly developing circumstances, I continue to keep the situation under review and will keep the Assembly updated accordingly. People's safety and protecting them and their families is of primary importance.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister for Communities whether she has any plans to introduce financial support payments, or allow access to benefits, for students who have lost their job as a result of COVID-19.

Ms Hargey: In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, a number of measures have been taken to provide financial assistance to people adversely affected by COVID-19.

One such measure is that students in full-time education who are normally not eligible for benefits may access emergency financial support through the Discretionary Support scheme during the current public health crisis. Further enhancements my predecessor, Minister Hargey, made to the Discretionary Support scheme to assist people affected by COVID-19 includes increasing the amount of individual living expenses awards by increasing the rate of benefit used when calculating awards and allowing discretion to pay for longer periods. All of these changes came into effect from 25 March 2020.

In addition, the Discretionary Support Annual Income Threshold was increased to £20,405. This widens eligibility to Discretionary Support and ensures that more people on a low income can access assistance when they need it most.

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Communities (i) how many new applications for Personal Independence Payments have been lodged since the beginning of the COVID-19 outbreak; (ii) how they are being assessed; and (iii) what is the timeframe for decisions to be made.

Ms Hargey: Between 1 March 2020 and 31 May 2020, my Department has received 4,011 Personal Independence Payment (PIP) claims.

On 18 March in light of escalating issues around the COVID -19 outbreak and in order to safeguard vulnerable people I announced the suspension of face-to-face assessments for all benefits for a period of three months which included PIP.

All new claims continue to be referred to Capita for assessment where the Disability Assessor reviews all the evidence and where appropriate will complete a report— a Paper Based Review (PBR). Where there is insufficient evidence available to enable a PBR to be completed, a telephone assessment will be carried out. Arrangements have been put in place to allow a support or advice worker or family member to join those calls to support the person claiming PIP if this is required. In addition to support the telephony assessment process Capita have deployed the Video Relay Service which supports people who use either BSL or ISL. My Department is continuing to monitor assessments to ensure they meet quality standards.

My priority is ensuring people get their benefit payments and that we can continue to support those who need us the most and on 23 March we announced that we are automatically extending all awards and reassessments for health and disability benefits. This temporary measure is being taken to ensure the Department's resources are focused on enabling access to financial support for new claims and reassure people about continuity of their benefit during the coronavirus outbreak.

Given the impact of the Pandemic I also announced that the time a person has to return their PIP form has been extended to 3 months hence the vast majority of forms relating to claims for the period above have yet to be returned. The most recent PIP statistics published show the average clearance time for a PIP claim is approximately 13 weeks.

We have a number of measures in place to ensure that Special Rules applications are given the utmost priority. The Department has a target under the contractual arrangements with Capita of clearing 99% of special rules referrals within two days of the referral being received. In these cases a decision on entitlement is normally made by the Department within one day of the case being returned from Capita.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Communities (i) whether her Department has issued guidance to housing providers on how best to protect and support tenants of sheltered accommodation and independent living schemes; (ii) whether her Department has issued guidance to those tenants who are currently shielding or self-isolating and accessing communal areas; and (iii) what information tenants and relatives can expect of providers at this time.

Ms Hargey:

(i) On 13 March 2020, my Department wrote to each of the 20 Registered Housing Associations (RHAs) in the North of Ireland, to advise that they follow the latest guidance in relation to Coronavirus (COVID-19) issued by the Department of Health, the Government, the NHS and the Public Health Agency (PHA). This included links to the following advice:

- <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/coronavirus>
- <https://www.publichealth.hscni.net/news/covid-19-coronavirus>
- <https://www.gov.uk/government/topical-events/coronavirus-covid-19-uk-government-response>
- <https://www.nhs.uk/conditions/coronavirus-covid-19/>

Since then my Department has continued to liaise with, monitor and seek regular assurance from RHAs on compliance with relevant aspects of the guidance.

Departmental guidance for all social housing tenants and landlords was published on 17 June. The guidance provides advice and reassurance to social tenants and landlords around the measures that have been put in place to ensure that people continue to remain safe and secure in their home during the COVID-19 pandemic. The guidance can be accessed via the following link:

- <https://www.communities-ni.gov.uk/publications/covid-19-guidance-social-housing-landlords-and-tenants>

In respect of sheltered accommodation and independent living, my Department funds the Supporting People (SP) Programme which is delivered by the Housing Executive and I can confirm that guidance has been shared by the Housing Executive with all SP providers throughout this time.

On 12 February the Housing Executive wrote to all providers seeking assurance that organisations and supported housing schemes had Business Continuity Plans in place for responding to infectious diseases, including COVID-19, and that staff were acquainted with the corresponding Business Continuity Plans. This correspondence also shared key public health advice and guidance from the PHA and Central Government.

The Housing Executive again wrote to all SP provider organisations on 17 March 2020 to share Central Government COVID-19 Guidance for Domiciliary Care Providers and COVID-19 Guidance for Residential Care Providers.

In order to support SP funded services to continue to deliver services during the COVID-19 outbreak, a SP Programme COVID-19 Contingency Plan was shared with all providers on 24 March 2020 and subsequently updated and shared on 17 April 2020.

This included links to the following advice:

- COVID-19: Guidance for Homeless Providers in Northern Ireland;
- COVID-19: Guidance for Domiciliary Care Providers in Northern Ireland;
- COVID-19: Guidance for Nursing Homes and Residential Care homes in NI;
- Health and Social Care (NI) Summary COVID-19 Plan for the Period Mid-March to Mid-April 2020;
- COVID-19: Pre employment Vetting Guidance Health and Social Care Providers;
- COVID-19: Department of Health Central Advise Resource; and
- Public Health Agency Advice on COVID-19 (coronavirus)

Contingency arrangements and escalation measures to support SP-funded services were also shared with all providers on 02 April through the Housing Executive Homeless Services COVID-19 Surge Plan.

The Housing Executive also advised SP service providers of Health and Social Care Trust points of contact for the management of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) on 04 April. Following this, information on COVID-19 testing for key worker staff was shared 01 May and information on COVID-19 Testing for Supported Living Services was shared on 13 May 2020.

(ii) Each organisation funded through the Supporting People programme is responsible for the provision of housing-related support to tenants. In order to assist this provision, the Housing Executive has confirmed that it has shared PHA and Central Government guidance with the providers, which has included information on shielding and self-isolation.

(iii) In response to COVID-19, rather than face to face support, service providers have advised that support is being provided through daily digital/telephone support; and signposting to community and voluntary services such as pharmacy collections and grocery deliveries.

Most services are also signposting to diversionary activities, for example virtual classes, distant socialising, newsletters, referring to community support, befriending schemes and in some cases meal provision.

Many providers of older people's housing support services are acutely aware about the impact of self-isolating and social distancing on the mental health of their clients, particularly as many clients have received shielding letters and will be in isolation for 12 weeks or more. Whilst remote access and limited contact can be sustained for a short period, as lockdown continues this approach will need to be reviewed and plans made by providers around how support will become less remote.

Mr K Buchanan asked the Minister for Communities how many applications for government food parcels were requested by (i) people with shielding letters; (ii) people in financial hardship; and (iii) senior citizens, broken down by council district electoral area.

Ms Hargey: The information requested is collected by councils and health trusts and is not shared with the Department. Given the nature, volume of data and the different systems involved at different levels, the Department does not plan to collect this particular information.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Communities why Model Engineers' Society (NI) Ltd cannot remain at Ulster Transport Museum, Cultra.

(AQW 4230/17-22)

Ms Hargey: National Museums NI is developing a new masterplan for the Cultra site and looking at how they can more fully unlock its potential in the future to meet long term objectives. In this context they reviewed the relationship with the Model Engineers Society NI, who for over 50 years have been given access to the Walled Garden within the Transport Museum site to operate their model engines.

National Museums NI have stated that they no longer consider this to be sustainable for the following reasons:

- The Walled Garden is a key heritage asset and there is a responsibility to unlock greater public value from it – from both a social impact perspective and commercially. As part of the master planning work National Museums NI are actively developing a project to restore the Walled Garden and give it a new lease of life in a manner sympathetic to its original role.
- The use of the site by the Society is creating increasing operational challenges and risks, particularly when they interface with visitors.
- From a governance and accountability perspective it is increasingly difficult to justify exclusive free access and use of a key part of the site when other organisations have expressed an interest.

With these considerations in mind, National Museums NI indicated to the Society in October 2019 that their continued use of the Walled Garden would not form part of the future plans for the site.

National Museums NI have not yet given the Society formal written notice to vacate. They are obliged to give six months' notice and they intend to issue that notice over the summer 2020.

National Museums NI advise that an important part of this project will involve assisting the Society's move to an alternative location.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities how the people who are relying on the regular food hampers from her Department will be supported when provision ends in June 2020; and, if her Department plans to continue with provision of hampers, where will funding come from to meet ongoing cost.

Ms Hargey: I am aware that a number of people across the community are currently relying on regular food hampers from my Department and are likely to continue to require support when present provision ends in June 2020.

In light of this, it has been decided that the Department's food parcel programme should be extended until 31st July 2020 for people who have been asked to shield by their GPs and cannot otherwise get food. Those who are not medically shielding, but may still need food help, are now being signposted to alternative forms of food support in the community.

Those no longer eligible are being signposted to other means of food support and the Department is now investing up to £875,000 in other forms of food assistance. This includes the Department working with Fareshare to deliver increased food supplies to community providers.

I believe that these responses, when taken together with the Social Supermarket wrap around model and the work of local Foodbanks, have the potential to play an important role in the food poverty response in the medium to long term. The learning, intelligence and data being gathered as a result of the Food Parcel programme will also prove invaluable in this regard and in ongoing and future policy development.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister for Communities to outline the criteria under which the COVID-19 Charities Fund will be allocated.

(AQW 4253/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Covid-19 Charities Fund is being delivered by the National Lottery Community Fund. Eligible applications will be assessed using a two-step process to consider the extent of financial need and the impact of their charitable activity to reach an assessment. Decision makers will also take into consideration the key aim of the Fund which is to ensure that a balanced charitable sector, representative of the diverse interests and needs of citizens, and geographic spread, remain in place after the crisis has passed.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Communities what help her Department can give to animal charities, such as Assisi in Conlig, who are struggling to fundraise due to COVID-19.

(AQW 4311/17-22)

Ms Hargey: I am pleased to say that the Executive's Covid-19 Charities Fund opened for applications on Monday 15 June 2020. The Fund is open to all charities that have lost income due to the impact of COVID-19 and are at imminent risk of closure. The Fund will provide support for unavoidable costs faced by such charities, which may include animal charities.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Communities what plans are in place to help local community food banks cope once her Department's support for food essentials for the most vulnerable is stopped.

Ms Hargey: Local community food banks generally rely on food donations from members of the public, schools, churches, food retailers and food redistribution bodies. They are therefore not necessarily dependent on direct help from government.

I recognise, however, that with the ending of the Department's current emergency food parcel programme, many local foodbanks and food charities may face increased demand for food from the community. With that in mind, it has been decided that the Department's food parcel programme should be extended until 31st July 2020 for people who have been asked to shield by their GPs and cannot otherwise get food. Those no longer eligible are currently being signposted to other means of assistance and the Department is also now investing up to £875,000 in alternative forms of food support. This includes the Department working with Fareshare to deliver increased food supplies to community providers.

In addition, since October 2017 five Social Supermarket pilots have been supported as part of the Welfare Mitigations package. A Social Supermarket offers food provision alongside a wraparound of support to address the underlying causes of food insecurity. Evaluation of these has shown positive outcomes for users and a business case to consider a full roll out is underway. I believe this model has the potential to form a sustainable part of the food poverty response in the medium to long term.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Communities to outline the rationale for the removal of the Model Engineers Society Northern Ireland Railway from the Ulster Folk and Transport Museum, Cultra.

(AQW 4319/17-22)

Ms Hargey: National Museums NI is developing a new masterplan for the Cultra site and looking at how they can more fully unlock its potential in the future to meet long term objectives. In this context they reviewed the relationship with the Model Engineers Society Northern Ireland, who for over 50 years have been given access to the Walled Garden within the Transport Museum site to operate their model engines.

National Museums NI have stated that they no longer consider this to be sustainable for the following reasons:

- The Walled Garden is a key heritage asset and there is a responsibility to unlock greater public value from it – from both a social impact perspective and commercially. As part of the master planning work National Museums NI are actively developing a project to restore the Walled Garden and give it a new lease of life in a manner sympathetic to its original role.
- The use of the site by the Society is creating increasing operational challenges and risks, particularly when they interface with visitors.
- From a governance and accountability perspective it is increasingly difficult to justify exclusive free access and use of a key part of the site when other organisations have expressed an interest.

With these considerations in mind, National Museums NI indicated to the Society in October 2019 that their continued use of the Walled Garden would not form part of the future plans for the site.

National Museums NI advise that an important part of this project will involve assisting the Society's move to an alternative location.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for Communities when AQW 3984/17-22 will be answered.

Ms Hargey: AQW 3984/17-22 was answered on 25 June 2020.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities what legislation has been put through, or is planned to be put through, Westminster instead of the Assembly; and to outline the rationale for this decision.

Ms Hargey: The Executive agreed that Westminster would bring forward legislation to provide for the introduction of those welfare changes introduced in Britain and the primary legislation to provide for the introduction of the welfare benefit mitigation payments.

The Welfare Reform (Northern Ireland) Order 2015 was subsequently made on 9 December 2015. This Order made provision for the delivery of Welfare Reform here including the introduction of new benefits including Universal Credit (UC) and Personal Independence Payment (PIP). It also introduced other major changes to the existing welfare system including the Benefit Cap, Social Sector Size Criteria and the bespoke Discretionary Support, which replaced elements of the Discretionary Social Fund.

Under Article 4 of the 2015 Order the powers to make subordinate legislation to implement the various welfare reforms are vested in the Secretary of State (for Work and Pensions), until such time as those powers are transferred back to the Department.

Since that time any amending subordinate legislation for PIP and UC continues to be brought forward by DWP through Westminster.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, a number of emergency regulations have been taken forward by DWP, on behalf of DfC, in recognition of the urgency of the situation and to deliver the changes both in Britain and here, until such time as those powers are transferred back to the Department.

A list of the legislation that has been made by DWP since the restoration of the Assembly in January 2020 follows in Annex A.

Ms S Bradley asked the Minister for Communities what communications she has had with the Minister of Justice in relation to the need to restructure courthouses to comply with social distancing requirements; and for her assessment of the removal of Appeals Service hearings from the courthouses to more suitable, applicant-centred, venues.

Ms Hargey: The Minister of Justice and Minister Hargey were scheduled to meet to discuss a number of issues, including the use of court houses for benefit appeals, prior to the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. However, due to the impact of COVID-19 it was necessary to postpone the planned meeting, but we are aiming to reschedule this meeting in the near future.

Before any venue is confirmed as suitable for a benefit appeal tribunal hearing, The Appeals Service (TAS) completes a health and safety risk assessment of the location and facilities to determine its suitability. These will be reviewed against current Public Health Agency (PHA) guidelines when oral hearings are reconvened.

The use of court houses has allowed TAS to arrange more tribunal sessions and subsequently has helped reduce delay to appellants in securing a hearing date. On occasions where availability causes difficulties other venues may be deemed suitable for consideration following a risk assessment on facilities.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister for Communities whether she has considered extending the suspension of benefit deductions to include repayments of Universal Credit Advance.

Ms Hargey: I recognise the many difficulties and challenges which people and communities, particularly the most vulnerable, are facing at this time and in response to the pandemic have introduced measures to help ease the financial burden on those claiming benefit, support our most vulnerable people and to provide additional financial assistance to those who need it.

As part of these measures I have temporarily suspended the recovery of debt which is controlled by my Department. All recoveries achieved by means of direct debits, Direct Earnings Attachments, private sector supplier work and litigation have been paused. I have also approved the suspension of existing benefit overpayment deductions from Universal Credit and legacy benefit payments, and the suspension of recovery of Social Fund and Discretionary Support loans.

As to the suspension of the recovery of Universal Credit Advance Payments which are recovered through the Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) Universal Credit computer system, my officials discussed with DWP the potential to temporarily suspend their recovery here. However I'm advised this was not possible.

I understand the impact of this for people currently repaying an Advance Payment and if someone is in financial hardship they should contact my Department's Debt Management to discuss the repayment plan as people have up to 12 months to pay back the advance.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for Communities whether work has been carried out to establish if there has been a shortfall in state pension payments to married women in Northern Ireland.

Ms Ní Chuilín: Under the State Pension rules that apply before 6 April 2016, individuals may be able to derive entitlement or a top up to their State Pension using their husband's National Insurance (NI) contributions once he reaches his State Pension age.

My Department is aware that in some instances the proper action was not taken in all cases in line with legislation in place at the time however our early assessment is that volumes in NI will be small. This is due to the fact that the Pension Centre in NI has over the years targeted these type of cases in their routine accuracy checking regime, corrected them and paid arrears when detected.

My Department is checking for further cases and will reassess their entitlement immediately if there has been a shortfall and people will be contacted in these circumstances. In the intervening period if a married woman contacts the Pension Centre enquiring about their State Pension award, staff will check the award and revise if necessary.

Mr Hilditch asked the Minister for Communities for her assessment of the Housing Executive intimidation points policies; and whether she has any plans to reform these policies.

(AQW 4882/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: A consultation on 'A Fundamental Review of Social Housing Allocations' ran from September to December 2017.

This was the culmination of a Department-led review to examine the Housing Selection Scheme, which sets out rules governing the allocation of social homes and is administered by the Northern Ireland Housing Executive.

I am currently considering the Review, including the proposal to remove intimidation points and stakeholder feedback on the issue, options and next steps.

Ms Sugden asked the Minister for Communities how she is supporting the community and voluntary sector to resume services, including services within community centres.

(AQW 4895/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My department is working with regional and grassroots community and voluntary organisations through the Emergencies Leadership Group, established by Deirdre Hargey, to identify the full range of issues to be addressed and the support that will be needed as part of a shared Recovery and Renewal Plan for the Sector. This work covers both practical issues around how we move out of the current emergency response situation as well as the longer term support required for sustainability of the Sector.

In addition, officials are engaging with local councils with responsibility for community centres to provide any guidance required to support the safe delivery of services in line with social distancing measures, as restrictions are eased.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities what action her Department has taken, alongside the Department of Education, to combat holiday hunger by providing support for those in receipt of free school meals over the summer.
(AQW 4901/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I welcome and support Minister Weir's proposals to extend Direct Payments over the summer months and to continue with the equally important targeted element of support through the Eat Well, Live Well Programme delivered through the Youth Service. My Department's Emergency Response Programme has acted as a wraparound to Free School Meals and ensured vulnerable families have been supported throughout.

I remain committed to providing this wraparound support to families through localised provision of services and the Department will work closely with Education colleagues to ensure that the work that we are doing to support families who are at risk of food poverty is aligned and complementary to the Direct Payment Scheme and the Youth Service offer.

The food box scheme will come to an end on 26th June in its current form, and those shielding will continue to receive boxes until the end of July. For those who are not shielding who are in need of food support, we are investing in alternative sources of help to ensure that the needs of the most vulnerable continue to be met.

For those not shielding there are a range of additional ways available by which they can get help to access food. The department in conjunction with its community partners will signpost people to other ways in which they can access food including:

- Priority online shopping deliveries for those shielding with the large supermarkets.
- Delivery services from a range of local shops.
- Local volunteers to assist with delivering shopping
- Local support through voluntary and community sector organisations/food charities.

An additional investment of more than £875,000 in other forms of food support will be made by the Department for people who are seeking help with food as we transition from the emergency to recovery phase of the pandemic. To help people progress from the current emergency interventions the Department will support Fareshare to deliver an increased supply of food to community food providers. Whilst we recognise that food may be at the forefront of need, the transition from an emergency response includes support and advice on wider issues and the strong network of local services will be vitally important.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for Communities (i) when the Fraud Unit in her Department was stepped down; (ii) how many cases of fraud have been reported since; and (iii) when she intends to start the work of the unit again.
(AQW 4903/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Department's Fraud Team has not been stood down at any point. Some staff from the Fraud Investigation Unit have been temporarily redeployed to assist with urgent benefit administration in light of the pandemic. This includes assisting with the processing of Discretionary Support payments and Universal Credit as both these areas received an unprecedented increase in claims. The Department has also created an Evidence Verification Team: a team of fully trained fraud investigators who carry out additional checks on Universal Credit claims where front line staff have expressed a doubt over a person's entitlement to benefit. Throughout the period of the pandemic the work of the Department's Organised Fraud Unit has also continued.

The Department has received 769 allegations of benefit fraud during the period 1 April 2020 to 17 June 2020 and all these allegations will be fully investigated.

Across my Department we are now actively working towards recovering all our services which includes assessing when staff temporarily redeployed will return to their normal duties. Part of this work also includes risk assessments of offices designed to ensure that workplaces are safe in line with the changed environment we now find ourselves in. Those assessments will be undertaken over the coming weeks.

We hope to return to our normal level of service as quickly as possible

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities to detail the amount of revenue raised through the house sales scheme; and how much of the revenue raised has been reinvested in social housing new builds.
(AQW 4911/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Capital receipts from Housing Association house sales contribute to the funding which is used to deliver the Social Housing Development Programme (SHDP). When any Housing Association completes a house sale, the associated capital receipt has to be placed in the Association's Disposal Proceeds Fund (DPF), which in turn must be re-invested in the provision of new social housing via the SHDP within 2 years. When completing house sales, Housing Associations also receive discount back from the Housing Executive, as Voluntary Purchase Grant (VPG), up to a maximum of £24k. This is also placed in the relevant association's DPF, and re-invested in the SHDP.

Legislation providing for house sales by registered Housing Associations was commenced in 2004, and grant payments for the SHDP transferred from the Department to the Housing Executive in 2006. Whilst the NIHE therefore does not hold full historical records of house sales by Housing Associations, it has been able to identify £104m generated by Housing Association house sales from the available records, of which £89m has been re-invested via the SHDP in the provision of new social housing. It should be noted that Housing Associations are permitted to use a proportion of the capital generated on fees e.g. solicitor fees, valuation fees, clearing mortgage debt etc.

The revenue raised through the NIHE's House Sales Scheme from 2008/09 has been outlined in Appendix 1. The records prior to this year are not readily available and would take considerably more time for the NIHE to provide.

However NIHE receipts arising from its House Sales Scheme are returned to the Department for Communities (DfC) each year for consideration in the context of funding the wider DfC budget. The level of receipts that the NIHE, through DfC Capital Grant, can retain each year is determined by the Department with the balance used to fund other Departmental priorities. Any receipts the NIHE may retain through Capital Grant is used by its Landlord Services to fund in part, along with its rental income, improvements in its own stock and is not used in financing the new build programme.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities for an update on the options being considered in conjunction with the Department of Education to address holiday hunger over the summer, when direct payments stop at the end of the school term. (AQW 4948/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I welcome and support Minister Weir's proposals to extend Direct Payments over the summer months and to continue with the equally important targeted element of support through the Eat Well, Live Well Programme delivered through the Youth Service. My Department's Emergency Response Programme has acted as a wraparound to Free School Meals and ensured vulnerable families have been supported throughout.

I remain committed to providing this wrap around support to families through localised provision of services and the Department will work closely with Education colleagues to ensure that the work that we are doing to support families who are at risk of food poverty is aligned and complementary to the Direct Payment Scheme and the Youth Service offer.

My Department's food box scheme in its current form will come to an end on 26th June but the service will continue for those shielding until the end of July. We are however acutely aware of the ongoing needs of the most vulnerable in our society and of the need to ensure they have access to alternative sources of help.

For those not shielding there are a range of additional ways available by which they can get help to access food. The department in conjunction with its community partners will signpost people to other ways in which they can access food including:

- Priority online shopping deliveries for those shielding with the large supermarkets.
- Delivery services from a range of local shops.
- Local volunteers to assist with delivering shopping
- Local support through voluntary and community sector organisations/food charities.

An additional investment of more than £875,000 in other forms of food support will be made by the Department for people who are seeking help with food as we transition from the emergency to recovery phase of the pandemic. To help people progress from the current emergency interventions the Department will support Fareshare to deliver an increased supply of food to community food providers. Whilst we recognise that food may be at the forefront of need, the transition from an emergency response includes support and advice on wider issues and the strong network of local services will be vitally important.

Mr Stewart asked the Minister for Communities what consideration has been given to providing an additional carer's COVID-19 payment in recognition of the extra care unpaid carers are providing in lockdown. (AQW 4952/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I recognise and value the vital contribution made by carers in supporting some of the most vulnerable in society. There is no doubt that the dedication shown by many carers is of immense value to the wider community as well as to those people for whom they are caring.

Unpaid carers are able to access financial support from my Department through Carer's Allowance and through income-related benefits with their associated additional elements for caring.

It is important to clarify that the primary purpose of Carer's Allowance, the main social security benefit for unpaid carers, is to provide a measure of financial support for people who give up the opportunity of full-time employment in order to provide regular and substantial care for a severely disabled person. It is not, and was never intended to be, a carer's wage or a payment for the services of caring. It is also not intended to replace lost or forgone earnings in their entirety.

The response to COVID-19 by my Department has focused primarily on those who can be easily identified as most in need, such as those on lower incomes who claim income-related benefits like Universal Credit. Additional measures can be quickly and effectively operationalised in these benefits and have more of a wide-ranging impact in terms of providing additional financial support to those who need it most, including low income carers, during this global crisis.

For example, carers on Universal Credit can benefit from the extra £1040 a year that has recently been brought forward to the standard allowance in response to COVID-19. This approach means that the focus has been on extra support to carers on the lowest incomes.

In addition, unpaid carers may, depending on their circumstances, be eligible to access the range of other emergency financial support that the Department for Communities is providing during the COVID-19 pandemic, including Discretionary Support.

In direct response to the coronavirus pandemic my Department also introduced temporary measures in Carer's Allowance to help unpaid carers through the current emergency, including, waiving restrictions on breaks in care and ensuring 'emotional' support is counted towards the care threshold in the benefit.

Carer's Allowance interacts with various other social security benefits in a complex manner. For example, Carer's Allowance is taken fully into account as income in means-tested benefits and is taxable. This would make any additional payment potentially difficult to administer and could mean that carers on a low income and in receipt of a means-tested benefit would not gain fully from any increase or additional payment. Whereas by increasing the rate of an income-related benefit, such as Universal Credit, means that all recipients, including carers, are able to benefit fully from the increase, and consequential access to any passported benefits or advantages would not be negatively impacted.

These are however extraordinary times and the response to the coronavirus outbreak by this Department and the Executive continues to evolve.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Communities how much her Department has spent on producing material in Irish, in each of the last three years.

(AQW 5010/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: In the last three years, the Department has spent the following on Irish-language materials:

- 2017 - £8,162
- 2018 - £5,643
- 2019 - £14,638

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities to detail the number of new build social homes built in each of the last five years.

(AQW 5082/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: During the period between 2015/16-2019/20 there were 7,411 new social housing completions.

The table provided at Appendix 1 outlines the total new social housing completions during the period 2015/16 – 2019/20, broken down by Scheme Type.

Please note that full descriptions of all Scheme Types can be found at <https://www.communities-ni.gov.uk/scheme-types>.

Appendix 1: Total new social housing completions during the period 2015/16 – 2019/20, broken down by Scheme Type

Year	New Build	Off-the-Shelf	Existing Satisfactory Purchase	Rehabilitation/ Re-improvement	Total social housing completions (units)
2015/16	822	160	104	123	1,209
2016/17	955	202	136	94	1,387
2017/18	1,146	159	129	73	1,507
2018/19	1,259	225	170	28	1,682
2019/20	1,088	181	114	243	1,626
5-Year Totals	5,270	927	653	561	7,411

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Communities what are the objective criteria by which the £20m COVID-19 funding for councils was allocated.

(AQW 5089/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My Department undertook an analysis of the figures provided by each council which highlighted their projected total financial loss and additional COVID-19 related costs that would be incurred during the period mid-March to June 2020.

These figures were tested against the equivalent for the corresponding period for 2019 and have been signed off by individual Council Chief Executives.

This provided a basis for redistribution that was consistent with the original bid for support approved by the Executive in that it looked to assist councils with income lost and additional costs incurred as a result of COVID-19.

This funding will help assist councils with their cash flow and support them in the delivery of the vital services they are providing to the community at this time, furthermore it will also help ensure that Councils are ready to play their key role in our post-pandemic recovery and limit the financial impact on ratepayers going forward.

Department of Education

Mr M Bradley asked the Minister of Education to outline the delays in his Department surrendering their interests in the site of the former St Anthony's Primary School, Magilligan, allowing the sale of the property to proceed.

(AQW 4745/17-22)

Mr Weir (The Minister of Education): My Department was advised that the property was agreed for sale at the end of September 2019, it was only then that we became aware that the School Meals Allowance (SMA) lease had not been surrendered. The surrender of SMA lease is the responsibility of the Education Authority (EA).

I can advise that EA Solicitors have confirmed the deed of Surrender sealed by the EA was forwarded to Kelly and Corr Solicitors, who are representing St. Canice's Educational Trust, on 26 November 2019 on the solicitors undertaking to register the deed of Surrender.

Mr Beattie asked the Minister of Education what his plans are for the return of schools if the R rate is zero by September.

Mr Weir: The Department of Education's plans for reopening schools will always be guided by the prevailing scientific evidence base. All guidance prepared by my Department on the safe reopening of schools will be reviewed regularly and updated as appropriate. This will also take into account advice from the Public Health Agency, Chief Medical Officer and Chief Scientific Advisor.

Mr Allen asked the Minister of Education to detail (i) the status of extended provision funding for youth clubs; (ii) the number of youth clubs in receipt of extended provision funding (iii) the funding period of each; and (iv) the total extended provision budget for 2020/21.

(AQW 4974/17-22)

Mr Weir:

- (i) The Education Authority Youth Service Extended Provision Funding Scheme closed on the 31 March, 2020.
- (ii) In 2019/20 there were 39 voluntary youth clubs who received extended provision funding.
- (iii) The funding period for each youth club was 12 months, running from April – March each year.
- (iv) There is no budget for 2020/21 for the extended provision scheme due to its closure on 31 March, 2020. The new funding scheme, due to implementation in April 2021 will take into account assessed need for extended provision in a local area. In the interim, where there is evidence of an assessed need, funding is provided to meet the need.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister of Education what support his Department is giving to ensure schools are fully prepared for reopening following the closure due to COVID-19.

(AQW 4983/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Department has established the Education Restart Programme, which, working alongside a wide range of stakeholders, will put in place detailed measures and guidance which will enable a safe reopening of schools.

New School Day Guidance relating to practical arrangements for re-opening schools was published on 19 June 2020. The guidance will be supplemented by a suite of further documentation, including guidance on issues such transport, catering, risk assessments and HR management.

Furthermore, my Department has collated, developed and disseminated a wide range of resources for school leaders and teachers to support continuity of learning. Recent examples include operational guidance on Moving to Blended Learning, Feedback and Assessment, Transition and Pupil Engagement.

My Department has also produced system level Guidance for Schools on Supporting Remote Learning and Guidance for Schools on Curriculum Planning for 2020/21. These documents provide information that support a blended approach to learning whereby schools can combine classroom based teaching and learning methods within school, with a range of remote learning in order to deliver the Northern Ireland curriculum.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Education what engagement he will have with trade unions around the reopening of schools. (AQW 4994/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Department has arrangements in place to ensure the views expressed by teaching and non-teaching staff representatives are fully considered.

A subgroup of Teachers Negotiating Committee has been established to discuss matters that may impact on teachers' terms and conditions, associated with the reopening of schools, and as schools adjust to arrangements in the new term.

The Education Authority is also engaging with the non-teaching unions via the relevant negotiating structures.

The Department is well aware it cannot deliver the Restart Programme without the support and confidence of the education workforce. To this end, the Department will continue to work alongside stakeholders to ensure a safe and effective re-opening of schools for the benefit of our children and young people.

Mr Robinson asked the Minister of Education what consideration has his Department given to school bus travel in terms of (i) social distancing; and (ii) the provision and wearing of face masks on school buses. (AQW 5060/17-22)

Mr Weir: My officials are working with colleagues in the Department for Infrastructure and the Education Authority to explore how home to school transport can be safely delivered within the current social distancing restrictions. While social distancing measures are in place on vehicles providing home to school transport, it is clear that this will significantly reduce capacity and therefore it is highly unlikely that all currently eligible pupils would be able to access home to school transport as pre-COVID. My Department is urgently examining a range of options to seek to minimise the disruption that this would cause.

In relation the wearing of face coverings, guidance from the Department for Infrastructure on this issue will be adhered to in the delivery of all home to home to school transport.

Mrs Cameron asked the Minister of Education whether his Department has been able to make any steps towards introducing mandatory autism training for the existing teaching workforce, following the motion agreed by the Assembly on 3 February 2020. (AQW 5086/17-22)

Mr Weir: Since the debate on 3 February, my officials have engaged with the Education Authority, Middletown Centre for Autism and Autism NI to discuss views on how best to take this matter forward.

Based on those discussions, officials are currently finalising proposals for my consideration.

Given the uncertainty surrounding the public health situation, most training has been moved online for the foreseeable future.

Ms Mullan asked the Minister of Education to provide an update on the number of teachers who have qualified at the Autism Teacher Training School in Armagh. (AQW 5096/17-22)

Mr Weir: This is interpreted as referring to Middletown Centre for Autism

Period	Education Professionals attending training
1/4/19 - 31/3/20	4070
From December 2007 – 31/3/20	33,974

Ms Mullan asked the Minister of Education to detail the number of teachers who have completed their specialist autism training and are currently employed in the educational sector. (AQW 5097/17-22)

Mr Weir: Principals of schools have the responsibility for the professional development of their staff and for collecting and collating the records and data for individual staff members.

However, the Education Authority have confirmed, that in the 2018-19 school year, 4023 school staff accessed specialist training in autism from the EA Autism Advisory and Intervention Service yearly training programme.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister of Education, in relation to the £12 million package put in place for emergency childcare provision, and reports from childcare providers that the criteria of this scheme is too restrictive, whether the criteria of the scheme will be broadened so childcare facilities, like Rainbow Child and Family Centre in Bracken Park, Derry, can be adequately financially supported, given that all children can access childcare from 29 June.

Mr Weir: Minister Swann and I announced a support package for the childcare sector on 9 April. There are four elements within the overall package of measures: support for childminders, the approved home childcare scheme, childcare settings which are open; and a sustainability measure for childcare settings which have closed. £12m was allocated for three months until the end of June.

The Scheme was developed to reflect the diversity of the sector and ensure equitable distribution of the limited budget available.

Officials engaged with key stakeholders, including Early Years Organisation (EYO), PlayBoard NI, Northern Ireland Childminding Association (NICMA) and Employers for Childcare on the scheme parameters and the implementation process.

The amounts actually paid out under the childcare scheme are determined by the volume and nature of the applications that are submitted by the sector and by the assessment of eligible costs. Applications are still being processed and payments will continue to be paid as quickly as possible.

We are not in a position to make changes to the criteria or parameters of the current scheme, ending on 30 June. I have, however, asked my officials to develop a further childcare recovery scheme, subject to funding being made available from the Executive for this purpose. The new scheme is being designed to be as streamlined as possible for applicants, to incentivise childcare facilities to re-open.

A Department of Education and Department of Health led Childcare Reference Group has been established and there continues to be ongoing engagement with the group to inform decision-making in relation to issues facing the sector as part of wider recovery planning.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Education what provisions have been made to ensure that children with statement of Special Educational Needs will be accommodated in the reopening of schools.

Mr Weir: As part of the Restart Programme, a Vulnerable Children and Special Educational Needs Services Project has been established with the primary objective of ensuring that services delivered to those children with Special Educational Needs (SEN) are re-instated in a safe and effective manner when schools return to operation.

Our aim is to support a phased and safe transition back to full-time educational provision for children and young people with SEN, including those attending mainstream settings, special settings, Education Other Than at School (EOTAS) settings, and those receiving education at hospital school.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Education how his Department intends to implement social distancing guidance in relation to Education Authority and private transport arrangements for children with Special Educational Needs who attend specialist units in mainstream schools, including pupils with (i) ASD, MLD, ADHD conditions; (ii) behavioural difficulties; and (iii) a complex range of medical needs who are entitled to transport to and from school.

Mr Weir: The Education Authority is examining these complex issues and will be publishing operational guidance in due course. This guidance will detail its operational plans for how it will provide home to school transport to eligible pupils, including all those with special educational needs.

While social distancing measures are in place on vehicles providing home to school transport, capacity will be significantly reduced. While the EA is trying to maximise the number of pupils who will be able to be safely transported, with any form of social distancing in place, it is unlikely that all eligible pupils will be able to be provided with a seat on a vehicle. My Department is examining a range of options to seek to minimise the disruption that this would cause.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Education how his Department intends to implement social distancing guidance in Autism Spectrum Disorder units and learning support units, where many of the issues can only be addressed by safe handling by adults employed in these units.

Mr Weir: All educational settings will adhere to Public Health Authority (PHA) guidance on social distancing. Autism Specific Classes are usually small (8 pupils) and this is an enabling factor in relation to social distancing.

On 4 June, the Department issued guidance to support safe working in educational settings. Safe handling policies and procedures will apply for particular pupils using individual management plans to take account of varying risks regarding Covid-19 within a school day.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Education, given the current recommendation for social distancing, how he plans to address the need for pupils in ASD units to receive personal and intimate care throughout the school day.

Mr Weir: All educational settings will adhere to Public Health Authority (PHA) guidance on social distancing. Autism Specific Classes are usually small (8 pupils) and this is an enabling factor in relation to social distancing.

Adults will work with children directly by way of supporting learning, managing behaviour and intimate care where this is required using Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) as appropriate. On 4 June, the Department issued guidance to support safe working in educational settings. Safe handling policies and procedures will apply for particular pupils using individual management plans to take account of varying risks regarding Covid-19 within a school day.

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Education to detail the current level of bullying reported across all schools for the 2018/19 academic year.

Mr Weir: This information is not held by the Department.

Mrs Cameron asked the Minister of Education for a breakdown of all schools selected for the School Enhancement Programme since it began including (i) the original date on which each individual school was announced as part of the scheme; and (ii) what stage of design, construction or completion each school is at as of June 2020.

Mr Weir: I have arranged to have the information requested placed in the Assembly Library.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Education to publish (i) a breakdown of the number of schools from each sector which applied for support from the Major Capital Works Programme, the outcome of which was announced on 23 June 2020; and (ii) the number from each sector which were successful.

(AQW 5179/17-22)

Mr Weir: A total of eighty-nine eligible applications were lodged by the closing date.

- (i) The breakdown of schools from each sector was as follows:
- Thirty-three applications were lodged in respect of Controlled schools;
  - Five applications were lodged in respect of Irish medium schools;
  - Six applications were lodged in respect of Integrated schools;
  - Thirteen applications were lodged in respect of Voluntary Grammar schools; and
  - Thirty-two applications were lodged in respect of Catholic maintained schools.
- (ii) The number of successful schools from each sector is as follows:
- One Controlled school;
  - One Voluntary Grammar school; and
  - Seven Catholic maintained schools.

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Education whether his Department has any intention to support specific projects that are designed to prevent Adverse Childhood Experiences.

(AQW 5182/17-22)

Mr Weir: The impact of traumatic experiences which happen in children's lives is one of the most important issues facing society today. Adverse childhood experiences (ACE) are not new, however, the knowledge and evidence from more recent studies has increased awareness and reaffirmed the importance of early-life experiences for health and well-being throughout the life course.

Over the past year staff from both my Department and the Education Authority have taken part in the Early Intervention Transformation Programme (EITP) funded trauma informed practice and ACE professional development programme, and an awareness of ACE underpins many aspects of the work of my department.

Strategically, it is included in the Children and Young People's Strategy, which I will be bringing to the Executive in due course. I have also ensured that prevention and intervention in relation to ACE informs the services provided by my Department and the Education Authority which impact on all aspects of children's lives. Prevention of ACE should not be viewed as a specific intervention considered in isolation, but as part of a wide range of policies, programmes and services ensuring a trauma informed culture across government. The Education Authority (EA) works in partnership with schools and other agencies to help to mitigate the negative impacts of ACE where they occur and ensure ongoing development of an adversity and trauma-informed workforce. Services such as the Vulnerable Persons Relocation Scheme for refugees and asylum seekers and the Child Protection Support Service are examples where it is used. The EA Critical Incident Response Team plays a vital role in supporting children and staff following an unexpected incident or sequence of events which cause trauma within a school community. Support for children experiencing ACE is also an important part in the EA Children Looked-After Education project, the Whole School Approach to Nurturing work, the Behavioural Support Unit and the 31 nurture groups across the country.

The Attach Programme (TAP) project is a multidisciplinary Department of Education led interagency relationship-based approach, designed to specifically support the team around the child recovering from trauma of which adverse childhood experiences would be a key component. This approach provides school staff with the opportunity to build their knowledge of trauma and attachment, what that looks like within the school setting, and how it can be best supported using strategies that are recommended from world-leading experts.

The Education and Training Inspectorate took part in the EITP professional development programme and are in the process of planning an evaluation of Trauma Informed Practice across all phases of education, which will likely take place in the 2020-21 academic year. They will be producing a report on the practice along with a range of case studies to illustrate how organisations are becoming trauma informed.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Education when will he bring forward legislation to address cyberbullying.
(AQW 5219/17-22)

Mr Weir: Cyber-bullying cannot be addressed by my Department alone.

The Addressing Bullying in Schools (NI) Act 2016 requires schools to record incidents of bullying, their motivation and their outcome including those which take place through electronic communication.

While I am unable to confirm an exact date for implementation of the Act, I am considering this in the context of the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic and the Education Restart Programme on schools and their pupils.

I will make an announcement in due course.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Education what measures his Department is taking to ensure the end of racial bullying in our schools.
(AQW 5220/17-22)

Mr Weir: My Department funds the Northern Ireland Anti-Bullying Forum (NIABF), which brings together 25 statutory and non-statutory organisations to reduce bullying and create a safer environment for children and young people.

As part of Anti-Bullying Week 2018, "Time to Stand", a short film on tackling bullying and racism was shown in a special screening to schools from Urban Village areas at the Odyssey Cinema Belfast.

More recently, NIABF organised the Young People's Forum event which took place on 7 February 2020 in Parliament Buildings, during which 15 to 19 year olds took part in committee sessions, chaired by MLAs. One of the committees focused specifically on tackling bullying motivated by race, faith or culture.

The Addressing Bullying in Schools (NI) Act 2016 requires schools to record incidents of bullying, their motivation and their outcome including racial bullying.

I will announce a commencement date in due course.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Education how much money has been spent on addressing racial bullying in schools in the last ten years; broken down by area.
(AQW 5221/17-22)

Mr Weir: My Department does not collect information on how much is spent in schools to address bullying, including racial bullying.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister of Education to publish a list of all post-primary schools where less than 50% of their Year 12 pupils achieved five GCSEs at grade A* to C, including English and Maths, for the academic year 2018/19.
(AQW 5235/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Summary of Annual Examination Results (SAER) produces analyses based on Year 12 pupils deemed eligible for inclusion in the data collection. For the 2018/19 academic year, schools where less than 50% of these pupils achieved five or more GCSEs at grades A* to C (including equivalents) including GCSE English and GCSE maths, are listed below.

Source: Summary of Annual Examination Results – 2018/19

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister of Education (i) whether the findings of the National Audit Office's inquiry report - Entitlement to free early education and childcare, will apply to Northern Ireland; and (ii) whether he accepts that comprehensive affordable childcare is an essential ingredient for a successful and productive economy and for members of society to reach their potential.

Mr Weir: The National Audit Office's inquiry report, Entitlement to free early education and childcare evaluates how well the Department for Education in England, working with others, has implemented its early years policies to date.

In considering what an extended early education and childcare offer might look like here, my officials have considered the findings of this report, in addition to other reports and research on the impact, benefits and challenges of implementing a funded childcare offer. Officials also regularly engage with colleagues in other jurisdictions to learn from their experiences in taking forward an early education and childcare offer.

A commitment in the 'New Decade New Approach' agreement commits the Executive to publish a Childcare Strategy and identify resources to deliver extended, affordable and high quality provision of early education and care initiatives for families with children aged 3-4.

The availability of affordable, accessible childcare, responsive to the needs of children and families is a key objective of the Ten Year Executive Childcare Strategy. I fully accept that high quality and affordable childcare can help support parents stay and progress in work – and, for some, childcare is fundamental to access further training and development which can help improve employment prospects. In addition, and equally important, for children high quality childcare provision can help support their physical, cognitive, social and emotional development.

This is the context in which the Executive will be asked to consider the Ten Year Childcare Strategy and make difficult decisions around the substantial additional funding commitment which will be required to deliver it.

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education what will be put in place to assist children with Special Educational Needs and vulnerable children over the 2020 summer holidays in terms of supervised education placements in special schools or via summer schemes.

Mr Weir: The Education Authority's (EA) Special School summer schemes for 2020 will proceed but not in the usual format. The EA is working in partnership with Special Schools to provide ideas and activities online for pupils during the summer period and also tailored school-based summer schemes. To date, 17 of the 21 schools which normally offer a scheme are making some form of provision and have confirmed dates for the summer period. Provision will be a mixture of morning school based activities supplemented by afternoon online provision. Each school's provision is for their pupils for whom they hold health care plans and have trained staff.

In addition, Sure Start services are available to all children (aged 0-3) and families within catchment areas. This support has continued during the COVID-19 pandemic and will continue throughout 2020/21 including the summer months.

During COVID-19 the 38 Sure Start projects are delivering services by alternative means, prioritising to the most vulnerable children and their families.

The Pathway Fund includes support for children (aged 0-4) with special educational needs, complex needs and their parents/carers. Many of the Pathway Fund projects will operate over the summer months, having identified alternative means to meet the needs of the families within their local community.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister of Education to detail (i) how many schools have received sexual consent education via the Nexus NI Education Projects in the East Derry constituency; and (ii) how he plans to improve education around sexual consent and sexual abuse in our curriculum.

Mr Weir: The Department does not endorse or recommend any external resource or programme for use by schools and therefore does not hold information on individual programmes which may be delivered. Schools can determine which resources or programmes they wish to use to support their delivery of the curriculum. I understand that Nexus has been working with partner organisations to deliver free Relationships and Sexuality Education Programmes across Northern Ireland to training agencies, youth clubs and regional colleges.

I recognise the importance of delivering appropriate and informed teaching in the area of Relationship and Sexuality Education (RSE) and my Department has provided earmarked funding to the Council for Curriculum, Examinations and Assessment (CCEA) to support the production of RSE resources and guidance materials, particularly on a range of sensitive topics including sexual consent and sexual abuse. In June 2019, CCEA launched its online RSE Hub to facilitate access to these resources. This approach enhances the teaching of RSE by providing teachers with resources and support to increase their competence and confidence in this area. Further funding in 2020/21 will enable additional resources to be developed and added to the Hub. A Curricular Progression Framework has been developed which clearly sets out for schools key issues to be considered at each Key Stage. It is of course a matter for schools to decide which, if any, of these resources they use to inform the development and delivery of an RSE programme.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister of Education for his assessment of the difficulties faced by schools operating in mobile accommodation in relation to social distancing.

Mr Weir: My strategic objective is to achieve maximum face-to-face teaching time for all pupils at the earliest opportunity.

I have set out that there will be a minimum 40% face-to-face teaching time within primary schools and a minimum 50% face-to-face teaching time within post-primary schools with the balance provided through blended learning

Whilst the aim is to get as many pupils back to classroom teaching as quickly as possible in September 2020, I am well aware that every school is different, every classroom is different.

Therefore, there will be variances in how schools approach the return to school. Some schools will be able to safely bring back all pupils immediately, whilst others will need to follow the guidance on minimum class time and implement blended learning.

The challenges of social distancing are particularly acute within education settings. This will be particularly problematic in smaller classrooms, in mobile accommodation and with our younger pupils who may not understand the need for physical distancing.

By reducing the social distancing requirement from 2m to 1m, a significantly higher number of children would be able to be accommodated within classrooms at the same time. This should allow the majority of schools to split classes into no more than 2 groups, or in some cases a single group. This would not have been possible with 2m distancing.

Mr Beattie asked the Minister of Education to outline (i) the capital work plans for Portadown College; (ii) whether the college is in line for major investment towards a rebuild; and (iii) the timeframe for this investment.

(AQW 5340/17-22)

Mr Weir:

- (i) There are no major capital works planned for Portadown College at this time.
- (ii) The Education Authority submitted an application under the latest major capital works call in respect of Portadown College. The application passed the initial Gateway criteria, however did not feature on the announced list of successful projects, as it did not score as highly in the assessment process as the six post primary schools which were announced.
- (iii) Whilst the school did not feature on the latest major capital works announcement of 23 June 2020, it is likely that a further call for major capital projects will be made before the end of the year. The Education Authority may wish to consider lodging a new application in respect of Portadown College under the next call for projects.

Ms Mullan asked the Minister of Education to provide the current list of schools who have applied for major capital works.

Mr Weir: All eligible applications lodged under the latest major works call, which closed on 31 October 2019, are listed below.

Department of Finance

Ms S Bradley asked the Minister of Finance why almost £60 million of the £95 million ring-fenced Transport Package is being held centrally by his Department; and for a breakdown of how and when this funding will be distributed.

(AQW 4832/17-22)

Mr Murphy (The Minister of Finance): As I announced to the Assembly on Tuesday 30 June 2020, the Executive has agreed to allocate a further £20m to address Translink's lost income, as well as £10m for other transport lost income. This follows previous allocations which the Executive has agreed of £30m for lost income, primarily for Translink, £3.3m for airports, and £2.2m for ferry operators.

The remaining £29.5m is being held centrally so that the Executive can allocate it in line with the developing needs of the broad transport sector.

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Finance to detail the financial support measures available to taxi operators and the taxi industry.

Mr Murphy: There are a number of financial support measures which are available to businesses and individuals across a range of industries including the taxi industry. For operators with premises this includes the rates holiday which applies to the end of July, and those with customer service premises may be eligible for this to be extended until the end of March 2021. The Department for the Economy has also been offering a number of schemes which may be applicable to taxi operators including the Coronavirus £10,000 Small Business Support Grant and the NI Micro Business Hardship Fund. In addition, for employees there is HMRC's Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme, and for those who are self-employed there is the Self-Employed Income Support Scheme.

No bids were submitted by either DfI or DfE in the June Monitoring and COVID Reprioritisation exercises for support for the taxi industry, and until such times as a proposal is submitted it is not possible to consider an allocation of funding for a specific scheme for the taxi industry.

Dr Aiken asked the Minister of Finance, pursuant to AQW 4588/17-22, to provide detail of this answer broken down by Department and grade.

(AQW 4944/17-22)

Mr Murphy: The breakdown by Department is set out in the table below. The information cannot be broken down further by grade as we do not hold this information.

Mr Muir asked the Minister of Finance when, and by whom, the current Civil Service Email Retention Policy was approved.
(AQW 5017/17-22)

Mr Murphy: The NICS undertook a major programme of work in 2007 to implement an electronic records management system, known as TRIM. The current email retention policy was introduced as part of that work. The policy was approved by the Programme Board and endorsed for implementation by each Accounting Officer and Departmental Board.

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Finance to detail the ten towns in Northern Ireland with the highest rate of vacant non-domestic properties.

Mr Beattie asked the Minister of Finance, pursuant to question AQW 4682/17-22, if an individual is subsequently absent from work due to mental health issues brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic, whether they will be subject to a written warning and final warning under the Inefficiency Absence policy; and whether they will receive the 20 day interim letter outlining this procedure.

Mr Murphy: Where medical evidence is provided by an individual confirming a period of sickness absence, due to mental health issues, is connected to COVID-19 then Employee Relations case managers will discount that period of absence for the purposes of considering written or final written warnings.

Additionally, in these circumstances any member of staff who is absent from work for 20 days or more will not be issued a letter from NICSHR.

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister of Finance whether any Barnett Consequentials generated through higher education spending in England will be allocated to universities in Northern Ireland.

Mr Murphy: Barnett Consequentials do not have to be used for the purpose which gave rise to the consequential. The Executive will consider any request for funding in light of competing priorities and overall level of funding available at that time.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister of Finance, following concerns relayed by the Department of Infrastructure's Accounting Officer to his Department, what certainty has been provided to the directors of Translink on funding during the current year to allow them to plan and manage public transport and meet their responsibility under company law.

Mr Murphy: As I announced to the Assembly on Tuesday 30 June 2020, the Executive has now allocated a total of £50m to address Translink's lost income as result of COVID-19. This is on top of the recurrent £20m which the Executive allocated in its 2020-21 Budget to address Translink's underlying deficit. A further £29.5m of the funding set aside by the Executive is being held centrally so that the Executive can allocate it in line with the developing needs of the broad transport sector.

As the Department for Infrastructure is the sponsor department for Translink, any engagement with the organisation's directors is a matter for the Department for Infrastructure.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance, pursuant to AQW 4701/17-22, how the funding and expenditure by North/South bodies complied with the requirements of Schedule 1, Annex 2, Part 7, Paragraph 2 of the North/South Cooperation (Implementation Bodies) (Northern Ireland) Order 1999.

(AQW 5223/17-22)

Mr Murphy: Schedule 1, Annex 2, Part 7 Paragraph 2 of the North/South Cooperation (Implementation Bodies) (Northern Ireland) Order 1999 (The Order) sets out the Financial Arrangements for the North South (N/S) Implementation Bodies.

Specifically, paragraph 2.1 states “The Northern South Ministerial Council (NSMC) will, with the approval of the Finance Ministers make recommendations as to the amounts of such grants.”

In addition Part II of The Order, for each Body, states that the relevant department “may make grants to the Body ..... Such grants shall be of such amounts and be made on such terms and conditions as that departments may, with the approval of the Department of Finance (DOF), determine.”

Therefore NSMC/Ministerial approval is a procedural requirement and the absence of that approval made the grants irregular, but not unlawful. The power statutory to approve the amounts of the grants, and the associated terms and conditions, is in fact conferred on the DOF, proceeding without the approval of DOF would have rendered the grants unlawful.

Therefore contingency arrangements were put in place to enable DOF Officials to approve such payments during the period 2017-2020.

The rest of paragraph 2 sets out the financial arrangements of the sponsor departments and the Implementation Bodies themselves. Any clarification on compliance should be addressed to the relevant department.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Finance what protections are in place for a father’s name to continue to be placed on a child’s birth certificate.

Mr Murphy: As prescribed in the Births and Deaths Registration (Northern Ireland) Order 1976, either the father or mother may register the birth of their child if they are married. This will enable a standard birth registration to be carried out which will include the details of both parents. Married parents are both responsible in law for their children and therefore have parental responsibility.

Unmarried mothers automatically have parental responsibility but the same does not apply to an unmarried father. Where the parents are not married to each other, the father is not under any obligation to give information concerning the birth and the registrar cannot enter the father’s details unless both parents attend to jointly make this request. If the father cannot attend and both parents are in agreement, he may still be named on the certificate through completion of a statutory declaration, a parental responsibility agreement or a relevant court order. A joint registration will give parental responsibility to the father.

Department of Health

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health to publish the daily ‘R’ figure for each day from 1 April 2020 to the date of answer.

(AQW 4417/17-22)

Mr Swann (The Minister of Health): The estimated reproduction number, R has been published by the Department of Health on a weekly basis from 4 June 2020 as the consensus view of the Northern Ireland Covid-19 modelling group.

Set out in the table below are the estimates of R, including those for previous weeks.

Weeks commencing	R Estimate
30 March	2.3-3.3
6 April	1.4-1.7
13 April	0.8-1.1
20 April	0.7-0.9
27 April	0.8-1.0
4 May	0.8-1.0
11 May	0.6-0.9
18 May	0.7-1.0
25 May	0.8-1.0
1 June	0.7-0.9
8 June	0.5-0.9
15 June	0.6-0.9
22 June	0.6-0.9

The uncertainty in respect of the estimates of R means that it is appropriate to publish a weekly range rather than a specific figure or daily estimate for Northern Ireland.

Mr K Buchanan asked the Minister of Health to detail the delays caused by the COVID-19 pandemic to the (i) initial prognosis appointments; (ii) follow-up appointments; and (iii) on-going support, care and treatments for patients suspected of having, or who have been diagnosed with, breast cancer.

(AQW 4494/17-22)

Mr Swann:

- (i) During the pandemic surge, red flag breast cancer clinics continued with a reduced throughput due to COVID-19 infection control measures. Patients were prioritised for breast surgery based on risk benefit in accordance with national guidelines.
- (ii) Results and follow-up breast cancer clinics proceeded as normal virtually or via telephone and face to face when appropriate.
- (iii) Breast cancer surgery continued during the surge making use of both HSC and independent sector facilities. Patients were prioritised for surgery based on risk benefit in accordance with national guidelines; a small number of surgeries were deferred, but patients were offered alternative systemic anticancer treatment or radiotherapy treatments. Systemic anticancer treatment and radiotherapy treatment have continued to be delivered throughout the surge in line with national guidance and based on an assessment of individual risk / benefit.

Mr K Buchanan asked the Minister of Health to detail the delays caused as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic to the (i) initial prognosis appointments; (ii) follow-up appointments; and (iii) on-going support, care and treatments for patients suspected of, or diagnosed with, having bowel cancer.

(AQW 4495/17-22)

Mr Swann:

- (i) During the pandemic surge all suspected bowel cancer 'red flag' symptoms patients were triaged and the majority of patients referred were assessed virtually or by telephone.
- (ii) Results and follow-up clinics proceeded as normal virtually or via telephone and face to face when appropriate.
- (iii) Colorectal surgery continued as far as possible making use of both HSC and independent sector facilities. Patients were prioritised for surgery based on risk benefit in accordance with national guidelines; a small number of surgeries were deferred, but patients were offered alternative systemic anticancer treatment or radiotherapy treatments. Systemic anticancer treatment and radiotherapy treatment have continued to be delivered throughout the surge in line with national guidance and based on an assessment of individual risk / benefit.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister of Health what action he has taken to restore cancer services.

(AQW 4500/17-22)

Mr Swann: I can confirm Health and Social Care (HSC) Trusts have been tasked with developing service rebuilding plans for all HSC services. Actions are also underway to ensure the rapid and safe stepping up of both diagnosis and treatment of cancer patients in clinically safe environments.

I am also acutely aware of the severe impact that COVID-19 has had on the totality of cancer services. That is why I have informed officials that the resumption of screening, diagnosis and treatment of cancer patients in clinically safe environments is a high priority and should proceed as quickly as possible. Priority will be given to people at highest risk and to clearing any backlog of patients in the cancer pathway. I can assure you that every HSC Trust in Northern Ireland is developing plans and working hard to make that resumption a reality.

The Department's "Rebuilding HSC Services Strategic Framework" was published on 9 June 2020, and is available at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/publications/rebuilding-hsc-services>

Rebuilding services gives us an opportunity to transform our system for the better and for the real benefit of cancer patients and all those who need our services.

Mr Gildernew asked the Minister of Health for an update on his plans to reduce COVID-19-related restrictions on hospital visitation and hospital appointments.

Mr Swann: The reduction of visitors to hospitals was a key strategic component of managing the pandemic and it was taken to protect patients, their families and health and social care workers by reducing the risk of infection.

Following publication of the Northern Ireland Executive five-step approach to relaxing lockdown restrictions, my Department is in the process of reviewing the COVID-19 visiting guidance. We will share the revised guidance as soon as possible, with our intention being to publish by the end of June.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health what guidance is in place for employers as workers with diabetes return to work.

Mr Swann: People living with diabetes are part of a wider vulnerable group which is comprised broadly of those who require the flu vaccine for an underlying condition as well as those over seventy regardless of medical condition. This group is advised to stringently socially distance and it is recognised that they are at higher risk of severe illness from coronavirus. They are advised to stay at home as much as possible and, if they do go out, take particular care to minimise contact with others outside their household.

Employers are required to protect the safety and health of everyone in the workplace. The Department for the Economy has published guidance on making workplaces safer during the current coronavirus crisis. The Covid-19 'Working Through This Together' guide sets out principles and practical steps for employers and employees to keep themselves and their workplaces safe, including requirements for carrying out risk assessments. It also highlights the steps to be followed if employers and employees are concerned about safety.

Information and advice for employers and employees on Covid-19 and workplace safety in different business settings can be found at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/node/23544>

Employers should implement procedures that are reasonably practicable to protect all their employees and members of the public. Safety advice for employers and employees can also be accessed on the Health and Safety Executive website at www.hseni.gov.uk

Where any employee has concerns about their health and safety in the workplace they should discuss their particular circumstances with their employer who would be best placed to advise on appropriate measures for their role and the workplace at this time, including, for example, if there might be scope to re-design their job, working pattern or location, or reduce contact with others.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health whether employers have to carry out risk assessments when staff with diabetes are returning to work.

(AQW 4821/17-22)

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister of Health when the dermatology unit at Craigavon Area Hospital will reopen in permanent accommodation.

(AQW 4887/17-22)

Mr Swann: You will be aware that on 9 June 2020 I published the Strategic Framework for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services, along with Phase 1 (June 2020) rebuilding plans for each of the six Health and Social Care (HSC) Trusts. The Strategic Framework will underpin the development of incremental service plans by Trusts, including for the provision of urgent and emergency care.

The key aim will be to incrementally increase Health and Social Care (HSC) service capacity as quickly as possible across all programmes of care, including emergency care, within the prevailing COVID-19 conditions. Subsequent phases will see these service activity plans and targets updated in three monthly cycles. The Southern HSC Trust has given an assurance that the Emergency Department, currently located in the Dermatology Unit at Craigavon Area Hospital, will move back to Daisy Hill Hospital by 30 September 2020. The Dermatology Unit will then reopen in its previous permanent accommodation at Craigavon Hospital.

Ms S Bradley asked the Minister of Health (i) how many people were advised to shield by their GP or hospital specialist; (ii) how many of these people subsequently received an extension on the advice to shield from the Chief Medical Officer; and (iii) to explain any disparity that may exist between the two figures.

Mr Swann: In Northern Ireland, approximately 95,000 patients were advised by letter to shield as their medical condition means that they are at greater risk of severe complications should they catch COVID-19.

These letters along, with a second letter from the Chief Medical Officer providing updated guidance, were issued to patients by their GP, or hospital specialist.

If a patient who is in receipt of a shielding letter has not received further correspondence advising them of an extension to the advice to shield, they should contact their GP or hospital specialist for advice.

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Health what consideration was given to the Adult Safeguarding Policy, particularly around risk assessment for individuals and the retaining of information possibly required for criminal investigation, when the Chief Medical Officer directed the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority to reduce care facility inspections and cease others; and what alternative has been activated to ensure risk assessments are appropriately undertaken around appropriate care and protection.

Mr Swann: On 20 March 2020, in line with my Department's direction RQIA reduced the frequency of its statutory inspection programme to minimise the risk of health and social care professionals and other visitors spreading infection in care settings. During this time RQIA continued to regulate services, responding to specific risks and concerns, conducting inspections and taking enforcement as necessary.

Adult Safeguarding referrals can be made by care home staff or HSC staff including RQIA inspectors. Concerns can be raised by families, visitors or residents with either the care home, the Trust or RQIA in the first instance. Care facilities and the organisations who run them have Adult Safeguarding Champions and/or Appointed Officers who can advise care home staff about appropriate responses to concerns. During Covid, adult safeguarding arrangements have remained in place and whenever a concern has been raised, the Trust will have carried out a professional assessment about the nature of the concern, the risks associated with it and the most appropriate response including the potential need for PSNI involvement and preservation of evidence.

While reducing footfall to care homes during the pandemic has been an important infection control measure, there are a range of external HSC professionals that continue to have a presence within these services as part of their existing role. My Department, working with colleagues in the RQIA and PHA, has developed an aide memoire to assist those HSC professionals who do have to visit nursing and residential care homes during the COVID19 pandemic to think about and reflect on their observations and experiences, and to act as an additional protective layer for people living in nursing and residential care homes

Mr McHugh asked the Minister of Health how many children and adults in each Health and Social Care Trust are currently on waiting lists for autism referrals.

(AQW 4980/17-22)

Mr Swann: The numbers of children and adults waiting for an autism assessment in each HSC Trust are provided in the tables below:

Table 1. Children's Autism Assessment Waiting List

Trust	Number waiting for assessment at end March 2020*
Northern	1234

Western	891

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health whether he will commit to publishing, in full, the review of urgent and emergency care. (AQW 4997/17-22)

Mr Swann: I intend to publish the Review's report in full this summer.

Mr Gildernew asked the Minister of Health for an update on the Rapid Learning Initiative into COVID-19-related deaths in care homes, including the (i) terms of reference; (ii) membership of the group; and (iii) expected timeframe for reporting. (AQW 5012/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Chief Nursing Officer for Northern Ireland has established a Task and Finish Group, whose membership will work in partnership to undertake a Rapid Learning Initiative into the transmission of Covid19 into and within Care Homes.

The Group has established four Subgroups to examine key areas within Care Homes. The Group and the four Subgroups each meet weekly and work is ongoing to gather the underpinning data to support the Initiative.

Information about the work of the Rapid Learning Initiative, including the Terms of Reference for the Task and Finish Group and its membership, are available on the Department's website.

The aim is to have the report with the Chief Nursing Offer for her consideration by 17th July 2020.

Miss Woods asked the Minister of Health whether his Department will publish trends of individuals testing positive for COVID-19, broken down by local government district. (AQW 5016/17-22)

Mr Swann: My Department publishes a COVID-19 Dashboard (<https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/articles/covid-19-daily-dashboard-updates>) which includes information on individuals with laboratory completed tests for the SARS-COV-2 virus, which causes COVID-19. The information described by the COVID-19 Dashboard includes details of numbers of people testing positive and is broken down by Local Government District.

Since the 25 June 2020, my Department has also commenced reporting of the change in positive laboratory completed tests by Local Government District. The figures presented in the COVID-19 Dashboard now reveal the change in the numbers of people testing positive in the last 7 days, and also in the last 14 days, broken down by Local Government District.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health to outline any guidance or restrictions for physiotherapists in the provision of services. (AQW 5020/17-22)

Mr Swann: Physiotherapists are statutory regulated health professionals and are registered with the Health and Care Professions Council (HCPC).

The HCPC requires physiotherapists to maintain their fitness to practice in order to keep up their registration.

Physiotherapists demonstrate their professionalism by working within a defined regulatory framework of personal and professional standards adhering to a moral, ethical and professional code of practice.

There are no restrictions for Health and Social Care (HSC) physiotherapists working in Northern Ireland. Although during the pandemic there has been a need to review existing care pathways and factor in the impacts of Covid-19 on them and adjust accordingly.

Independent physiotherapists although not HSC professionals are governed by the same regulatory conditions. Unlike HSC physiotherapists this group of professionals have been closed during the pandemic as they are not on the list of essential workers as defined in the Health Protection (Coronavirus Restriction) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2020.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health to outline the substance of his Department's meetings and other interactions with the Transformation Advisory Board, as they developed plans to rebuild Health and Social Care services. (AQW 5021/17-22)

Mr Swann: I was scheduled to meet with members of the Transformation Advisory Board on 7 April. Unfortunately, this meeting was postponed in light of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Following publication of the HSC Rebuilding Strategic Framework, an engagement exercise was carried out on the principles to be adopted in the rebuild process, which was attended by union representatives, including Unison, of which TAB member, Mr John Patrick Clayton, is a member.

The HSC Rebuilding Strategic Framework makes clear, that advice from experts working in health and social care fields will be obtained to inform the rebuilding of HSC services, as required; and that rebuilding proposals must be developed using co-production principles.

Director of Transformation within the Department, Ciara Dolan, has since provided an update on the Transformation programme to Mr Clayton, during which he made reference to the need for clarity on the role of TAB moving forward, in the context of the new Strategic Framework and Management Board.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health whether scheduled free dental appointments will still stand after COVID-19 restrictions are lifted.

(AQW 5022/17-22)

Mr Swann: Exemptions to dental charges are outlined in the Dental Charges Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1989 (as amended) and the Travelling Expenses and Remission of Charge Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2004 (as amended).

The exemption status of a patient is determined at the time that the Health Service Dental Claim form is signed for acceptance of treatment. The exemption status remains for the course of treatment even if the individual's qualification for the exemption changes.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health for update into each business case that is being developed to promote walking strategies and physical exercise.

Mr Swann: "A Fitter Future for All", the obesity prevention strategy for Northern Ireland, seeks to promote greater participation in all forms of physical activity, including walking and cycling, as physical activity plays a key role in improving population health and well-being. In support of "A Fitter Future for All", the Public Health Agency (PHA) commissions a suite of programmes to increase participation in physical activity.

There are no specific business cases on walking strategies and physical activity being developed by the PHA or the Department of Health at present. However, during 19/20 the PHA and Sport NI funded the development of an Economic Appraisal with a view to creating a single co-ordinated and better resourced led-walking programme in Northern Ireland, the "Walking for All" programme. It is anticipated that the programme will operate across Northern Ireland and supersede both Walking for Health and Walking in Your Community (developed by Outdoor Recreation NI) but enabling the activity of these programmes to continue. A key aspiration of the proposed programme is that all areas of NI are served by a regular led walk.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health what reasons were given for the resignation of the Non-Executive directors from the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority.

Mr Swann: I announced, on Tuesday 23 June 2020, that an independent review into the RQIA board resignations is to be carried out.

It would not be appropriate, at this time, for me to comment in any detail on the reasons given for the resignations until the independent review has completed.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health when visits by birth parents to see children currently in the care of foster parents will resume.

Mr Swann: In line with the commitments within the five Health and Social Care Trusts' Rebuilding Plans Phase 1 published in June 2020, Trusts are actively reviewing all looked after children's cases, including those in foster care, to risk assess where face to face contact can take place safely in line with public health advice.

To support this process, a regional risk assessment tool for direct face to face contact for looked after children has been agreed by the Health and Social Care Board and the Health and Social Care Trusts. The assessment is completed by each child's social worker prior to any decision to progress direct face to face contact.

Where risk assessments have been completed which have concluded that face to face contact can take place safely, arrangements for resumption of such contact are being put in place with some face to face contact with birth families having now recommenced.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister of Health when orthopaedic surgeries will resume in the Southern Health and Social Care Trust.

(AQW 5064/17-22)

Mr Swann: You will be aware that on 9 June 2020 I published the Strategic Framework for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services, along with Phase 1 (June 2020) rebuilding plans for each of the six Health and Social Care (HSC) Trusts. The Strategic Framework will underpin the development of incremental service plans by Trusts, including for the provision of orthopaedic surgery.

The key aim will be to incrementally increase HSC service capacity as quickly as possible across all programmes of care, within the prevailing COVID-19 conditions. Subsequent phases will see these service activity plans and targets updated in three monthly cycles.

The Southern HSC Trust has confirmed that it intends to commence orthopaedic day surgeries from week commencing 6 July 2020. In relation to more complex orthopaedic surgeries requiring hospital admission, there is no confirmed start date as yet.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister of Health (i) for an update on the implementation of the Protect Life 2 strategy; and (ii) to detail the (a) current funding allocations; and (b) the projected funding allocations over each of the next three years.

(AQW 5066/17-22)

Mr Swann:

- (i) An overview on the current work that has been delivered under the Protect Life 2 Strategy is available on the Department of Health website at:
<https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/sites/default/files/publications/health/actionplanataglace-may2020.pdf>
- (ii) (a) £9.46m is currently invested annually by the Department of Health through the Public Health Agency to implement Protect Life 2. In addition, transformation funding of £190.5k has been allocated to the Multi Agency Triage Team and £649k to Towards Zero Suicide programme to help reduce suicides within Adult Mental Health Services.
- (b) as the budgets for future years have not been determined the funding allocations for those years are not currently available.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health for an update on the development and implementation of regulations pursuant to the passing of the Health and Social Care (Control of Data Processing) Act (Northern Ireland) 2016.

(AQW 5087/17-22)

Mr Swann: Work had resumed on the preparation of Regulations on the Secondary Use of Patient Identifiable Information after the Assembly returned in January. However this work had to be temporarily suspended when staff were diverted to other work in support of the Department's Covid-19 response. Work will resume in July.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, pursuant to AQW 4654/17-22, of the 6,473 people who attended the COVID-19 Centres, how many were (i) found to be in need of no further attention; and (ii) referred to hospital.

(AQW 5090/17-22)

Mr Swann: All patients who attend COVID-19 centres have first been triaged as having COVID symptoms, and requiring further assessment by a GP. The reason for their referral may be due to concerns around COVID-19, or another medical condition which requires further investigation.

Of the 6,473 patients referred to in AQW 4654/17-22, 73.69% (4,770) patients were able to be given advice on self-management at home following assessment.

In the case of 2.35% (158) patients, an ambulance was called to transport the patient to hospital, while 15.42% (1040) patients were referred to secondary care.

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Health how much revenue each Health and Social Care Trust raised from car parking charges in 2019/20.

(AQW 5106/17-22)

Mr Swann: The table below provides the level of revenue generated from car parking charges in each Health and Social Care Trust.

Health and Social Care Trust	Revenue Generated (£'m)
Belfast	3.2
Northern	1.2
South Eastern	2.1
Southern	0.7

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Health how many nursing vacancies there are in the health service.
(AQW 5108/17-22)

Mr Swann: Information on nursing vacancies actively being recruited to in Health and Social Care is published on a quarterly basis at the following link: <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/articles/staff-vacancies>

Mr T Buchanan asked the Minister of Health to outline the guidelines for hospital and care home visits by family members; and whether these guidelines are consistent across Health and Social Care Trusts.
(AQW 5114/17-22)

Mr Swann: On 30 June 2020, my Department published updated guidance which applies from 6 July 2020 for all Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust inpatient services including maternity services, mental health and learning disability inpatient services, Care Homes and Hospices for the duration for the COVID-19 response.

The guidance is available at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/covid-visiting-guidance>.

This revised guidance will continue in force while the surge level and the Northern Ireland Executive five step approach permits, with approved visiting guidance aligned to the pandemic surge levels/R value based on the best scientific advice available at any given time.

Mr T Buchanan asked the Minister of Health when hospital and care home visitation for family members will resume.
(AQW 5115/17-22)

Mr Swann: In line with the five-step approach to relaxing lockdown restrictions by the Northern Ireland Executive on 12 May 2020, my Department undertook a review of the impact of hospital visitors on disease transmission.

This has resulted in the publication, on 30 June 2020, of updated guidance for all Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust inpatient services including maternity services, mental health and learning disability inpatient services, Care Homes and Hospices for the duration for the COVID-19 response. It is available at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/covid-visiting-guidance>.

This guidance applies from 6 July 2020 and will continue in force as the surge level and the Northern Ireland Executive five step approach permits, with approved visiting guidance aligned to the pandemic surge levels/R value based on the best scientific advice available at any given time.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health what scientific evidence he has sought concerning the potential health risks of allowing people to continue to enter Northern Ireland with no checks, given that rates of transmission here are much lower than in the rest of the UK.

Mr Swann: Scientific evidence has been provided which indicates that when the overall level of community transmission is low, the health risks of importing cases from countries with a higher risk of transmission are greater. It is important to weigh these risks against social, economic and other considerations when determining policy.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health when the scientific evidence demonstrating the public health considerations which led to the abandonment of contact tracing in Northern Ireland on 12 March 2020 will be published.
(AQW 5130/17-22)

Mr Swann: In line with the rest of the UK, the PHA were conducting rigorous contact tracing for all cases of COVID-19 until the 12th March 2020.

On the 12th March, the UK moved from the containment phase to the delay phase. The focus of our efforts then shifted from individual contact tracing to wider measures, including advising all of the public what to do if they had symptoms, prevention of spread, and social distancing.

The rationale underpinning the change in approach from the containment to the delay phase was based on sound public health principles as it recognised that there was widespread community transmission of the SARS-CoV-2 virus. The application of rigorous social distancing measures effectively superseded contact tracing during this 'delay' phase of our pandemic response.

Scientific evidence in relation to the early stages of the epidemic is contained within the papers of SAGE which are available via <https://www.gov.uk/government/groups/scientific-advisory-group-for-emergencies-sage-coronavirus-covid-19-response>

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health what services will exist for male and female victims of domestic abuse across Health and Social Care during the (i) 2020/21; and (ii) 2021/22 financial years.
(AQW 5132/17-22)

Mr Swann: A range of services are provided for male and female victims of domestic abuse across Health and Social Care, for example: Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conferencing for high risk victims; routine enquiry across all maternity services; a range of children's services for those that need health and social care support and protection; and SLA's with Women's Aid groups providing emergency accommodation and outreach to children and their families. The Health and Social Care Board has also commissioned the Men's Advisory Project and Nexus NI to provide counselling services.

The Department is piloting the 'Identification and Referral to Improve Safety' advocacy programme in GP Practices across East Belfast and Newry/Down over 2020/21. The Department also part funds the freephone 24 hour Domestic and Sexual Abuse Helpline.

The budget for 2021/22 has not yet been set and the Department is therefore unable to confirm what services will be supported in 2021/22 at this time.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health when family members will be permitted to visit loved ones in care homes again. (AQW 5134/17-22)

Mr Swann: In line with the five-step approach to relaxing lockdown restrictions by the Northern Ireland Executive on 12 May 2020, my Department undertook a review of the impact of visitors to patients across all care settings on disease transmission.

This has resulted in the publication, on 30 June 2020, of updated guidance for all Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust inpatient services including maternity services, mental health and learning disability inpatient services, Care Homes and Hospices for the duration for the COVID-19 response. It is available at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/covid-visiting-guidance>.

This guidance applies from 6 July 2020 and will continue in force as the surge level and the Northern Ireland Executive five step approach permits, with approved visiting guidance aligned to the pandemic surge levels/R value based on the best scientific advice available at any given time.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health, given the disparity in interpretation of flexibility around Direct Payments throughout the COVID-19 crisis between Health and Social Care Trusts and also within Trusts, to specify the flexibilities families can expect.

Mr Swann: Further guidance for HSC Trusts and individuals in receipt of Direct Payments during the COVID-19 pandemic is currently under consideration and will include specific guidance to help ensure a consistent approach across the Health and Social Care Trusts in respect of flexibility around the use of Direct Payments.

Mr Gildernew asked the Minister of Health to list the concerns raised with his Department by the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority board and Executive team in the months leading up to the board's mass resignation, including the date and format of the correspondence.

Mr Swann: I announced, on Tuesday 23 June 2020, that an independent review into the RQIA board resignations is to be carried out.

It would not be appropriate, at this time, for me to comment any further until the independent review has completed.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister of Health when counselling and mental health services, including Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services, sexual abuse support services and other face to face support, will reopen to provide routine support. (AQW 5197/17-22)

Mr Swann: In general mental health services have continued during COVID-19. Everyone that requires mental health services should have been provided with services.

Due to the risks associated with COVID-19 some services were provided in different format. For example, much counselling moved from face to face meetings, to using technology, such as phone calls and video conferencing.

In some circumstances it was determined that the risk of COVID-19 was so great that to continue treatment would create unacceptable risks. In these cases service provisions were delayed, until a time they can be provided safely. However, there has been no blanket stopping of mental health services, and these decisions have been taken on a case by case basis.

Sexual abuse support services have also continued during COVID-19. The Rowan Sexual Assault Referral Centre continues to be operational for all regional referrals 24/7 and Nexus NI continues to deliver their sexual violence counselling service offering telephone and online counselling to their clients.

In terms of face to face counselling, each provider needs to make their own risk assessment based on premises, nature of business and clientele. Guidance on practices during COVID-19 is available from the UK Government, Labour Relations Agency, NI Direct, my Department, and the Public Health Agency websites.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health why the acting Chief Dental Officer is not a member or participant on the Health Management Board.

(AQW 5215/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Chief Dental Officer is represented on the Management Board through the Chief Medical Officer. The Chief Dental Officer will provide advice to the Chief Medical Officer to ensure that the dentist profession is fully represented. Furthermore, the Chief Dental Officer will attend the Management Board as necessary.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister of Health whether he will consider the immediate reinstatement of smear tests for women.

Mr Swann: Routine cervical cancer screening was amongst those screening programmes paused from mid-March in order to reduce the risk of Covid-19 infection to participants and staff, and to redirect healthcare and laboratory resources to the pandemic response. Smear tests continued to be offered during this period, for non-routine cervical screening, such as repeat tests requested by colposcopy or the laboratory.

I can advise that a phased, prioritised restoration of cervical screening has commenced. The first cohort of women have been issued with invitation letters and invitations for other priority groups will follow with routine recall invitations commencing in August. Inevitably, the pace of rebuilding will be influenced by the progress of the pandemic. The need to maintain social distancing in clinical settings; implementation of enhanced infection control measures and the continued requirement for personal protective equipment will present challenges for the restoration of services to pre-COVID levels.

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister of Health (i) what date family visits to care homes will resum; and (ii) whether testing of both residents and visitors will enable this to happen sooner.

Mr Swann:

- i On 30 June 2020, my Department published updated guidance which applies from 6 July 2020 for all Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust inpatient services including maternity services, mental health and learning disability inpatient services, Care Homes and Hospices for the duration for the COVID-19 response. This revised guidance will continue in force while the surge level and the Northern Ireland Executive five step approach permits, with approved visiting guidance aligned to the pandemic surge levels/R value based on the best scientific advice available at any given time.
It is available at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/covid-visiting-guidance>.
- ii. There are no plans at present to introduce testing with a view to facilitating visiting in any setting. The newly introduced guidance does not require any testing to be undertaken as part of the process of facilitating visits.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health whether he will appoint the Chief Dental Officer on to the new Management Board for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services.

Mr Swann: The Chief Dental Officer is represented on the Management Board through the Chief Medical Officer. The Chief Dental Officer will provide advice to the Chief Medical Officer to ensure that the dentist profession is fully represented. Furthermore, the Chief Dental Officer will attend the Management Board as necessary.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health (i) to explain the rational for dissolving the Belfast Protect Life Implementation Group; (ii) what assurances he can give that local grassroots organisations will not be excluded under any new arrangement; and (iii) what dialogue took place with the local Belfast Suicide Prevention Groups to notify them of these changes.

Mr Swann:

- (i) Belfast is not the only area to review its Protect Life Implementation Group (PLIG) infrastructure. A review has been ongoing in all Trust areas following the release of new Terms of Reference for PLIGs and the establishment of a new Regional Protect Life Implementation Structure. A recent workshop clearly highlighted that current structures set up to co-ordinate action on suicide prevention and mental health in the Belfast area could be improved. It also recommended that an independent process be put in place to ensure representation reflected current structures across the City, as the existing representation pre-dated current structures.
- (ii) It is important that local structures are cognisant of the need to ensure representation from a range of non-statutory organisations who have experience and expertise in helping to address the underlying determinants of suicide and self-harm in our communities. The planned open and transparent process will ensure that all grassroots organisations have an opportunity to contribute towards reducing the suicide rate in Northern Ireland.
- (iii) The intention to enter into an open, fair and democratic membership process has been openly communicated by PHA since August 2019 at Belfast PLIG meetings, community planning meetings, public Local Commissioning Group meetings, cross sectoral meetings in the city and at recent Regional PLIG meetings. The issue was also discussed at two workshops between the statutory and non-statutory sector in August 2019 and November 2019.

Mr Gildernew asked the Minister of Health how many people have received a shielding letter, to include estimates if available.

Mr Swann: In Northern Ireland, approximately 95,000 patients received a shielding letter from their GP or hospital clinician.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health whether he will urgently review the content and implementation his Department's drugs and alcohol strategy.

Mr Swann: A review of the Executive's current cross-sectoral substance misuse strategy, the New Strategic Direction for Alcohol and Drugs Phase 2, is available on the Department of Health's website at: <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/publications/alcohol-and-drug-misuse-strategy-and-reports>

As reflected in "New Decade, New Approach", my Department has begun the development of a new substance misuse strategy. Building on a pre-consultation process, a group has been brought together to co-produce the development of this new strategy and I plan to ensure it is designed with input from all key stakeholders, including service users. This will ensure that we improve services and take innovative and effective action to reduce alcohol and drug related harm. A formal consultation on the new strategy will be brought forward in due course.

Department for Infrastructure

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure how funding for Strategic Road Improvement schemes will be allocated.

Ms Mallon (The Minister for Infrastructure): I am keen to improve connectivity, achieve regional balance in investment and to look more strategically beyond the current financial year, to help stimulate our green recovery. I have therefore approved budgets for the continuation of works on all the flagship projects, including the A5 Western Transport Corridor where I am awaiting the Public Inquiry Inspector's Report and the A6.

I have also set aside funds that will enable the continued development of schemes such as the A1 Junctions Phase 2, the A24 Ballynahinch By-Pass, the A4 Enniskillen Southern By-Pass, Newry Southern Relief Road, the A29 Cookstown By-Pass, the A2 Buncrana Road and the A32 at Cornamuck. Each scheme is at a different stage and I have asked my officials to bring forward plans to advance them in the short and longer term. I hope to be in a position in the coming weeks and months to provide further updates on the progress being made.

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister for Infrastructure, pursuant to AQW 4446/17-22, how the Driver and Vehicle Agency will deal with the backlog of driving tests that were already in the system pre-COVID-19, alongside the anticipated volume of new applications for appointments.

Ms Mallon: As outlined in my answer to AQW 4446/17-22, the Driver and Vehicle Agency (DVA) suspended all practical driving tests from 20 March until 22 June 2020 as it is not possible to deliver them safely and adhere to current Public Health Agency advice and guidance on social distancing.

The DVA holds a list of essential workers whom they will contact when practical driving tests resume to prioritise their booking. For all other customers they will need to re-book their test when the service is reinstated. While the DVA will endeavour to facilitate appointments at the earliest opportunity, it is likely that initial waiting times for driving tests will be longer than usual when the service resumes.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister for Infrastructure what engagement she has had with representatives of the taxi industry to discuss (i) the impact of COVID-19; and (ii) the difficulties they faced prior to the onset of the pandemic.

Ms Mallon: The Department's remit in relation to taxis is regulatory, and a priority for me during the current public health emergency has been to facilitate the necessary rapid two way communication with the industry on regulatory issues that need to be addressed. My officials and I have been in regular and ongoing contact with the industry, including with individual drivers and operators, augmented by open letters to the industry. Today I also met with a number of taxi drivers at Stormont to discuss the impact of Covid19. I have already put in place a number of regulatory measures to support the taxi industry during this crisis. This includes a 6 month taxi vehicle licence extension, automatically and free of charge, to vehicles whose previous licence expired between 10th March 2020 and 9th October 2020. Driver CPC training providers are also now authorised to delivery taxi periodic training remotely, via online video platforms. This enables drivers to continue to undertake some training online during the lockdown. With regards to medicals required for the renewal of a taxi driver's licence, the BMA and GPs have agreed to prioritise the processing of medical forms for those key workers who need them to renew their licences. In addition, and with effect from 26th May 2020, taxi drivers who do not have a medical condition to declare will have their taxi driver's licence renewed without a medical report. In addition I have also been raising the financial and safe work practices concerns of taxi drivers which fall outside of my vires with the responsible Ministers.

I met with representatives from the taxi industry prior to the outbreak of COVID-19 to discuss the difficulties faced by the industry. I understand there are a number of areas of the current taxi regime that continue to generate both interest and concern amongst stakeholders. I intend to consider the issues in greater detail and will continue to engage with representatives from the industry when it is safe to do so to help inform my decisions.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister for Infrastructure what actions she will take to protect the future of the taxi industry as an essential service.

Ms Mallon: I recognise the important role that the taxi industry plays, both to transport networks and also to communities by providing a valuable and essential service every day to people and businesses in our cities, towns and rural communities.

In my role as regulator of the taxi industry I have put a number of regulatory solutions in place to allow taxi drivers to continue to operate during these challenging times including the extension of their vehicle and driving licences.

I continue to actively push for financial and wider support for the industry with Executive Colleagues. As regulator, my Department holds information on taxi drivers and I have offered to provide that data to help shape any future financial support scheme that would support those drivers and other sole traders who haven't been assisted by the schemes presently on offer.

I will continue to facilitate the necessary rapid two way communication with the industry on regulatory issues that need to be addressed and my officials and I will continue to have regular contact with the industry, individual drivers and operators, to discuss their concerns.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for Infrastructure, if the Ballykelly bypass is included in the Strategic Road Improvement schemes, whether she has allocated funds to develop it.

Ms Mallon: My Department is currently developing proposals for a new Regional Strategic Transport Network Transport Plan (RSTNTP) which will set out the priorities for future development of the main road and rail networks.

I will consider proposals for improvements to the A2 and A37 from Coleraine to Derry, including the Ballykelly Bypass, as part of this process.

This Plan is still in development, but once I have identified my preferred options and priorities, a draft document setting these out will be issued for public consultation.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether she intends to order a public inquiry on the planning application by Dalradian Gold for an underground mine and other infrastructure in the Sperrins.

Ms Mallon: The Dalradian Gold mine proposal is complex and has generated significant interest. Before a final decision is made I have announced that this application will be subject to a Public Inquiry (PI). I will only call a PI when I am satisfied that all necessary detail and consultee responses have been provided to allow for robust scrutiny of the application in a public forum.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail how many repairs are outstanding for (i) streetlighting; and (ii) potholes, broken down by Assembly constituency.

Ms Mallon: My Department does not maintain records by constituency. However, the following table provides, by council area, details of the number of street lighting outages and carriageway, hard shoulder and layby surface defects (which includes potholes, cracking, depressions etc.) that have been recorded since 1st April 2020, which, as at 18th June 2020, do not yet have a completion date recorded against them:

Outstanding Repairs 1 Apr – 18 Jun 2020

Council Areas	Surface Defects	Street Lighting Outages
Antrim and Newtownabbey	344	73
Ards and North Down	191	230
Armagh City, Banbridge and Craigavon	833	45
Belfast	605	74
Causeway Coast and Glens	960	297
Derry City and Strabane	754	129
Fermanagh and Omagh	1339	67
Lisburn and Castlereagh	493	69

Council Areas	Surface Defects	Street Lighting Outages
Mid and East Antrim	401	109
Newry, Mourne and Down	579	179

It is important to note that there can be a time lag between a repair being carried out and the associated records being updated in the Department's maintenance management system particularly in the current circumstances with many staff working from home. As a result, the figure supplied for the number of outstanding defects may reduce as records are updated.

Mr Frew asked the Minister for Infrastructure to outline what planning, targets or dates have been agreed and set for the commencement of MOT and PSV tests.

Ms Mallon: On 24 March 2020, in the interest of public safety and to tackle the spread of Covid-19, I suspended all vehicle testing at Driver & Vehicle Agency (DVA) test centres until 22 June 2020.

I know the current suspension of vehicle tests is causing inconvenience and concerns for some of our customers. I can assure you that I have been keeping the position under review with the aim of reintroducing vehicle testing as soon as it is safe to do so, taking account of guidance on social distancing and in line with the NI Executive's Pathway to Recovery. On 1 June 2020, following consultation with staff and Trade Unions, the Driver and Vehicle Agency (DVA) safely reinstated a limited number of specialist tests for those vehicles that deliver essential services. This was to ensure that supply chains and the health service continue to be supported during this time of significant challenge.

On 22 June, I announced a timetable for the reinstatement of further vehicle testing services, initially prioritising those vehicles that cannot avail of an exemption, such as first time taxis and buses, vehicles whose MOT certificates have expired by more than 12 months, which includes SORNed vehicles and those sold by car dealerships. As restrictions ease, and the DVA's capacity to test vehicles increases, more services will be reinstated until such times as normal business resumes.

Before any vehicle testing services are reinstated they will be fully risk assessed in consultation with staff and Trade Unions, to ensure the safety of staff and customers during the testing process.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) when driving instructors will be able to resume work; and (ii) what measures they will be asked to adhere to in order to ensure both their own and their customers' safety in relation to COVID-19.

Ms Mallon: The Executive Office has confirmed that the Regulations do not currently prevent driving lessons from taking place, if it is safe to do so for both instructors and their customers.

Given that driving instructors work in a higher risk environment, it is crucial that public health advice is followed by them to keep them and their customers safe. The ADI National Joint Council has published guidance for driving instructors and it is advised that this is reviewed to help them prepare safely: <https://www.adinjc.org.uk/training-resources/>.

The DVA plans to reinstate some driver testing services in July for those licence categories, where testing can be done safely in line with current PHA advice and guidance on social distancing requirements. This includes motorbike driver testing, planned from 6 July and tests for drivers of buses, tractors and module 4 CPC tests for lorry, bus and coach drivers, planned from 20 July. Driver theory tests are also being reintroduced from 6 July, with safe social distancing in place.

The department is working to safely restore practical driving tests for cars as quickly as possible with the priority of keeping staff and customers safe and the DVA will continue to be guided by PHA advice in this regard. No date for resumption has yet been set by the department. This does not need to be referred to the Executive but must be in line with PHA guidance.

The DVA continues to work as quickly as possible to find a way forward that will keep customers and staff safe.

Mr Harvey asked the Minister for Infrastructure, given the easing of restrictions around COVID-19, for an update on progress on MOT exemption for vehicles of historical interest.

Ms Mallon: I am aware that this exemption was introduced in Great Britain in 2018 which has led to a difference as to how Vehicles of Historic Interest (VHIs) are treated in GB and NI.

I am also aware that following requests to align Northern Ireland legislation with that in GB, from both elected representatives and members of the public my Department ran a public consultation exercise in 2019 seeking views as to whether this exemption should be introduced here. Officials have prepared an analysis of responses for my consideration to assist me in taking a final decision on the way forward which I hope to do shortly.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) how the £2 million announced by her Department to roll out 20mph zones across schools in Northern Ireland will be spent; and (ii) whether her Department has considered implementing the 'School Streets' scheme.

Ms Mallon: As Minister responsible for promoting and improving road safety, I want to work actively with partners to reduce death and serious injuries on our roads. I believe that reducing the maximum speed traffic can travel at on some of our roads, particularly those near schools, can help in this regard.

I am delighted to further demonstrate this commitment by allocating funding to introduce part-time 20 mph speed limits at around 100 schools in Northern Ireland so that parents, children and staff will be safer as they go to and from school on a daily basis. Priority listings are currently being developed for each Division, and these will be based on scores calculated using the assessment framework contained within the Department's current road safety at schools policy document.

I have asked my officials to explore options for a 'School Street' scheme in Northern Ireland and to liaise with the Department of Education and Sustrans.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Infrastructure what chemicals are used by contractors hired by her Department to spray weeds.

Ms Mallon: I can confirm that my Department has contracts in place for the necessary control of weeds to ensure road safety, prevent structural damage to pavements and to fulfil the duties imposed on the Department under relevant environmental legislation with respect to the need to control the spread of particular species of weeds.

Spraying of highway surfaces / edges is carried out by trained personnel in accordance with advice from manufacturers and the Department of Agriculture, Environment & Rural Affairs using the minimum treatment necessary to achieve the required results.

Chemical control of weeds is generally carried out on kerbed and paved areas by external contractors using herbicide products suitable for use on hard surfaces and listed on the Pesticides Register of UK Authorised Products, which can be viewed on the Health and Safety Executive website. I understand that all of the products currently used by external contractors on hard surfaces are glyphosate or flazasulfuron based.

I am advised also that selective treatment of invasive species is carried out using products containing glyphosate; clopyralid; triclopyr; aminopyralid; flazasulfuron; 2,4-D; dicamba; MCPA; and mecoprop-P.

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on (i) the installation of new vehicle lifts; (ii) the MOT centres where this work is still to be carried out; and (iii) an estimated date for completion.

Ms Mallon: The replacement programme is progressing well with 10 MOT centres to date having new lifts installed. The installation of new lifts at Armagh, Omagh and Enniskillen MOT centres is scheduled for completion by 4 July.

I handed over Belfast and Newtownards MOT centres to the Belfast and South Eastern HSC Trusts respectively to be repurposed for use as COVID-19 test facilities. New lifts will be installed at these sites as soon as they are returned to DVA.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Infrastructure for her assessment of when construction on the A2 Buncrana Road dualling upgrade project might commence.

Ms Mallon: On 10 June 2020, I announced my intention to progress a number of strategic infrastructure schemes and flagship projects, as part of a plan to aid economic recovery and community transformation. The associated funding package will allow my officials to push forward on the development of these important schemes, including the A2 Buncrana road.

I would hope to be in a position to provide further information at a further date.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on her proposals regarding (i) investment in greenways; and (ii) investment in the Comber Greenway.

Ms Mallon: The £20 million funding for blue / green infrastructure will support our communities through this transformation, promoting active travel and shaping our places to live in the new normal. This funding will be community led and departmentally supported. I am still considering the basis upon which funding may be allocated for greenway infrastructure but it is important that schemes will deliver on our Programme for Government outcomes. I will make a further announcement shortly.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in light of worsening climate change predictions expected in the forthcoming sixth assessment (AR6) by the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, whether she will review approvals for the proposed Belfast Harbour Estate fossil gas power plant.

Ms Mallon: I understand that the power plant referred to is that approved by the Department in April 2019 at Airport Road West in the Belfast Harbour Estate (Planning Reference LA04/2017/0878/F). While I remain committed to reducing emissions and tackling the climate emergency, I do not intend to review the decision on the power plant at the Harbour Estate which has been determined in accordance with prevailing planning and Government policy.

There is a need to develop the energy infrastructure in Northern Ireland, strengthen the grid, increase flexibility to accommodate more renewable energy, and reduce CO2 emissions from the energy industry. In all of these respects, the development of the proposed power plant in Belfast can make a contribution and is a lower carbon alternative to coal fired generation.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure for her assessment of the need for Northern Ireland to have a regional infrastructure panel, similar to the Infrastructure Commission for Scotland, to provide independent, informed advice on infrastructure and to create a long-term infrastructure strategy.

Ms Mallon: Modern and sustainable infrastructure is a key building block of prosperity for any society. It is essential if we are to grow our economy, address regional imbalance, and support a thriving region where people want to live, work and invest. Investing in our infrastructure is also going to be an important element of economic recovery in the months ahead.

Given the timescales involved in delivering many infrastructure schemes and the investment needed to build and then maintain our infrastructure, I believe that a more strategic approach to how we plan, deliver and maintain our infrastructure is badly needed. One year budgets, for example, make little sense when looking at plans that should be designed to meet the needs of people here for decades.

I have therefore been following the approach taken in Scotland with interest and I am engaging with a range of stakeholders to identify options going forward.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether the forthcoming review of the implementation of the Planning Act (Northern Ireland) 2011 will consider whether responsibility for regionally significant and called-in planning applications should be transferred from her Department to an independent body, similar to An Bord Pleanála in the Republic of Ireland.

Ms Mallon: I am currently considering the terms of the review of the implementation of the Act, which I intend to take to the Committee for Infrastructure shortly.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure to outline planned improvements in (i) pedestrian; and (ii) cycle access for the area surrounding the new Ulster University Belfast Campus.

(AQW 4926/17-22)

Ms Mallon: You will be aware I announced the creation of a Walking and Cycling Champion in my Department with responsibility for taking forward work to deliver safe routes that give people the freedom and confidence to walk and cycle as part of their everyday routine. This is an important way to achieve higher levels of sustainable transport and fewer car journeys.

I am fully committed to working with partners in the Executive including the Minister for Communities to look at opportunities to provide better walking and cycling facilities around the Ulster University Belfast Campus and better walking and cycling infrastructure to make good connections to it from across Belfast city centre.

The area round the new Ulster University Belfast Campus is part of the Department for Communities Belfast Streets Ahead Phase 3 project. As part of the design proposals for this scheme, improved pedestrian crossings on York Street and Frederick Street are proposed. In addition, new cycle stands on Frederick Street are planned along with shared cycle lanes along York Street and Royal Avenue. Funding for the construction phase of the project has not yet been confirmed. However, the Department for Communities is working with the Department for Infrastructure and Belfast City Council to explore how improvements for pedestrians and cyclists can be achieved ahead of the Phase 3 project.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) what the asking price was for the sale of Portavoe Reservoir; and (ii) whether that price has been met.

Ms Mallon: Northern Ireland Water (NI Water) has advised me that, as the land was not put on the open market there was no "asking price". The Reservoir was sold in accordance with a High Court ruling requiring NI Water to offer the land at Portavoe Reservoir to successors in title of the landowners from whom it was acquired. NI Water instructed Land and Property Services within the Department of Finance to value the land and enter into negotiations on their behalf with the sole agent acting for the purchasers. Agreement was reached on the sale price for each plot of land and the plots were sold at the agreed price.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) how many valuations there were for the sale of Portavoe Reservoir; and (ii) what these valuations were.

Ms Mallon: Northern Ireland Water (NI Water) has advised me that as the sale of Portavoe Reservoir was in accordance with a Court Order requiring the reservoir to be offered to the successors in title to the landowners from which the land was acquired, they instructed Land and Property Services (LPS), within the Department of Finance, to value the land and to enter into negotiations with the sole agent acting for the purchasers.

LPS and the agent reached agreement on a sale price for each of the six plots and the plots were sold at the agreed price. NI Water has also advised that the purchase price for each of the plots would be deemed "commercial in confidence" until such time as the registration process in Land Registry for the transactions is completed and the information will become publically available at that stage. The timescale for registration of the sale is a matter for the solicitors acting on behalf of the purchasers and Land Registry.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the funding levels for NI Water this financial year.

Ms Mallon: I can advise that for 2020/21, I have provided NI Water with a Capital DEL budget of £150m, which meets the company's full capital bid. However, due to severe budget constraints within my Department, I have only been able to allocate £105m in Resource DEL. This falls far short of requirements, with NI Water reporting pressures of £31.6m as a direct result of Covid-19 alone. These pressures mainly arise from the loss of non domestic income due to the closure of businesses and also increased costs and PPE. In addition, there are further unfunded pressures and costs relating to preparing for the end of the EU Transition period. I have therefore bid for a further £36.9m in June Monitoring to meet the current estimated Resource shortfall.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Infrastructure what measures are being taken to support driving instructors to allow them to resume work.

Ms Mallon: The Executive Office has confirmed that the Regulations do not currently prevent driving lessons from taking place, if it is safe to do so for both instructors and their customers.

Given that driving instructors work in a higher risk environment, it is crucial that public health advice is followed by them to keep them and their customers safe. The ADI National Joint Council has published guidance for driving instructors and it is advised that this is reviewed to help them prepare safely: <https://www.adinjc.org.uk/training-resources/>.

The DVA plans to reinstate some driver testing services in July for those licence categories, where testing can be done safely in line with current PHA advice and guidance on social distancing requirements. This includes motorbike driver testing, planned from 6 July and tests for drivers of buses, tractors and module 4 CPC tests for lorry, bus and coach drivers, planned from 20 July. Driver theory tests are also being reintroduced from 6 July, with safe social distancing in place.

The department is working to safely restore practical driving tests for cars as quickly as possible with the priority of keeping staff and customers safe and the DVA will continue to be guided by PHA advice in this regard. No date for resumption has yet been set by the department. This does not need to be referred to the Executive but must be in line with PHA guidance.

The DVA continues to work as quickly as possible to find a way forward that will keep customers and staff safe.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Infrastructure what minimum distance from residential property is applied for hard rock quarrying and blasting.

(AQW 4937/17-22)

Ms Mallon: Safety and amenity of residents is a planning policy consideration in proposed developments involving blasting in quarries. The separation distance required will be a matter of judgement in each case and will depend on a number of factors including the nature of operations, intervening topography and the layout/design of neighbouring housing development. Prevailing guidance in Northern Ireland states that the minimum separation distance between residential property (any occupied dwelling which is not part of the quarry operations) and blasting should be 100 metres.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the development of a new greenway along the route of the North Down Coastal Path from Kinnegar to Donaghadee.

Ms Mallon: The proposal to develop a greenway along the North Down Coastal Path is being taken forward by Ards and North Down Borough Council. It is not the responsibility of my Department. The Member may wish to seek further information from the Chief Executive of the Council.

However, I can assure the Member that I believe greenways have the potential to improve people's lives and connect communities and I want to work collaboratively with Ministers, Councils and other stakeholders to develop these assets. In my recent announcement of £20 million for blue / green infrastructure, I signalled my intention to invest in this kind of project and I look forward to working in partnership to do so.

I am still considering the basis upon which funding may be allocated to greenway infrastructure but I would encourage Councils to continue to undertake the important preparatory work so that they will be in a position to construct their schemes as soon as possible.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in relation to the York Street Interchange project, to detail (i) when the Courts ruled against her Department forcing the procurement contract to be set aside; (ii) the date of the unsuccessful appeal; (iii) when the procurement process will reopen; and (iv) when construction work is scheduled to commence.

Ms Mallon: The court case challenging the intention to award the contract for York Street Interchange was heard over 13 days between 6 February and 12 March 2018, with the Court issuing its ruling against the Department on 8 August 2018.

The Department's appeal case was heard on 19 March 2019 and the subsequent Court ruling against the Department was made on 6 September 2019.

Development work on the York Street Interchange scheme is substantially complete. Officials are currently finalising options for a new procurement strategy. The Member will know from responses to oral questions in the Assembly that I have stated my commitment to York Street Interchange.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Infrastructure how much her Department has spent on producing material in Irish, in each of the last three years.
(AQW 4964/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department supports the European Charter for Regional or Minority Languages (ECRML) commitments which protect and promote regional and minority languages including Irish.

Officials promote the Irish Language by helping customers conduct their business in Irish, and also offer an Irish translation of Departmental documents on request.

My Department's Irish Language Policy provides officials with guidance on how to translate documents and handle verbal and written communications in Irish.

The following table represents expenditure on producing materials in Irish in the last three full years.

To date, no costs have been incurred in 2020.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) for an update on progress regarding the replacement Sydenham pumping station; (ii) to detail the level of investment; and (iii) to outline the development schedule.
(AQW 4977/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water that outline design work and progression of the project business case for the replacement of Sydenham Wastewater Pumping Station is ongoing. The results of detailed geotechnical investigations completed in March 2020 at the proposed site will be used to inform the design of the new pumping station and establish the optimum construction method. Agreement has also been reached in principle with the Department for Infrastructure and Belfast City Council on the preferred location of the replacement facility.

The current estimate for the investment needed to replace the pumping station is around £32m. This project has been included in NI Water's Living With Water Programme budget proposal, which was submitted to the NI Utility Regulator in January 2020 as part of the overall PC21 Business Plan for the six year 2021 – 2026 period.

The outline development schedule is as follows:

- Completion of outline design, planning and other approvals Summer 2021
- Completion of construction contract procurement and award of contract Autumn 2022
- Construction start (following contractor's design development period) Spring 2023
- Completion of construction, testing and commissioning Autumn 2025

However, these dates are dependent on funding being available to deliver the project.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure how her Department has explored helping drivers, such as those in the taxi sector, who currently cannot benefit from extensions due to their first time PSV vehicles.

Ms Mallon: On 22 June, I announced a timetable for the planned reinstatement of further vehicle testing services, initially prioritising those vehicles that cannot avail of an exemption, such as first time taxis and buses, vehicles not registered in Northern Ireland and due a test and vehicles whose MOT certificates have expired by more than 12 months, which includes SORN'ed vehicles and those sold by car dealerships. As restrictions ease, and the DVA's capacity to test vehicles increases, more services will be reinstated until such times as normal business resumes.

Before any vehicle testing services are reinstated they will be fully risk assessed to ensure the processes comply with all public health and safety guidance and in consultation with staff and Trade Unions, to ensure the safety of staff and customers during the testing process.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure what direction she has given to her officials within the Department regarding the York Street Interchange project.

Ms Mallon: I am committed to the progression of the York Street Interchange project and ensuring that it is fit for purpose. I am actively considering how it sits with my wider priorities as my department moves to the next steps.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Infrastructure when the proposed reduction in speed limit to 40mph on Maydown Road will come into effect.

Ms Mallon: The notification to introduce the 40mph speed limit on the Maydown Road was advertised in January 2020. There were no objections to the proposed speed reduction. The restriction extends from a point just off Maydown Roundabout for a distance of 560 metres northwards along the Maydown Road.

It is hoped that the reduced speed limit will be introduced together with a new cycle path along the Maydown Road and a crossing facility near to its junction with Templetown Park. These works are planned for later this year.

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister for Infrastructure when her Department will commence the resurfacing of the A23 Ballygowan Road from the roundabout with the A21 through Ballygowan village.

Ms Mallon: My Department's budget allocation for resurfacing in 2020/21 has now been finalised and Divisions are currently determining the extent of works programmes that can be delivered.

At this stage I am unable to confirm a precise timescale for resurfacing on the A23 Belfast Road, Ballygowan, however, it is expected that works will commence later in the current financial year.

Department of Justice

Miss Woods asked the Minister of Justice to detail (i) how many letters offering different of types of hearings have been sent from the Appeals Service to appellants awaiting Social Security tribunals since March 2020; (ii) how many people have opted for paper-based hearings from March 2020 to the present; (iii) how the numbers of people opting for paper-based hearings since March 2020 compares to the previous two years; and (iv) how many paper-based hearings have been heard since March 2020.

(AQW 4984/17-22)

Mrs Long (The Minister of Justice): Since 18 March 2020, (i) the Appeals Service has issued 3500 letters offering a number of hearing type options; (ii) 565 appellants have opted for paper-based hearings from 16 March to 20 June 2020; (iii) The table below sets out the comparative figures for paper based hearings (iv) there has not yet been any paper-based hearings since March 2020 but listing is underway.

Specific Period	The number of appellants who opted for Paper based hearings
16 March to 20 June 2020	565
16 March to 20 June 2018	423

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Justice how much her Department has spent on producing material in Irish, in each of the last three years.

(AQW 5009/17-22)

Mrs Long: The Department of Justice and its Agencies has had no expenditure on producing materials in Irish over the three financial years from 2017-18 to 2019-20.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister of Justice what steps are being taken to facilitate more face-to-face oral hearings to ensure access to justice at this time.

(AQW 5014/17-22)

Mrs Long: At present a range of urgent matters are being progressed by way of a court hearing (the form of which will be determined by the judge) which if so determined may be in person. This includes cases involving the immediate liberty, health, safety and wellbeing of individuals.

In keeping with the Northern Ireland Executive's plans for recovery, the Northern Ireland Courts and Tribunals Service is working on a phased recovery from the critical business model implemented as a response to the Covid-19 pandemic and subsequent PHA advice.

Officials in the Northern Ireland Courts and Tribunals Service are currently working through a series of Covid-19 Risk Assessments to open additional venues and maximise use of the court estate ensuring that they comply with PHA guidelines on managing the risk of Covid-19 and are safe for staff, judiciary and court and tribunal users. This includes developing options to support the delivery of a physically distanced jury trial.

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Justice whether her Department has taken any steps in response to the High Court judgement in the case of R (Miller) v The College of Policing & The Chief Constable of Humberside [2020] EWHC 225 (Admin).

Mrs Long: The use of Hate Crime Operational Guidance is an operational matter for the Chief Constable.

Judge Desmond Marrinan is currently undertaking an independent Review of Hate Crime Legislation in Northern Ireland, on behalf of my Department. He is currently analysing responses to his public consultation, which ran from January to April 2020, public outreach events and stakeholder meetings.

As part of the Review, Judge Marrinan is considering issues of stirring up hatred and online hate crimes. His consultation included specific questions on freedom of expression in relation to stirring up hatred and the use of offences in the Malicious Communications Act 1988 which are relevant to this Judicial Review and is a reserved matter.

I expect to receive Judge Marrinan's final report at the end of November 2020.

Any recommendations relating to devolved matters, that require new legislation or amendments to current legislation, will be considered further and steps to bring forward legislative changes will be scheduled into the Departments' legislation programme in due course.

Ms Dillon asked the Minister of Justice to provide detailed information about the Emergency Response Community Safety sub-group, including (i) when the Emergency Response Community Safety sub-group was set up; (ii) the terms of reference of the sub-group; (iii) what meetings the sub-group has had to date; and (iv) the composition and membership of the sub-group.

Mrs Long: The Community Safety Response Group is a multi-agency partnership sub-group of the Community Safety Board which was established in April 2020 to provide a responsive, adaptable and, where appropriate, placed based approach to community safety issues, to support a more strategic response to shared community safety issues.

The Response Group brings together relevant partners to address emerging community safety issues where the response requires a multi-agency approach, and is time critical, in order to provide an immediate and collaborative response. This is a responsive group with no standing membership, where relevant partners will be brought together as required. To date, it has had one meeting on 20 May 2020 in relation to planned interventions and support for young people over the summer. Attendees included PSNI, Youth Justice Agency, Department for Communities, Education Authority, The Executive Office, NI Housing Executive and Department of Justice.

The Terms of Reference for the Group are set out in Annex A.

Annex A

Community Safety Response Group

Terms of Reference

The role of the group is to:

- Consider and immediately act upon operational community safety concern(s) as they arise, based on analysis or information either from the Community Safety Board members, or in response to emerging issues as identified through the data dashboard;
- Agree parameters of the collective response to allow for solution based collaborative working, including timescales, membership and any resource needed;

- Ensure a two way communication flow between the group and the Community Safety Board and to either feedback to the next scheduled Community Safety Board meeting after the Response Group has met, or seek to convene an earlier Community Safety Board meeting if this is considered more appropriate; and
- Agree messaging on the immediate community safety concern which should be agreed and issue via the most appropriate body.

Reporting Structure

- 2 The Chair of the particular meeting will feed back directly to members of the Community Safety Board either at the next available scheduled meeting or seek to convene an earlier Community Safety Board meeting if appropriate.

Membership

- 3 This is a responsive group with no standing membership, where relevant partners will be brought together as required. This may be either on an issue, or place-based basis.
- 4 An appropriate Chair will be chosen prior to each meeting, with an understanding that meetings may be chaired by different organisations depending on the issue.
- 5 Whilst there is no standing membership, it is anticipated that the group will likely require regular input from senior operational representatives from the following organisations:
- PSNI
  - Northern Ireland Housing Executive
  - Youth Justice Agency
  - Education Authority
- 6 Other organisations, statutory bodies and NICS Departments shall be invited to contribute subject to the community safety concern being addressed.

Meetings

- 7 An initial meeting will be arranged by the Community Safety Board secretariat as soon as practicable upon a request being received for the group to be stood up.
- 8 A meeting of the group may be requested via the Secretariat by any member of the Community Safety Board to discuss an emerging concern; a locality based issue and/or a funding requirement related to community safety.
- 9 It is anticipated that the group will be stood down as each emerging community safety issue is addressed.
10. Secretariat will be provided by the Community Safety Division, Department of Justice.

Ms Dillon asked the Minister of Justice what actions are being taken to tackle organised crime gangs and gang-related violence following the fatal shooting in West Belfast on 27 June 2020.

(AQW 5337/17-22)

Mrs Long: The detail of a live PSNI investigation is a matter for the Chief Constable and not for me as Minister of Justice. Whilst speculation is rife, the police have made no statement as to motive and for anyone to do so prematurely could prejudice future investigations.

With respect to the ongoing work of the Department to address the harm caused by organised crime gangs, including paramilitary groups, this is being taken forward in the context of the programme of work that the Executive is undertaking to create a safe community where we respect the law and each other.

Within my Department, this includes the work of the Organised Crime Task Force and the co-ordination of the Executive's Action Plan to Tackle Paramilitary Activity, Criminality, and Organised Crime.

The Organised Crime Task Force provides a strategic response to organised crime threats, facilitating the sharing of information, and supporting the development of operational partnerships, as effectively evidenced by the recent joint drugs operation between the National Crime Agency and the PSNI.

I have prioritised the full implementation of the Criminal Finances Act 2017 in Northern Ireland, and will soon be consulting on legislative proposals for new offences to tackle organised crime.

The Executive Action Plan to Tackle Paramilitary Activity, Criminality, and Organised Crime is co-ordinated within my Department. This takes a holistic approach to implementing a range of commitments aimed at preventing people from becoming vulnerable to paramilitary influence, providing support to enable transition away from paramilitary structures, building confidence in the justice system, and implementing new powers and strategies to deal with paramilitary activity. It is anticipated that the next phase of the Executive Action Plan will include a renewed focus on cross departmental work to support those at risk.

Department for the Economy

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will consider using the new Sustainable Development Index (SDI), as outlined by Jason Hickel, as a tool for Northern Ireland to annually monitor its current ecological situation, and thus seek to emulate best practice globally.

Mrs Dodds (The Minister for the Economy): Following the COVID-19 pandemic, my department has published 'Rebuilding a Stronger Economy' which provides a medium term plan for economic recovery moving towards a more competitive, inclusive and greener economy.

In the longer term, my Department will also lead on the development of an Economic strategy which will support a new Programme for Government. The principles of sustainable development will be a vital component of the strategy and the economic interventions detailed within it. Sustainable Development is an objective of the Northern Ireland Executive and requires a collective effort on behalf of Executive departments and their agencies. The SDI is a measure that is available and may in due course prove useful in measuring progress against wider ecological goals.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy for her assessment of the impact on the finances of universities of (i) COVID-19; and (ii) Brexit, given the loss of overseas students following both.

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) The impact of a pandemic virus is an ever changing situation and it would not be appropriate to make any comment on the financial implications of such a global event at this juncture. The Department will continue to work closely with the universities to assess all of the impacts of COVID-19 and to put in place mitigating measures as appropriate.
- (ii) It is clear that students coming from the EU and beyond make a significant financial contribution to Northern Ireland's universities, as an important source of revenue from fee income and related on-campus spend. Beyond the direct financial contribution of international students to the universities, they also make an important contribution to the wider region's economy and society.

An examination of the enrolment figures at Northern Ireland's Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) outlined in the table below shows that, since the UK voted to leave the EU (i.e. academic years 2016-17 onwards): the number of 'Other EU students' (i.e. EU students excluding Republic of Ireland students) has increased in comparison to pre-vote levels, while the proportion of these students as a percentage of the overall student population has remained stable; and both the number and proportion of 'Non-EU' students has increased year on year in comparison to pre-vote levels.

Enrolments at Northern Ireland HEIs by Domicile 2015/16 – 2018/19
(Source – Higher Education Statistics Agency)

Academic Year	Domicile
	Other EU	Other EU %	Non-EU	Non-EU %
2015/16	375	0.7%	2,585	4.7%
2016/17	385	0.7%	2,815	5.2%
2017/18	445	0.8%	3,200	5.9%
2018/19	420	0.7%	3,510	6.3%

On this basis, it is not anticipated that there will be an adverse impact on enrolments of (and therefore associated fee income from) international students at local universities following the UK's exit from the EU.

Furthermore, the Northern Ireland HEIs have international strategies in place which focus on increasing their intake of international students (particularly non-EU) over the next number of years, so that the Northern Ireland continues to be an attractive location for international students to study.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for the Economy (i) to provide further explanation of recent departmental references to the Renewable Heat Incentive Scheme costing the NI block grant £33.8m; and (ii) to clarify whether this relates to the expenditure being irregular and how that figure relates to the information provided in response to AQW 1330/17-22.

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) As at 31 March 2019 costs to the NI block grant arising from the Renewable Heat Incentive (RHI) Scheme amounted to £33.8m relating to spend greater than the annual AME allocation in each of the three financial years 2015-16 (£4.7m), 2016-17 (£26.9m) and 2017-18 (£2.2m).

- (ii) Information provided to AQW 1330/17-22 regarding irregular spend amounting to £46.7m relates to lack of approvals for a specific cohort of 788 installations on the non-domestic RHI scheme. Any spend can be deemed irregular and is not limited to the NI block grant.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for the Economy how many site inspections of food processing plants have been carried out by the Health and Safety Executive in the last four weeks.

Mrs Dodds: Between the 17th of April and the 15th of May HSENI inspectors carried out 10 unannounced inspections targeting large food processing plants.

Mr Robinson asked the Minister for the Economy whether any consideration has been given to the establishment of a veterinary degree course at Ulster University's Coleraine Campus.
(AQW 4210/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: While my Department provides funding and sets the strategic direction for the higher education sector, Ulster University is an autonomous institution and as such is responsible for its own decisions regarding the subjects it teaches. The establishment of a veterinary school at Coleraine campus is a matter for Ulster University to consider and decide upon.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) which of the financial support schemes taxi drivers and operators can access; and (ii) any plans to support those drivers who haven't been able to access financial support to date.

Mrs Dodds: Schedules 1 and 3 to the Budget Act 2020 allocate funding to the Department for Infrastructure for "transport licensing, enforcement and regulation", as well as "support for transport services including grants in respect of rail and road passenger services including fare concessions". Taxis are clearly regarded as "transport services".

The Executive and UK Government has introduced an unprecedented number of interventions and packages of financial support to help those who have been affected by the consequences of Covid-19.

I understand that over 30 taxi firms which met the eligibility criteria of the funding schemes managed by my Department were able to access the business support grants available in Northern Ireland.

Taxi operators would also benefit from the business rates holiday, with no business rates being charged for the period of April to July 2020. Operators can also apply for the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme which will cover 80% of furloughed workers' wage costs up to £2,500 per employee per month. You will be aware that some 211,000 employees from Northern Ireland are benefitting from this scheme.

For self-employed taxi drivers, support is available through the Coronavirus Self-Employment Income Support Scheme (SEISS). This provides a taxable grant to be paid to the self-employed who have suffered a loss of income, worth 80% of their profits up to a cap of £2,500 per month. I am aware that some 69,000 self-employed people from Northern Ireland have accessed the scheme.

Further information regarding SEISS is available at <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/claim-a-grant-through-the-coronavirus-covid-19-self-employment-income-support-scheme>.

Self-employed taxi drivers can also avail of other UK-wide schemes such as the Income Tax Deferral which has deferred Income Tax payments from July 2020 to January 2021. HMRC also operate a Time to Pay service which can provide more time for any missed tax payments. Alternatively, taxi drivers, or other workers within the industry, can apply for Universal Credit if they are out of work. Further information is available at <https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/campaigns/universal-credit>.

My Department is aware there are many businesses and individuals who have not been able to access support through the local schemes. I will work with my Executive colleagues to identify measures to support to the economy during this difficult time.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will include representatives of the taxi sector as part of the working group in the Tourism Recovery Group.

Mrs Dodds: I have established a Tourism Recovery Taskforce consisting of a Steering Group which I chair, and a Working Group chaired by John McGrillen, Chief Executive of Tourism NI, to lead the planning and preparation for the recovery of the tourism industry, as we begin to emerge from COVID-19. The Working Group oversees ten work streams, one of which focuses on ground transport industries, and although these industries sit under the remit of the Department of Infrastructure, they can play an important part in supporting the tourism sector. A 'Task and Finish' Group has been formed to take forward this work stream, and is chaired by Karen Magill, CEO Bus & Coach Northern Ireland.

The Group will examine issues pertaining to ground transport services that impact on the tourism sector within Northern Ireland and will engage with representatives from a range of ground transport sectors, including bus and coach operators, chauffeur services, taxi and car hire companies as required.

Mrs Cameron asked the Minister for the Economy for an update on the arrangements and guidance for the safe reopening of (i) hair and beauty salons; and (ii) barbers.

Mrs Dodds: I very much welcome the Executive's decision on Thursday 18 June 2020, to allow businesses that provide nail, beauty, hair, barber and tanning services, electrolysis and acupuncture to re-open from Monday 6 July. This move, like other recently announced relaxations in the worlds of retail, tourism and hospitality, is of course conditional upon the virus being contained.

The suggested timeframe will enable the reopening of businesses to be managed, mitigations to be planned, compliance to be encouraged and preparations to be made.

Not only will the reopening of this sector provide it with some much needed financial stability, it will also be a move towards increasing a sense of normality which can dramatically improve general wellbeing.

Guidance on making workplaces safer prepared by the NI Engagement Forum –'Covid-19: Working Through This Together' – is available on nibusinessinfo.co.uk. This is available for all businesses and employers to consult and consider the principles of how to work safely. It is up to each individual business which is allowed to operate to decide if and how these principles can be applied to their specific work and their working environment.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) the membership of the Northern Ireland Economic Advisory Group; (ii) the date of appointment of each member; (iii) the criteria for membership; and (iv) the process of selection.

Mrs Dodds: The membership of the Economic Advisory Group (EAG) was announced on 17 June 2020. Details on the group's membership can be found at <https://www.economy-ni.gov.uk/news/economy-minister-announces-economic-advisory-group-members-and-publishes-detailed-recovery-plan>

Members were invited to join EAG in June 2020. The Chair and some other members were already part of a previous make-up of the group and have been asked to continue in their role in the reconstituted panel.

Members were appointed on the basis of their knowledge, experience and expertise, and will advise me as I formulate my longer term Economic Strategy and identify trends and opportunities for Northern Ireland as the new global economy emerges from Covid-19.

The EAG is an advisory group and as such members are there as a source of advice to the Minister. These are not paid roles and are not appointments to public bodies.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the terms of reference of the Economic Advisory Group for Northern Ireland.

Mrs Dodds: The Economic Advisory Group (EAG) are actively considering a draft terms of reference alongside their forward work programme. I expect this to be agreed shortly and will happily share this once it has been agreed by the EAG members. It will also be made publicly available on the EAG website.

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister for the Economy, pursuant to AQW 4501/17-22, (i) whether she reallocated any money to the Micro Business Hardship Fund during the June monitoring round; and (ii) whether she made any bids to the Minister for Finance during the June monitoring round for additional money for the hardship fund.

Mrs Dodds: No additional funding was required for the Hardship Fund from either my Department or the Department of Finance as part of the June monitoring process as sufficient funding was available to meet the number of applicants.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for the Economy how much her Department has spent on producing material in Irish, in each of the last three years.

Mrs Dodds: A payment for Careers Posters: £13.52 was paid to Global Connects in August 2019 for Irish translation services.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for the Economy what assessment has been made of the costs to the haulage industry and the economy from delays and for administering any proposed documentation required for goods moving between Great Britain and Northern Ireland, and vice versa.

(AQW 5117/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: There is still significant uncertainty around the processes that will be required for goods being transported from GB to NI, not least the definition of 'at risk' goods. Until these decisions are made, my Department is unable to conduct a full assessment of the additional costs and administration procedures the haulage industry may face.

I continue to press UK Government at every opportunity on the need to protect our businesses' ability to trade with GB, and avoid additional costs to businesses.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister for the Economy for an update on the progress being made by the UK Government's Cross-Ministerial Research Taskforce Working Group.

(AQW 5143/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The UK Government's Cross-Ministerial Research Taskforce Working Group was established with the aim of sustaining the university research base and its capability to contribute effectively to UK society and economy in the recovery and beyond. This is an opportunity for Ministerial colleagues across the UK, as well as other stakeholders, to share information and intelligence about issues facing universities, and to advise on appropriate support.

BEIS has now announced the outline of the resulting package of stabilisation funding, which can be found at <https://www.gov.uk/government/news/government-to-protect-uk-research-jobs-with-major-support-package>.

Taskforce meetings are continuing to help shape the detail of this package.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister for the Economy whether she has held any discussions with universities as to their role in upskilling citizens to support the economy post-COVID-19.

(AQW 5145/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Over the last number of months I have had extensive engagement with all of the local universities in relation to a wide range of issues including their role in assisting with the economic recovery.

- As part of our initial response my Department partnered with the Open University and other providers to offer training course in digital skills, cybersecurity and leadership. Approximately 30,000 learners have accessed these courses to date.
- This initial provision has been supplemented with a range of accredited short-term skills courses. Five of these on-line courses are delivered by Ulster University, and two through Queen's University.
- I have also had the opportunity to meet with the Open University to discuss a range of skills challenges facing Northern Ireland. I was very encouraged by the developing relationships between the Open University and the Further Education Colleges in relation to higher education. I consider this to be an important development to assist our economic recovery and in particular the need to address the current skills gap at levels 4 and 5.
- My Department will continue to work closely with our local universities to develop additional provision in order to support the economic recovery.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy whether the indemnity over legal challenges to school teachers over examination grade assessments, announced by the Minister of Education and agreed with the Minister of Finance, also applies to lecturers working for further education colleges who are involved in examination assessments.

Mrs Dodds: The Department of Education indemnity is to cover any potential legal costs in cases where schools, their teaching staff or leadership team face a legal challenge related to their role in the qualifications awarding processes for summer 2020. The indemnity arrangement does not cover lecturers working for further education colleges who are involved in examination assessments.

My Department is currently considering whether similar arrangements are appropriate in relation to the extraordinary awarding arrangements for vocational qualifications this summer.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for the Economy in relation to the NI Micro-business Hardship Fund, to detail (i) the total number of applications received; (ii) the number of successful applications; (iii) the number of unsuccessful applications; (iv) the number of applications yet to be determined; and (v) whether she is confident she has enough finance to pay the remaining claims.

Mrs Dodds: There were 4,958 application made to the Hardship Fund. To date 2,366 applications have been approved and have been paid or are being processed for payment. To date, 405 applications have been rejected. Every effort is being made to process the remaining payments as quickly as possible. I can confirm that funding is available to pay all successful applications.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy how she intends to respond to the recommendations of Climate Assembly UK, COVID-19, recovery and the path to net zero, for the economic recovery to be based on achieving the decarbonisation of our economy and a net zero carbon economy.

Mrs Dodds: I recently published my medium term economic recovery plan, 'Rebuilding a Stronger Economy' which focuses on taking action to rebuild a more competitive, inclusive and greener economy. Clean energy is included as a priority sector within this.

In the longer term, my Department will lead on the development of new Economic and Energy Strategies which will support the Programme for Government.

The Economic Strategy will seek to provide long term steps to meet the objectives of becoming a more competitive, regionally balanced and greener economy that works for everyone. To achieve the kind of economy that we want to see, we will need to address existing challenges in areas such as low pay, skills and regional imbalance. The principles of developing sustainable, green growth will be a vital component of the Strategy and the economic interventions detailed in it.

The Energy Strategy will put in place a range of policies that can be used as a stimulus to grow a greener economy, particularly for new innovations and technologies that can create local jobs and generate export opportunities. These will help us to take advantage of the substantial economic recovery opportunity in decarbonising energy as part of growing the green economy across Northern Ireland.

Growing this sector is a vital part of responding to climate change and building a better environment for the people of NI.

Mr Wells asked the Minister for the Economy how much was paid in the form of subsidies to the owners of wind farms and individual turbines in each of the last three financial years.
(AQW 5293/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Nothing in the form of subsidies has been paid to owners of wind farms or individual turbines in the last three financial years.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy what work she has undertaken with the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs, and the wider Executive, to match economic recovery targets with scientific and IPCC-determined emissions reductions targets.

Mrs Dodds: My Department has been working closely with the Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (DAERA) to ensure our priorities are aligned. This includes inputting to DAERA's Green Growth strategy and delivery framework, which will be launched early next year. This consists of a range of programmes to contribute to a resilient economy and a healthy environment and will identify opportunities to drive growth through our response to the climate crisis.

DAERA is also a key partner in developing a new Energy Strategy, which will put in place policies to decarbonise the energy used by our economy and society more broadly. Part of this work will involve developing an energy transition model, which will allow us to run scenarios to test the impact of energy policies on carbon emissions from businesses and industry.

The Executive has not set any economic recovery targets at this stage.

The Executive Office

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, in light of the comments of Junior Minister Declan Kearney at the Committee for the Executive Office on 13 May, what is the position of the Executive Office on the establishment of border control posts at Belfast, Warrenpoint and Larne.
(AQW 4124/17-22)

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill (The First Minister and deputy First Minister): The UK Government published a Command paper on the 20th May setting out its approach to the implementation of the Protocol. The approach to fulfilling the requirements for the movement of agri-food goods is set out in Paragraphs 33-35 of that paper. The Executive has agreed to work with the UK Government to ensure that checks are simplified and minimised as far as possible.

Mr McGrath asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether their Department will commit to the development of a refugee integration strategy.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: Work to develop a draft Refugee Integration Strategy is currently underway. This will draw on the excellent work, knowledge and experience that has been gained from successfully resettling a significant number of people under the Syrian Vulnerable Persons Resettlement Scheme (SVPRS).

A two day innovation lab, on the long term integration of all asylum seekers and refugees, was held with key stakeholders in March of this year. We are considering the report containing the information and outcomes of that event to inform the final draft strategy which we hope to consult on later this year.

Mr O'Toole asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, given that they share the same stage of the Coronavirus recovery plan with hairdressers and barbers, why tattoo parlours have not been given an indicative date of when they can resume business.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: At its meeting on 25 June, the Executive announced a range of indicative relaxations, which included the resumption of further close contact services such as tattoo parlours, from 6 July.

Ms Armstrong asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, given that action is due to happen annually, and the previous group was set up in May 2019, when the 2020 membership of the Racial Equality Subgroup will be published.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: The Subgroup appointed its new chair at its meeting on 1st July 2020 and will review its full membership at its meeting in September 2020. Following this any revised membership will be published.

Mr T Buchanan asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether COVID-19 social distancing restrictions apply equally to Executive Ministers as they do to members of the public, or are they exempt from these restrictions.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: The relevant regulations and guidance apply to everyone in the jurisdiction.

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether the £2.5 million bid for victims, subsequently allocated in the June Monitoring round, was exclusively for administration in respect of the delayed Victims' Pension Scheme.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: Security of funding of the Scheme has not yet been confirmed. The additional £2.5M which the Executive agreed to release is to advance necessary preparatory work for the Scheme. There is a shared view that Westminster has an obligation and must deliver on its responsibility to support funding for this Scheme and efforts are continuing to resolve this issue as swiftly as possible.

Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs, in light of media reports regarding COVID-19 outbreaks in meatplants, what interactions he has had with companies operating in the industry in Northern Ireland to prevent similar events taking place here.

(AQW 5274/17-22)

Mr Poots (The Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs): Thank you for your question in relation to recent media reports of COVID-19 outbreaks in meat plants and interactions my Department have had with companies operating in this sector to prevent similar events occurring here.

Firstly, I would like to assure you, that, I share and appreciate your concerns around recent media reports regarding COVID-19 outbreaks in the meat processing sector.

In response to, and from the outset of this crisis, my officials have facilitated regular (often daily) meetings between the relevant representative industry bodies, individual food business operators (FBOs), Food Standards Agency Northern Ireland (FSANI), Health and Safety Executive Northern Ireland (HSENI) and the Public Health Agency (PHA). The principal objective of these meetings and associated communications is to ensure that industry are familiar with and implementing the latest PHA guidance which is primarily aimed at ensuring a safe and hygienic working environment for all personnel and minimising the risk of COVID-19 transmission in the workplace.

These fora have proved hugely beneficial, providing attendees with the opportunity to engage with PHA, HSENI and other relevant officials on a range of COVID-19 related control issues including:

- Development of site specific risk assessments
- Risk mitigation measures and control strategies
- Communication strategies and plans
- Testing protocols and access to testing
- Contact Tracing
- Outbreak management plans

Please be assured that my officials will continue to monitor the situation and keep me apprised of any new developments.

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs, in relation to workers for whom English is not their first language, what supportive measures his Department is introducing to ensure good communication on COVID-19 prevention in agri-food workplaces.

(AQW 5275/17-22)

Mr Poots: Thank you for your question regarding Departmental support measures in relation to Agri – Food sector workers for whom English is not their first language to ensure good communication on COVID-19 prevention within the workplace.

Firstly, I would like to thank you for recognising the contribution that workers of all backgrounds are making to the agri-food industry and the challenges they face at this difficult time.

In response to, and from the outset of this crisis, my Department has engaged with the relevant industry bodies, individual Food Business Operators (FBOs), Health and Safety Executive NI (HSENI) and the Public Health Agency (PHA) through a series of regular meetings. The principal objective of these meetings and associated communications is to ensure that the industry as a whole, and individual FBOs in particular, are familiar with and implementing the latest PHA guidance which is primarily aimed at ensuring a safe working environment for all personnel and minimising the risk of COVID-19 transmission in the workplace.

Recognising and acknowledging the diverse nature of the workforce, a significant proportion for whom English is not their first language, officials from HSENI & PHA have repeatedly emphasised to FBOs the importance of clear and concise communication, both verbal and non-verbal, in all required languages to enable and ensure adherence to all public health guidance.

These fora also provide attendees with the opportunity to engage with officials regarding the measures to be taken to ensure the safety of all staff during the pandemic and obtain any clarification required around effective communication channels and strategies. In addition, HSENI, as the enforcement authority have strategically rolled out a series of unannounced inspections across the meat processing sector to verify compliance with all relevant public health guidance.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs to outline (i) the process to select a Northern Ireland member to sit on the board of the Office for Environmental Protection (OEP); (ii) how an OEP in Northern Ireland will be funded; (iii) whether the OEP will have an office based in Northern Ireland along with staff and resources to ensure its successful running.

Mr Poots:

- (i) The detailed process to select the Northern Ireland member for the Office for Environmental Protection has not been confirmed yet but the provisions of the Environment Bill state that (s)he would be appointed for a fixed term of no more than 5 years by DAERA after consultation with the Defra Secretary of State and the OEP Chair. The appointee is required to have experience of Northern Ireland environmental law, environmental science in Northern Ireland, or environmental regulation in Northern Ireland;
- (ii) Again, precise details of funding arrangements are not yet confirmed but it would be for the Defra Secretary of State and DAERA to fund the OEP sufficiently to carry out its functions. This funding will be in the form of grant-in-aid to reinforce the independence of the OEP and allowance is also made for additional in-year financial assistance to be provided;
- (iii) Operational details, such as where OEP offices will be located, have not yet been determined.

DAERA officials will continue to discuss potential arrangements with Defra in the coming months and these discussions will be informed by internal and external stakeholder views – for example, through responses to the discussion document on plans, principles and governance that will issue later this year.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs what work has been undertaken by his Department's racial equality champion in the last five years.

Mr Poots: DAERA is fully committed to the Racial Equality Strategy 2015-2025 which was launched in December 2015.

The Racial Equality Champion as part of the wider Diversity work within the Department communicates with all staff, non-departmental public bodies and service providers to raise awareness on the Racial Equality Strategy, the Department's commitment to it and the responsibility of all staff to promote inclusion and diversity. This is accomplished in a number of ways.

The Racial Equality Champion is a member of the Equality and Diversity Steering Group (EDSG), which is chaired by the DAERA Permanent Secretary, and he co-chairs the Equality and Diversity Working Group. A new dedicated resource has been secured for diversity issues and they help to form part of the Equality, Diversity and Public Appointments Branch. Some of the main objectives met by the diversity officer and the Racial Equality Champion is the annual Calendar of Events and a draft Diversity and Inclusion Action Plan which is in the final stages of being approved and implemented.

Department for Communities

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities what plans her Department has in place to enable communities to commemorate the centenary of Northern Ireland.

(AQW 1060/17-22)

Ms Hargey (The Minister for Communities): The Department currently provides funding to the 11 local councils for the Community Festivals Fund. Councils provide match funding to this and administer the scheme on our behalf. Community organisations can apply to this fund based on eligibility criteria.

Mr Stewart asked the Minister for Communities what consideration has been given to introducing vesting powers to local government or her Department for derelict buildings in areas in need of regeneration.

Ms Hargey: My Department exercises statutory powers, mostly contained in Part VII of the Planning (NI) Order 1991, in the assembly and vesting of lands for the purpose of comprehensive development schemes and projects. Councils, however, are not authorised by statutory provision to acquire land for development schemes.

My predecessor, the then Minister for Communities, Paul Givan MLA, made an Oral Statement to the Assembly on 22 November 2016 announcing that he did not intend to pursue the transfer of statutory powers for Urban Regeneration and Community Development to district councils. Without such powers, councils are not in a position to seek vesting orders to enable regeneration schemes to be undertaken.

I continue to keep options under review

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for Communities to detail the departmental supported projects in Strabane for young adults with learning disabilities.

(AQW 1576/17-22)

Ms Hargey: My Department is fully committed to supporting people with disabilities, and does this through a wide range of projects and initiatives.

My Department supports vulnerable people, including young adults with learning disabilities, through the Supporting People Programme which helps people live more independently. There is one service that provides support for young adults with learning disabilities in Strabane.

Accommodation Services	Units	Unit Rate	Contract Value	Age Group
Apex Housing Association, Iona House, Strabane	12	343.28	214,206.72	18+

My Department supports projects which assist people with disabilities towards employment and seven of these projects include Strabane within their catchment area. Four are specifically for people with learning disabilities – ‘Mencap – Employability 2’ offering specialist employment support; ‘Orchardville – Ignite 2’ which helps people secure voluntary or paid employment with ongoing in-work support; ‘Specialisterne (Recruit+)’ which supports economically inactive individuals who are on the Autistic Spectrum; and ‘Specialisterne (Recruit++)’ which supports autistic people to access employment and feel socially connected.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities whether she or her departmental officials have had any discussions with the Gaelic Athletic Association (GAA) regarding the need for the GAA to increase their contribution to the Casement Park project. (AQW 2060/17-22)

Ms Hargey: My departmental officials are currently completing a review of the latest version of the UCGAA Full Business Case, which shows a potential increase in the project cost estimates from £77.5 million to circa £110 million. This could potentially leave a funding gap in the region of £33 million. Engagement with Department of Finance economists is ongoing to prepare for their review of the revised Casement Park FBC.

Discussions regarding the apportionment of any potential increased project costs, are ongoing with UCGAA.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister for Communities what the average waiting time is for a Personal Independence Payment appeal hearing after a request is made. (AQW 2246/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The average waiting time for a Personal Independent Payment appeal from receipt of appeal to final determination is 33.5 weeks. From receipt of a Personal Independence Payment appeal to first date of hearing takes on average 24.5 weeks.

Mr Blair asked the Minister for Communities whether she will review the use of courthouses for hosting benefit appeals, to mitigate the potential stress this places on claimants suffering from ill health and mental health issues. (AQW 2313/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Minister of Justice and Minister Hargey were scheduled to meet to discuss a number of issues, including the use of court houses for benefit appeals, prior to the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. However, due to the impact of COVID-19 it was necessary to postpone the planned meeting, but we are aiming to reschedule this meeting in the near future.

Before any venue is confirmed as suitable for a benefit appeal tribunal hearing, The Appeals Service (TAS) completes a health and safety risk assessment of the location and facilities to determine its suitability. These will be reviewed against current Public Health Agency (PHA) guidelines when oral hearings are reconvened.

The use of court houses has allowed TAS to arrange more tribunal sessions and subsequently has helped reduce delay to appellants in securing a hearing date. On occasions where availability causes difficulties other venues may be deemed suitable for consideration following a risk assessment on facilities.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Communities what provision is being made to meet the increasing demand for purpose-built dementia care housing units in the Ards and North Down Borough Council area. (AQW 2411/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Supporting People programme currently grant funds 4 services within the South East HSCT area for Older People with Mental Health Problems / Dementia, 2 of which are in the Ards and North Down Borough Council area, with a total of 48 units of which 39 are currently utilised.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister for Communities whether she will review the Houses of Multiple Occupancy (HMO) legislation, based on the experiences of residents living in areas with high levels of HMOs, such as the Holylands area of South Belfast. (AQW 2439/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Department will undertake an evaluation of the Houses in Multiple Occupation (HMO) legislation in 2021, 2 years after the commencement of the HMO licensing scheme. The evaluation will examine the impact the policy and legislation has on this area.

Mr Robinson asked the Minister for Communities why all residents in Alexander Road, Limavady have not had their gas installation completed; and to outline the reasons for the delay in some installations.

Ms Hargey: The Housing Executive have advised that the Limavady heating installation scheme currently on site required new gas meters to be installed by Firmus, the gas supplier in the area. The installation of the meters was expected to be carried out in February 2020 but had been delayed due to issues with Firmus' supply chain and then again because of the Covid-19 pandemic. .

A large proportion of the meters in Alexander Road have now been replaced with new models. This will allow the contractor H&A Mechanical to resume the installations within the coming weeks providing Government guidance on working in tenant's homes, with regard to social distancing and adequate hand, respiratory and environmental hygiene can be followed.

The Housing Executive will continue to monitor progress on this scheme.

Mr Beattie asked the Minister for Communities to outline the status of the community buildings grants that were established prior to the collapse of the Assembly in January 2017; and whether unsuccessful tranche 1 grants, that were informed they would be rolled over to tranche 2, will be given priority in any renewed scheme.

Ms Hargey: The Community Halls Pilot Programme was launched in October 2016 and supported 89 projects. No additional funding was allocated to the Programme in subsequent years and, given the time that has now lapsed, the Programme is considered closed.

"New Decade, New Approach" includes a number of commitments made by the British Government including a commitment to provide funding to establish a Culture and Community fund. The British Government have an obligation to resource the commitments set out in the deal.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities to detail the investment in Monkscoole House and Abbotscoole House in each of the last five years.

Ms Hargey: The investment in Abbotscoole House and Monkscoole House in the last five years is as follows.

Abbotscoole House

2015/16 – Nil

2016/17 - £882,000 in a Health & Safety scheme

2017/18 - £5,350 in Electrical Inspections

2019/20 - £9,946 – Minor repairs

Monkscoole House

No planned investment in any of the five years.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities to detail the tower blocks which have been recommended for demolition, broken down by constituency.

Ms Hargey: The Tower Block Action Plan sets out the intention of the Housing Executive to decommission all of the tower blocks in its ownership. The Housing Executive have split these into short/medium term and long term groupings with regard to the time frame for doing so. The tables below detail the tower blocks scheduled to be demolished in the short term, the long term (which will require ongoing investment) and those blocks that are currently proposed for private sector sale, broken down by constituency.

It should be noted that all demolitions are subject to business cases being approved by the Department. Approval for the demolition of Monkscoole House has already been granted and the Housing Executive is now preparing a demolition scheme.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities to detail the number of social and affordable homes built in the Rathcoole area in each of the last five years; and the new builds which are due to commence.

Ms Hargey: The table below summarises the total new build social housing completions in the Rathcoole area between 2015/16 and 2019/20. The details are set out in table 1.

A further 24 social housing units are currently under construction and 105 social housing units are programmed to start through the Social Housing Development Programme (SHDP) 2020/21 – 2022/23. The detail of these schemes are included in Table 2 below.

Programmed schemes can be lost or slip to future programme years for a variety of reasons e.g. relating to delays in acquiring sites and/or failure to secure Planning Approval.

Mr Butler asked the Minister for Communities, in light of the recent court hearings involving the Charity Commission, whether she will publish her Department's internal review of the Charity Commission that was carried out in 2016.

(AQW 2590/17-22)

Ms Hargey: A "regular internal governance review" of the Charity Commission was announced by the then Minister in August 2016. The review was never finalised, or presented to the former Minister prior to the collapse of the Assembly in 2017.

The review did not consider the issue raised in the High Court or Court of Appeal, is out of date and no longer relevant to current issues or circumstances. I therefore have no plans to publish it.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister for Communities whether she can rule out the sale of public housing stock for her entire term in office.

(AQW 2636/17-22)

Ms Hargey: Currently, both the Housing Executive and Housing Associations are required by legislation to operate House Sales Schemes for eligible social tenants. The Housing (Amendment) Bill (Northern Ireland) 2020, passed by the Assembly on 30 June, will end the scheme for Housing Associations after a transition period of 2 years once the bill is granted Royal Assent. New primary legislation would be needed in order to change this for the Housing Executive.

New Decade, New Approach, has committed the Executive to tackling "the maintenance backlog for Housing Executive properties" and to enhanced investment in new social homes. In line with this, I am committed to realising two related objectives: maintaining our existing social homes for future generations of social tenants; increasing the rate at which we build new social homes.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for Communities, pursuant to AQW 1222/17-22, whether each of the projects detailed in Section C Proposed New Build Housing in Newry and Armagh have a financial commitment from the Department.

Ms Hargey: The Housing Executive manages the Social Housing Development Programme (SHDP) budget on behalf of the Department for Communities (DfC). The overall SHDP budget for the 2020/21 programme year is £127m. It is anticipated that, within this budget, there will be capacity to provide funding to enable starts in respect of the 377 units currently programmed to start before the end of March 2021 in the Newry & Armagh Parliamentary Constituency.

The SHDP budget for the 2021/22 and 2022/23 programme has yet to be confirmed by DfC.

Programmed schemes can be lost or slip to future programme years for a variety of reasons e.g. relating to delays in acquiring sites and/or failure to secure Planning Approval.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister for Communities whether recipients of Universal Credit are liable to repay overpayments if the error causing the overpayment was made by the Department.

(AQW 2699/17-22)

Ms Hargey: My Department is obliged to consider the recoverability of all Universal Credit overpayments, irrespective of how the overpayment arose. However, we can and do apply discretion in respect of the issue of recoverability.

We advise all people with an overpayment to contact our Debt Management centre in the first instance. All cases are dealt with on their individual merits and there is no guarantee that any overpayment will be reduced or waived.

I am keen to make sure we deliver a service that is empathetic and protects the most vulnerable in our society. I can assure you that we will continue to review our approach here to make sure it meets that test.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities how her Department is considering responding to paragraph 9(1) of the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe Resolution 2318 (2020) calling for the establishment of appropriate monitoring mechanisms to assess the implementation of anti-discrimination legislation, which covers prohibition of discrimination on grounds of religion or belief.

Ms Hargey: Resolution 2318 (2020) on the matter of the protection of freedom of religion or belief in the workplace was debated by the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe on 29th January 2020. The Resolution and its impact is currently being considered by the Executive Office.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister for Communities, pursuant to AQW 1546/17-22, to detail the amount and categories of departmental expenditure incurred by the 7338 Personal Independence Payment appeals that were adjourned since 2017 due to requests for medical evidence.

Ms Hargey: My Department does not hold a record of the expenditure incurred by the 7338 Personal Independence Payment appeals that were adjourned since 2017 due to requests for medical evidence.

Mr Beattie asked the Minister for Communities what plans her Department has for further social housing development schemes within the Upper Bann constituency, in each of the next four financial years; and what will be the location of these proposed social housing developments.

(AQW 2904/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Social Housing Development Programme is a three-year rolling programme. I can only provide the details of developments for 2020/21 to 2022/23.

Within the Upper Bann Parliamentary Constituency I can advise that 3 social housing units have been completed to-date in 2020/21 details are attached at Table 1 below.

There are currently 52 social housing units under construction, details are attached at Table 2 below.

There are currently 37 social housing units programmed to start through the Social Housing Development Programme (SHDP) 2020/21 – 2022/23. The details are attached in Table 3 below.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities whether she has reviewed the social housing allocations policy. (AQW 2912/17-22)

Ms Hargey: A consultation on 'A Fundamental Review of Social Housing Allocations' ran from September to December 2017.

Analysis of stakeholder feedback has been completed by my Departmental officials.

I will be considering the Review, options and next steps in the coming weeks. As we begin to recover from the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, my Departmental officials will continue engagement with stakeholders on the important issues raised by the Review.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities for a breakdown of the timeframe for tribunal appeals to be heard. (AQW 2927/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The following provides a breakdown of the stages of an Appeal being processed by the Appeals Service (TAS) up to initial listing for hearing including the timescale for each of the stages:

- On receipt of a valid appeal, within 3 working days, TAS will register and acknowledge the appeal;
- TAS then requests the relevant benefit office to lodge a submission within 8 weeks;
- On receipt of the submission, TAS issues a hearing type enquiry form to the appellant asking if they wish for an oral hearing or a hearing to be held on the papers and allows 2 weeks for the return of this information; and
- Once the hearing type enquiry form has been received the appeal will, within 3 working days, be made ready for hearing and the Appellant will then be offered an initial hearing date, approximately 11 weeks ahead.

When the Appellant is offered an initial date for hearing, it may then be subject to postponement or adjournment requests by the Appellant or at the direction of the panel. This can be due to the panel requiring further evidence from the Appellant or allowing for the Appellant to seek representation.

In light of the COVID-19 pandemic, oral hearings were suspended with effect from 18 March 2020. However, TAS has been working with the Office of the President of the Tribunals (OPAT) to re-commence limited hearings with effect from 6 July 2020.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities how many negative Personal Independence Payment (PIP) claim decisions have been changed at (i) mandatory reconsideration; and (ii) appeal, since the introduction of PIP. (AQW 2928/17-22)

Ms Hargey: A Mandatory Reconsideration can be requested where Personal Independence Payment (PIP) has been refused or where the person disagrees with the amount they have been awarded. The IT system used to administer PIP captures the overall number of mandatory reconsiderations requested and changed, but cannot provide a breakdown of the number relating to a disallowance of PIP and those relating to the level of award of PIP.

The most recent PIP statistics, published on 27 May 2020, show that from the introduction of PIP on 20 June 2016 until 29 February 2020, 59,380 mandatory reconsideration decisions had been made, with 11,730 decisions changed. Virtually all decisions are changed because additional evidence is provided which was not available to the officer who made the initial decision.

An appeal can be lodged either against a refusal of PIP or the rate of benefit awarded. The management information records a successful appeal where a more advantageous outcome for the appellant has resulted. From 20 June 2016 to 9 March 2020 (latest available figures) the total number of successful PIP appeals is 8,209.

Decisions overturned at appeal are primarily because either additional evidence was presented at the Tribunal which was not available to the officer who made the decision, or that the Tribunal took a different view of the evidence available to the Department when the decision was made, with neither conclusion being unreasonable.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities for a detailed breakdown of the projected £33M increase for the Casement Park development.

(AQW 2930/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Casement Park Stadium is the final project of the Regional Stadia Programme with both the Kingspan Stadium (UBIRFU) and the Windsor Park Stadium (IFA) now delivering benefits in their operational phases.

The Department has been allocated £110m by the Executive to deliver the Regional Stadia Programme, which includes £62.5million towards the redevelopment of Casement Park. The Casement Park approved overall project budget remains £77.5million.

The UCGAA Full Business Case identifies project cost estimate increases in the region of £33million in the following cost categories:

- Construction inflation impact;
- Stadium redesign impact; and
- Project development costs related to repeated design stages.

The current project cost estimate will be subject to change, with the passage of time and/or the implementation of the agreed construction procurement strategy.

Advancement of plans to complete the Regional Stadia Programme including Casement Park is set out as a priority of the restored Executive within the "New Decade, New Approach" agreement and I am fully committed to delivering on this priority area.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities to detail the funding provided for (i) social security advisory services; and (ii) social security tribunal representation, in each of the last five years.

Ms Hargey: My Department provides core annual funding for the delivery of independent, community based advice services to over 230,000 citizens, which, together with local government funding, support around 360 frontline adviser roles.

- Regional Infrastructure Support Programme - £1m per annum
- Community Support Programme - £1.8m per annum which is then match funded by councils (currently circa £2.1m).

Year	Community Support Programme	Regional Infrastructure Support Programme
2015/16	£1,600,000	£1,300,000
2016/17	£1,600,000	£1,300,000
2017/18	£1,600,000	£1,300,000
2018/19	£1,800,000	£1,300,000
2019/20	£1,800,000	£1,000,000

In addition, funding from the Neighbourhood Renewal Fund is provided to advice organisations in Derry City & Strabane District Council, Causeway Coast and Glens and Belfast for advice services.

Year	Derry City & Strabane District Council	Causeway Coast and Glens District Council	Belfast City Council
20	£239,201	£18,140	£266,540
2016/17	£239,201	£18,140	£258,455
2017/18	£239,201	£18,140	£290,171
2018/19	£239,201	£18,140	£313,398
2019/20	£239,201	£18,140	£251,000

The Executive agreed funding of £8m over four years for these additional services as part of the Fresh Start Agreement (see table below).

Year	Additional Welfare Reform Funding
2015/16
2016/17	£2,000,000
2017/18	£2,000,000
2018/19	£2,000,000
2019/20	£2,000,000

(ii) Social Security Tribunal Representation

As set out above, my Department provides core advice funding totalling £1.8m annually through the Community Support Programme. Councils then take full responsibility for the commissioning and management of front line advice services, including appeals representation, in each of their areas.

In 2019/20 the Department recognised that the implementation of welfare changes appeared to be leading to increases in appeals work in the advice sector. To help address this, a one off additional allocation of £320,000 from the Welfare Reform was released to allow organisations to cover the additional work.

In March 2020 my Department approved a financial package to continue funding additional independent advice services for three years, at a cost of £1.5m per annum and to allocate an additional £320,000 per annum for three years to fund additional appeals advice and representation.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities, pursuant to AQW 1763/17-22, to outline each requested change; and the rationale for each change.

(AQW 3105/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Executive agreed a package of payment flexibilities for Universal Credit here. My Department has requested changes to the Universal Credit IT system to facilitate these payment flexibilities. Changes requested to the Universal Credit system are detailed in the table below.

Nature of Change	Rationale for Change	Position
Twice monthly payments	To automate flexibility for twice monthly payments	Delivered
Direct payments to landlords	To automate the flexibility of paying landlords direct	Delivered
Split payments	To automate flexibility for split payments to people in a joint claim	In progress
Equality monitoring	To fulfil statutory duty under section 75	In progress

Timing of the changes still in progress, along with other refinement and enhancement activity, will now need to take account of additional priorities associated with urgent system work required to respond to and recover from the Covid – 19 emergency situation.

My Department has, and will continue to, work to ensure that any development of the UC system will meet the needs of people claiming UC in here.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Communities, further to her statement of 28 February 2020, to list the Small Pockets of Deprivation identified under neighbourhood renewal and the funding that was provided for each during the current financial year; and to detail the amount that has been protected for each area for the next two financial years.

Ms Hargey: The Small Pockets of Deprivation areas including the funding allocated to each area for the 2019/2020 financial year are listed in the table below:

Causeway Coast &amp; Glens
Ballymoney Cluster (Carnany, Castle, Glebeside)	£24,260.50
Antrim &amp; Newtownabbey
Bawnmore, Newtownabbey	£14,130.30
Belfast City Council
White City, Belfast	£7,956.00

Causeway Coast &amp; Glens

Mid &amp; East Antrim
Sunnylands/Greenisland, Carrickfergus	£37,980.00
Sunnylands, Carrickfergus	£22,053.00

West Winds, Newtownards	£30,781.00
Derry City &amp; Strabane
Strathfoyle, Derry	£64,304.40

Funding of the Small Pockets of Deprivation Programme will continue for the next two years at the same level and on the same terms as the 2019/2020 programme.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities (i) what discussions there have been between departmental officials and the advice sector to ensure the Make the Call Service and the Independent Welfare Changes Helpline are working effectively in partnership; and (ii) how she will make sure there isn't a duplication in service and cost.

Ms Hargey: The Welfare Changes Helpline is funded by the Department and delivered independently by the advice sector, with a very specific focus on offering independent information, advice and support relating to any of the ongoing changes to the social security system. Both are distinct but complementary services, evidenced by the fact that, on occasion, people have been signposted to Make the Call Wraparound by the Welfare Changes Helpline.

I am committed to closer working between departmental services and independent community advice organisations. Last year the Department commissioned an independent review which recommended that closer working between Make the Call and the Advice Sector in order to deliver the best quality advice and value for money.

This recommendation has been accepted and is being implemented.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities what discussions she has had with the Secretary of State for Work and Pensions to discuss the gap in support for people moved from legacy benefits onto Universal Credit, given the welcomed 'run on' for people on Universal Credit who reach State Pension Age, as announced 5 March 2020.

(AQW 3269/17-22)

Ms Hargey: I have not yet had an opportunity for discussion. Since April 2018 all those in receipt of Housing Benefit whose Housing Benefit award was ended because of a new claim to Universal Credit have been awarded a two-week Transition to Universal Credit Housing Payment.

This transitional protection will be extended from July 2020 when people will receive an additional two weeks of Income Support, income-based Jobseeker's Allowance and income-related Employment and Support Allowance if they receive one of these benefits when moving to Universal Credit.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities (i) how many claimants lost their Severe Disability Premium (SDP) when they were migrated to Universal Credit; (ii) whether these claimants will be reimbursed for the loss of SDP; and (iii) when such repayments will take place.

Ms Hargey: A gateway to prevent those people entitled to the Severe Disability Premium (SDP) as part of their legacy benefit from claiming Universal Credit has been in place since 16 January 2019. This gateway in effect prevented new claims for Universal Credit being made by people in receipt of the SDP.

Before the gateway was put in place, a number of people had a change in circumstances which meant that they moved to Universal Credit. To date, we have identified 488 such claims. To make sure these people are not financially disadvantaged, arrangements are already in place to pay a Severe Disability Premium payment and over £1.3million has been paid to date. No arrears are outstanding in respect of these.

Mr Hilditch asked the Minister for Communities whether she will visit Carrick Rangers FC's Belfast Loughsore Arena and Larne FC's Inver Park to help inform her decisions relating to the Sub-Regional Stadia programme.

(AQW 3326/17-22)

Ms Hargey: I would be happy to meet as many local football teams as I can, where my diary and time permits.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities for an update on her Department's Private Rented Sector in Northern Ireland - Proposals for Change paper; and what action she intends to take to implement its recommendations.

(AQW 3426/17-22)

Ms Hargey: Housing, and in particular the role and regulation of the Private Rented Sector, is one of my priorities. My Department's consultation exercise on proposals for change to the role and regulation of the private rented sector ended on 3 April 2017. The Department is currently carrying out a comprehensive review of the role and regulation of the private rented sector to ensure the regulatory framework and supporting policy improve standards for the benefit of both tenants and landlords. The areas being reviewed include:

- Supply
- Affordability
- Security of tenure
- Tenancy management
- Property standards
- Dispute resolution

I am currently considering how to take forward the recommendations in that review, and what other measures may be necessary.

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Communities how many people in Upper Bann are on the waiting list for Disabled Facilities Grant; and for how long they have been on the list.

(AQW 3444/17-22)

Ms Hargey: In relation to Disabled Facilities Grants in the Upper Bann area as at 23 June 2020 there are:

- 300 referrals from Occupational Therapists;
- 77 formal applications (where the Housing Executive has received all necessary documents) of which 19 are considered major cases and 58 minor cases; and
- 90 further cases where properties have been inspected and the list of works / document request issued to the householder.

The figures detailed below are cases where full documentation has been received and the number of those cases which have been approved.

Major Cases		Minor Case
19 cases		58 cases
Approved	Work commenced	Approved	Work commenced
17	13	41	11
Average length of time to move from Application to Approval by calendar days
106 calendar days		76 calendar days
0-90 days	11 cases	0-90 days	28 cases
91-150 days	3 cases	91-150 days	5 cases
151+ days	3 cases	151+ days	8 cases

I hope this information is useful.

Ms P Bradley asked the Minister for Communities how many (i) temporary; and (ii) permanent allocations of residency have been made to each tower block in Rathcoole over the last five years.

(AQW 3453/17-22)

Ms Hargey: During the last five years there were 76 permanent allocations in the Rathcoole tower blocks. The figure of 76 permanent allocations includes 2 Direct Exchanges. During the period there were also 4 allocations of temporary accommodation.

Tower Block	Temporary allocations	Permanent allocations	Notes
Carncoole House	2	15	Includes 2 Direct Exchanges  Secure tenancies can be assigned by way of exchange (DIRECT EXCHANGE). This is a statutory right entitling a secure tenant to assign their tenancy rights to another secure tenant who will then in turn assign their tenancy rights. This right is subject to written consent from the Landlord.
Glencooles House	2	49	Includes the allocation of a large number of operational voids in 2015.  Operational voids are properties which are being kept vacant for operational reasons such as keeping a property vacant as it is included in an approved planned improvement scheme which would have required the tenant to decant to have the works completed or properties currently being used for decanting or being held vacant for future decanting.

Mr Storey asked the Minister for Communities to detail the staff complement and perceived religious background of the (i) languages branch; and (b) culture division of her Department.

Ms Hargrey: Staffing Complement as of 11 February 2020.

Culture Division currently comprises three branches: Arts & Creativity Branch; Museums & Libraries Branch; and, Languages Branch.

The staffing complement for Culture Division is 38 staff. This equates to a full-time equivalent (FTE) of 35.54 staff when reduced hours working is factored.

The staffing complement for Languages Branch is 11 full-time posts.

Religious Background as of 1 January 2020. Data excludes Museums & Libraries Branch as restructuring of Culture Division was not reflected on HR Connect at 1 January 2020.

Mr Beattie asked the Minister for Communities when she will bring forward legislation on the Children's Funeral Fund NI, as noted in New Decade, New Approach.

(AQW 3577/17-22)

Ms Hargey: Officials within my Department continue to work on the development of a Child Funeral Fund including identifying if legislation is required.

As an interim measure steps have already been taken by councils to voluntarily waive certain fees as set by councils, to ease the burden on parents dealing with the expenditure of a burial or cremation of a child.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for Communities what support her Department is providing to housing associations with regard to contingency planning and possible hospital admissions from sheltered housing associations as a result of COVID-19.

(AQW 3595/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Housing Executive wrote to all provider organisations on 12 February 2020 to seek assurance that organisations and supported housing schemes, which are funded by Supporting People, have Business Continuity Plans in place for responding to infectious diseases, including Coronavirus, should an outbreak occur and that staff are acquainted with the corresponding Business Continuity Plans.

The Housing Executive again wrote to those organisations on 17 March 2020 to share Central Government guidance (Covid-19 Guidance for Domiciliary Care Providers and Covid-19 Guidance for Residential Care Providers) which contain advice covering Supported Living Schemes and floating (community) support.

In order to support SP funded services to continue to deliver services during the COVID-19 outbreak a Housing Executive SP Programme COVID-19 Contingency Plan was shared with all service providers on 24 March 2020. This was subsequently updated and shared on 17 April 2020 and on 24 June 2020. The purpose of this plan is to outline contingency arrangements to be taken to support SP funded services to deliver services during the COVID-19 outbreak and now includes areas where we can make steps towards 'Business as Usual'. The document also includes links to PHA, Central Government and H&SC guidance.

Contingency arrangements and escalation measures to support SP funded services was also shared with all SP service providers on 2 April 2020 through the Housing Executive Homeless Services COVID-19 Surge Plan and the Housing Executive will continue to share guidance with all service provider organisations.

Please also be advised the Housing Executive made bids to the Department for additional funding which will be made available to all SP provider organisations in respect of Covid19 related expenditure and associated loss of income. On 19 May 2020 Minister Hargey announced an additional £10m of Covid-19 funding for the SP Programme. The Housing Executive are progressing with criteria and mechanisms for this additional funding to be distributed to all SP service providers.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities to detail how many prisoners are in receipt of Personal Independence Payments.

Ms Hargey: As you will be aware, social security benefits fall within the remit of the Department for Communities and so your question AQW 3638 to the Minister for Justice has been transferred to my Department. As both questions relate to the same topic, they have been combined.

Personal Independence Payment (PIP) is not payable for a period during which a person is imprisoned or detained in legal custody. However if a person was entitled to PIP immediately before their imprisonment began then it will remain in payment for the first 28 days of that person's imprisonment. Maintaining payment of the benefit for 28 days in these circumstances allows for a continued but limited contribution towards any outstanding disability-related expenditure. The IT system used to administer PIP does not capture information on the number of people in receipt of PIP in these specific circumstances.

The payment of PIP ceases once someone has been detained for 28 days.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities how many prisoners are in receipt of Personal Independence Payment.

(AQW 3641/17-22)

Ms Hargey: As you will be aware, social security benefits fall within the remit of the Department for Communities and so your question AQW 3638 to the Minister for Justice has been transferred to my Department. As both questions relate to the same topic, they have been combined.

Mr McCann asked the Minister for Communities whether she will share the outcome of her recent meeting with the community sector regarding her proposals for neighbourhood renewal.

Ms Hargey: Minister Hargey was due to attend the People and Place Forum with community representatives from Neighbourhood Renewal Partnerships and Areas at Risk on the 18 March 2020. However, due to the ongoing Public Health issues relating to COVID-19, a number of withdrawals from the Forum were received.

Given that the success of these events is dependent upon the active participation of all representatives, it was decided to postpone the event in order to ensure that every Neighbourhood Renewal Partnership and Area at Risk representative get the opportunity to contribute to the Forum.

Minister Hargey was committed to this process and I can confirm that I share that commitment. I want to assure you that the event will be re-arranged at the earliest opportunity.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities how many prisoners in Northern Ireland are in receipt of Pension Credit.

(AQW 3710/17-22)

Ms Hargey: Pension Credit is not payable for a period during which a person is imprisoned or detained in legal custody.

However, an exception applies where a person on remand may be entitled to help with housing costs under certain circumstances for up to 52 weeks. The IT system used to administer Pension Credit does not capture information on the number of people that fall into this category.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities to outline the process around suspension of benefits for prisoners and whether this is lifted following release.

(AQW 3713/17-22)

Ms Hargey: People who had been receiving social security benefits immediately prior to being imprisoned or lawfully detained will not generally remain eligible to receive those benefits while they remain in prison. This is because they will either be disqualified from receiving the benefit, they will no longer be entitled to the benefit or they will have an applicable amount of nil for the duration of their imprisonment. However exceptions apply to Personal Independence Payment and, under certain circumstances, to the housing costs elements payable with certain social security benefits.

Personal Independence Payment remains payable for the first 28 days following imprisonment as long as entitlement existed prior to the person's lawful detention.

Single claimants whose benefit included an element for housing costs may continue to receive payments towards those costs if their term of custody is not expected to exceed 6 months or they are in prison on remand.

Where a person's entitlement to benefit is suspended or they are disqualified from receiving benefit or are entitled to an applicable amount of nil whilst in prison, their benefit may be reinstated without the need to make a new claim when they are released. However, if the person's entitlement to benefit has been terminated while in prison they would have to make a new claim to that benefit (or UC if it is not possible to get back onto the original benefit) upon their release.

Ms Sheerin asked the Minister for Communities whether she will make alternative arrangements for people with upcoming medical assessments in relation to their benefits, in order to avoid the risks of COVID-19 to vulnerable people having to attend assessment centres.

Ms Hargey: The Department for Communities took the decision to suspend all face to face assessments for health and disability related benefits from Monday 16th March 2020. This was aimed at reducing the risk of exposure to Covid-19 and safeguarding the health of individuals claiming health and disability benefits.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities what communication channels her Department will use to promote how the public can to apply for financial crisis support during COVID-19 pandemic.

Ms Hargey: Information on how the public can apply for financial crisis support and benefits during the COVID 19 pandemic is published on nidirect www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/coronavirus-covid-19-and-benefits and on the DfC website <https://www.communities-ni.gov.uk/landing-pages/covid-19-service-updates> These are kept updated and the links have been shared with MLAs, the Advice Sector and stakeholders.

The Department also uses Ministerial media interviews, Press Releases, the Departmental twitter page and the Jobs&BenefitsNI facebook page to signpost the public to the most recent benefit and financial crisis support information.

Universal Credit information is also available through a range of digital channels including Facebook, Spotify, Google search and the Google Display Network. Information is available online at www.nidirect.gov.uk/universalcredit and this includes short videos to explain Universal Credit and how to apply.

My Department also set up a freephone Covid 19 Community Helpline at the end of March 2020 to assist those in vulnerable groups to access information, advice and support in relation to COVID-19 and this included those needing financial crisis support. The Helpline is managed by Advice NI and operates Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm. The Helpline number is 0808 802 0020. Alternatively text ACTION to 81025 or email: Covid19@adviceni.net or complete a form on the Advice NI website.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Communities, further to the response to AQW 2447/17-22, to clarify if the staff complement set out includes agency workers and, if not, can those figures be given in respect of the years addressed.

Ms Hargey: The annual accounts of local councils are not required to disclose the number of agency staff that they employ. Therefore my department is unable to provide the number of agency staff employed by councils.

Mr Humphrey asked the Minister for Communities to detail the departmental budget for the Liofa initiative in (i) 2016-17; (ii) 2017-18; (iii) 2018-19; and (iv) 2019-20.

Ms Hargey: Please refer to my answer provided to AQW3877

Mr Humphrey asked the Minister for Communities how many people were employed in her Department on the Liofa initiative; and what were their roles.

Ms Hargey: Please refer to my answer to AQW 3876/17-22

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities for her assessment of calls from the MS Society and other Disability Benefits Consortium charities to commit to an uplift in legacy and similar benefits including Employment Support Assessment, in line with the increase received by Universal Credit claimants.
(AQW 3972/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The increase in the standard allowance rates in Universal Credit was one of a number of measures that could be quickly and effectively operationalised to benefit those facing the most financial disruption in relation to Coronavirus. The Universal Credit IT system is more flexible than the legacy systems and with significantly increased demand in applications from people needing assistance the changes required could be easily made.

However, a number of changes have been made to the social security system in response to the Coronavirus pandemic. Alongside the temporary increases to Universal Credit standard allowances and the basic element of Working Tax Credits, which came into operation on 6 April and will remain in place for the tax year 2020/21.

The Department also introduced a number of changes to the eligibility criteria for Discretionary Support, including the introduction of a living expenses grant for those directly impacted by Covid-19.

For the Department for Communities to increase legacy benefit personal allowances in line with the £20 a week increase in Universal Credit standard allowance, this would require an amendment to legislation, the development of this specific difference on the Department for Work and Pensions' IT system and would also introduce a difference in benefit rates between here and Britain.

Implementation would have financial consequences for the Block grant and Annually Managed Expenditure (AME). Responsibility for meeting the financial consequences for the Department to implement this measure would lie with the Executive. The costs involved in funding the increase, the IT changes/clerical process would be significant.

Based on the legacy caseloads of 145,770 at February 2020, published in May 2020, it is estimated that an additional payment of £20 per person per week would result in an AME cost of approximately £151m for 2020/2021.

I continue to keep the situation under review.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities how her Department proposes to support local councils to deal with the long-term financial impact of COVID-19, so that jobs can be retained and services maintained.
(AQW 4044/17-22)

Ms Hargey: On the 8 April 2020, Minister Hargey released £1.5 million to local councils in response to the COVID-19 health crisis.

In addition, on the 19 May 2020, Minister Hargey also announced that the Executive was allocating £20.3 million to local councils This funding will help assist councils with their cash flow and support them in the delivery of the vital services they are providing to the community at this time.

In order to support councils so that they can retain jobs and services, each council is able to design a pavement café licensing regime appropriate to their area. The Licensing of Pavement Cafés Act (NI) 2014 contains a significant degree of flexibility to enable councils to respond to local circumstances. The operation of pavement cafés provides commercial and employment opportunities for local businesses and people.

I fully appreciate that the uncertainty we all find ourselves in at this time is a cause of concern and I recognise and value the important work councils are undertaking as we look to see out the current crisis and consider the medium to longer term priorities.

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Communities (i) how many grocery boxes have been requested by people shielding from the COVID-19 outbreak in each local authority area; (ii) how many have been delivered; and (iii) how many people are still on the waiting list.

Ms Hargey: The Department's COVID-19 emergency grocery box scheme was aimed both at people shielding on medical advice and other vulnerable persons unable to access food by other means during the emergency. Parcel deliveries to Council distribution centres were based on this criteria.

Delivery needs were determined locally according to the numbers of people contacting the regional helpline who were deemed eligible for food assistance. During the maximum demand period from 20th April to 22nd May 2020 my Department, with Councils' support, delivered upwards of 18,000 food boxes regionally per week. It was not possible to increase allocations beyond this due to suppliers' logistical capacity to pack, prepare and supply at volume - especially in unique circumstances where additional workplace safety and social distancing measures were required.

This weekly capacity limit resulted in some applicants being directed to other support in the community. Certain councils also chose to retain a waiting list for the food scheme. However, the Department does not hold their information.

Between 6th April and 26th June 2020, the total number of grocery boxes delivered to each Council area (for all eligible individuals/households) was:-

DfC COVID-19 Food Parcel Programme: Deliveries to Councils 06/04/20-26/06/20

Council	Boxes Delivered
Belfast City	46,390
Derry Strabane	22,333
Antrim Newtownabbey	17,539
Newry Mourne Down	16,989
Ards & North Down	15,872
ArmaghBanbridgeCraigavon	12,558
Fermanagh Omagh	13,768

Mid Ulster	11,300
Causeway Coast & Glens	5,470
Mid & East Antrim	5,670
Total	178,599

The food programme ended on 26th June 2020, but I have extended it until 31st July 2020 for people who are medically shielding and unable to get food. Those not shielding, but still requiring help, are now being signposted to alternative options in the community. The Department is also investing up to £875,000 in other forms of food assistance. These include the Department working with Fareshare to deliver increased food supplies to community providers.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Communities how many, and what type, of Housing Executive public sector dwellings do not meet minimum housing energy efficiency standards; and what is the allocated budget and timescale to bring the properties up to standard.

Ms Hargey: There is currently no minimum energy efficiency standard for existing social housing against which to assess and measure the performance of the Housing Executive's stock.

As the Home Energy Conservation Authority, the Housing Executive is committed to improving energy efficiency across the entire housing stock. With regard to its own properties the Housing Executive is currently preparing an Energy Strategy that will include an assessment of the measures and associated costs required to achieve various energy efficiency ratings.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities to outline the impact of the Withdrawal Agreement on the European Employment Services which provides information, advice and guidance on living and working in other European Economic Area member countries for the benefit of workers, as well as employers experiencing difficulty recruiting locally.

Ms Hargey: The Withdrawal Agreement provides that a European Employment Service (EURES) will continue to operate until the end of the period of transition, 31 December 2020. EURES will continue to provide a normal service of support and guidance to employers and jobseekers to that date, including the availability of the European network of advisers, vacancies and employers, and will continue to share local vacancies to all other EU regions via the EURES portal.

From January 2021, the EU freedom of movement, which allows the EURES service to operate, will no longer apply and citizens here will no longer have access to the EURES network and portal. This will result in vacancies here no longer being shared across Europe, and European vacancies no longer shared directly to citizens here.

As EURES operates under the European network for job mobility, as part of freedom of movement throughout the EU, this service will cease on 31 December 2020.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities to outline the criteria for the allocation of the £20.3m emergency COVID-19 funding to each of the 11 local councils.

(AQW 4315/17-22)

Ms Hargey: My Department carried out an analysis of the figures provided by each council to reflect their projected total financial loss and COVID-19 costs that would be incurred during the period March to June 2020.

These figures have been tested against the equivalent for the corresponding period for 2019 and have been signed off by individual Council Chief Executives.

This provided a basis for redistribution that was consistent with the original bid for support that was approved by the Executive in that it looks to assist councils with income lost and additional costs incurred as a result of COVID-19.

Based on this redistribution method the allocation between the 11 councils was as follows:

Council	Allocation £
Antrim & Newtownabbey	1,949,158
Ards & North Down	1,415,734
Armagh, Banbridge Craigavon	2,052,238
Belfast	4,042,083
Causeway Coast & Glens	1,965,989
Derry & Strabane	1,291,091
Fermanagh & Omagh	1,793,465
Lisburn & Castlereagh	2,016,401
Mid & East Antrim	934,149
Mid Ulster	1,298,985
Newry Mourne & Down	1,540,707
Total	20,300,000

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities to detail the assistance provided in COVID-19 support packages in each council area.

(AQW 4401/17-22)

Ms Hargey: My Department is coordinating a response to the Covid-19 crisis, involving a comprehensive package of measures to support those most impacted by the pandemic. The key components of this assistance have included the distribution of an initial £1.5million Covid 19 Community Support Fund, allocated through Councils, to assist the community response to those most in need. Table 1 provides a summary of funding allocated to each Council area in relation to the fund.

In addition a food supply and distribution infrastructure has been established, through Council led Community Support Hubs, distributing essential supplies to those most in need and with no other means of accessing food. During the emergency response and up until 26th June, 178,599 food boxes have been distributed to Councils for distribution.

From 29th June the criteria for the Food Box scheme has changed and a new phase, up until the 31st July, will provide continued support to those in need of help and with shielding letters from GPs.

To supplement these efforts and to respond to specific, individual or family need, my Department has piloted a volunteer food pallet initiative involving a small number of community organisations identified through participating Councils. This pilot has been running for almost 6 weeks and up until the 5th week, 96,526 food parcels were distributed through this mechanism. A breakdown by Council area of food distribution is set out at Table 2 attached.

People and Place: a Strategy for Neighbourhood Renewal and its associated programmes ensures that communities and individuals living in the most deprived neighbourhoods have access to the best possible services and opportunities which make for a better quality of life and prospect for themselves and their families. The Department invests annually some £18m in services delivered through some 300 projects.

Minister Hargey, announced in March 2020 that all grant funded organisations would benefit from the introduction of some grant flexibility which would allow them to respond to the Coronavirus Pandemic.

As a result some £7.6 million has been advanced to ensure funding was available to help those most vulnerable within our communities. This response has provided the breathing space to enable the sector to focus on supporting many of those in our communities who need help now more than ever given the extraordinary circumstances that they find themselves in.

Tables 3-7 detail the activities our funded organisations have been involved in as a response to the current ongoing emergency.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for Communities to detail (i) the guidance given to civil servants in her Department returning to work in the context of COVID-19; (ii) the guidance given to civil servants that are currently shielding; and (iii) whether her Department has considered the impact that a return to work will have on parents requiring childcare.

Ms Hargey:

- (i) My Department has been working with Departmental Trade Union Side in developing over-arching COVID-19 related Health and Safety (H&S) Guiding Principles and the approach to related H&S risk assessments to support a return to the office. These guiding principles have been shared with staff and follow Public Health Agency and NICS HR guidance.
- (ii) Staff in the extremely vulnerable category who are required to follow advice on shielding will continue to be supported to work from home until they are no longer required to shield or the guidance on shielding has changed. Where it is not possible to work from home, then they will continue to be paid for the time they are not in the workplace, in accordance with current NICS HR guidance<sup>4</sup>.
- (iii) My Department is mindful of the welfare and caring responsibilities of staff with children and as all staff are deemed essential/key workers, parents requiring childcare are able to access this within school settings or through alternative childcare arrangements as set out on the Family Support NI website. Flexible and remote working arrangements are also in place, where possible, to support those staff with caring responsibilities.

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister for Communities to provide a date for the reopening of libraries.

(AQW 4839/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Department has worked closely with Libraries NI to establish appropriate measures to ensure the reopening of Libraries will be as safe as possible.

On Thursday, 25 June, the Executive confirmed that the Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) (NI) Regulations 2020 will be lifted to allow libraries to re-open from mid-July.

From mid-July, Libraries NI will commence its plan to re-open its library facilities in a phased manner which maximises safety for both the public and its staff.

Libraries NI has stated that it has plans in place to reopen libraries with a 'book and collect' service alongside a phased programme of reintroducing browsing and limited IT services.

Mr Hilditch asked the Minister for Communities whether she has any plans to increase the financial support available to the arts and cultural sector via the Arts Council emergency programme.

(AQW 4881/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My Department successfully bid for funding of £4million for the Cultural Sector in the June monitoring round. My Department is working in partnership with the Arts Council and key stakeholders to assess how this can be used to address the needs of the sector.

Working with our partners, we will also continue to assess and quantify the emerging needs within the sector to inform further bids.

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Communities when community and youth groups can open their premises under the Executive's recovery plan.

4 See <https://www.finance-ni.gov.uk/articles/faqs-vulnerable-people-and-care-dependents>

Ms Ní Chuilín: In the Executive's plan for changes to the Coronavirus Regulations, sport, cultural and leisure are within Step 4. The indicative relaxations agreed by the Executive on 25 June 2020 include the reopening of leisure centres and soft play areas from 7 August 2020.

My officials are working with regional and grassroots community and voluntary organisations to identify the full range of issues which need to be addressed and the support which will be needed as part of an agreed plan for recovery and renewal for the sector.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Communities for an update on the reinstatement of the Personal Independence Payment appeals process, including through the use of technology and restoration of physical appointments.
(AQW 4941/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, all face to face oral hearings were suspended with immediate effect on 18 March 2020.

Since that date, The Appeals Service (TAS) has been working on a number of hearing type options to re-commence the listing of appeals. The options offered to the appellant are:

- a face to face oral hearing, before the tribunal;
- the appeal to be heard by live telephone link;
- the appeal to be heard by live television link;
- a hearing to take place based on the papers before the tribunal panel; and
- the appellant can decide to withdraw the appeal.

TAS is making arrangements to recommence hearings where the appellant has opted for a hearing on the papers and the appellant does not have an existing award, with effect from 6 July 2020.

A number of administrative matters are required to be progressed in advance of TAS re-commencing listing of all the other hearing choice options. TAS is working through these and will commence the listing of cases at the earliest possible opportunity whilst ensuring compliance with the government guidelines on social distancing.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities (i) for her assessment of how the review of the Disabled Facilities Grant (DFG) was completed by the Housing Executive; (ii) what co-production and co-design was included as part of the process; and when her Department, in conjunction with the Housing Executive, will publish the review findings and any subsequent changes to the DFG application, process or support for applicants.

Ms Ní Chuilín: I am aware that the Housing Executive examined the Disabled Facilities Grant (DFG) processes as part of its Build Yes programme which it concluded in 2018. The recommendations arising from the review of its DFG processes have mostly been implemented but the Housing Executive is still working through a transitional year, and therefore it is too early to measure formally the benefits of the changes.

As the new processes were only implemented in all Housing Executive Grants Offices for eight months prior to lock down, there has been insufficient time for the Housing Executive to assess a sufficient number of cases from start to finish using the new processes and IT systems. It is likely to be eighteen months before sufficient major and minor cases have been processed to provide a full evaluation of the changes.

However, the Housing Executive has advised that performance during 2019/20 has been encouraging, with 1,119 approvals achieved, higher than the target of 900.

In terms of co-production and design the processes were analysed by the Housing Executive's Build Yes team in consultation with members of the Housing Executive's Grants staff and management. This included interactions with external stakeholders, such as Occupational Therapists (who make the recommendations for adaptations) and customers.

The Build Yes team subsequently made recommendations to streamline/improve the processes which resulted in a number of amendments to the Housing Executive's DFG processes and IT systems to streamline and improve the DFG delivery.

In terms of publishing the recommendations this was an internal review conducted by the Housing Executive as part of its wider Build Yes programme seeking to improve its services throughout the organisation. As such there were never plans or a requirement to publish the details of the review and its recommendations.

Mr Nesbitt asked the Minister for Communities whether her Department plans to match the Hardship Fund operating in England and Wales for Fee Paid Judicial Office Holders who sit in Tribunals and have had no work since March, and do not qualify for the furlough scheme.

Ms Ní Chuilín: In relation to cancellation fees, I have agreed to the payment of cancellation fees to fee-paid tribunal members for sittings between 23 March and 31 March 2020, which have been cancelled as a result of coronavirus.

My Department is currently liaising with both the Department of Justice (DoJ) and Department for Economy (DfE) to assess whether an advance payment scheme is appropriate for all tribunal members.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for Communities what consideration her Department has given to the reopening of public libraries for basic borrowing services.

(AQW 5036/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Since the beginning of the restrictions, the Department has worked closely with Libraries NI to help establish an appropriate plan of action to ensure the safe reopening of Libraries once the easing of restriction measures allowed.

On Thursday, 25 June, the Executive confirmed that the Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) (NI) Regulations 2020 will be lifted to allow libraries to re-open from mid-July.

From mid-July, Libraries NI will commence its plan to re-open its library facilities in a phased manner which maximises safety for both the public and its staff.

Risk assessments have been undertaken to inform the services that can initially be offered and, as such, Libraries NI has stated plans are in place to reopen libraries with a 'book and collect' service alongside a phased programme of reintroducing browsing and limited IT services.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Communities to outline the benefits accrued by individual citizens of Northern Ireland beyond those available to citizens in other parts of the UK, as a result of mitigation measures.

Ms Ní Chuilín: As part of "A Fresh Start, the Stormont Agreement and Implementation Plan" the Executive agreed to 'top-up' welfare arrangements here. This additional financial support has been delivered in the form of Welfare Supplementary Payments, from May 2016. In the period from 2016/17 to 2018/19 almost £124 million has been paid by my Department to people who have lost benefit as a result of welfare reforms.

As part of the New Decade, New Approach Deal, the Executive committed to extending the existing welfare mitigation schemes beyond their initial planned end date of 31 March 2020. While legislation is pending on the extension of the mitigation schemes, payments have continued to be made under the authority of the Budget Act (Northern Ireland) 2020 and the Budget (No.2) Act (Northern Ireland) 2020. This includes an estimated £23 million to mitigate the "bedroom tax".

A summary of the various welfare mitigation schemes currently provided by my Department is provided below.

Mitigation payments are available for households with children that are affected by the Benefit Cap provided they were in continuous receipt of a relevant welfare benefit from 6 November 2016 until the date their benefit is reduced. Payments are normally equivalent to the amount of the initial capped amount but they may reduce following a change of circumstances. There is no limit to the duration of these payments.

Those people who were in receipt of contribution-based Employment and Support Allowance on the date that time limiting was introduced and who subsequently lost benefit as a result of the change mitigation payments will be eligible for a mitigation payment. The amount of the payment is equivalent to the actual loss of benefit, and payments are made for up to one year.

Mitigation payments are available for those who are moved from Disability Living Allowance to Personal Independence Payment under a number of circumstances.

- Anyone assessed for Personal Independence Payment who does not qualify, and subsequently appeals the decision, will receive a mitigation payment equal to the weekly rate of their previous Disability Living Allowance payments until the Department is notified of the outcome of their appeal tribunal, or Commissioner's decision if relevant.
- Those people who receive Personal Independence Payment but at a rate which is at least £10 per week lower than the previous award of Disability Living Allowance, receive mitigation payments equal to 75% of their loss of benefit for up to one year.
- Anyone that does not receive Personal Independence Payment but receives at least four points in their assessment and can show that their disability or illness is as a result of a conflict-related injury is entitled to a mitigation payment. These payments are equal to the standard rate of the relevant Personal Independence Payment component and are paid for up to one year.

People that transition from Disability Living Allowance to Personal Independence Payment may also see a reduction in, or total loss of, the disability-related premiums they receive. Mitigation payments are available to those who are receiving an income-related benefit and lose any combination of Disability Premium, Enhanced Disability Premium or the Severe Disability Premium / Component. Mitigation payments are also available to people receiving Working Tax Credit who lose the Severe Disability Element. These payments are equivalent to the rate of the disability-related payments that have been lost and are paid for a maximum period of one year.

Mitigation payments are also available to people who are in receipt of Carer's Allowance, Income Support (awarded on the basis of being a carer) or a Carer Premium on an income-related benefit. Payments will be made if a person loses entitlement to benefit because the person they care for is not awarded the qualifying daily living component of Personal Independence Payment on transition from Disability Living Allowance. Again the mitigation payment is normally equal to the loss of benefit and is payable for up to one year.

Finally mitigation payments are available to people affected by the Social Sector Size Criteria, commonly known as the bedroom tax, and payments are equal to the amount of the reduction. The only exception to this policy is if someone moves property and continues to under-occupy by at least the same number of bedrooms, and the move has not been granted what is commonly referred to as 'Management Transfer Status' by either the Housing Executive or a Housing Association.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister for Communities to detail all community and voluntary organisations in east Derry that received funding from her Department in each of the last three years.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Communities whether she will encourage and offer support to the campaign to erect a statue of former Northern Ireland international goalkeeper Pat Jennings.

(AQW 5141/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Pat Jennings was a remarkable and extremely talented footballer. Erecting a statue at Windsor Park in recognition of his achievements would be a matter, in the first instance, for the Irish Football Association to consider.

I would be happy to lend my support to any campaign that recognises achievements. I would be delighted to extend an invitation to Pat to attend the Department's Annual Celebration of Sport Event which recognises sporting achievement while also promoting opportunities for participation and inclusion in sport among our young people.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Communities (i) whether she will make funding available for food banks; and (ii) why Jobs & Benefits Offices and Make the Call Wraparound do not formally refer people to food banks.

Ms Ní Chuilín: Food banks generally rely on food donations from the public and businesses. They therefore do not necessarily require funding from government.

However, I recognise that food banks can potentially play a significant role, alongside other partners such as social supermarkets, in the overall food poverty response. I have therefore recently agreed to work with Fareshare to deliver increased food supplies to community providers including foodbanks. As part of this, an additional c.£875,000 will be invested in food assistance initiatives. This is on top of £6.8million already made available under my emergency food parcel scheme and another £3.3million food related support under Neighbourhood Renewal.

Furthermore, since October 2017, five social supermarket pilots have been supported via the Welfare Mitigations package. Evaluation of these suggests positive outcomes for users. A business case to consider full roll-out is underway. I believe this model has potential to form a sustainable part of the food poverty response in the medium to long term.

The Make the Call Wraparound Service has a partnership arrangement with the five Social Supermarkets to enable two-way referrals between them and the service. New Social Supermarket members are offered a one-to-one needs assessment with Make the Call to ensure they are receiving all benefits, supports and services they may be entitled to.

The Service has undertaken considerable work to ensure Foodbanks are aware of the services Make the Call offer. Make the Call Wraparound Promotional leaflets are regularly supplied to Foodbanks to be included in food packs for Foodbank customers.

I am also committed to delivering long-term sustainable solutions to poverty in all its forms including food poverty. The issue of food insecurity cuts across all Departments, and tackling in the longer term must be considered within the broader context of an Anti-Poverty Strategy.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for Communities when AQW 3256/17-22 will be answered.

Ms Ní Chuilín: AQW was answered on 30 June 2020.

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister for Communities whether she will convene a taskforce to aid the cultural sector.
(AQW 5199/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: A Culture Sector Recovery Group has been established within my Department to examine options for recovery and renewal. The Director of Culture leads the group which includes representation from the sector, local government, arts professionals and key stakeholders.

I am currently considering what further steps could be taken to represent the interests of the cultural sector, particularly in the context of the sector's contribution to both social and economic recovery.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister for Communities whether her Department has any plans to support strengthening of the Artists Emergency Programme, or to create a similar support scheme, to help those working in the arts sector without income at present.

Ms Ní Chuilín: I recognise the devastating impact Covid-19 has had on individuals working in the Arts Sector. My Department successfully bid for funding of £4million for the Cultural Sector in the June monitoring round and is working in partnership with Arts Council and key stakeholders to assess how this can be used to address the needs of those working in the sector. My Department will continue to work with our partners to assess and quantify the emerging needs within the sector to inform further bids.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for Communities how much has been spent by the Housing Executive on legal fees in the last five financial years.

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Housing Executive has advised the Department that it has spent the following amounts on legal fees in the last five financial years.

Ms Sheerin asked the Minister for Communities for an update on progress of a sexual orientation strategy.
(AQW 5225/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I am committed to developing a Sexual Orientation Strategy to address any barriers or inequalities related to sexual orientation and to fulfil the commitments in New Decade, New Approach and the Executive's Programme for Government.

I am keen to ensure that the people most affected by the Sexual Orientation Strategy will be able to make a meaningful contribution to its development and delivery, based on the principles and practice of citizen and community engagement.

You are aware of the significant and unprecedented pressures placed on everyone by the COVID-19 pandemic. The primary focus of the Executive and all Departments has been to address and put in place measures to resolve current and emerging issues relating to the pandemic, especially those issues affecting the most vulnerable in our society.

I am monitoring the ongoing COVID-19 situation so that work on the Sexual Orientation Strategy can commence and be sustained throughout the co-design and co-development process.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Communities to outline the work undertaken by her Department on (i) sexual orientation; and (ii) gender equality, since the transfer of these functions from the Executive Office.

(AQW 5227/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My officials have been working to prepare for the development of new Strategies for Sexual Orientation and Gender in line with the commitments made in New Decade, New Approach and the Executive's Programme for Government.

The Strategies will target key areas of need identified by our stakeholders and will seek to address the barriers and inequalities faced due to Sexual Orientation and Gender.

I am keen to ensure that LGBT and Gender representative organisations and groups of interest will be able to make a meaningful contribution to the development and implementation of the new Strategies. I will establish processes for LGBT and Gender stakeholders and their representative groups to contribute to the design and development of the Strategies at all stages from their initial production through to monitoring and reporting, based on the principles and practice of citizen and community engagement.

I am monitoring the ongoing COVID-19 situation so that work on the Gender Strategy and Sexual Orientation Strategy can commence at an appropriate time and be sustained throughout the co-design and co-development process. I anticipate that this important work will commence imminently.

Ms S Bradley asked the Minister for Communities for a breakdown of how the (i) £10 million Supporting People Fund; and (ii) the £2 million Community Support Scheme was used, and the process applied to distribute the aid.

I hope to be in a position to make an announcement on it very soon.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities whether she will extend all the Coronavirus support processes; and when a decision will be communicated to the public.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities to outline the work completed to date to update the Disability Strategy.

Ms Ní Chuilín: My officials have been working to prepare for the development of a new Disability Strategy in line with the commitments made in New Decade, New Approach and the Executive's Programme for Government.

The Strategy will target key areas of need identified by our stakeholders and will seek to address the barriers and inequalities faced by disabled people. To date, work has focused on research, exploring the existing evidence base; gathering information on strategic interventions in relation to disability and consultative groups involving disabled stakeholders across all departments; developing stakeholder relationships; fulfilling our international obligations in respect of the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities;

The significant and unprecedented pressures placed on everyone by COVID-19. In the initial phase of the pandemic, the primary focus of the Executive was to put in place measures to resolve the most pressing issues affecting the vulnerable in our society. As we move into the recovery phase, our focus will shift towards mitigating the medium to long term effects of COVID-19, and the lasting impact will be considered in the production of the new Disability Strategy. Working with key stakeholders, we will use all available evidence on the impact of the pandemic to inform the Strategy's development.

Work on the Strategy will commence imminently using a co-design approach.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities to detail the forward work programme for the Racial Equality Champion for her Department; and how that role is working with Arm's-Length Bodies to ensure the objectives of the Racial Equality Strategy are proactively being delivered.

(AQW 5291/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Racial Equality Champions Group, including my Departmental Racial Equality Champion, was scheduled to meet with the Racial Equality subgroup in March 2020 to discuss the co-design of a draft work plan.

This meeting was postponed, and amidst the unprecedented pressures associated with the COVID-19 pandemic, has not been rescheduled to date.

My Departmental Racial Equality Champion, continues to ensure that messages about the importance of racial equality and good race relations are consistent and visible to all staff including Non-Departmental Public Bodies and other service providers.

In addition, a meeting was held between representatives from the People of African Descent and my officials to discuss the UN Decade for People of African Descent (UNDPAD), which ends 2024.

My Department, as a 'Friend of Mela', will also be working with Belfast Mela festival organisers to see how DfC can be involved in the week long virtual celebration of world music, dance and art from the 24th - 30th August.

I am also committed to ensuring that all DfC Policies are reviewed through a racial equality lens, to ensure that due regard is given when designing or delivering public services and in line with current equality legislation and best practice guidelines.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities to outline the rationale behind the need for income details to be fully exposed to a non-paying parent during a child support claim.

(AQW 5332/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The calculation of a child maintenance liability is dependent on a number of factors. These include the gross weekly income of the paying parent, the number of qualifying children, the number of relevant other children (such as children in the paying parent's household) and shared care arrangements.

The income of a Receiving Parent is not part of a child maintenance calculation and therefore not gathered or held by the Child Maintenance Service.

In order for both parents to be satisfied that a liability calculation is accurate, child support legislation (Child Support Maintenance Calculation Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2012 (Part 4, Chapters 1 and 2 refers) sets out that information on these elements must be shared within the notification of a maintenance calculation. This notification is provided to both the receiving parent and paying parent in a child maintenance case.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities why, in cases of parents having an equal share of time with children, one parent is required to continue to provide financial support to the other parent.

Ms Ní Chuilín: The legislation states that in 50/50 care split cases there is still a legal obligation to pay child maintenance. However the child maintenance calculation would be reduced accordingly to reflect the contributions the non-resident parent is already making.

For the purpose of calculating a child maintenance liability a distinction is made between overnight care and day-to-day care. This is laid out in The Child Support Maintenance Calculation Regulations (Northern Ireland Order) 2012 Chapter 4.

Money is still owed in these child maintenance cases to reflect the fact that the overall financial burden for overnight care is lower than for day-to-day care

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities (i) when her Department intends to publish its findings from the Fundamental Review of Social Housing Allocations in 2017; and (ii) how her Department intends to progress these findings.

(AQW 5382/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: A consultation on 'A Fundamental Review of Social Housing Allocations' ran from September to December 2017.

I am currently considering the Review, consultation findings, options and next steps; including the publication of a consultation report.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities (i) for her assessment of the awarding of intimidation points; and (ii) what plans she has to remove intimidation points from the selection scheme.

(AQW 5383/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: A consultation on 'A Fundamental Review of Social Housing Allocations' ran from September to December 2017.

This was the culmination of a Department-led review to examine the Housing Selection Scheme, which sets out rules governing the allocation of social homes and is administered by the Housing Executive.

I am currently considering the Review, options and next steps.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities to outline (i) her plans to bring forward the review of the private rented sector, following the consultations in 2015 and 2017; and (ii) what plans she has to improve regulation and protection for private tenants in respect of protection from eviction, shown recently to be essential in light of the COVID-19 pandemic.

(AQW 5384/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Department has put in place legislation to ensure private tenants are protected from eviction during the Covid emergency. The Private Tenancies (Coronavirus Modifications) Act (NI) 2020 came into operation on 5 May 2020 and requires landlords to give 12 weeks' Notice To Quit to their tenants.

In addition my Department has recently launched the housing mediation service for the private rented sector. This will operate as a pilot for a 2 year period and offers an alternative way to resolve disputes that may occur between tenants and landlords/ letting agents.

Regulation of the private rented sector is one of my key housing priorities.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities (i) for her assessment of whether limiting homeless applicants to a choice of two common landlord areas is counterproductive in helping applicants receive a speedy offer; and (ii) whether she intends to allow homeless applicants to increase their areas of choice to reduce the length of time it takes to allocate a home.

Ms Ní Chuilín: A consultation on 'A Fundamental Review of Social Housing Allocations' ran from September to December 2017.

The Review included a proposal to implement a greater choice of areas for all applicants for a social home, allowing them to choose as many or as few areas as they want.

I am currently considering the Review, consultation findings, options and next steps.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for Communities (i) how she intends to address the judgement in McKee & Others v Charity Commission for Northern Ireland; and (ii) how quickly new legislation will be prepared in response to the judgement.

(AQW 5408/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I am currently considering the complex issues raised by the Judgment and hope to make a determination on the way forward in the next few weeks at which point the likely timeframe for any legislation required can be determined.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Communities to outline the funding formula used to allocate the £20.3m COVID-19 funding support to the eleven local councils.

(AQW 5415/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My Department undertook an analysis of the figures provided by each council which highlighted their projected total financial loss and additional COVID-19 related costs that would be incurred during the period mid-March to June 2020.

These figures were tested against the equivalent for the corresponding period for 2019 and have been signed off by individual Council Chief Executives.

This provided a basis for redistribution that was consistent with the original bid for support approved by the Executive in that it looked to assist councils with income lost and additional costs incurred as a result of COVID-19.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for Communities (i) for her assessment of the impact of the Court of Appeal decision in respect of charity registration with the Charities Commission; (ii) to detail the number of cases impacted; and (iii) how she, working with the Charities Commission, intends to build confidence within the charitable sector to ensure this will not impact on their operations or funding.

Ms Ní Chuilín:

- (i) The Court of Appeal Judgment renders the register of charities and all other decisions taken by staff of the Charity Commission for unlawful and raises many complex issues in respect of charity regulation, however, charities that were unlawfully registered remain charities in law.
- (ii) CCNI report that their staff made 7,473 decisions in total, 6,472 of which relate to registration are uncontroversial and were welcomed in almost all cases with very few ever being challenged at the Charity Tribunal.
- (iii) CCNI have already established a decision making committee in compliance with the Judgment and my officials will be working with them to ensure that this committee operates as effectively as possible until a longer term solution is implemented.

Ms P Bradley asked the Minister for Communities when the last Housing Executive flat was sold under the buy to own scheme at (i) Abbotscoole House, Rathcoole; (ii) Carncoole House, Rathcoole; and (iii) Glencoole House, Rathcoole. (AQW 5495/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The last sales under the Housing Executive's House Sales Scheme in each of Abbotscoole House, Carncoole House and Glencoole House were as follows:

Tower Block	Date
Abbotscoole House, Rathcoole	18/04/2005
Carncoole House, Rathcoole	17/5/2006
Glencoole House, Rathcoole	04/09/2002

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Communities to outline the Northern Ireland Housing Executive's plans on the future of the maisonettes in Clara Way, east Belfast. (AQW 5509/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Housing Executive is currently undertaking an Economic Appraisal for the maisonettes in Clara Way. This appraisal will explore a range of potential investment options for the complex and will recommend a future course of action. The residents will be consulted as part of this exercise.

At this stage it is not possible to anticipate what the final outcome of the Economic Appraisal will be.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Communities what actions have been taken, and what progress has been made, on the Northern Ireland Housing Executive strategy for high rise tower blocks. (AQW 5510/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Housing Executive's Tower Blocks Action Plan was approved by the Board of the Housing Executive in March 2019 and by the Department for Communities in August 2019.

Given the complexity and scale of this plan the blocks have been categorised into 3 phases:

- i Phase 1: Demolition (or disposal in some cases) in a 1 to 5 year time period - 14 'Short' term blocks
- ii. Phase 2: Demolition in a 6 to 10 year period, with remedial works to be carried out in the interim - 7 'Medium' term blocks
- iii. Phase 3: Demolition at a point beyond a 10 year period, with improvement works carried out as required - 12 'Long' term blocks.

The Action Plan is a high level document that sets out the broad timescales, actions and estimated funding required over the next fifteen to twenty years. Implementation of the proposals will be subject to approval of business cases for individual or groups of blocks as appropriate. A Central Delivery Team was established in April 2020 to prepare, coordinate, monitor and report on the Delivery Plan and the Local Implementation Plans. Progress to date is as follows:

- i The programme of business cases required for the blocks is already underway and is currently focused on the 'Short Term' blocks. A business case for the demolition of Monkscoole House was approved by the Department, and a consultant has been appointed to prepare for the demolition. A business case for the demolition of Latharna House has recently been approved by the Department.
- ii. Further business cases are currently being prepared, however their completion has been delayed due to the restrictions on local consultation as a result of the Covid-19 situation.
- iii. Work is underway to procure a consultant to carry out detailed surveys for the refurbishment works to the 12 'Long' term blocks. An indicative seven and a half year programme has been drawn up and we anticipate that works will start at the first blocks in the programme in 2022 at the earliest.
- iv. A market testing exercise is currently being prepared to help determine whether there would be sufficient market interest to make a private sector disposal option a potentially viable proposition.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Communities whether her Department has plans to help struggling town centre businesses through grants to local councils. (AQW 5518/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Answer

My officials are working closely with their counterparts in district councils to develop a Revitalisation Programme of urgent interventions to support town and city centres during the recovery phase. Delivery of the Revitalisation Programme will be subject to an approved business case, which is currently being finalised.

I have also recently announced a £300k Support Fund for Business Improvement Districts (BIDs) so that they can continue to play a key role in bringing local businesses and other stakeholders together to help regenerate their areas and to improve their local trading environment.

There are additional resources being provided to support town & city centres as a result of the difficulties arising from Covid-19, but we shouldn't forget that my Department currently delivers a number of programmes which are designed to support the long term viability and vitality of town and city centres. These include: Public Realm and Environmental Improvements, Urban Development Grants, Revitalisation Schemes, the Heritage Regeneration Fund and support for the development of Business Improvement Districts.

This represents an ongoing and significant investment in our town centres, and this continuing investment will be even more crucial in the post Covid-19 recovery period.

Department of Education

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister of Education to detail the guidance provided to school transport providers for pupils returning to school following the COVID-19 pandemic.

(AQW 5258/17-22)

Mr Weir (The Minister of Education): I plan to issue guidance in relation to the restart of home to school transport in the near future. In parallel, the Education Authority is also developing more detailed operational guidance for school transport staff, passengers and operators. These documents will align with other relevant government guidance in areas such as social distancing.

The EA also plans to issue correspondence to contracted private operators regarding arrangements as soon as possible.

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education whether there are enough adequately resourced Special Educational Needs Learning Support Units.

(AQW 5261/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Education Authority (EA) recognises that there is a deficit of specialist mainstream provisions in a number of areas across the region. The deficits in these areas are being addressed in a prioritised way through the Area Planning structures.

The EA published 'Providing Pathways – Strategic Area Plan for Schools 2017-2020' on 28 April 2017. One of the key issues emerging from analysis of current provision, as identified in the 'Providing Pathways' document, was the need to develop proposals to establish additional learning support and autism specific provision within primary and post-primary schools.

The published Area Planning Action Plan includes the following action:

"Establish additional learning support and autism specific provision within primary and post primary schools"

The EA has funded small classes for pupils with autism and other classes for pupils with learning and cognitive needs. For the 2020/21 academic year, plans are well advanced to allocate funding to 21 schools to establish additional classes.

The EA intends to take forward formal consultation in relation to many of these classes through the Development Proposal process and is working with my Department and the Council for Catholic Maintained Schools to ensure sufficient places are available for all children in accordance with their assessed needs as determined by their statement.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Education to detail how much has been spent on school counselling services in the last ten years, broken down by year and area.

(AQW 5262/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Department of Education was responsible for the Independent Counselling Service for Schools (ICSS) prior to the Education Authority, which assumed operational responsibility for the ICSS from 1 September 2016.

A breakdown of how much was spent from 2010/11 to 2015/16 is outlined in the tables below, broken down by Post Primary and Special Schools.

Sept 2017 – Aug 2018 £2,171,717

Sept 2019 – April 2020 £2,307,000

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Education whether he will review the use of single use plastics in schools.
(AQW 5263/17-22)

Mr Weir: I am aware of the increasing need for the Department and the Education Authority (EA) to continuously review how its operations impact on the Environment.

I am also aware of the priority that EA has placed on the Single Use Plastics (SUP) issue and how, in the delivery of its services to schools, both its use can be minimised or eliminated and how to ensure that all recyclable items are disposed of in the correct manner. Key linkages have been established with the Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (DAERA), Keep Northern Ireland Beautiful (KNIB) and Queens University Belfast (QUB) in support of these strategic priorities.

EA continues to review those Goods and Services Procurement Tenders that generate high quantities of SUP, with a view to seeking the reduction or replacement with environmentally friendly economic alternatives without comprising the efficient delivery of its services.

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education to detail which schools will be able to accommodate all of their pupils full time at the start of the new term, on the basis of one metre social distancing of pupils.

Mr Weir: My strategic objective is to achieve maximum face-to-face teaching time for all pupils at the earliest opportunity. I have set out that there will be a minimum 40% face-to-face teaching time within all primary schools and a minimum 50% face-to-face teaching time within all post-primary schools with the balance provided through blended learning

Whilst the aim is to get as many pupils back to classroom teaching as quickly as possible in September 2020, I am well aware that every school is different, every classroom is different. Therefore, there will be variances in how schools approach the return to school. Some schools will be able to safely bring back all pupils immediately, whilst others will need to follow the guidance on minimum class time and implement blended learning.

The Department has not prescribed a 'one size fits all approach' – this is not possible and would not be practical. School leaders are asked to consider the strategic guidance and put this into practice in their own schools to the best of their ability. The nature of the guidance given to schools can be a template for flexibility not just for the circumstances of individual schools but also can enable schools to adapt their provision in light of a potentially changing wider situation.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Education what work has been undertaken by his Department's racial equality champion in the last five years.
(AQW 5387/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Department's Racial Equality Champion is also the Equality Officer and latterly has also been the Diversity and Inclusion Champion.

The Champion has had half yearly meetings with heads of policy teams to assess progress on racial equality matters and facilitated lunchtime presentations for staff to create greater awareness of issues affecting minority ethnic people, particularly the education of their children.

The Champion has also had regular meetings with the Racial Equality Subgroup, representing minority ethnic people and migrants - including representatives of refugees and asylum seekers. This included a 2018 Racial Equality Roundtable at Girdwood Community Hub in Belfast. Issues discussed were minority ethnic languages and the curriculum, accessibility of documents, the work of the Intercultural Education Service, the review of the Supporting Newcomer Pupils Policy and the Addressing Bullying in Schools Act 2016.

The Addressing Bullying in Schools (NI) Act 2016 requires schools to record incidents of bullying, their motivation and their outcome including racial bullying. I am currently considering the date on which the provisions of the Act should come into operation and will make an announcement in due course.

My Department funds the Northern Ireland Anti-Bullying Forum (NIABF). In both 2018 and 2019 NIABF included learning experiences for pupils, around the issue of racially motivated bullying, as part of its Anti-Bullying Week event.

My Department is also in the process of reviewing its Supporting Newcomer Pupils policy to ensure it delivers the best outcomes for Newcomer pupils and their families, helping children to achieve their full educational potential. It is my intention to publish a revised policy later in the year.

Mr Harvey asked the Minister of Education what happens to the allocation of money when free pre-school places are not taken up.
(AQW 5401/17-22)

Mr Weir: The budget for the non-statutory Pre-School Education Programme (PSEP) is demand led and is allocated to the Education Authority (EA) based on the actual number of children that take up a funded pre-school education place. Non-statutory providers participating in the PSEP receive a standard amount per place/child from the EA, based on attendance.

Statutory nursery schools and units are funded via the Common Funding Scheme. Funding is mainly allocated on the basis of Age Weighted Pupil Units factor, taken from the October census data in the preceding financial year to which the funding relates.

No allocation is therefore made in respect of any child that does not take up the offer of a funded pre-school education place, whether in a statutory or non-statutory setting.

Mr Harvey asked the Minister of Education, where a school is unable to maintain a social distance of one metre, what are the recommendations for returning children to school.
(AQW 5439/17-22)

Mr Weir: The decision of the Executive was that the default position for the guidance is that individuals should remain 2m apart in line with PHA guidelines. Where minimal distance is available between children, distances of 1m may be achievable and are acceptable, in the context were 1m is public health guidance and not a legal requirement.

Education settings should seek to maximise the ability of their existing space to accommodate pupils by rearranging teaching spaces to minimise risk of transmission and infection. School Leaders have also been asked to consider the flexible use of non-teaching space such as repurposing resource areas, halls and sports halls.

Consideration may be given to gaining access to additional spaces on a short term basis, such as conveniently located public, private or third sector estate (e.g. council office space, libraries, leisure centres or cultural venues). However, while gaining access to such alternative spaces may bring advantages in respect of expanding the opportunities to achieve social distancing standards, other issues around transport, safeguarding, and ensuring a generally safe and positive learning environment must also be considered as part of the education setting's decision making process in approving use of such facilities.

There will also be protective measures in relation to cleaning and hygiene. Teachers and pupils will wash their hands as soon as they arrive at school and regularly through the day. School cleaning will be carried out in accordance with Public Health Agency Guidance and routine cleaning will take place daily, with regular cleaning of door handles, desk tops etc. Schools should also remove unnecessary items from the classroom. A normal summer clean will have been undertaken through existing Education Authority arrangements in advance of the new school term. PPE will only be required in a very small number of cases, such as working with pupils who require intimate care needs and administering medication. PPE should not be worn by children.

The Education Authority has developed and published risk templates to assist education settings with planning of their existing estate.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister of Education whether he will provide detailed specific guidance on Special Educational Needs in mainstream settings for schools who are preparing for a return, including advice on how one-to-one classroom assistants are expected to work with their designated student and maintain social distancing.

Mr Weir: The Department of Education (DE) issued 'New School Day' Guidance on 19 June which provides a planning framework for the restart of schools in August, noting that scientific and public health advice at the time of opening will prevail over any planning assumptions made in the interim. Further supplementary guidance was published on 26 June for children and young people attending Special Schools. As the scientific and public health environment evolves and changes, the guidance may also change.

Guidance also notes that for staff in situations where social distancing cannot be achieved during the course of their work i.e. providing support to children and young people with additional support needs, various practical measures can be taken to mitigate risk and a bespoke approach should be determined by way of that assessment for individuals with full regard to the best interest of children, young people and staff.

The Education Authority (EA) continues to actively engage with Health and Social Care (HSC) authorities and education staff at a regional and local level to help plan for education restart for children with special education needs (SEN). This includes collaborative planning for the reopening of schools and associated provision required to support children with SEN when they return to school.

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education what additional resources will be provided to mainstream schools to meet the needs of pupils with additional or special educational needs who are still awaiting the completion of statementing due to delays arising from COVID-19 restrictions.

Mr Weir: The Education Authority's (EA) Statutory Operations team has continued to progress and prioritise the Statutory Assessment Process during the Covid-19 pandemic. However, as a result of the pandemic, there have been some delays in respect of medical advice and educational psychology advice.

The EA's Pupil Support Services will continue with any pre-existing support arrangements while a child or young person is the subject of a statutory assessment and where the need for any alternative required provision is identified.

Schools may also access the extensive resources, signposting and advice arrangements currently available in the Pupil Support Services area of the EA Website. This includes bespoke resource and training arrangements to support transition, which are relevant to many children while the subject of a statutory assessment.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Education, pursuant to AQW 5219/17-22, to outline why the provisions of the Act have not been implemented yet.

(AQW 5464/17-22)

Mr Weir: The implementation of the Addressing Bullying in Schools Act (NI) 2016 ('the Act') was delayed to allow further dialogue between the Department and the teaching unions. I will announce a commencement date in due course.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister of Education whether his Department has considered the impact on children with special needs who are at school leaving age and have missed out on transitional support due to COVID-19.

(AQW 5486/17-22)

Mr Weir: All young people with a Statement of Special Educational Needs who are expected to move on from school at the end of this year have a draft Education Transition Plan that has been agreed through engagement with them, their parents/carers and schools prior to the Covid-19 lock down. These plans have been developed over a three year period.

The Education Authority's (EA) Transition Service has continued to be available and accessible throughout the Covid-19 pandemic. Where plans have not been fully completed, the EA's Transition Team has continued to work remotely with pupils, parents/carers and schools.

The Transition Team will be available throughout the summer and will be available to support young people when GCSE and A-level results are released. This will include liaising with higher and further education institutions and other organisations to support successful transition.

Where an individual young person is experiencing difficulty, they or their parent/carer may make contact with their named EA Transition Co-ordinator or with their named Careers Officer to ensure that they are accessing all available supports.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Education to detail how many pre-school nursery applicants were not placed in Lisburn schools this year.

(AQW 5525/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Pre-School education admissions process for the 2020/21 academic year concluded on 9 June 2020. At the end of the process, all children within the Lisburn and Castlereagh City Council area whose parents had stayed with the admissions process until the end had been offered a funded pre-school education place.

Funded pre-school education places remain available. Any parent who did not fully engage with the process may still access a funded place for their child by contacting pre-school education settings directly.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Education to detail what procedures are in place to ensure that adequate school provision is provided when increased housing is being developed in an area.

Mr Weir: Operational responsibility for the planning of education provision lies with the two statutory planning authorities, the Education Authority (EA) and the Council for Catholic Maintained Schools (CCMS), who conduct area planning activity in consultation with a number of sectoral support bodies.

In the development and delivery of its Strategic Area Plan for area planning, the EA monitors growth across all areas in Northern Ireland on an annual basis. It assesses provision to identify areas of growth, and, conversely, areas of decrease and to scope actions for progression. As part of that process it assesses Northern Ireland Statistics and Research Agency (NISRA) live birth statistics, current and projected housing in the area and any connectivity between the schools.

However, housing development will not, of itself, necessarily translate into reliable evidence of the need for school places, as matters such as age demographics of those who may move into a development and expressions of parental preference for particular types of education provision will have bearing on demand.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister of Education for an update on a new build for Bangor Central Integrated Primary School.

Mr Weir: Bangor Central has been selected for a major capital investment project to improve or replace its existing accommodation. The project will cater for the school's current approved enrolment of 618 pupils.

The Education Authority has produced a business case which is currently being considered by my Department. Following business case approval, design is programmed to commence in autumn 2020 with the appointment of an Integrated Consultancy Team.

Department of Finance

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Finance what assessment his Department has made regarding the benefits of conducting birth registrations in a children's centre, sure start centre or other equivalent family support hub.

(AQW 5183/17-22)

Mr Murphy (The Minister of Finance): No assessment has been carried out in relation to conducting birth registrations in locations other than local council registration offices.

As prescribed in the Births and Deaths Registration (Northern Ireland) 1976, each local government district is deemed to be a registration district for the registration of life events and councils are responsible for the provision of the registration office with the approval of the Registrar General.

The General Register Office registration system, the Northern Ireland Registration Office System (NIROS), is used to record life events. This system maintains the integrity and security of the birth registration system as a birth certificate is used by most of society as a means of identification. The system requires secure connectivity from the desktops in the registration offices to the NIROS system and this is achieved through the council NetworkNI connections. The Department, with the agreement of the councils, have installed additional firewalls in communication rooms in council buildings to ensure the security of the system. It is unlikely that this level of security could be maintained in alternative locations that do not have the same secure IT set ups.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Finance why birth certificates require the relationship between a child's father and mother to be provided, and also the approval of the mother to include the father's details.

Mr Murphy: The relationship between a father and mother is required to determine the birth registration type.

As prescribed in the Births and Deaths Registration (Northern Ireland) Order 1976, either the father or mother may register the birth of their child if they are married. This will enable a standard birth registration to be carried out which will include the details of both parents. Married parents are both responsible in law for their children and therefore have parental responsibility.

Unmarried mothers automatically have parental responsibility but the same does not apply to an unmarried father. Where the parents are not married to each other, the father is not under any obligation to give information concerning the birth and the registrar cannot enter the father's details unless both parents attend to jointly make this request. If the father cannot attend and both parents are in agreement, he may still be named on the certificate through completion of a statutory declaration, a parental responsibility agreement or a relevant court order. A joint registration will give parental responsibility to the father.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance, pursuant to AQW 4909/17-22, whether the Cisco Jabber system is covered and governed by the Northern Ireland Civil Service electronic communication policy.

(AQW 5352/17-22)

Mr Murphy: The instant messaging service Cisco Jabber is covered and governed by the Northern Ireland Civil Service 'Use of Electronic Communications' policy as this policy applies to any communication transmitted by means of an electronic device.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Finance what work has been undertaken by his Department's racial equality champion in the last five years.

Mr Murphy: The Department's current Racial Equality Champion has attended regular meetings of Departmental Racial Equality Champions, chaired by the Executive Office. He has attended Racial Equality Subgroup meetings, when invited by the Executive Office, including Girdwood Roundtable Event with minority ethnic sector representatives.

He updates Departmental Board with progress on the Department's contribution towards the Racial Equality Strategy 2015-2025. He writes regular staff intranet update articles following his outreach and engagements, promoting and raising awareness of work in the minority ethnic sector, including any Department activity towards the Strategy. He has organised staff training sessions, including an information session on Syrian Vulnerable Persons Relocation Scheme and various cultural awareness interactive workshops.

He led a team to deliver the Department's first time participation at the Belfast Mela Festival 2019. He has supported NICS external recruitment competitions, including being profiled as part of recruitment campaigns to encourage applications from under-represented groups, promoting 'If you can see it, you can be it.'

His outreach and engagement activities have included being guest speaker at Chinese New Year celebrations, giving interview for local community television broadcaster NVTV, guest speaker at the conference to launch the Lisburn and Castlereagh City Council BME and Cultural Awareness Forum and recently being interviewed by BBC Newsline on the topic of racism.

<https://www.finance-ni.gov.uk/publications/annual-report-equality-commission>

Mr Muir asked the Minister of Finance, in relation to the £100m of funding announced for viable capital projects that are complementary to the City/Growth Deals, to detail the (i) specific criteria for eligible projects; and (ii) decision making process for awarding the funding.[R]

(AQW 5479/17-22)

Mr Murphy: The Executive £100m City/ Growth Deals Complementary Fund is open to viable, capital projects which are complementary to City/Growth Deals and aimed at bringing greater prosperity and social benefits to the whole community. Actual allocations will depend on the strength of the proposals and the release of funding will be subject to expenditure approval through the business case process. Proposals should be brought to the City Deals Oversight Group to consider if complementary to the City/ Growth Deal and suitable for funding. Once the Oversight Group is content, I will bring a paper to the Executive for approval of each project.

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Finance whether Northern Ireland will receive any money from the UK Treasury on the back of the announcement of £2 billion to be spent on insulation measures for homes in England.

(AQW 5571/17-22)

Mr Murphy: The insulation measures for homes in England is being funded from within existing budgets. Therefore there are no Barnett Consequentials in relation to this scheme.

Department of Health

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister of Health to detail support available for Omagh Community House.

(AQW 684/17-22)

Mr Swann (The Minister of Health): The Department does not provide specific support to Omagh Community House. However, core grant funding is provided by my Department to a range of community and voluntary groups, including MENCAP, who use the venue to support people with learning disabilities and their families/carers.

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Health what plans are in place to address the growing backlog of cancer referrals and treatments; and what progress has been made to develop safe sites where all types of cancer treatments and diagnostic tests can be performed as safely as possible.

Mr Swann: Where decisions were taken to delay cancer diagnostics or treatment, safety netting was in place to ensure that cancer patients resumed treatment on the appropriate pathway as soon as was safe to do so. I can confirm Health and Social Care (HSC) Trusts have been tasked with developing service rebuilding plans for all HSC services action is now underway to ensure the rapid and safe stepping up of both diagnosis and treatment of cancer patients in clinically safe environments, with priority given to people at highest risk and clearing any backlog of patients in the cancer pathway. The Department's "Rebuilding HSC Services Strategic Framework" was published on 9 June 2020, and is available at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/publications/rebuilding-hsc-services>.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister of Health what guidance his Department has given to local councils, and other public bodies, for the safe reopening and operation of public toilets during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Mr Swann: Public toilets were designated as being able to remain open in schedule 2, Part 3 (42) in the Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2020. The Department of Health has not developed detailed sector specific guidance, including guidance on reopening and operation of public toilets managed by councils and public bodies.

There are examples of mitigation measures that could be undertaken in line with the general guidance issued by the Department - <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/publications/health-protection-coronavirus-restrictions-northern-ireland-regulations-2020>. These are not exhaustive but should include maintaining social distancing and hygiene measures including regular cleaning and monitoring of facilities. It would be helpful to ensure there are suitable levels of hand cleaning and sanitising products and these are restocked regularly. Appropriate signage (with reference to the continuing Covid-19 risk) should also be in place to re-inforce key public health messages.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister of Health to detail (i) his Department's legal duty on abortion provision; (ii) his Department's progress on commissioning these services to replace the interim service; and (iii) the current status of each Health and Social Care Trust family planning and contraception clinics.

Mr Swann: I would reply as follows:

- (i) There is no legal duty on my Department to provide abortion services.
- (ii) Work on commissioning has been paused as staff have been diverted to respond to the Covid-19 pandemic. Commissioning of abortion services is a cross cutting and controversial matter, and I will seek the agreement of the Executive Committee before I direct the Health and Social Care Board to commission those services.
- (iii) All Trusts (South Eastern Trust services are provided by the Belfast Trust) are providing a limited family planning and contraception service, in line with guidance provided for use throughout the duration of the Covid-19 outbreak by the Faculty of Sexual and Reproductive Healthcare (FSRH) of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists. The guidance lists the services the FSRH regards as essential and provides recommendations on a range of services and procedures.

Ms Sugden asked the Minister of Health what support has been offered to carers of adults with learning disabilities during the response to COVID-19.

Mr Swann: My Department has continued to support the needs of carers across all programmes of care during the response to COVID-19. A range of support has been provided as evidenced during carers' week from 8-14 June 2020. This includes, but is not limited to, activities and resources provided online for adult and young carers to help maintain good mental health and emotional wellbeing; fun activities; cooking; sewing; quizzes; exercise classes; and opportunities to share and facilitate peer contact and support.

I have attached further details of initiatives and support provided during the pandemic.

Further Initiatives and Support Provided During the Covid-19 Pandemic

- Advice for Informal (Unpaid) Carers and Young Carers during Covid-19 Pandemic was published by my Department on 10 April 2020 and subsequently updated on 22 May and 8 June. This guidance, developed in collaboration with the HSCB, HSCTs and Carers NI, includes a number of resources for managing stress, mental health and emotional well-being. It also includes links and contacts that are helpful to carers and young carers. The guidance can be accessed at the following link:
www.health-ni.gov.uk/publications/advice-informal-unpaid-carers-and-young-carers-during-covid-19-pandemic
- A fortnightly forum has been established during COVID-19 to obtain feedback from HSC Trusts and voluntary sector organisations regarding the needs of young and adult carers.
- A Carers ID Card was launched on 8 June 2020 granting unpaid carers access to priority in-store shopping at a range of major supermarkets across Northern Ireland.
- COVID-19: Regional Principles for Visiting in Care Settings in Northern Ireland was published by my Department on 30 June 2020 in response to requests by carers of adults with learning disabilities. The guidance can be accessed at the following link: www.health-ni.gov.uk/covid-visiting-guidance
- Guidance on the use of Direct Payments during COVID-19 currently is being developed by my Department in consultation with service users and HSC Trusts.

Engagement has been ongoing between the HSC Trusts, carers and service users for planning for reopening a range of facilities based services that had been stood down to protect the health of people using the service.

HSC Trusts have redeployed their staff resource to provide alternative support to vulnerable service users and families on a risk assessed basis delivered within COVID-19 guidelines.

Children's short breaks services including residential care, while impacted by COVID-19, have continued to provide support to families. Residential access has been based on an assessment of need with specific priority assigned to those children and families where there is a high risk of family breakdown. This, however, remains predicated on the need to adhere to the public health guidance and RQIA direction in line with NI Executive decisions on settings such as child care /early years centres.

The HSCB/PHA have also been working with the Education Authority/ Department of Education to have special schools reopened for children with the most complex needs.

Throughout the lockdown period, family support hubs have continued to function in their role of supporting parents, carers and children.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health what groups representing childminders will be involved in any future conversations regarding lifting lockdown restrictions on childcare.

(AQW 5032/17-22)

Mr Swann: A Childcare Sector Reference Group has been established to help inform decision making with regards to childcare during the pandemic. Childminders are represented on the Reference Group by the Northern Ireland Childminders Association (NICMA). In addition, my officials have met with Unite Childminders NI specifically to discuss the COVID-19 guidance for childminders, and have been engaging with all Trade Unions through the Engagement Forum facilitated by the Labour Relations Agency.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health to detail each category of information audited by Health and Social Care Trusts to ensure ongoing competency of Fit Testing process.

Mr Swann: Each HSCT has carried out a complete validation and audit review of all fit test certificates issued since January 2020. Each certificate was audited to ensure staff were passed based on the correct setting in line with HSE standard INDG 479.

The HSCTs looked for a range of factors and reviewed a range of information when carrying out this audit, including:

- Ensuring that each staff member achieved a score of over 100 in each of the 7 fit testing exercises against a single test exercise.
- Ensuring the correct protocol was used
- Identifying the Portacount Serial Number

- Outlining details of the respirator mask
- Identifying if other PPE was worn at the time of fit testing
- Identifying if staff signatures were present on certificates
- Checking if staff numbers were included on the certificates
- Test number
- Reviewing the overall test outcome
- Determining how many staff were affected
- Determining how many staff need retested
- The number of staff that have tested positive for Covid-19 that received an incorrect pass rate.

It is important to note that validation of fit-test certificates remains on-going. Some independent sector figures such as GPs and Dental Practitioners have been included in HSCT reporting as they took part in HSCT fit testing programmes.

HSCTs have put additional checks in place to ensure ongoing competency of Fit Testing process. These checks include:

- Reviewing fit testing certificates on an hourly basis
- Compiling end of day reports
- Ensuring schedules are signed by staff members
- Development of a form for staff completion with various details such as name/contact number/location and role to ensure that the data entry on certificates is accurate.
- Ensuring that all protocols on the portacount machines are checked by Trust staff at beginning of each morning and afternoon session with a record maintained.
- Carrying out a lessons learnt exercise

PHA issued an early learning letter to ensure the immediate issues identified are put right and will also bring forward a regional fit-testing assurance framework.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health, pursuant to AQW 4241/17-22, whether all Fit testers carrying out Fit testing in each Health and Social Care Trust, including the Ambulance Service, is accredited individually under Fit2Fit RPE Fit Test Providers Accreditation Scheme.

(AQW 5039/17-22)

Mr Swann: NIAS Fit Testing Staff have undergone "Competent Fit Test Operator Training" which was obtained from Amon Electronics Ltd and delivered by Fittest.ie and covers the Competent Fit Test Operator criteria set out in Health and Safety Executive protocol 282/28 as well as additional practical elements.

BHSCT does not have a Fit Tester who is accredited under the Fit2fit Fit Test Providers Accreditation Scheme. However the external fit tester Amon Electronic used by the Belfast Trust is accredited. The fit testers are not individually accredited to Fit2fit, they are trained to the same standard by the machines' manufacturers.

NHSCT utilised a sole external provider (Amon Electronics) for all fit testing that was required from February 2020, this external provider is accredited under the Fit2Fit RPE Fit Test Providers Accreditation Scheme. The named individual from this external provider is registered on the Fit2Fit log as able to provide Quantitative Ambient Particle Counting.

SEHSCT have nine employed Fit Testers, none of which are individually Fit2Fit accredited (as they do not train others to be fit testers). However they have all completed training by an external fit test company (two with Amon Electronics and seven with Task Safety NI) in order to carry out fit testing.

Within the SHSCT Fit testing is carried out in accordance with HSE INDG 479 and a fit tester should have adequate knowledge and have received adequate instruction and training in the 16 no. competencies contained in this document.

Within WHSCT all fit testers are trained on Single Use Fit Testing using a portacount machine in line with HSE INDG479 guidelines. The companies that have been used to provide the training are Fit2Fit accredited.

It should be noted that work will be undertaken to develop a new fit testing framework for Northern Ireland which will seek to standardised the approach including end to end audit of the fit testing process.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health how many FTE Fit testing positions exists in each Health and Social Care Trust.
(AQW 5040/17-22)

Mr Swann: Health and Social Care Trusts in Northern Ireland carry out fit testing both internally with trained staff and through external procurement of fit testing providers.

Please see below detail of FTE fit testers within each of the six Health and Social Care Trusts.

- NIAS has 24 members of staff who have completed Competent Fit Test Operator Training. This training was completed in February 2020. Within NIAS, there are no specific fit testing positions. Fit Testing is carried out within the remit of Clinical Training Officers and Clinical Support Officers and Health and Safety Advisor.
- NHSCT does not currently have in-house trainers or the necessary portacount machine to complete internal fit testing.

- BHSCT has 3 internal staff trained in fit testing and 1 FTE internal fit tester.
- SEHSCT has 9 internal trained fit testers and there are 3 FTE internal fit testers in SET- 7 Headcount.
- SHSCT do not have dedicated fit testing positions. Their fit testing programme would equate to a minimum of 3xWTE (3 in house machines) per week based on a standard week with no additional hours. Fit testing is carried out on a rotational basis between 11 staff who have been redeployed to carry out in-house fit testing. Of these staff, 9 received fit testing training as 2 staff had previously been trained to carry out fit testing.
- WHSCT has 20 staff trained in Fit Testing. The Trust do not have Fit Testing Posts. Trained staff are released from their substantive posts to carry out fit testing.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health how many in-house Fit testers have completed the Fit testing training programme by Amon Electronics.

(AQW 5041/17-22)

Mr Swann: BHSCT has three members of staff who were fit test trained by AMON Electronics.

- NHSCT does not currently have any in-house fit testers trained by Amon Electronics.
- SEHSCT has two internal fit testers who were fit test trained by AMON Electronics.
- SHSCT does not currently have any in-house fit testers trained by Amon Electronics.
- WHSCT has eight members of staff who were fit test trained by AMON Electronics.
- NIAS have 24 staff that have undergone “Competent Fit Test Operator Training” which was obtained from Amon Electronics Ltd and delivered by Fittest.ie.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Health what support is provided to sufferers of ME and Fibromyalgia in Northern Ireland.

(AQW 5110/17-22)

Mr Swann: Myalgic encephalomyelitis (ME)

The Health and Social Care Board (HSCB) has commissioned the Belfast Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust to appoint a regional medical lead for myalgic encephalomyelitis (ME). The role will involve direct patient contact with clinical assessment, diagnosis and development of a management plan in collaboration with patients and their carers, community and primary care providers as well as other clinical colleagues. There are significant education and training needs amongst health and social care providers regarding ME and related conditions and addressing these is an important element of this role.

Currently no designated medical practitioners work with this patient group; however, a small number of general physicians provide unexplained fatigue clinics for patients in their individual Trust area and allied health professionals deliver specialist symptom management interventions and programmes in line with the National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE) guidelines for ME.

Fibromyalgia

The NI Pain Forum, in collaboration with the Patient and Client Council, developed a patient pathway for fibromyalgia in 2017. This has been implemented in the Western HSC Trust and is currently under review to be taken forward by GP federations in other Trusts. The HSCB is funding pain support groups in Healthy Living Centres and associated community development organisations.

Fibromyalgia can be diagnosed and managed in community and primary care. Patients who are referred to secondary care are assessed within existing medical specialities such as rheumatology and pain rehabilitation.

Training for ME and Fibromyalgia

There is no specific stand-alone training provided for these conditions within the curricula taught by the education institutions; however, they are covered within various training programmes.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Health what training on ME and Fibromyalgia is given to staff in the health sector.

(AQW 5111/17-22)

Mr Swann:

Mr Swann:

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health to outline how having a Chief Executive who is not responsible to, or appointed by, the Board of the organisation they lead constitutes good corporate governance. (AQW 5131/17-22)

Mr Swann: As set out in Chapter 3 of Managing Public Money Northern Ireland, each organisation in central government – department, agency, trading fund, HSC body, NDPB or significant arm's length body must have an Accounting Officer. This person is usually the senior official in the organisation. In line with the Code of Good Practice on Corporate Governance in Central Government Departments, it is now usual for the Accounting Officer to be supported by a board whose structure should be agreed with the responsible minister(s) where it is not set in statute.

The organisation must have an Accounting Officer available for advice or decision as necessary at short notice. When the Accounting Officer is absent and cannot readily be contacted, another senior official should deputise. If a significant absence of more than 4 weeks is planned, the Accounting Officer, should invite DoF (or the sponsor department, as the case may be) to appoint a temporary acting Accounting Officer.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health what plans his Department has to ensure that children's complex needs are met in relation to therapies, sensory activities and physiotherapy. (AQW 5163/17-22)

Mr Swann: While normal service provision has been significantly impacted by COVID-19, all Trusts have been working closely with families to help deliver therapeutic support for children with complex needs during lockdown on a risk assessed basis and in line with public health guidance. This has involved providing points of contacts, resource packs, advice and guidance, and utilising innovative digital solutions where appropriate.

Building on collaborative working across Health and Education pre-COVID and during lockdown, all Trusts are also engaging directly with schools as part of the education restart and health rebuild programmes to proactively plan for children returning to school in the next academic year. This work, alongside public health guidance, will inform how therapy provision can be delivered in schools in a safe manner to meet the needs of children. The outcomes of this work will be reviewed on an ongoing basis as the education restart programme is rolled out, and is being jointly overseen at a regional level by both Departments, the Health and Social Care Board, the Public Health Agency and the Education Authority.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health when families will be provided with guidance on how Direct Payments can be used during the COVID-19 crisis.

Mr Swann: Further guidance for HSC Trusts and individuals in receipt of Direct Payments during the COVID-19 pandemic is currently under consideration and will include specific guidance to help ensure a consistent approach across the Health and Social Care Trusts in respect of flexibility around the use of Direct Payments.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health whether he will allocate the underspend in direct payments to be used for the provision of equipment such as, hot tubs for hydrotherapy patients, and sensory equipment such as, lights, dark den, musical toys, and iPads.

(AQW 5165/17-22)

Mr Swann: An individual in receipt of a Direct Payment decides how it will be used to meet their assessed need in agreement with their HSC Trust. Direct Payments are in lieu of Trust-arranged services and the money to pay for Direct Payments is allocated from the general Domiciliary Care budget. Therefore, there is no specific underspend solely for Direct Payments as referenced in the Member's question.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health whether efforts will be made to recover costs paid out to external FIT testing contractors who tested Health and Social Care staff to a different standard.

Mr Swann: HSCTs are undertaking a review of their contractual obligations with this fit testing company. Each HSCT who utilised this company have provided assurances they are monitoring the work of this contractor.

HSCTs have confirmed that the independent contractor is carrying refit testing at no additional cost to the HSC System. Two HSCTs are using a combination of internal fit testers and other fit testing companies to enable re testing as quickly as possible.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health whether children aged 5 years and under are tested for coronavirus or whether guidelines advise against it.

(AQW 5172/17-22)

Mr Swann: The testing of children aged 5 years and under for coronavirus has not been available to date through the National Testing Programme. While COVID-19 is generally not a disease of children, testing of children in this age group may be required for a specific or particular reason, for example as part of a pre-operative assessment, prior to undertaking an interventional procedure or if a clinician determines a test is required. In addition if a healthcare/keyworker has had to self-isolate, due to their children showing symptoms of Covid-19, then we will test the children (including children aged 5 years and under) at their request. In these instances testing can be facilitated through our HSC laboratory systems.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health whether the participation of a GP in the rota to work at the Primary Care COVID-19 centres is voluntary or a contractual obligation.

Mr Swann: While there is no contractual obligation to work in COVID centres, GP practices across all of Northern Ireland have been asked to play their part in staffing the centres to ensure that primary care services can be maintained for all COVID and non-COVID patients during the pandemic.

Mr Gildernew asked the Minister of Health to list any connections David Nicholl, who has been appointed to carry out the independent inquiry into the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority Board resignations, has with the Health and Social Care system.

Mr Swann: David Nicholl is the Managing Director of On-Board Training and Consultancy, a dedicated provider of training and advisory services to Boards and Board Members of Public Bodies. Mr Nicholl is retained by the Health and Social Care Leadership Centre for consultative work and has been involved extensively in providing expertise in Corporate Governance and Board effectiveness, recently acting as facilitator to the Duty of Quality Workstream arising from the Inquiry into Hyponatraemia Related Deaths Programme.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister of Health whether he will immediately relax restrictions for maternity appointments to allow partners to attend with the mother and partners to visit their newborn babies in hospital.

Mr Swann: On 30 June 2020, my Department published updated guidance which applies from 6 July 2020 for all Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust inpatient services including maternity services, mental health and learning disability inpatient services, Care Homes and Hospices for the duration for the COVID-19 response. This revised guidance sets out the current position in respect of pregnant women in that, so long as the surge level and the Northern Ireland Executive five step approach permits, aligned to the pandemic surge levels/R value based on the best scientific advice available at any given time:

Birth partners will be facilitated to accompany the pregnant woman to dating scan, early pregnancy clinic, anomaly scan, and Fetal Medicine Department, for induction of labour, duration of labour and birth and, to visit in antenatal and postnatal wards as appropriate

The full guidance is available online on the Department's website at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/covid-visiting-guidance>.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister of Health, pursuant to AQW 4536/17-22, for a month by month breakdown for this year to date, of the number of (i) physical inspections; and (ii) telephone inspections carried out by the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority, compared to the same period last year.

(AQW 5202/17-22)

Mr Swann: Table 1 below provides the breakdown of inspections by month for the period January to June during 2019 and 2020

Year/Month	January	February	March	April	May	June	Total
2019	239	230	220	121	171	154	1135
2020	226	224	114	9	19	26	618

During 2019 all inspections were on site. In 2020 all inspections conducted in January and February were onsite. Table 2 below provides the breakdown of inspections by onsite and remote for the period March to June 2020

Table 2

Type/Month	March	April	May	June	Total
Onsite	113	5	16	23	157
Remote	1	4	3	3	11
Total	114	9	19	26	168

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health to detail the total financial cost of providing 17,000 hours to the care home sector for assistance through the COVID-19 pandemic.

(AQW 5205/17-22)

Mr Swann: Updated information provided by HSC Trusts indicates that Trusts have now provided 21,400 hours of direct staffing support to cover shifts in care homes, at a total estimated cost of £450,000.

Mr Harvey asked the Minister of Health to advise the rationale behind the current restrictions on visitation of inpatients in hospitals and whether he has any timeline in relation to the change in these guidelines.

(AQW 5226/17-22)

Mr Swann: In response to the Government restriction of movement and to protect patients, their families and all staff, on 9 April 2020 the HSC temporarily restricted the number of visitors across hospitals. With immediate effect all intensive care and hospital visiting across Northern Ireland was stopped.

Following publication by the Northern Ireland Executive on 12 May 2020 of the five-step approach to relaxing lockdown restrictions, my Department established a Strategic Clinical Advisory Cell (SCAC) and undertook a review of the evidence relating to coronavirus infection and the impact of hospital visitors on disease transmission.

On 30 June 2020, my Department published the resulting updated guidance which applies from 6 July 2020 for all Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust inpatient services including maternity services, mental health and learning disability inpatient services, Care Homes and Hospices for the duration for the COVID-19 response. This revised guidance will continue in force while the surge level and the Northern Ireland Executive five step approach permits, with approved visiting guidance aligned to the pandemic surge levels/R value based on the best scientific advice available at any given time.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health whether he intends to revisit The General Dental Services: COVID Financial Support Scheme, in particular to consider individual circumstances for women whose calculations included their time on maternity leave. (AQW 5241/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Financial Support Scheme payment calculations are based on the average monthly Item of Service (IoS) payment in 2019-20 for each General Dental Practitioner who applies to the scheme. This is considered to be the best representation of the IoS payments that a GDP would have received in the absence of Covid-19.

There have been approximately 1,200 applications to the FSS each month which means that it is not possible to consider the individual circumstances of every applicant in greater detail. However, the circumstances of individual groups of GDPs have been reviewed and adjustments applied as set out the Frequently Asked Questions for the scheme:

In particular, the FSS payment calculation for GDPs who were on maternity leave in 2019-20 has been further amended with a specific adjustment to exclude the months in which they received maternity payments, as well as the lowest remaining month. The individual circumstances for a number of these GDPs have also been reviewed with amendment made where appropriate.

The net result is that the average level of FSS payment to GDPs who were on maternity leave in 2019-20 is 20% higher than it would have been if the maternity leave specific adjustments had not been made and 59% higher than if no adjustments had been made.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health for an update on the work of the Protect Life 2 Steering group; and when groups will receive a timeline or notification on the commissioning of services under Protect Life 2. (AQW 5243/17-22)

Mr Swann: An overview on the current work that has been delivered under the Protect Life 2 Strategy is available on the Department of Health website at:

Procurement of services under Protect Life 2, for which Public Health Agency (PHA) have responsibility, will commence following a process of involvement.

To ensure appropriate input, a process of involvement will commence in October 2020. This initial process will last for a period of 8 weeks following which responses will be collated and made available for comment. Subsequently, a 12 week consultation process will take place from August 2021 following which a procurement stage will commence.

The PHA will advertise all funding opportunities on its website and through eTendersNI.

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Health to detail the timescale for visits to care homes to start in a safe manner. (AQW 5279/17-22)

Mr Swann: In line with the five-step approach to relaxing lockdown restrictions by the Northern Ireland Executive on 12 May 2020, my Department undertook a review of the impact of visitors to patients across all care settings on disease transmission.

This has resulted in the publication, on 30 June 2020, of updated guidance for all Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust inpatient services including maternity services, mental health and learning disability inpatient services, Care Homes and Hospices for the duration for the COVID-19 response. It is available at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/covid-visiting-guidance>.

So long as the surge level and the Northern Ireland Executive five step approach permits, aligned to the pandemic surge levels/R value based on the best scientific advice available at any given time:

In respect of visits to care homes:

- Visiting and accompanying of visitors will be limited as follows:
  - No more than 2 people will be permitted access to visit at any one time where this can be accommodated within social distancing.

In respect of Hospital visits:

- Visiting and accompanying of visitors will be limited as follows:
  - One visitor only per patient at any one time. In specific circumstances where the visitor requires assistance then no more than 2 people will be permitted access to visit at any one time where this can be accommodated within social distancing guidance.

In respect of pregnant women:

- Birth partners will be facilitated to accompany the pregnant woman to dating scan, early pregnancy clinic, anomaly scan, and Fetal Medicine Department, for induction of labour, duration of labour and birth and, to visit in antenatal and postnatal wards as appropriate.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health how the Chief Nursing Officer can represent both nurses and allied health professionals on the new Management Board for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services.

Mr Swann: The Chief Nursing Officer, Professor Charlotte McArdle leads the Nursing, Midwifery and AHP (NMAHP) Division providing professional advice on issues relating to Nursing, Midwifery and the Allied Health Professionals. She is supported in her role by a wide range of professional nursing, midwifery and Allied Health Profession officers. This leaves her ideally placed to represent the different views and interests of Nurses, Midwives and Allied Health Professionals on the new Management Board for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services.

Where specific detailed information on Allied Health Professional issues is required the Chief Allied Health Professional Officer will be invited to join the meeting. This would be similar to other healthcare professional roles in other divisions and across the UK.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health whether he will commit to the inclusion of the Chief Allied Health Professions Officer on the Management Board for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services.

(AQW 5286/17-22)

Dr Archibald asked the Minister of Health when IVF services will be restarted for people who had their treatment cancelled due to the reduction in normal services as a result of COVID-19.

(AQW 5313/17-22)

Mr Swann: I can only provide information on publicly-funded treatment provided by the Regional Fertility Centre (RFC) in the Belfast Trust.

I launched the Strategic Framework for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services on 9 June 2020. The focus will be on re-starting urgent services first and fertility treatment is classified as a routine elective procedure. However, I have made it clear that I consider re-instatement of fertility services to be a priority and the Trust is working to put plans in place to enable the service to recommence as soon as possible.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister of Health to detail the number of people presenting to (i) Altnagelvin Hospital; and (ii) Causeway Hospital, in relation to mental ill-health, broken down by age category in the last 12 months.

Mr Swann: It is assumed that this question refers to the number of attendances at Altnagelvin and Causeway Emergency Care Departments which were in relation to mental ill-health.

Information on the number of attendances at (i) Altnagelvin; and (ii) Causeway Emergency Care Departments, in relation to mental-ill health, broken down by age category in the last 12 months is presented in the table overleaf.

Number of attendances* at Altnagelvin and Causeway Emergency Care Departments in relation to mental ill-health from 1st June 2019 to 31st May 2020, broken down by age category.

Age Category	Altnagelvin	Causeway

Source: Western and Northern Health and Social Care Trusts

* It should be noted that the number of attendances does not equate to the number of patients treated, as it is possible for the same person to attend an emergency care department on more than one occasion in the period presented above.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister of Health to detail the number of mental health referrals made in each of the last 12 months, broken down by constituency.

Mr Swann: Please find information detailed below. A breakdown by constituency cannot be provided.

Table 1. Total number of mental health referrals in the last 12 months up to 31 May 2020.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health what work he has undertaken to address mental health problems in sport.
(AQW 5345/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Protect Life 2 strategy includes a specific action which recognises the important role of sport in addressing mental health problems. It notes that suicide prevention and emotional wellbeing and mental health requires work across a range of services and settings and that the combined knowledge, expertise and resources of organisations across public, private and voluntary/community sectors is essential.

The Public Health Agency has worked with Sport NI and Governing Bodies of Sport extensively over the years to promote positive mental and emotional wellbeing.

Work undertaken includes the development and support of the Sport NI – Wellbeing in Sport Action Plan and its associated Wellbeing in Sport Pilot Plan.

PHA and Sport NI are currently developing a mental health Awareness Programme to be rolled out across all sports clubs in Northern Ireland.

In 2019/20 PHA supported 48 coaches to be trained in safeTalk, ASIST and Mental Health First Aid. 81 Coaches attended other mental health/suicide awareness courses such as ENGAGE, Take 5, and Suicide Awareness Connections. Sport National Governing Bodies Safeguarding Officers also attended a mental health training information event in June 2019.

PHA have also worked with Ulster Rugby on a Health and Wellbeing Strategy that was launched in January 2016. They have supported Ulster Rugby to promote a healthy lifestyle to at risk young people through rugby related activity programmes.

The PHA has worked with the GAA since 2013, with a main focus for funding on strengthening young people's knowledge and awareness in mental health and emotional wellbeing and skilling up coaches and volunteers in effective suicide prevention strategies.

Ulster GAA are currently working with Inspire to explore an online support for club members during the summer months of the playing season. They have also developed a platform for support during COVID 19.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health what work has been carried out by his Department to address gambling and related mental health.

(AQW 5346/17-22)

Mr Swann: At the present time there are no gambling specific services commissioned by the Health and Social Care Board in Northern Ireland. However, where problem gambling causes mental health issues, such as anxiety or depression, appropriate help and support is provided in line with clinical need and current service provision for mental health. Gambling support is also available in the community and voluntary sector, through various providers.

You will be aware that I published a Mental Health Action Plan on 19 May 2020. This Action Plan contains a specific action to develop a ten year Mental Health Strategy, reconfirming my commitment to this important step in setting the future direction of mental health services in NI. The strategy will be cross-sectoral in nature, will be patient centred and trauma informed, and will put the needs of the community at the fore.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health when the drug Entrectinib, or the oral treatment Pazopanib, which have been developed for sarcoma cancer, will be made available to patients resident in Northern Ireland.

(AQW 5349/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Department has a formal link with the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE) under which NICE Technology Appraisals are reviewed locally for their applicability in Northern Ireland. Where found to be applicable they are endorsed by the Department for implementation within Health and Social Care (HSC).

Pazopanib for first-line treatment of advanced renal cell carcinoma was endorsed by the Department in November 2011 and is available to patients in Northern Ireland via routine commissioning for this condition.

Entrectinib does not have an EU or UK marketing authorisation and is an unlicensed medicine. However a final decision from the European Commission is expected shortly.

NICE published final draft guidance on 25 June 2020 recommending entrectinib for use within the Cancer Drugs Fund (England) as an option for treating neurotrophic tyrosine receptor kinase (NTRK) fusion-positive solid tumours in adults and children 12 years and older, who meet the criteria and if the conditions in the managed access agreement are followed.

If the marketing authorisation is granted entrectinib will be considered for routine commissioning in Northern Ireland in line with the normal managed entry of new medicines processes.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health what additional measures are being put in place to support General Practice to assist with medical training during the forthcoming academic year, particularly with regard to delivering its commitment to support 25 per cent of the new medical curriculum being delivered in General Practice.

(AQW 5351/17-22)

Mr Swann: My Department is providing additional financial resource, via the Supplement for Undergraduate Medical and Dental Education (SUMDE) mechanism to general practices providing medical student places, as the delivery of the QUB Medical School curriculum is progressively recalibrated towards General Practice under its "C25 Programme".

In addition, my Department has provided funding, commencing in the Academic Year 2020/21, for a pilot project in two GP Federation areas within NI, to enhance the coordination and quality of medical student placements in General Practice.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister of Health whether the findings of the National Audit Office's inquiry report, Entitlement to free early education and childcare in England, will apply to Northern Ireland; and for his assessment of whether comprehensive affordable childcare is an essential ingredient for a successful and productive economy and a healthy society.

Mr Swann: The Minister of Education has lead responsibility for childcare policy, including the draft Childcare Strategy, and will provide a substantive response to the same question which has been put to him.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health, as analysis of responses to Reshaping Stroke Care - Saving Lives, Reducing Disability is now complete, to outline a timeline for the publication of this analysis and for the overall reconfiguration of stroke services arising from it.

(AQW 5392/17-22)

Mr Swann: The timescale for proceeding with reshaping stroke services will be identified in the context of the rebuilding process outlined in the Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services Strategic Framework. It is my intention that the consultation analysis will be published alongside my decision on progressing reform.

Mr Robinson asked the Minister of Health whether there is a timetable for the reopening of Wellbeing Centres which offer support to people experiencing a mental health crisis.

(AQW 5398/17-22)

Mr Swann: Statutory mental health services have been operating throughout the whole COVID-19 period and there has been no blanket closure of services. However, many services have operated in different ways, avoiding face to face contact where possible.

Plans are being made to resume face to face appointments when it is appropriate to do so. When this will take place will depend on individual circumstances.

Ms Sheerin asked the Minister of Health, in light of the provisions of paragraph 9.6 of the Guidance for Ministers in the Exercise of their Official Responsibilities, whether the Terms of Reference of the Departmental Management Board for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services will be amended to reflect the accounting officer responsibility for compliance with the Section 75 equality duty within this function.

Mr Swann: Accounting officer responsibilities have not been impacted by the establishment of the Rebuilding HSC Services Management Board. Accounting officers remain personally responsible for the discharge of all duties included in their appointment letter and the procedures set in Managing Public Money Northern Ireland, including the duty to comply with Section 75. All of these responsibilities continue to apply in the context of the Management Board.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health whether he has made a decision regarding commissioning a public inquiry into abuses and maltreatment in Muckamore Abbey Hospital.

(AQW 5455/17-22)

Mr Swann: I have not yet made a decision regarding commissioning a public inquiry to examine the allegations of abuse and maltreatment in Muckamore Abbey Hospital. I am keen to ensure that any decision I take is an informed one and I have sought detailed advice in relation to an inquiry; further advice is still being received.

I also need to ensure that any process that is put in place does not interfere with the current PSNI criminal investigation.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health to list those (i) formally; and (ii) informally involved in drafting the terms of reference for his Department's investigation into the recent mass resignation of Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority board members.

(AQW 5456/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Terms of Reference for the review into the Regulation and Improvement Authority Board Resignations were drafted by Department of Health officials including the Department's Deputy Secretaries.

Mr Gildernew asked the Minister of Health, pursuant to AQW 4954/17-22, (i) whether day opportunities for adults with learning disabilities will resume at the same time as respite services; (ii) when service users and their families will be informed of the decision; and (iii) how his Department has engaged with families and providers on this issue, including a breakdown of the respective providers.

Mr Swann: The Health and Social Care Board (HSCB) are coordinating the development of operational recovery plans across disability services to restart services in a regionally consistent and phased manner. Incorporating the learning and new approaches developed in response to the pandemic will be central to our approach to restarting services and, indeed, to the future shape of learning disability services in Northern Ireland. Decisions to restart, prioritise and scale up services will be informed by factors such as safety, individual need, transmission rates, public health guidance, workforce readiness/re-deployment, risk assessment and estate capacity for social distancing measures within each Trust.

Timescales within this phased restart will be guided by the safety of those using the services and determined by sustained reduction in the risk of COVID-19 spreading to people using services and to staff; guidance regarding the need for social distancing measures and learning disability services having access to its full staff complement.

While we have to recognise that there are practical barriers to consultation at this time, the Health and Social Care Board have confirmed that the views of service users, families, carers and HSC staff will guide how services are scaled up over the coming months and engagement with carers and independent sector providers on these plans is underway across all Trusts.

Throughout the course of the pandemic response my Department has responded to correspondence received on this issue and have engaged with the Association for Real Change (ARC), who represent organisations from the statutory, private and voluntary sectors involved in the planning or delivery of support and services who have a learning disability, on a number of occasions via videoconference and letter.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister of Health, in light of the recent funding announcement of over £200 million to the Derry City and Strabane District Council which includes provision for a health hub in Strabane, (i) whether his Department has begun work on plans for this provision; and (ii) when this planning will be completed.

Mr Swann: Derry City and Strabane District Council are the lead partner in progressing the plans for the City Deal in that area. My Department, along with the Western Health and Social Care Trust, will continue to work with the Council as they progress their plans for a health hub in the area. The timeline for completion of these plans is ultimately the responsibility of the Council.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister of Health, following a weekend of no emergency coverage in Newry, South Armagh and South Down, what action he will take to ensure adequate ambulance cover in the Southern and South Eastern Trust.

Mr Swann: It is important to note that at no stage was the Northern Ireland Ambulance Service Southern Division area without cover during the period 3-5 July. There was full coverage during the dayshifts, but the nightshifts had reduced cover of 20%, 10% and 15% respectively.

To address shortages, standard plans are implemented to mitigate against reduced levels of cover. These include the provision of additional crews from other stations within the division, extended Rapid Response Paramedic hours, increased A&E support vehicles provided by non-emergency crews and increased use of voluntary and private ambulance services to deal with lower acuity calls in order to keep emergency crews free to attend more serious, life threatening calls.

While a reduced level of cover can lead to increased response times for patients waiting for an ambulance, those patients with the most life threatening conditions are always prioritised to ensure crews get to the sickest patients quickest and call handlers are available to provide telephone advice to callers.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health for an update on the timescale for ensuring all daycare surgery is carried out in elective care centres.

Mr Swann: The planned development of daycase elective care centres was underpinned by the benefits of separating planned and unscheduled care. This principle is even more important in the context of the ongoing pandemic.

In the Strategic Framework for Rebuilding HSC Services I have given a commitment to exploring the feasibility of establishing dedicated Elective Care Centres to facilitate the continuation of some planned activity in the event of increasing demand for COVID-19 treatment arising from a second wave of the pandemic. I plan to publish plans for rebuilding daycase elective care shortly.

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Health how he will ensure clinical input to the work of the new Management Board to oversee the Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services Strategic Framework.

Mr Swann: The new Management Board for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services comprises senior departmental officials, Trust Chief Executives and senior officials from our other key arms-length bodies.

The Chief Nursing Officer represents the views of Nurses, Midwives and Allied Health Professionals on the Management Board and will be advised by the Chief Allied Health Professions Officer in my Department. In a similar way, the interests of the doctor and dentistry professions are represented on the Management Board by the Chief Medical Officer. I have also sought and received assurance that the Chief Allied Health Professions Officer and the Chief Dental Officer will attend the Management Board as necessary.

I am therefore confident that the interests of all HSC colleagues are represented through the current membership of the Management Board and that the Management Board will take account of and represent all relevant expert advice.

The Management Board will also be advised by expert advisors who will be invited to provide input and advice to inform Management Board deliberations as and when required.

In addition, clinical input will be at the heart of the rebuilding process. The Rebuilding Health and Social Care Strategic Framework published on the 9 June was clear that proposals should be developed using co-production principles, as far as possible.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister of Health what action he has taken to ensure staff are properly protected and not at risk as a result of inadequate fit testing for personal protection equipment.

Mr Swann: An audit review of fit testing for respiratory masks is ongoing on a precautionary basis within the HSC system after it emerged that one independent contractor, which conducted Fit Testing of masks during the pandemic, had inadvertently applied on some occasions a fit-testing setting not normally used in Northern Ireland. This should have been readjusted to the UK Fit Testing requirements. We are advised that any risk to staff is likely to be low.

All fit testing Certificates are being reviewed regardless of provider. Trusts have put in place a re-fit testing programme and are proactively recalling staff on a risk assessed basis.

It is anticipated retesting of staff will be concluded within the next week.

The Public Health Agency has been asked by the Department of Health to undertake a Serious Adverse Incident review

Department for Infrastructure

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether she intends to invest in the Roads Recovery Fund to improve the quality of rural roads.

(AQW 4378/17-22)

Ms Mallon (The Minister for Infrastructure): I have announced an investment of £75m in the structural maintenance of the road network in 2020/2021. Recognising the importance of investment in the roads network to improve connectivity, help communities and tackle regional imbalance, I have instructed officials to allocate £12m to a Roads Recovery Fund of which £10m is to be directed towards rural roads.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure, regarding the recent announcement of the Rural Roads Fund (i) whether this will be additional funding on top of the Roads Recovery Fund; and (ii) how this fund will be allocated.

Ms Mallon: I have announced an investment of £75m in the structural maintenance of the road network in 2020/2021. Recognising the importance of investment in the roads network to improve connectivity, help communities and tackle regional imbalance, I have instructed officials to allocate £12m to a Roads Recovery Fund of which £10m is to be directed towards rural roads.

In distributing the resources available for the Roads Recovery Fund, allocations are made to the four Roads Divisions on the basis of need, using a range of weighted indicators tailored to the activity. Divisions use these indicators when apportioning across council areas to ensure, as far as possible, an equitable distribution of funds across the whole of the North.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) the number of driving theory certificates that have expired, or are at risk of expiring, due to COVID-19; and (ii) whether she has plans to extend the validity of driver theory test certificates at this time.

Ms Mallon: I am aware that some learner drivers are in the position that, through no fault of their own, their theory test pass certificate is coming close to the end of its two year period of validity, or has expired during the current pandemic.

Across all test categories, 1,126 theory test pass certificates will have expired between the end of March and the end of June, and by the end of September a further 1,312 will have expired.

I have asked officials to engage with colleagues in the Driver and Vehicle Standards Agency in Great Britain to consider what additional measures may be implemented to ensure that those candidates inconvenienced by the current Covid-19 crisis are not further penalised through the expiry of their theory test certificate. It is, however, likely that any extension to the validity period of theory test pass certificates will require an amendment to legislation and this is being actively explored.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether her Department would consider improving road safety at Seapark Road, Holywood, to include (i) double yellow lines; and (ii) traffic lights at the junction with the A2 dual carriageway.

Ms Mallon: I recognise the importance of road safety and am committed to exploring solutions that deliver better for communities and improve lives across Northern Ireland. In relation to your specific queries I would comment as follows:

- (i) Waiting restrictions such as double yellow lines are generally only provided to assist with traffic progression, or where there is a road safety concern, at locations where there are frequent and ongoing parking issues. It is recognised that during periods of more favourable weather, a substantial number of additional visitors are attracted to the Seapark area and parking issues can occur.

While my Department has the powers to introduce waiting restrictions, it would not be considered appropriate to introduce permanent restrictions to address parking issues that are likely to occur relatively infrequently throughout the year.

- (ii) The junction of Seapark Road onto the A2 Belfast to Bangor Road is typical of many locations in that it forms a priority junction where the side road traffic gives way to traffic on the main road. The provision of traffic signals is normally only considered where the flows from the side roads are significant leading to extensive delays being experienced throughout the day.

A review of the information currently available to my Department in terms of traffic volumes, personal injury collisions, queues and delays has indicated that traffic signals could not be justified at this particular time. I have however asked officials to keep this junction under review.

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) what stage the Regional Strategic Transport Network Transport Plan is at; and (ii) whether it will contain a recommendation for a rail halt in central Craigavon.

Ms Mallon:

- (i) My Department is currently progressing the Regional Strategic Transport Network Transport Plan (RSTNTP) to draft report stage in order to allow it to be presented for public consultation. Timescales for the Transport Plan have been affected by the COVID-19 emergency which has impacted upon staff resources and work priorities.

The RSTNTP will set out future investment and improvement for our strategic transport networks, by road, rail and bus, and reflect my commitment to improving connectivity for the benefit of our economy and communities across Northern Ireland.

- (ii) The RSTNTP will help inform my priorities for future development of the main road and rail networks, including the potential for new railway stations. It would be premature to announce recommendations at this stage; however I recognise there is a public appetite for expanded railway infrastructure to improve public access to rail services. This will be carefully considered as part of the RSTNTP proposals.

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the road and footpath resurfacing schemes scheduled for the Strangford constituency this financial year.

(AQW 5043/17-22)

Ms Mallon: While my Department does not hold information on an Assembly Constituency basis, I can advise that my officials are currently developing plans for delivery of an extensive carriageway and footway resurfacing programme which will include schemes within the Strangford Constituency. Given this ongoing work it is not possible at this time to provide details of specific scheme locations however for all areas a list of proposed schemes will be included in the various Council reports which will be published over the coming months.

Mr Storey asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether the Lisnahunshin Road, from Cullybackey to Rasharkin, will be included on the winter gritting schedule.

Ms Mallon: My Department receives many requests each year for additions to the winter gritting schedules. For this reason all decisions made are based on an objective assessment process set out in the Department's Winter Service policy. This process ensures that a consistent approach to winter maintenance is adopted across the entire road network, allowing my Department to grit approximately 28% of the public road network, which carries 80% of our traffic.

Under the current policy the Lisnahunshin Road does not satisfy the requirements for inclusion on the winter gritting schedule due to low traffic volumes and the presence of two 'parallel' gritted routes. However, I can confirm my Department will continue to provide grit piles along this road for use by the general public on a self-help basis, to assist traffic movement during periods of wintery weather.

While I would like to be able to expand our gritting service to many other routes, it is simply not feasible to do this at present, due to the severe budget constraints and many other competing fiscal pressures faced by my Department. This is an issue I will continue to raise with my Executive Colleagues.

Mr Storey asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the ten roads in the North Antrim constituency where the most remedial repairs have been completed, in the last two years.

Ms Mallon: The list of roads below in the North Antrim constituency are ranked in order based on the number of patching repairs carried out over the last two years with the road with the highest number of defects repaired listed first. It should be noted that other defect repairs, such as those to road signs and lines, kerbs and gullies have not been taken into account when compiling this list.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the number of people using the Comber Greenway during the years (i) 2017/18; (ii) 2018/19; and (iii) 2019/20.

(AQW 5061/17-22)

Ms Mallon: Three counters were installed on the Comber Greenway in April 2017. Estimates of the number of trips on the greenway at these counter locations are as follows:

Location	2017/18	2018/19	2019/20
Beersbridge Road	189,000	215,000	no data
Abbey Road	191,000	190,000	193,000
Comber	131,000	135,000	148,000

Ms Hunter asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether she will provide a funding package for ferry services, including the Magilligan to Greencastle service.

(AQW 5069/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department has no operational responsibility for the Magilligan-Greencastle ferry service as it is privately owned. I understand that in the past financial support has been provided by District Councils.

A support package was agreed between the Executive and DfT to provide financial support to ensure that the main GB-NI supply routes which provide food, medicines and other critical supplies were able to continue. Three ferry operators (Stena, Seatruck and P&O) were deemed eligible for three crossing routes (Larne-Cairnryan; Belfast-Cairnryan; Heysham-Warrenpoint). The Northern Ireland Executive agreed to cover 40% of the total costs.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) whether she been lobbied by groups opposed to the progress of the York Street Interchange project; and (ii) if so, to give details.

(AQW 5071/17-22)

Ms Mallon: The development of significant infrastructure projects is often the subject of public discourse. I am aware of views both for and against the York Street Interchange scheme that were examined at the Public Inquiry in November 2015 and indeed continue to be raised from time to time, in the press, through social media and by correspondence.

I have not been lobbied by particular groups on this scheme.

Mr Buckley asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on when driving instructors can resume lessons with clients.

(AQW 5072/17-22)

Ms Mallon: The Executive Office has confirmed that the Regulations do not currently prevent driving lessons from taking place, if it is safe to do so for both instructors and their customers.

Given that driving instructors work in a higher risk environment, it is crucial that public health advice is followed by them to keep them and their customers safe. The ADI National Joint Council has published guidance for driving instructors and it is advised that this is reviewed to help them prepare safely: <https://www.adinjc.org.uk/training-resources/>.

The DVA plans to reinstate some driver testing services in July for those licence categories, where testing can be done safely in line with current PHA advice and guidance on social distancing requirements. This includes motorbike driver testing, planned from 6 July and tests for drivers of buses, tractors and module 4 CPC tests for lorry, bus and coach drivers, planned from 20 July. Driver theory tests are also being reintroduced from 6 July, with safe social distancing in place.

The department is working to safely restore practical driving tests for cars as quickly as possible with the priority of keeping staff and customers safe and the DVA will continue to be guided by PHA advice in this regard. No date for resumption has yet been set by the department. This does not need to be referred to the Executive but must be in line with PHA guidance. The DVA continues to work as quickly as possible to find a way forward that will keep customers and staff safe.

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether her Department has any plans for a scrappage scheme to remove vehicles with high exhaust emissions from our roads and help the green recovery.

Ms Mallon: Through prioritising actions to deliver sustainable infrastructure and support a green recovery from the current health crisis, I have recently announced how available resources will be used to accelerate my transformation agenda to create new spaces and places where people can enjoy a cleaner, greener way of living and travelling. This has included further investment in low emissions buses, greenways and Park and Ride sites; the appointment of a Walking and Cycling Champion to promote active travel through collaborative initiatives with local Councils and the creation of a £20m blue/green infrastructure fund to make public transport and active travel a more attractive and efficient alternative to the use of private cars. I am not considering a vehicle scrappage scheme at this time.

In recognition of the need to reduce emissions from transport, my Department is working closely with the Department for the Economy to develop a long term energy strategy for Northern Ireland to identify actions to support the decarbonisation agenda. The DAERA Minister and I met earlier this year to discuss opportunities for partnership working. As such, officials are currently exploring a range of options and solutions to enhance our infrastructure, tackle the climate emergency and improve air quality, particularly in the context of COVID-19 recovery plans.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in relation to extensions to MOT certificates, when MOT centres will reopen for those who could not receive an extension and need their vehicle for work purposes.

Ms Mallon: On 1 June 2020, following consultation with staff and Trade Unions, the Driver and Vehicle Agency (DVA) safely reinstated a limited number of specialist tests for those vehicles that deliver essential services. This was to ensure that supply chains and the health service continue to be supported during this time of significant challenge.

On 22 June, I announced a timetable for the planned reinstatement of further vehicle testing services, initially prioritising those vehicles that cannot avail of an exemption, such as first time taxis and buses, vehicles not registered in Northern Ireland and due a test and vehicles whose MOT certificates have expired by more than 12 months, which includes SORN'ed vehicles and those sold by car dealerships. As restrictions ease, and the DVA's capacity to test vehicles increases, more services will be reinstated until such times as normal business resumes.

Before any vehicle testing services are reinstated they will be fully risk assessed to ensure the processes comply with all public health and safety guidance and in consultation with staff and Trade Unions, to ensure the safety of staff and customers during the testing process.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure what park and rides facilities are due to be progressed in this year's budget.

(AQW 5109/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I have allocated £4m for the development of Park and Ride sites in 20/21 and am currently considering my priorities.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on progress on the York Street Interchange project.

(AQW 5118/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I am committed to the progression of the York Street Interchange project ensuring that it is fit for purpose. I am actively considering how it sits with my wider priorities as my department moves to the next steps.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in respect of planning applications for Battery Energy Storage Systems, whether applicants are required to provide details of any dangerous substance that will be stored, or can be produced if there is loss of control of the process.

Ms Mallon: Applicants applying for planning permission are required to provide sufficient information to enable the planning authority to consider and assess relevant material considerations. Where such information is not initially available or becomes apparent following consultation or receipt of representations, it can be requested from the applicant.

Notwithstanding the matters to be addressed as part of a planning application, if an applicant proposes to store hazardous substances, the Planning (Hazardous Substance) (No. 2) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2015 provides the legislative basis for assessing and determining hazardous substance consent. Those regulations require an applicant making an application for hazardous substance consent to provide, among other things, details of each hazardous substance for which consent is sought, including the maximum quantity of each relevant substance proposed to be present. In addition to substances present, and pursuant to part 3 of those regulations, this includes substances that it is reasonable to foresee being generated if there is a loss of control.

I would also refer you to previous Assembly question AQW 2145/17-22.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Infrastructure, given that Northern Ireland Electricity Networks and System Operator for Northern Ireland are private companies who may themselves have an interest in such applications, who are the statutory consultees in respect of planning applications for Battery Energy Storage Systems which address the issue of protecting the public from dangers arising from the generation, transmission, distribution or supply of electricity,

(AQW 5137/17-22)

Ms Mallon: Regulation 13 of the Planning (General Development Procedure) Order (Northern Ireland) 2015 prescribes the consultation requirements on a planning application. The list of statutory consultees is included at Schedule 3 of the Order which also sets out the circumstances in which the council or as the case may be, the Department is required to consult any of them.

When consulted, the Department for Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (DAERA) will provide information on the development's effect on the environment; the Health and Safety Executive for Northern Ireland (HSENI) will provide information on the risk to people; DfI Roads will provide information on highway safety; licensed aerodromes will provide information on airport safeguarding and the Department for Economy (DfE) will provide comment on all energy infrastructure classed as major development.

Dangers related to the storage of hazardous substances above specific thresholds are addressed through the hazardous substance consenting regime wherein, HSENI, Northern Ireland Fire and Rescue Service and DAERA (Industrial Pollution and Radiochemical Inspectorate) will be the statutory consultees and will assess the risk to people and the environment.

Mr Robinson asked the Minister for Infrastructure to outline (i) planned discussions; and (ii) discussions to date with the taxi industry, to help the industry following the COVID-19 pandemic.

Ms Mallon: My remit in relation to taxis is regulatory, and a priority for me during the current public health emergency has been to facilitate the necessary rapid two way communication with the industry on regulatory issues that need to be addressed. My officials and I have been in regular and ongoing contact with the industry, including with individual drivers and operators, augmented by open letters to the industry.

I met with representatives from the taxi industry just prior to the outbreak of COVID-19 and have engaged with representatives during the pandemic to discuss the difficulties faced by the industry. Most recently I met with a delegation of taxi drivers who were making representations on behalf of their industry at Stormont. I will continue to engage with the industry and will continue to do all that is necessary to find solutions to any of the regulatory challenges that emerge and are causing difficulty for taxi drivers during this crisis while continuing to work with Ministerial colleagues to support the industry.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister for Infrastructure, pursuant to AQW 260/17-22, (i) how her Department has quantified what environmental harm has been caused due to her Department's failure to implement the Review of old Minerals Permissions (ROMPs); (ii) whether this failure is in breach of the Environmental Impact Assessment Directive 2014/52/EU; and (iii) for her assessment on whether it threatens compliance with the European Commission's Pilot Case 7640/15/ENVI: Environmental Enforcement in Northern Ireland.

Ms Mallon: The legislative provisions relating to review of old mineral permissions (ROMPs) within the Planning Act (NI) 2011 have not been commenced. This does not constitute a failure against any statutory requirement or timeframe for commencement. There is no assessment of positive or negative impacts of the absence of these legislative provisions.

The requirements of the EIA Directive (as amended) have been met through other legislative provisions in relation to the planning system, primarily through the extant Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations (NI) 2017. There is no requirement under the EIA Directive to commence these legislative provisions. In relation to the EU Pilot Case this is an ongoing investigation and my officials, along with Whitehall colleagues, have continued to work constructively with the European Commission.

I can assure you that I am committed to protecting the environment and I have asked officials in my Department to prepare an options paper regarding ROMPs. This will require an up to date assessment of the operational effectiveness of the legislation, as well as further engagement with stakeholders to consider the practical impacts of ROMPs.

Ms Sheerin asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether she will address the issue facing businesses who use ADR vehicles on an island-wide basis who are being impacted by the lack of ADR testing.

Ms Mallon: From 1 June 2020, the Driver & Vehicle Agency (DVA) introduced a statutory authorisation process that permits the continued use of ADR vehicles on the roads in Northern Ireland, provided strict conditions and control measures are in place for these heavy vehicles.

On 22 June, I announced a timetable for the reinstatement of further vehicle and driver testing services in the coming weeks. I am pleased to advise that DVA intends to resume ADR testing from 20 July and will initially be prioritising vehicles to be used or sold on an island-wide basis and for International transit.

As restrictions ease, and the DVA's capacity to test vehicles increases, more services will be reinstated until such times as normal business resumes.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister for Infrastructure when the consultation process into the Heavy Goods Vehicle traffic embargo through the village of Clady, Co.Tyrone, will be completed and a decision made.

(AQW 5148/17-22)

Ms Mallon: Following the formal consultation on the introduction of a 7.5 tonne weight restriction through Clady village in 2019, a number of responses were received from local businesses owners who expressed concerns as to the potential impact of the proposed restrictions on their operations.

Further consultation and consideration of the issues is ongoing before a decision is made in relation to this proposal.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Infrastructure, given the pressures on the DVLA and vehicle test centres, whether she will consider a change to legislation to reduce the MOT exemption age of vehicles of historical interest.

(AQW 5160/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I announced on 2 July 2020 that I intend to introduce the exemption from periodic roadworthiness testing for Vehicles of Historic Interest in Northern Ireland. This exemption, which will align NI legislation with that in GB, will apply to those vehicles that were first registered at least 40 years ago, are no longer in production and have not been significantly modified. The exemption will not apply to those vehicles that are still in public service. I have instructed my officials to begin the process of progressing the legislation through the Assembly with the aim that the regulations can be laid and brought in to operation as soon as possible.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether a full economic appraisal has been completed for the Narrow Water Bridge project.

(AQW 5166/17-22)

Ms Mallon: As outlined recently, I remain committed to advancing the Narrow Water Bridge Project. My officials have been working to update an economic appraisal of options considered in respect of future development of Narrow Water.

I look forward to discussing the outcome of this work with my counterpart in the South to consider how best we can maximise the tourism potential of this cross border region whilst protecting the natural environment in an area of historic and ecological significance.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the average length of time to action a repair request for (i) streetlighting; and (ii) potholes, broken down by constituency.

Ms Mallon: My Department does not maintain records by constituency.

Article 8 of the Roads (Northern Ireland) Order 1993 places a duty on my Department to maintain all public roads in reasonable condition. We fulfil this duty by complying with a set of Maintenance Standards for Safety. These standards are designed to ensure a consistent service level across the network and safe highways for all road users.

Our current standards specify a range of response times for the repair of road defects, depending on factors such as their severity and the volume of traffic on the road. They range from one calendar day for the most serious defects, to periods of five working days and four weeks for less serious defects. The least serious defects only have to be repaired in the next work programme for that route. If it becomes apparent that the relevant response time cannot be met, then my Department has the option of installing signs to warn road users of a possible danger.

For street lighting repairs, we also have a range of response times: 1 hour for emergencies; 24 hours for urgent repairs (normally group outages); and five working days for normal outage repairs.

I can assure the Member following my allocation of funding for this year, I have directed officials to work to repair our roads and street lights as quickly as possible. I am also pleased to inform the Member that I have allocated funding to allow my Department to provide a full street lighting maintenance programme for the current year.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in relation to planning applications for Battery Energy Storage Systems, (i) whether they are assessed using the Control of Major Accident Hazards Regulations; and (ii) if not, how.

Ms Mallon: The Control of Major Accident Hazards Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2015 are enforced by the Health and Safety Executive NI (HSENI) and Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA). My Department does not use these regulations to assess planning applications.

Where hazardous substance consent is required in connection with a planning application, applications for consent are assessed against the Planning (Hazardous Substance) (No. 2) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2015.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail plans to adapt public transport provision to reflect a likely permanent increase in remote working following the COVID-19 pandemic.[R]

(AQW 5190/17-22)

Ms Mallon: It is evident that COVID-19 has had a severe impact on our public transport service and is reflected in the suppressed passenger numbers being experienced by Translink. This is expected as the NI Executive Recovery Plan to COVID-19 continues to promote working from home which impacts on our commuter services. As we move through the Recovery Plan, we are slowly seeing an increase in passenger numbers and my focus is to continue to ensure that our public transport network has sufficient capacity to facilitate social distancing with appropriate mitigations to ensure the safety of passengers and staff. In line with this, I secured Executive agreement to make face coverings mandatory on our public transport network from 10th July 2020, adding an additional layer of protection for passengers and staff from covid 19.

In respect of future plans for public transport, it is too early to determine what the long term impact of COVID-19 will be on our public transport network. However I can confirm that my officials and Translink will continue to analyse passenger demand with a view to responding to increased demand and informing future plans for our network. Whilst COVID 19 has changed the context within which we operate, my priority remains to deliver increased connectivity with a clear focus on public transport and active travel. In addition to planning for the future, that requires immediate action to respond to the unprecedented impact of COVID 19 on passenger numbers and the financial viability of our public transport network and I welcome the commitment of Executive colleagues in this regard.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) capital spend; and (ii) resource spend on (a) public transport infrastructure; and (b) roads infrastructure, broken down by the last three financial years and the budgeted spend for 2020/21.

[R]

Ms Mallon: Details of resource and capital expenditure on roads infrastructure and public transport infrastructure for the past 3 years and the budget for 2020-21 have been provided in the tables below.

	Expenditure			Budget
	2017-18 £m	2018-19 £m	2019-20 £m	2020-21 £m

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether her Department intends for the Newry Southern Relief Road to have an opening bridge.

(AQW 5204/17-22)

Ms Mallon: Newry Southern Relief Road is one of the infrastructure projects within the Belfast Region City Deal being taken forward by my Department. Whilst the development of the project has been taken forward on the basis of a fixed bridge, I have yet to consider this matter and an opening bridge has not been ruled out at this stage.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on her Department's plans to increase the provision of (i) cycle paths; and (ii) pedestrianised walkways, in East Antrim.

Ms Mallon: The £20 million funding for blue / green infrastructure will support our communities through transformation, promoting active travel and shaping our places to live in the new normal. This funding will be community led and departmentally supported.

I am keen to see progress on better walking and cycling infrastructure throughout Northern Ireland and am currently considering the basis upon which funding may be allocated for cycling infrastructure. My Department is working in partnership with Councils and stakeholders, in identifying and taking forward schemes that deliver on our Programme for Government outcomes and ensure lasting change for people across the North.

Specifically in East Antrim, my officials are currently developing proposals to deliver a shared use footway / cycleway along the existing hard shoulder on the Belfast Road, Larne (from Shanes Hill to Pound Street) to improve pedestrian and cycle links to the Millbrook Park and Ride. I am keen to work with the council to develop more active travel initiatives in the East Antrim area.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether she will consider removing the requirement for vintage and antique cars to have an MOT carried out.

(AQW 5212/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I announced on 2 July 2020 that I intend to introduce the exemption from periodic roadworthiness testing for Vehicles of Historic Interest in Northern Ireland. This exemption, which will align NI legislation with that in GB, will apply to those vehicles that were first registered at least 40 years ago, are no longer in production and have not been significantly modified. The exemption will not apply to those vehicles that are still in public service. I have instructed my officials to begin the process of progressing the legislation through the Assembly with the aim that the new regulations can be laid and brought in to operation as soon as possible.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister for Infrastructure when she plans to begin engagement with key stakeholders regarding the Newry Southern Relief Road.

(AQW 5231/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I had arranged to meet with key stakeholders in Newry regarding the Newry Southern Relief Road prior to the Covid crisis. As a result of lock down all meetings and visits had to be postponed. As COVID-19 restrictions are being lifted, all of my meetings are now being rescheduled and I am keen to meet with key stakeholders to discuss this important project.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on her proposals regarding (i) investment in greenways; and (ii) investment in the Strathfoyle Greenway, Derry.

Ms Mallon: The £20 million funding for blue / green infrastructure will support our communities through this transformation, promoting active travel and reshaping our places to live in the new normal. This funding will be community led and departmentally supported. In partnership we can ensure lasting change for people across the North.

I am still considering the basis upon which funding may be allocated for greenway infrastructure but it is important that schemes will deliver on our Programme for Government outcomes. I will make a further announcement shortly.

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister for Infrastructure for a date for the resumption of driving tests.

Ms Mallon: On 22 June, I announced plans to reinstate some driver testing services in July for those licence categories, where testing can be done safely in line with PHA advice and guidance on social distancing requirements. This includes motorbike driver testing, planned from 6 July and tests for drivers of buses, tractors and module 4 CPC tests for lorry, bus and coach drivers, planned from 20 July. I have also confirmed that Driver Theory Tests will be reinstated from 6 July.

The DVA is working on proposals to reinstate practical driving tests for cars and lorries as soon as possible but there are important public health considerations to be addressed for staff and customers before these can safely resume. I recognise the inconvenience this is causing to customers and as soon as a date to resume these services has been confirmed I will ensure this is immediately communicated to our customers.

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister for Infrastructure when she plans to increase the number of operating hours for the Strangford Lough Ferry with a view to returning to normal service.

Ms Mallon: The ferry service has been disrupted due to a reduction in crew availability as a result of shielding and Covid-19 pandemic.

On Monday 6 April I introduced a reduced timetable, with a last sailing from Portaferry at 5:15pm, to provide a more reliable and sustainable service for passengers. Since then improvements in crew availability have made it possible to extend hours incrementally, to provide a last sailing from Portaferry at 6:15pm from 26 May, and 7:15pm from 2 July. Regrettably due to the prevailing circumstances arising from the ongoing Covid-19 crisis, it is still not possible at this time to restore the full normal service.

While passenger numbers have gradually increased since early April, they are currently approximately 50% lower than normal levels. My officials will continue to monitor passenger demand and crew availability over the coming weeks and, whilst still cognisant of the Covid-19 constraints, will be making every effort to bring about the restoration of the normal timetable as soon as it is practicable to do so.

Officials will continue to ensure that information on the ferry service remains up to date, through the Strangford Lough Ferry Service text messaging service (Text 'FERRY' to 67300 to subscribe), the NIDirect webpage; www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/strangford-ferry-timetable, the Department's social media page and the TrafficwatchNI website.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in light of last week's repeated pollution incidents from the A6 construction works, to outline (i) why this is still happening; (ii) the immediate action she will take to stop further pollution events; and (iii) whether she will commission an urgent independent scientific review to assess the immediate and longer term effects from this sedimentation on protected migrating fish, their spawning and nursery habitats in the River Faughan and Tributaries Special Area of Conservation.

Ms Mallon: I have been advised that the Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA) is currently undertaking investigations into a number of reported pollution incidents in the vicinity of the A6 Dungiven to Drumahoe Dualling scheme, and until this work is complete you will hopefully appreciate it would be premature and inappropriate to make any detailed comments.

However, I can assure you that my officials continue to be proactive in managing the environmental aspects of this project and are working closely with NIEA to ensure the contractor minimises the risk of pollution incidents.

I can also advise that in response to the previous pollution incidents, officials from my Department have already been engaging with fisheries and aquatic ecology experts, NIEA and Loughs Agency to consider the merits of carrying out a survey on the current condition of the fisheries habitat within the River Faughan catchment. This would be in addition to the baseline survey, which was carried out prior to the commencement of construction, and the commitment to carry out a post-construction survey.

Mr Chambers asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether NI Water can explain the occasional appearance of sanitary waste on the beach at Shore Street and Lemon's Wharf, Donaghadee.

Ms Mallon: I am advised by NI Water that, on occasion, historic debris can be stirred up from the seabed and deposited on the beach at Short Street and Lemon's Wharf. It generally occurs during periods of intense rain. NI Water has checked its assets at this location and has located no latent debris which would contribute to these unfortunate incidents.

On occasion NI Water has undertaken beach clean-ups that have been completed with approval from NIEA and NI Water has asked its contractors to carry out a litter pick up as a matter of urgency.

NI Water fights a daily battle with blocked sewers and out of sewer flooding when people flush inappropriate items such as baby wipes, cotton buds and sanitary products. Blockages and subsequent spills are completely avoidable if everyone would adopt a simple habit of binning everything other than the 3P's, pee, poo and paper.

Mr McGuigan asked the Minister for Infrastructure what plans her Department has to improve cycle routes and infrastructure in North Antrim.

Ms Mallon: The £20 million funding for blue / green infrastructure will support our communities through transformation, promoting active travel and shaping our places to live in the new normal. This funding will be community led and departmentally supported.

I am keen to see progress on better walking and cycling infrastructure throughout Northern Ireland and am currently considering the basis upon which funding may be allocated for cycling infrastructure. My Department is working in partnership with Councils and stakeholders, in identifying and taking forward schemes that deliver on our Programme for Government outcomes and ensure lasting change for people across the North.

Specifically in North Antrim my Department is currently completing 1,300m of shared footway / cycleway at Grove Road, Ballymena and work is due to commence shortly on 1,400m of shared pedestrian/cycleway at Fry's Road, Ballymena representing an investment in the area of around £0.5 million. Further schemes are being considered for delivery as part of my Department's Active Travel programme, including a shared foot/cycleway link to the St Patricks Barracks development in Ballymena along the Larne Link Road from Crebilly Road.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the number of taxi drivers currently licensed, broken down by taxi class.

Ms Mallon: The figures requested are National Statistics, in accordance with the Statistics and Registration Service Act 2007. The latest quarterly statistics were published on 27 May 2020 and detail the position as of 31 March 2020.

The information requested is included in the tables below.

Licensed Taxi Drivers

---------------------------------------	-------

Licensed Taxi Vehicles

Class B	478
Class C	1,240
Class D	145
Total Number of Licensed Taxi Vehicles	8,576

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister for Infrastructure why there has been no progress regarding the extension of planning permission at risk of expiring during COVID-19.
(AQW 5440/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I have, and continue, to give this matter careful consideration. In line with the Executive's Recovery Pathway, construction work has largely recommenced and permissions can therefore be started. I am also mindful of the need for the construction sector to access as much work as possible as quickly as it can, and that the option of renewing a planning permission before it expires is also available.

At this point in time, I believe the case for primary legislation to amend the Planning Act (NI) 2011 to extend extant planning permissions has reduced. I am aware of your concern about renewal applications. My Chief Planner has written to the Councils throughout this crisis to provide advice and guidance. In response to this concern he wrote to the councils in March, and again in May, advising that, if unable to commence the permission, the best option is for applicants to seek to renew before expiry. He also asked councils to use their best efforts to process and determine these as expeditiously as possible.

I will continue to do all I can to ensure that the planning system can continue to operate as effectively as possible and that the impacts of this pandemic are kept to a minimum.

Mr Robison asked the Minister for Infrastructure, as plastic screens have been installed and passengers are requested to sit in the rear of the taxi, whether taxi passengers and drivers will be required to wear masks, in common with other forms of public transport.

(AQW 5559/17-22)

Ms Mallon: The Executive has agreed that the cross-departmental group established to consider face coverings will engage with the taxi industry and tour coach operators to explore extending this requirement to them. While the mandatory nature at this stage has not been extended to these sectors, it is important to note the public health guidance strongly recommends wearing face coverings in enclosed spaces where social distancing is not possible.

Department of Justice

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Justice whether her Department will introduce trauma informed practice within the Northern Ireland Probation Service.

(AQW 5053/17-22)

Mrs Long (The Minister of Justice): The introduction of trauma informed practice within the Northern Ireland Probation Service is an operational matter for the Probation Board for Northern Ireland (PBNI). I am committed to respecting the operational independence of PBNI. You may, therefore, wish to direct your question to the PBNI.

However, PBNI has advised that in order to contribute to the rehabilitation of service users, a model of trauma informed practice has been implemented. This has involved PBNI establishing a Trauma-Informed Practice Working Group in 2019 to oversee the implementation of trauma informed practice within PBNI, delivering trauma awareness training to over 80% of all staff in 2019-20, facilitating a North / South conference on the theme of 'Trauma Informed Practice' to share research, practice and learning with criminal justice partners across the island of Ireland and being a lead partner in an international trauma research group to inform and contribute to the evidence based practice on trauma work within PBNI.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister of Justice, following recent publication of research by Parenting NI which found a small number of parents are using the COVID-19 situation as an excuse to reduce or remove a fathers' access to their children, what measures are being implemented to ensure parents have their access rights upheld.

Mrs Long: Arrangements for children are among the most difficult cases that come before the courts and the current health emergency has no doubt created additional anxieties for parents seeking to maintain contact with their children. Enforcement of contact orders is, however, primarily a matter for the judiciary and, as the Parenting NI Research noted, the Lord Chief Justice issued detailed guidance on contact arrangements during the pandemic. The guidance provided that normal arrangements should be maintained wherever possible and that any changes agreed as a result of health concerns should adhere to the spirit of normal arrangements by, for example, ensuring remote contact.

It is disappointing to hear that some parents have not adhered to arrangements, most particularly because of the potential impact on the welfare of the children. I hope however that parents who have been affected are reassured by the Lord Chief Justice's guidance which notes the court will consider whether each parent acted reasonably and sensibly when considering future orders and that parents may be able to make up time missed with their children.

Parents who feel concerned about contact should also be assured that they can still request a hearing. On receipt of the requisite forms the judge will determine whether the matter is urgent or necessary and will either deal with the matter administratively or arrange a hearing which will generally take place remotely.

More generally, my Department has been working with the Department of Health to identify measures which might be put in place to improve relations between parents and aid early resolution of disputes so as to reduce acrimony and type of negative behaviours referred to in the Parenting NI research.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister of Justice for an update on a proposed new build prison at HMP Magilligan.

(AQW 5103/17-22)

Mrs Long: Work is ongoing on the development of a revised Outline Business Case (OBC) for the Redevelopment of Magilligan Prison. The revised OBC will reflect alternative delivery models which were considered as part of the Estates 2020 discussion document which was launched in December 2018.

I am committed to the redevelopment of Magilligan Prison and retaining a prison at that site. However, the delivery of the Magilligan Redevelopment Project is dependent on the provision of capital funding which will be considered as part of wider Executive budget discussions.

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Justice to detail the plans in place to allow safe visits by members of a prisoner's family. (AQW 5107/17-22)

Mrs Long: The Northern Ireland Prison Service (NIPS) have taken a range of necessary and proportionate steps to keep people in custody and staff safe and to minimise the risk of infection during the coronavirus pandemic. This included the suspension of visits on 23 March and the subsequent introduction of virtual visits.

Whilst virtual visits have proved to be very successful and popular, the Prison Service recognises that in-person visits are important in maintaining family contact and supporting rehabilitation and resettlement.

NIPS is actively planning how visits can be gradually re-introduced in a way that continues to mitigate against the significant potential risks if people in custody become infected. This may include changes to the frequency of visits and the introduction of measures to mitigate infection risks and support social distancing.

I fully understand that the families of people in custody are keen to see them again in-person, I think it is correct and that they will understand that the most important priority is health and wellbeing.

Once the plan for the re-introduction of visits has been completed these arrangements will be communicated to people in custody and their families.

Miss Woods asked the Minister of Justice (i) how many children aged 10 to 16 years old have been convicted of an offence in the last ten years; and (ii) for a breakdown of the figures by (a) age; (b) year; and (c) offence.

Mrs Long: The information requested, so far as is possible, has been provided in the following tables. The first set of tables below relate to children convicted at court. Due to the small numbers concerned in some cases, to prevent the identification of individuals, some figures have been suppressed. Additionally, figures have been provided at offence category level, in relation to the category of the main offence at conviction and, for offence type tables, figures for defendants aged 10 – 13 have been aggregated. Over the period, the number of children dealt with at court has more than halved.

Over the period 2010 – 2019, many young people in the justice system were dealt with by way of out of court disposal, such as cautions, informed warnings or youth Conference Plans. Figures for numbers of cases where an out of court disposal was issued to a defendant aged 10 – 16 have been provided in the following table. Again there has been a significant fall (over 64%) in the number of children being dealt with through such diversionary disposals. Much of this is due to the commitment of my Department and criminal justice partners to early intervention and targeted support for children at risk of offending, with the aim of keeping them out of the formal justice system as far as possible whilst addressing their underlying needs.

Ms S Bradley asked the Minister of Justice to provide an update on the effectiveness of the advice issued by the Lord Chief Justice in relation to the safe management of contact orders during COVID-19.

Mrs Long: The guidance approved by the Lord Chief Justice includes advice regarding contact arrangements and recognises that it is important that children should maintain their usual routine of spending time with each of their parents in compliance with a Contact Order unless to do so would put the child, or others at risk with regards to Government and Public Health Authority (PHA) guidance.

The decision whether a child is to move between parental homes is for the child's parents to make after a sensible assessment of the circumstances, including the child's present health, the risk of infection and the presence of any recognised vulnerable individuals in one household or the other.

The Lord Chief Justice has suggested that if direct contact cannot be achieved alternative arrangements should be made to establish and maintain regular contact between the child and the other parent, for example remotely – by Face-Time, WhatsApp Face-Time, Skype, Zoom or other video connection or, if that is not possible, by telephone.

Where a party to the proceedings feels a matter of contact is urgent they may request a hearing by lodging the requisite Form. On receipt of the form the judge will determine whether the matter is urgent or necessary and if it can be dealt with administratively or will require a hearing.

The Lord Chief Justice has initiated a programme of work to incrementally recover court business. This is being informed by Public Health Guidance. These arrangements will be kept under review and will be revisited as circumstances develop.

The effectiveness of these arrangements is a matter for the independent judiciary and it would not be appropriate for me to comment.

Mr Beattie asked the Minister of Justice to outline (i) what action her Department will be taking to address Parental Alienation and contact denial as it pertains to the justice system; (ii) what actions her Department will be taking to ensure that custody and visitation court orders are upheld; and (iii) how her Department intends to address how legal aid is being used in the family courts to stall such court orders.

Mrs Long: Policy on alienation is a matter for the Department of Health and where it is suspected in family proceedings, it is for social workers to advise the court which will consider evidence of alienation alongside all other evidence when deciding what is in the best interests of the child. I understand the Department of Health is already taking steps to increase awareness of alienation as part of the new cross-departmental Family and Parenting Support Strategy. I will continue to work collaboratively with Minister Swann to scope and support any future actions including around early intervention. Although enforcement of contact orders is largely a matter for the judiciary, I hope early interventions initiatives will reduce difficulties around adherence to contact arrangements in the longer term. I expect the Domestic Abuse and Family Proceeding Bill will also help. The Bill makes behaviour that is coercive or controlling or which amounts to psychological or emotional abuse a criminal offence. Abusive behaviour can be indirect and where the victim is under 18, a child sees, hears or is present during an incident of abusive behaviour or is used to abuse a victim, the Bill will provide for the offences to be treated as aggravated and increased sentencing may apply.

The Department is also working on reform of legal aid remuneration and has initiated a new project to research and develop a robust fee structure, focusing on the introduction of standardised fees for cases in relation to Article 8 and 50 of The (Northern Ireland) Order 1995 at the Family Proceedings Court and High Court. One of the key drivers of the Family Fees Project is the Access to Justice Review, which recommended the introduction of standard fees as a measure to incentivise parties and legal representatives to secure early agreement while dis-incentivising protracted court proceedings and against issues being brought back to court unnecessarily.

Mr Beattie asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 4790/17-22, to advise (i) when this review will begin, and (ii) how long the review will take.

(AQW 5254/17-22)

Mrs Long: It is envisaged the review will begin later this month and conclude in October.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister of Justice for an update on the future of Castledearg police station.

(AQW 5256/17-22)

Mrs Long: The management of the PSNI estate is an operational matter for the Chief Constable, for which he is accountable to the Northern Ireland Policing Board. I am committed to respecting the operational independence of the Chief Constable and the role of the Northern Ireland Policing Board.

You may, therefore, wish to direct your question to the PSNI.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Justice to outline (i) when the findings of the Consultation on Hate Crime legislation in Northern Ireland will be published; and (ii) how soon after will she bring forward hate crime legislation, specifically race hate crime, to the Assembly.

(AQW 5264/17-22)

Mrs Long: Judge Desmond Marrinan is undertaking an independent Review of Hate Crime Legislation in Northern Ireland, on behalf of my Department. He is currently analysing responses to his public consultation, which ran from January to April 2020, public outreach events and stakeholder meetings. I expect to receive Judge Marrinan's final report at the end of November 2020.

The remit of the review includes consideration of whether existing hate crime legislation represents the most effective approach for the justice system to deal with criminal conduct motivated by hatred, malice, ill-will or prejudice. This includes hate crime and abuse, including that which takes place on-line, for all current protected categories of hate crime which includes race as well as any new categories that may be recommended.

Any recommendations relating to devolved matters, that require new legislation or amendments to current legislation, will be considered further and steps to bring forward legislative changes will be scheduled into the Department's legislative programme in due course. Given the timescales involved, it is unlikely that any legislation will be brought to the Assembly during the current mandate.

It is possible that not all recommendations will require new or amended legislation. I will want to consider these and, where practicable, implement them as soon as possible.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Justice how are child sexual crimes recorded as an online offence and whether she believes this system is working to its full potential.

(AQW 5265/17-22)

Mrs Long: Recording of crime is a matter for the PSNI. However, the Criminal Justice Inspection Northern Ireland report into child sexual exploitation, published on 30 June, includes two strategic recommendations relating to how the criminal justice agencies identify and protect children and understand the scale and nature of sexual exploitation in Northern Ireland. I will ensure that our response to the recommendation involves reviewing matters such as collection, recording and publication of information in relation to relevant offences.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Justice how many prisoners, broken down by proscribed organisation, were released on license as a result of the Belfast Agreement.

Mrs Long: Prisoner releases resulting from the Belfast (Good Friday) Agreement are provided for by the Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998. This legislation, and the appointment of the Sentence Review Commissioners under the terms of the Act to oversee and regulate the early release of qualifying prisoners and to advise on the subsequent recall of those so released, remained reserved matters when policing and justice functions were devolved to the Northern Ireland Assembly on 12 April 2010. Such releases and recalls are therefore a matter for the Secretary of State for Northern Ireland.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Justice whether she will give consideration to making child sexual exploitation a specific offence.

(AQW 5268/17-22)

Mrs Long: As illustrated in the report of Criminal Justice Inspection Northern Ireland into child sexual exploitation (CSE), published on 30 June, there are a wide range of offences which can be perpetrated within the context of child sexual exploitation. In response to an earlier report by Professor Karen Marshall into CSE, the Department consulted on a range of legislative measures to strengthen the law and better protect children from sexual abuse. A summary of responses to that consultation has been prepared and will be published as soon as possible. It is my intention to include some of the proposals in a Justice Bill for introduction later in this mandate.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Justice how many prisoners have been released on compassionate grounds as a result of a terminal diagnosis, since 1998.

Mrs Long: Three prisoners have been released on compassionate grounds as a result of a terminal illness diagnosis since 1998.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Justice (i) how many prisoners have been released on licence in each of the last five years; (ii) how many have had their licences revoked, resulting in a return to prison; and (iii) for what offence(s).

(AQW 5270/17-22)

Mrs Long: The number of (i) prisoners released on licence in each of the last five years and (ii) the number that had their licence revoked over the same period, resulting in a return to prison, are outlined in the table below.

	Year
Number released on licence	655	630	532	766	509
Number returned to prison following revocation of licence	176	185	200	185	200

With regard to part (iii) of your question, offenders are not returned to prison exclusively on the basis of further offending or alleged offending. The Department of Justice revokes a licence wherein it is satisfied that this is necessary to protect the public from the risk of harm or serious harm. A range of factors underpin each decision to revoke a licence. Accordingly, an answer to this part of the question cannot be provided.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Justice, of those prisoners released on licence under the Belfast Agreement, (i) how many have had their licence revoked; (ii) when the licence was revoked; and (iii) for what offence(s), broken down by proscribed organisation.

(AQW 5271/17-22)

Mrs Long: Prisoner releases resulting from the Belfast (Good Friday) Agreement are provided for by the Northern Ireland (Sentences) Act 1998. This legislation, and the appointment of the Sentence Review Commissioners under the terms of the Act to oversee and regulate the early release of qualifying prisoners and to advise on the subsequent recall of those so released, remained reserved matters when policing and justice functions were devolved to the Northern Ireland Assembly on 12 April 2010. Such releases and recalls are therefore a matter for the Secretary of State for Northern Ireland.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Justice whether she will undertake to review how statistics on sexual crimes against children are published.

(AQW 5300/17-22)

Mrs Long: Recording of crime is a matter for the PSNI. However, the Criminal Justice Inspection Northern Ireland report into child sexual exploitation, published on 30 June, includes two strategic recommendations relating to how the criminal justice agencies identify and protect children and understand the scale and nature of sexual exploitation in Northern Ireland. I will ensure that our response to the recommendation involves reviewing matters such as collection, recording and publication of information in relation to relevant offences.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Justice to detail how many offences were recorded for the year 2019/20 as sexual offences against children with an online crime flag.

(AQW 5301/17-22)

Mrs Long: In 2019/20 there were 265 sexual offences where the victim was under 18 and where the offence was flagged as occurring online.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Justice to detail how many offences the PSNI have recorded on sexual communication with a child, over the last five years; broken down by year.

(AQW 5302/17-22)

Mrs Long: The information requested is provided in the following table.

	2015/16	2016/17	2017/18	2018/19	2019/20
Sexual Communication with a Child	35	19	82	127	186

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Justice to outline work undertaken by her Department to combat Online Child Sexual Abuse Activist Groups over the last five years; broken down by year.

(AQW 5303/17-22)

Mrs Long: The Department does not have a role in combating activist groups. The investigation of online sexual crime is a matter for the PSNI. I fully support the professional skills and knowledge that the police apply daily in safeguarding our young people and bringing the perpetrators of sexual crime to justice.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Justice to detail how many obscene publication offences against children were recorded for the year 2019/20.

Mrs Long: There were 451 obscene publication offences against children recorded during 2019/20.

Miss Woods asked the Minister of Justice (i) for her assessment of the level of race hate crime in Northern Ireland; and (ii) to detail her Department's strategy to address it.

(AQW 5316/17-22)

Mrs Long: Hate crime in any form is unacceptable, including racist hate crime. Unfortunately there are some people who, instead of showing mutual respect, hold prejudices or hatred towards others because of their colour, language or culture. Addressing race hate, which can manifest into crime, is a wider societal issue requiring collaborative approach and partnership working across government and the voluntary sector to increase reporting and support and reduce harm and vulnerability.

PSNI publish statistics on Incidents and Crimes with a Hate Motivation. The most recent statistics up to March 2020 (published in May 2020) show the level of hate crime with a racist motivation in Northern Ireland.

Total Number of Incidents		Total Number of Crimes
April 2018 – March 2019	April 2019 – March 2020	April 2018 – March 2019	April 2019 – March 2020

Whilst there is a lower level of racist hate crimes reported in 2019/20, following an increase in 2018/2019, I appreciate that this does not necessarily indicate that the level of racist hate crime is reducing as under-reporting continues to be a challenge.

To support and encourage victims in reporting incidents, the Hate Crime Advocacy Service, which is funded jointly by PSNI and my Department, continues to provide emotional and practical support to all victims of Hate Crime and Hate Incidents. Two advocates are specifically employed within the Migrant Centre to provide this support to victims of racist attacks and to assist their reporting of such incidents to the police.

At a strategic level I am committed to delivering Outcome 7 of the draft Programme for Government 2016-2021 (PfG) – We have a safe community where we respect the law and each other - including in relation to working across government to develop new approaches to dealing with harm and vulnerability, including hate crime.

In delivering this commitment, the Department of Justice appointed Judge Desmond Marrinan to carry out an independent Review of Hate Crime Legislation in May 2019. This review will help to ensure effective legislation is in place and fit for purpose to protect victims of hate crime, including race hate crime. Judge Marrinan is due to report back to me by end November 2020 with his findings and recommendations.

To ensure the effective connectivity between the strategic and operational response to community safety, my Department has recently developed a Community Safety Framework which focuses on the collective delivery of safer community objectives set out in the PfG and partner strategies. This work is overseen by a newly established multi-agency Community Safety Board which was established in April 2020 to provide a responsive, adaptable and, where appropriate, placed based approach to community safety issues.

This Framework and delivery model will provide a link with existing structures such as the multi-agency Hate Crime Delivery Group and Policing and Community Safety Partnerships, to ensure, for example, the provision of problem-solving and locally based solutions.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister of Justice, in light of the persistent anti-social behaviour that residents in the Holylands area of South Belfast face, and after another weekend of severe disturbance, whether she intends to bring forward a community trigger mechanism for a review into the statutory response to anti-social behaviour, similar to that under Sections 104 and 105 of the Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014 in England and Wales.

Mrs Long: My Department recognises the negative impact which anti-social behaviour (ASB) can have on our communities and in particular the ongoing distress caused to those residents in the Holylands and wider University area due to the behaviour of a persistent minority.

You will be aware of the work that my Department is taking forward, in conjunction with other partners, to review legislative powers to address ASB which are available in other jurisdictions and to consider their appropriateness to be introduced in Northern Ireland.

Views on the introduction of a statutory power to create a community trigger mechanism were not sought as part of the consultation process which focused on powers for relevant agencies. As noted in the Consultation Response document - summary of responses - published in December 2019, four respondents, including the Green Party, referred to consideration of the community trigger power. This provides victims of anti-social behaviour the power to require agencies to carry out a case review to the anti-social behaviour they reported where they feel they did not get a satisfactory response.

The policy lead for a number of the legislative powers included in the consultation sits within other Departments, for example noise powers, closures powers and bye-laws prohibiting the consumption of alcohol in designated places. Therefore work to process the findings of the legislative review is being taken forward on a collaborative basis by a newly formed multi agency Anti-social Behaviour Delivery Group, which is led by my Department. That Group will consider a range of necessary powers based on evidence, including the Community Trigger, to manage the operational response to ASB.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister of Justice to outline how her Department is addressing (i) anti-social behaviour; (ii) racism; and (iii) sectarianism in East Derry.

Mrs Long: I recognise the harm anti-social behaviour (ASB), racism and sectarianism can do to communities and individuals, and the importance of partnership working to deliver a swift and co-ordinated response to problematic behaviours before they needlessly get out of control.

At a strategic level, my Department seeks to address these issues by taking a preventative approach including promoting lawfulness and educating individuals on the consequences of risk taking behaviour; by addressing volume crime and ASB, recognising the harmful effect sustained incidents can have to peoples mental and physical health, as well as loss of confidence in community and individual engagement; by addressing the harm and vulnerability caused and working with agencies uniquely placed to identify those most vulnerable in society and who require protection; and through enforcement via the provision of necessary powers and tools to the relevant agencies, to be used where prevention and targeted interventions have not worked or are not appropriate due to the severity or nature of the incident.

At a local level, my Department provides funding to Policing and Community Safety Partnerships (PCSPs) with £363,256.38 allocated for 2020/21 to Causeway Coast and Glens PCSP to tackle the community safety issues identified by it through collective working and sharing of information. This funding will assist this area in developing planned, purposeful and structured interventions to address ASB, racism and sectarianism in their local area in conjunction with communities, statutory, community and voluntary organisations.

For example, I understand this work includes the establishment of a Causeway Response Network to develop early interventions to address ASB incidents and the underlying factors of this behaviour, such as alcohol and drug consumption; working with local Community Planning on a programme of embedding a culture of lawfulness and improving confidence in the rule of law; the formation of a multi-agency Support Hub which helps people identified as vulnerable access the right support at the right time to improve their situation and wellbeing; takes practical action by identifying and removing racist and sectarian graffiti and introducing Neighbourhood Watch initiatives; and works alongside the Causeway Coast and Glens Good Relations Programme to ensure community engagement and address race and sectarian issues.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice to outline what enforcement takes place regarding the breaking and implementation of court orders with regard to parental contact.

Mrs Long: The welfare of the child is the paramount consideration in family courts.

The guidance approved by the Lord Chief Justice includes advice regarding contact arrangements and recognises that it is important that children should maintain their usual routine of spending time with each of their parents in compliance with a

Contact Order unless to do so would put the child, or others at risk with regards to Government and Public Health Authority (PHA) guidance.

The decision whether a child is to move between parental homes is for the child's parents to make after a sensible assessment of the circumstances, including the child's present health, the risk of infection and the presence of any recognised vulnerable individuals in one household or the other.

The Lord Chief Justice has suggested that if direct contact cannot be achieved alternative arrangements should be made to establish and maintain regular contact between the child and the other parent, for example remotely – by Face-Time, WhatsApp Face-Time, Skype, Zoom or other video connection or, if that is not possible, by telephone.

Where a party to the proceedings feels a matter of contact is urgent they may request a hearing by lodging the requisite form. On receipt of the form the judge will determine whether the matter is urgent or necessary and if it can be dealt with administratively or will require a hearing.

Breach of contact orders made under the Children (Northern Ireland) Order 1995 can be dealt with by way of contempt of court proceedings or initiated under enforcement powers in the Magistrates' Courts (Northern Ireland) Order 1981.

The guidance approved by the Lord Chief Justice states that if any court directed contact arrangements are missed or found to be unreasonable, the court may take this into consideration when making further orders, and it may be possible to 'make up' time with the child after the restrictions are lifted.

The Lord Chief Justice has initiated a programme of work to incrementally recover court business. This is being informed by Public Health Guidance. These arrangements will be kept under review and will be revisited as circumstances develop.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice what consideration has been given to the mental wellbeing of children and parents who have care orders in place and have had no physical contact during COVID-19 restrictions.

Mrs Long: The welfare of the child is the paramount consideration in family courts.

The guidance approved by the Lord Chief Justice includes advice regarding contact arrangements and recognises that it is important that children should maintain their usual routine of spending time with each of their parents in compliance with a Contact Order unless to do so would put the child, or others at risk with regards to Government and Public Health Authority (PHA) guidance.

Mr Stewart asked the Minister of Justice, in light of the COVID-19 restrictions, what consideration has been given to those who have had a safe driving course within their sentence which can no longer be carried out due to classes being cancelled.

Mrs Long: The Courses for Drink Drive Offenders Scheme is provided for under Articles 36 to 39 of the Road Traffic Offenders (NI) Order 1996. Courses in Northern Ireland are delivered by a service provider under a contract with the Department for Infrastructure (DfI).

Upon application by an offender in court, the Judge may order that a driving disqualification period be reduced upon completion of a 'Drink Drive Rehabilitation' course. However this is only where the court is satisfied that a place on a suitable course is available to the offender. Unfortunately there is nothing within the legislative parameters that would permit the court to extend the time to complete the course to enable applicants to defer their participation.

DfI have advised that under the present Covid-19 restrictions the service provider is unable to facilitate any rehabilitation courses at this time. If an offender receives a certificate of non-compliance from the service provider there is provision in the legislation that this may be appealed to the magistrates' court.

It is understood that the 'Drink Drive Rehabilitation Scheme' may be available again to new entrants from the 3 August 2020 subject to confirmation by DfI and the service provider.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice (i) for clarification on how remote family cases are frequently being listed and immediately adjourned; (ii) if heard, are also being adjourned; and (iii) the reasoning for listing such cases.

(AQW 5446/17-22)

Mrs Long: The Lord Chief Justice has initiated a programme of work to incrementally recover court business. Administrative reviews are being phased in to increase the types of Children Order proceedings and Matrimonial cases being dealt with. Cases are listed for review and following this the judge will determine whether the case should proceed to hearing, make directions or adjourned.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice for clarification on when an online review takes place in a family case in a closed court setting, why all other parties attending other cases are also online for the entirety and can hear other cases, whereas in the High Court the judicial officer only admits those in the case and closed the online room; and why this is not operating in all family cases.

Mrs Long: In the face of unprecedented challenges, the Northern Ireland Courts and Tribunals Service (NICTS) has introduced new ways of working and extended the use of video conferencing technology to deliver remote hearings.

Guidance has been issued to NICTS staff on the correct use of the video conferencing technology including how to 'lock' the online courtroom to ensure only those authorised can participate in the proceedings.

If unauthorised persons have inadvertently accessed a court hearing they should immediately draw this to the attention of the judge or court clerk.

I have asked that NICTS staff be reminded of the correct procedures and the guidance be reissued.

Ms Dillon asked the Minister of Justice when she intends to publish her Department's summary of responses to the consultation on the Sentencing Review.

(AQW 5492/17-22)

Mrs Long: A public consultation entitled "Sentencing Review Northern Ireland" was launched on 28 October 2019. The Review considered a wide range of sentencing issues and closed on 3 February with over 200 responses received. A summary of responses is being prepared for publication in August.

Department for the Economy

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister for the Economy (i) how many staff car parking spaces her Department and its agencies have in Belfast city centre; and (ii) whether she is taking any action to reduce this number.

(AQW 3338/17-22)

Mrs Dodds (The Minister for the Economy):

- (i) Staff in the Department for the Economy have access to 102 car parking spaces in Belfast city centre.
- (ii) Since the Department was created in May 2016, the number of Belfast city centre car parking spaces that staff have access to has reduced by approximately 20%.

Ms Dolan asked the Minister for the Economy to assist employers in providing alternative job offers to employees with the purpose of avoiding the possibility of redundancies.

(AQW 3795/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: My Department has no remit in helping employers provide alternative job offers to employees no longer required in their current role and who are thus facing redundancy.

However, my Department's Careers Service is available to assist anyone who wishes to avail of advice on accessing up to date labour market information to inform decisions about reskilling, training, apprenticeships, and further and higher education.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) what changes to the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme from 1 August 2020 have been communicated to her Department; (ii) her assessment of how any changes to the scheme would impact the hospitality, tourism and retail sectors; (iii) whether she will consider putting in place measures; and (iv) whether she will bid for departmental resources to facilitate topping-up government contributions should they fall below 80%.

Mrs Dodds: The Chancellor announced changes to the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS) on 29 May 2020 including flexibility to bring furloughed employees back part time in July, and a new taper requiring employers to contribute to furloughed salaries from August. Full details can be found at <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/claim-for-wages-through-the-coronavirus-job-retention-scheme>.

Communication between the Executive and HM Treasury occur through the Department of Finance. Therefore, my Department would not expect to receive direct communication regarding the Job Retention scheme.

The Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme has been widely welcomed by the tourism and hospitality industry and has been critical to avoiding large scale redundancies across the industry. However, the Chancellor's recent announcement that, from 1st August 2020 employers will be required to contribute towards the cost of the Scheme, will present a major challenge for many businesses. Contributing to the costs of the Scheme will be difficult for an industry which has had no source of income since mid-March 2020. Many tourism and hospitality businesses have seen their reserves completely eroded and many are now in a position where they are carrying significant debt. The only way that these businesses will be able to operate and retain staff will be through generating sufficient income to cover their labour and other revenue costs from 1st August 2020 onwards. The Executive's decision to permit tourist accommodation to open with effect from 20th July 2020 is an important step towards facilitating the recovery of our tourism and hospitality industry.

For the retail sector, the economic impact of COVID-19 has varied between businesses as essential retailers, such as food retailers and pharmacies, have been able to operate with customers on-site, whereas non-essential retailers have had to close. The Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme has been a valuable measure to prevent closure and job losses within retail. Provided safety measures are in place, non-essential retailers are permitted to re-open from 12 June which is a significant step forward in our economic recovery and should minimise any impact of the tapering of the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme.

Regarding any measures or funding to mitigate the changes to the scheme, this is an evolving situation and my Department, along with Executive colleagues will continue to work to identify means of offering support to the economy during this difficult time with the aim of accelerating our economic recovery.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the work her Department has undertaken during this COVID-19 crisis to specifically support cross-border workers.

(AQW 4388/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Policy responsibility for cross-border workers resides with the First Minister and deputy First Minister and as such I recommend that you contact them directly regarding specific measures being put in place to support such workers during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Residents of Northern Ireland, if unemployed, are entitled to claim Universal Credit, regardless of where they work. Employers in the Republic of Ireland may claim 70% of salary costs for employees, including those living in Northern Ireland, through the Irish Government's Temporary COVID-19 Wage Subsidy Scheme.

Mrs Cameron asked the Minister for the Economy whether further guidance will be issued to employers when updated shielding advice is published, as this may affect some employees who are advised to remain at home for a further period.

Mrs Dodds: This is not within the remit of my Department.

Mr M Bradley asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) how many businesses within the Causeway Coast and Glens council area have been granted the £25k businesses support grant; and (ii) how many are still awaiting payment.

(AQW 4616/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: As of 9 June 2020, 195 grants under the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant scheme have been issued to businesses within the Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council area. There is one remaining application in the council area yet to be processed.

A further breakdown of the number of applications, successful applications and applications being processed is published in the 'Operation of the scheme by council, constituency and sector' section on the following webpage - <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/content/coronavirus-£25000-retail-hospitality-tourism-and-leisure-grant>. This data is updated on a regular basis.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for the Economy whether she intends to provide grant assistance to leisure and entertainment businesses with non-domestic properties net asset value over £51,000.

Mrs Dodds: There are no immediate plans to introduce such a grant, however, this is an evolving situation and my Department, along with Executive colleagues, continue to consider all potential options to identify further means of offering support to as many local businesses as possible during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) the membership list of the Strategic Engagement Forum; and (ii) how often it has met.

Mrs Dodds: There is no group associated with the Department with the title 'Strategic Engagement Forum', however, on 28th March 2020, the Executive established the Northern Ireland Engagement Forum (the Forum).

Forum membership was determined by the Labour Relations Agency (LRA), who have chaired all meetings of the Forum since its formation. The Forum boasts a diverse range of stakeholders, drawn from business organisations, trade unions and key statutory bodies.

(i) The membership of the Forum is comprised of the following organisations and individuals:

- Junior Ministers Kearney and Lyons (Observer status)
- Confederation of British Industries (CBI),
- Northern Ireland Chambers of Commerce (NICoC),
- Federation of Small Businesses (FSB),
- Institute of Directors (IOD),
- Manufacturing NI,
- NI Retail Consortium,
- Northern Ireland Committee – Irish Congress of Trades Unions (NIC-ICTU),
- Union of Shop, Distributive and Allied Workers (USDAW),
- UNISON,
- Northern Ireland Public Service Alliance (NIPSA),
- Irish National Teachers Union (INTO),
- UNITE,
- Public Health Authority,
- Health and Safety Executive NI,
- Society of Local Authority and Chief Executives (SOLACE),
- Officials from Department for the Economy,
- Northern Ireland Food and Drinks Association (NIFDA) have visiting rights to meetings.

The Forum is facilitated by the LRA and is chaired by Marie Mallon. The LRA Chief Executive and two other officials also attend.

(ii) As at 15 June 2020, the Forum has met formally thirteen times.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for the Economy, pursuant to AQW 4009/17-22, what further review has been undertaken to develop financial support for manufacturing businesses with a total Net Annual Value over £15,001.

(AQW 4688/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: This is an evolving situation and my Department, along with Executive colleagues, continue to consider all potential options to identify further means of offering support to as many local businesses as possible during the Covid-19 pandemic.

As previously referenced in AQW 4009/17-22 the NI Micro-Business Hardship Fund provided £40 million of funding to microbusinesses who did not qualify for the existing schemes and require financial support due to the impact of Covid-19. This scheme was open to manufacturing businesses should they meet the eligibility criteria.

Additionally there are a range of UK wide measures that have been made available to manufacturing businesses, including the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme, which allows businesses to access support to continue paying part of their employees' salary. HMRC will pay 80 per cent of wages for furloughed staff, up to £2,500 per month until October 2020.

The Coronavirus Business Interruption Loan Scheme provides financial support to SMEs with turnover up to £45m, and the Bounce Back Loan Scheme opened on 4 May 2020 and operates to support the smallest UK businesses.

Further info on all UK wide support can be found at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>

Mr Allister asked the Minister for the Economy what guidance has been produced for the personal care sector in relation to re-opening.

(AQW 4698/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: This is not within the remit of my Department

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for the Economy whether she intends to establish a recovery strategy for transport-related sectors, including taxi drivers and bus operators.

(AQW 4719/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: This is not within the remit of my Department

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for the Economy whether she has committed to working with the Minister for Infrastructure to develop costed proposals for (i) the haulage sector; and (ii) the taxi sector, during COVID-19.

(AQW 4818/17-22)

Mrs Dodds:

The Haulage sector

Along with others within the Executive I have been in regular contact with counterparts in the Department for Transport (DfT) emphasising the importance of our connectivity to GB. While DfT, alongside the Minister for Infrastructure, we able to announce a positive outcome in securing support to help the ferry industry, ultimately there was not the evidence available to get HM Treasury to buy in to a DfT scheme to support the UK wide haulage sector. Going forward DfT and NI officials will closely monitor the situation around road haulage.

The Department for Infrastructure (DfI), with policy responsibility for the transport industry in Northern Ireland, was leading in these conversations with the UK Government. As we move forward it is important to clarify that there is no statutory role for my Department to lead any intervention. It is not a responsibility of the Department for the Economy (DfE) to deliver financial support for the haulage and logistics sector and my Department does not have the vires for such support.

It remains a key objective of the Executive to ensure the maintenance of critical supply routes with GB for a host of important reasons. If these routes come under further stress my Department will again work with both DfI and DfT to help maintain those key links.

The Taxi Industry

Schedules 1 and 3 to the Budget Act 2020 allocate funding to the DfI for "transport licensing, enforcement and regulation", as well as "support for transport services including grants in respect of rail and road passenger services including fare concessions". Taxis are clearly regarded as "transport services" and so, for the avoidance of doubt, these are clearly DfI policy areas.

The Executive and UK Government has introduced an unprecedented range of financial support to help those impacted by Covid-19. Many of these are open to all sectors and, for example, I understand that over 30 taxi firms were able to access the business support grants available locally. In addition taxi firms and self-employed taxi drivers who met the relevant criteria are able to access national support packages including the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme and the Self-Employment Income Support Scheme, which have both been extended to October 2020.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for the Economy whether her Department is considering a financial hardship fund for shareholders of small limited companies.

Mrs Dodds: There are no immediate plans to introduce a such a fund, however, my Department, along with Executive colleagues, continue to explore all potential options to identify further means of offering support to as many local businesses as possible during the Covid-19 pandemic.

The Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS) is available to employers and individuals, including owner-managers operating under a limited company, who pay themselves a salary through a PAYE scheme. Employers claim for 80 per cent of the usual monthly wage costs of furloughed employees up to £2,500 a month, This means owner-managers can furlough themselves and claim for 80 per cent of their usual monthly PAYE wage costs, up to £2,500 a month.

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the financial support measures available to taxi operators and the taxi industry.

(AQW 4851/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Department for Infrastructure (DfI) has responsibility for "transport licensing, enforcement and regulation", as well as "support for transport services including grants in respect of rail and road passenger services including fare concessions". Taxis are clearly regarded as "transport services".

Within this context I have set out below my own Department's actions, as well as those of the Executive and UK government, in providing financial support to this industry.

Financial Support measures for the Taxi Industry

The Executive and UK Government has introduced an unprecedented number of interventions and packages of financial support to help those who have been affected by the consequences of Covid-19.

Information on current and evolving support options are being updated continuously on the NI Business Info website: <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/campaign/coronavirus-updates-support-your-business>

I understand that over 30 taxi firms which met the eligibility criteria, were able to access the business support grants available in Northern Ireland. In addition taxi firms and self-employed taxi drivers who met the relevant criteria are able to access national support packages including the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS) and the Self-Employment Income Support Scheme (SEISS), which have both been extended to October 2020.

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister for the Economy, as no indicative dates have been given by the Executive in its roadmap out of lockdown, to detail how she expects businesses to pay towards national insurance contributions and pension contributions as part of the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme changes, when they do not know whether they will reopen by 1 August.

Mrs Dodds: The Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS) has been a valuable measure to prevent closure and job losses across our economy with approximately 211,700 workers in Northern Ireland being furloughed up to the end of May. It should be noted that the Department of Finance is the lead department for the Executive with regards to HM Treasury operations. The Minister of Finance and his officials have been in ongoing contact with Treasury raising issues about how the schemes are designed and operate. The Minister of Finance has said that the tapering of the CJRS from August is premature and that it could lead to redundancies, particularly in the hardest hit industries.

I have been advised that the Minister of Finance will continue to press the Treasury to ensure that adequate support is provided for all those who need it during this difficult time. The Executive is also examining what further steps we can take in the time ahead.

Indicative dates for business re-opening have now been published and widely publicised. Non-essential retailers were permitted to re-open from 12 June and indicative dates for further relaxation of lockdown measures relating to hospitality and tourism have been agreed. As we move through the Executive's Pathway to recovery, more businesses are permitted to open provided safety measures are in place. These steps are a significant step forward in our economic recovery and will go some way to mitigate against any impact of the tapering of the CJRS. However, I acknowledge that some business may still have lower revenue after opening and others remain closed.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will be seeking to participate in the new Re-open EU website and application, which provides travellers with information about COVID-19 rules and restrictions in European countries, so that NI hospitality and tourism businesses are not disadvantaged.

Mrs Dodds: Whilst tourism is a Devolved Matter, participation in this scheme involves engaging in EU fora where it would be for the UK Government to engage at Member State level. The UK is no longer part of the EU, and therefore the UK Government would not expect to be included in a map representing member states.

You will be aware of the expansive work that has been on-going by the Tourism Working and Steering Groups established by me to support and facilitate the re-opening of Northern Ireland's tourism and hospitality sectors and of the significant progress that has been made in recent days in that regard.

In addition to this work, I continue to participate in regular meetings with the Minister for Tourism of the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sports together with the Tourism Ministers from the other Devolved Administrations. We are committed to doing all we can to support the tourism sector of each of our respective regions and of the UK as a whole. We will continue to work together to ensure that the UK remains an internationally competitive destination for business and leisure. We are committed to ensuring a safe travel environment that helps rebuild consumer confidence in our tourism sectors, by strengthening regional and international coordination.

I can confirm that information is regularly shared on our travel, border and health measures with key partners, including the European Commission, as part of the UK's international cooperation during the Coronavirus crisis.

I will continue to work with my UK counterparts. In turn, the UK Government will continue to work with the travel industry and with other countries through forums such as the OECD and G20 to coordinate the international response.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy, pursuant to AQW 4386/17-22, whether she will introduce specific regulations to ensure redundancy is calculated based on regular contractual pay, rather than Job Retention Scheme pay.

Mrs Dodds: Due to the complexity in calculating Redundancy Payments, it is theoretically possible for an employer to use furlough pay as part of this equation. However, I am firmly of the view that employers should assess redundancy pay using employees' weekly pay prior to furlough as this is how they would be paid contractually.

There are no specific regulations to enforce this at present. However, I would assure you that this is a situation which I will keep under review and, with that in mind, if you become aware of cases where employers are basing redundancy payments on furloughed rather than normal pay, please bring them to my or my officials' attention.

Furthermore, I have instructed the Northern Ireland Redundancy Payments Service (RPS) to calculate the redundancy and insolvency payments for which it is responsible based on the relevant weekly wage period prior to initiation of the Job Retention Scheme.

I would not expect an employer to take advantage of the Job Retention Scheme, which has brought benefit to employers and employees alike, to make someone redundant on less favourable terms than they would otherwise have received. Employers should note that any redundancy payment may be subject to determination by an Industrial Tribunal.

If an employer decides to only pay a furlough amount during a period of notice and subsequently becomes insolvent, RPS will consider a manual calculation of earnings covering this time to give the employee the difference between their actual pay and their furloughed pay.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for the Economy to outline the rationale behind the postponement of tribunal hearings until the end of October, given the easing of many COVID-19 restrictions.

Mrs Dodds: The postponement of tribunal hearings is a matter solely for the President of the Industrial Tribunals and Fair Employment Tribunal. It is my understanding that the President has postponed the hearings listed from 1 July 2020 to 31 October 2020 because the tribunal building has been closed since late March. The President had already postponed hearings from 20 March 2020 to 1 July 2020, as set out in her previous Presidential Guidance dated 20 March 2020 and 27 March 2020.

I understand that the President has decided that Review Preliminary Hearings will take place remotely, as soon as the building reopens and Employment Judges can get access to case files which are held in the building, to relist all hearings which have been postponed. They will take place in the order set out in her latest Presidential Direction and Guidance dated 11 June 2020, under the heading "GUIDANCE ON THE WAY FORWARD", to ensure fairness to all parties. It is my understanding that the President decided to relist the postponed cases in that manner following consultation with the Employment Lawyers' Group. Hearings will take place remotely, in person and by way of a hybrid model. It is anticipated that full hearings will be listed as soon as possible after the building reopens.

Plans are at an advanced stage to re-open Killymeal House.

Mr Middleton asked the Minister for the Economy how many businesses in the Foyle constituency have received (i) the £10,000 Small Business Support Grant; and (ii) the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant.

(AQW 4975/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: For the £10,000 Small Business Support Grant, 1,190 businesses in the Foyle Parliamentary Constituency have been paid grants as of 19 June 2020.

For the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant scheme, 146 businesses have been paid grants in the Foyle Parliamentary Constituency as of 18 June 2020.

Information on the number of businesses in the Foyle Parliamentary Constituency that have applied for and received payment of the £25,000 grant scheme, are published in the 'Operation of the scheme by council, constituency and sector' section on the following webpage - <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/content/coronavirus-£25000-retailhospitality-tourism-and-leisure-grant>.

Based upon applications received, this details applications by decision status

(paid/rejected/being processed), and provides a facility to interrogate by District

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for the Economy to detail future funding arrangements and support for disability employment projects that are currently delivered through the European Social Fund.

(AQW 4992/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The funding for projects supported by the Northern Ireland European Social Fund Programme 2014-2020 continues until March 2022. My Department is the Managing Authority for the Programme but the projects also receive match funding from other sources, including the Department for Communities, which has a clear policy remit in this area. Officials in my Department and the Department for Communities are working closely together to consider the most appropriate way forward in relation to planning for future provision for the period after March 2022. The Executive's overall position on future funding is that we require at least full replacement spending power and that the devolved competence is respected. The Department of Finance is leading in working to ensure this commitment is fulfilled and we suffer no loss of spending power as a result of leaving the EU. Our expectation is that investments in regional economic development, skills (including for the most disadvantaged) and rural development would continue to be priority areas for this replacement funding.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the number of unsuccessful applicants to the £10,000 Small Business Support Grant Scheme, broken down per constituency.

Mrs Dodds: The table below provides a breakdown, by Parliamentary Constituency, of the e-mails sent to businesses who applied for a small business grant but did not meet the eligibility criteria.

Parliamentary Constituency	Number of rejection e-mails sent to ineligible businesses
Belfast East	66
Belfast North	84
Belfast South	101
Belfast West	87
East Antrim	62
East Londonderry	79
Fermanagh and South Tyrone	111
Foyle	93
Lagan Valley	75
Mid Ulster	83
Newry and Armagh	117
North Antrim	91
North Down	53
South Antrim	78
South Down	67
Strangford	82
Upper Bann	102
West Tyrone	90
Total	1521

There are a number of reasons for ineligibility:

- The property is vacant.
- The property is valued as domestic.
- The Total Net Annual Value (NAV) of the property is outside the eligibility band i.e. over £15,000.
- The property is not in receipt of Small Business Rate Relief.
- The company was not operating on 17th March 2020 when the scheme was announced.
- Applicant received a grant on another property.
- Applicant was the landlord not the occupying business.
- Property is exempt from rates.
- Property was not valued on the 7th Valuation List.
- Property type excluded e.g. churches, MLA/MP offices etc.

An additional 6,312 e-mails were issued to applicants where the information submitted in their application was not sufficient to identify the property against which they were applying, therefore the application could not be processed. For example the details provided did not match a rate account or they matched a closed rate account or domestic rate account.

It is worth noting that, in many cases more than one application was made by the same applicant. Only one application would be processed in this scenario.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for the Economy how many site inspections of food processing plants have been carried out by the Health and Safety Executive, each week since 14 May 2020.

(AQW 5085/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: There have been 21 inspections of food processing plants carried out by the Health and Safety Executive for Northern Ireland since Thursday 14th May 2020.

The breakdown of inspections per week is as follows:

- Week 1 (14th and 15th May 2020) – 4 inspections in meat/pork processing plants
- Week 2 (18th-22nd May 2020) - 4 inspections in meat processing plants
- Week 3 (25th – 29th May 2020) – 2 inspections in meat/pork processing plants
- Week 4 (1st – 5th June 2020) - 2 inspections in dairy processing plants
- Week 5 (8th – 12th June 2020) – 5 inspections in meat processors, bakeries and general food processing plants
- Week 6 (15th – 19th June 2020) – 4 inspections in bakery and drinks producers

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for the Economy for an update on Project Stratum, including, specifically, in the Newry, Mourne & Down Council area.

(AQW 5088/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Project Stratum continues on schedule. The closing date for receipt of tenders passed on 5th May, and the evaluation of bids is underway. Contract award is expected in late September 2020. My Department's engagement with industry indicates that approximately 6 months will be required for network design and delivery preparation prior to deployment. It is anticipated, therefore, that deployment of infrastructure will commence a number of months after contract award, with completion by 31 March 2024.

The target intervention area consists of just under 79,000 premises of which 12,126 are within the Newry, Mourne and Down Council area. While the precise number and location of premises that will directly benefit will not be known until after contract award, the aspiration of my Department continues to be to maximise broadband coverage throughout Northern Ireland from the funding available, so that as many premises as possible benefit from this public intervention.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy whether her Department has sufficient staff to complete all required EU withdrawal work before the end of the transition period.

(AQW 5119/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: My Department faces significant resourcing challenges on EU Exit work. As a direct impact of Covid 19, the majority of large-scale recruitment to the NICS had been temporarily halted. As we move to a more stable position around Covid 19, my officials have identified a series of critical vacancies which will be resourced through the usual NICS recruitment processes. These will be expedited, but I remain alive to the inherent risks in this area.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy how many people in her Department are currently working on EU withdrawal work.

(AQW 5120/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: There are currently 111.98 FTE (full time equivalent) staff working across my Department and its ALBs on EU withdrawal work.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for the Economy, regarding the exclusion of vacant properties from the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant, whether consideration was given to those properties undergoing renovation, and if so, what the rationale was for excluding them.

(AQW 5127/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: If renovation works are significant enough, a property may be removed entirely from the Valuation List, in which event it is not rateable and could not be considered eligible for the grant.

Where renovation works are not significant enough to remove the property from the Valuation List, it remains rateable. However, it may be entitled to Non-Domestic Vacant Rating Relief (NDVR) if it meets the test for beneficial occupation, which is that the property is unoccupied, unfurnished and not used for storage. Generally, where a property is being renovated, Land and Property Services (LPS) will consider that it meets the test for beneficial occupation and award the Non-Domestic Vacant Rating Relief.

As this grant scheme was designed to assist business operating as at 15th March 2020, properties recorded by LPS as vacant and in receipt of NDVR were not automatically eligible for a grant. The underlying rationale is that if the property is vacant, there is no business trading from the premises.

Any businesses who were undergoing renovations and still paying Small Business Rate Relief at 15th March 2020, could still have been eligible for the grant, subject to not being declared vacant and meeting wider eligibility criteria.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for the Economy to outline the number of properties in the South Down constituency that currently have access to broadband speeds of less than 10Mbps; and whether these properties are centralised in a particular area.

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) In its latest Connected Nations Report, Ofcom indicates that 4,420 premises within the South Down Constituency are currently unable to access speeds of 10 Mbps or greater.

As you may be aware, my Department has developed Project Stratum to utilise funding of £165million to improve broadband connectivity, using future-proofed technologies, for premises currently unable to access speeds of 30 Mbps or greater. From analysis of data received through the project's Open Market Review and subsequent public consultation, my Department has identified 9,211 premises within the South Down constituency that do not have access to speeds of 30 Mbps or greater. It will not, however, be possible to confirm which specific premises will be improved, until after contract award, expected in late September 2020. The overarching aspiration of the project continues to be to maximise broadband coverage across the target intervention area, to ensure that as many premises as possible benefit through access to improved infrastructure.

- (ii) My Department does not hold details of the location of premises currently unable to access speeds of 10 Mbps or greater. However, Ofcom has published a map that allows the user to explore the locations of areas currently unable to access speeds of 10 Mbps or greater. I have included a link for your convenience:

<https://checker.ofcom.org.uk/broadband-coverage>.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for the Economy to outline the criteria by which Citydeal funding is allocated and do allocations to date not suggest a Belfast-centric approach.

(AQW 5135/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: My Department is not involved in setting the criteria for the allocation of funding within a City or Growth Deal. The identification of projects and subsequent proposed allocation of funding is determined by the Deal Owner. In the case of the Belfast Region City Deal (BRCD) that is the six local councils who came together to develop the Deal.

BRCD identified the criteria for the scope and nature of the projects it wanted included in its Deal and which would benefit the entire region. This ensured there were projects across the six council areas. The projects were subsequently set out in the Heads of Terms which was agreed with UK Government in March 2019. BRCD must now assure itself that each of the projects to be brought forward for approval to the relevant NICS Department represent Value for Money, delivering benefits for the entire geographical area of the Deal.

The Belfast City Region Deal presents a tremendous opportunity to drive sustained growth across the region and I am very supportive of it. My Department will continue to work with each of the local councils and their partners in the development of the tourism, innovation, digital and skills projects.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy, in light of the public and sectoral concerns raised, whether she will expand the membership of the Economic Advisory Group to ensure it is inclusive of key stakeholders and reflects fully the needs and views of all sectors in planning for economic recovery.

Mrs Dodds: As has been the case for many years now the EAG is there to provide independent advice, aimed at challenging and developing public policy and strategic thinking on the local economy. The members are leaders in their field with experience in global markets.

The approach to EAG continues to be in line with the Independent Review of Economic Policy, which recommended "the establishment of a small advisory body, comprising expertise on regional economic development (drawn from business and economics), to provide independent advice to the Economy Minister".

As a result, the EAG was never intended to be a forum made up of representatives from all sections of the economy and society.

Expanding the membership would be reverting back to a system that the IREP recommended moving away from.

My Department already has a cross sector engagement forum, which includes representatives from the business community, the voluntary & community sector, and from a wide range of sectors such as universities, retail, colleges, food, trade union and local chambers of commerce.

This has been running since June 2017 to allow the Department to seek stakeholder views and to discuss how best to work together as EU Exit advances, and going forward will be a key asset in informing our approach to rebuilding a stronger economy.

There is also already significant involvement from a wide range of stakeholders with significant energy and related expertise in the development of my new Energy Strategy.

I am confident that the work of all of these groups, alongside the contribution of EAG will provide a broad range of comprehensive expert advice to my Department.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister for the Economy for an update on how universities have responded to the COVID-19 pandemic.
(AQW 5144/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The university sector in Northern Ireland responded promptly to the COVID-19 pandemic, with the universities and university colleges convening a number of measures, such as the establishment of major incident teams and the activation of contingency measures, in order to manage and deal with the pandemic in its early stages.

In terms of the action which has been undertaken, the institutions worked at pace, in very difficult and unprecedented circumstances, to ensure as far as possible that students would not be disadvantaged through the required response to the pandemic. You will be aware that all the institutions closed their campuses in mid-March, in line with government advice. The institutions worked hard to move to online teaching, where it was possible to do so, to protect the interests of students and staff. Examinations and face-to-face assessments were cancelled, and each institution introduced alternative assessments allowing students to continue with their learning.

Each institution has ensured that students and staff are kept updated on the measures being undertaken, through the issue of updates via email and the respective websites. Indeed, the institutions have been in regular contact with my Department, informing officials of any major developments and providing assurances regarding the maintenance of high quality teaching and learning.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for the Economy for her assessment of the potential redundancies in the hospitality sector as a result of COVID-19; and what measures her Department will put in place to mitigate these.

Mrs Dodds: I am acutely aware of the severe impact which COVID-19 has had on our tourism and hospitality industry.

The mitigations implemented at a national and local level (eg grant schemes, business rates relief, loan schemes etc) will have played an important part in helping to sustain many tourism and hospitality businesses through the recent difficult months.

In addition, the decisive action taken by the NI Executive to accelerate the timeframe for re-opening the industry will play a key role in enabling businesses to generate the revenue needed to retain jobs across Northern Ireland.

Re-opening is a significant step forward. However, the road ahead will be very challenging and I have, therefore, established a Tourism Recovery Steering Group to help chart a path to recovery. The work of the Steering Group, and the collective effort of key public and private sector stakeholders, will be fundamental to the effort to save as many tourism and hospitality jobs as possible over the next months and beyond.

However, I very much regret that redundancies are inevitable. It concerns me to hear about the situation faced by staff across the tourism and hospitality industry who have been made redundant, or who face redundancy. I have the utmost sympathy for anyone in that situation in these difficult times.

I firmly believe that employers who have been able to take advantage of the Government's Job Retention Scheme, which has brought benefit to employers and employees alike, should treat staff fairly and respect employee rights. Specifically, in this situation, those rights relating to lay-offs, redundancy consultation, notice period and redundancy pay.

Employees who believe they have been unfairly treated, or their terms of contract breached, may be able to complain to an Industrial Tribunal. Anyone who finds themselves in this position may wish to consider contacting the Labour Relations Agency - Workplace Information Service on 03300 555 300 for confidential and impartial information.

In addition, the Law Centre NI provides free, independent, specialist legal advice on employment rights. The Law Centre can be contacted on their advice line on 028 9024 4401 or by email: employmentadvice@lawcentreni.org.

Individuals may also wish to access the redundancy support and advice provided by my Department's Careers Service, which will provide personalised job searching support including advice on how to transfer existing skills and experience to current job opportunities. Advisers have up to date labour market information provided by the Department's economists which they use with the client to inform discussions about reskilling, training, apprenticeships further and higher education. Contact details for the Careers Service are available at <https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/campaigns/careers>. Those directly affected as a result of Covid-19 can also contact the Service by webchat or by phoning 0300 200 7820.

In addition, the Department for Communities will work with individuals facing redundancy and provide information about benefits and help with costs such as travel to interview expenses and help to search for and find a new role.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy when AQW 3559/17-22 will be answered.

Mrs Dodds: AQW 3559/17-22 To ask the Minister for the Economy for her assessment of the impact on the finances of universities of (i) COVID-19; and (ii) Brexit, given the loss of overseas students following both, was answered on the 26 June 2020.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the number of jobs created as a result of foreign direct investments from investors who had not previously invested in Northern Ireland, who were supported by Invest NI, broken down by constituency, in each of the last three years.

Mrs Dodds: Information on the number of jobs created by Invest NI supported businesses cannot be released for individual businesses, as this information is commercially sensitive. Splitting the information down to constituency level would mean that some businesses may be identified. Therefore, this response is based on the number of jobs that the businesses in question intend to create as a result of their initial investment in Northern Ireland.

Between 2017-18 and 2019-20 Invest NI secured projects by businesses that were new to Northern Ireland that would lead to the creation of 3,351 new jobs. As these businesses are new to Northern Ireland it will typically take 3 to 5 years to implement the projects and fill the associated posts. The table below shows the anticipated jobs split by constituency area.

Invest NI New Jobs Assisted through First Time Inward Investors by Parliamentary Constituency (2017-18 to 2019-20)

- 2 Invest NI revises performance data on a regular basis to ensure that it reflects implemented projects; therefore, the data above may differ to previously published information.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will bring forward legislation to support the Right to Disconnect, to ensure that employees are not obliged to be contacted and work at given times, out of hours.

(AQW 5189/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: There are currently Regulations in place safeguarding working time limits in Northern Ireland.

The Working Time Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2016 make a positive contribution to the Northern Ireland employment relations framework, laying down minimum conditions relating to weekly working time, rest entitlements and annual leave, and making special provision for working hours and health assessment in relation to night workers.

Under the Working Time Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2016, a worker is entitled to an uninterrupted rest period of 11 hours between each working day and one uninterrupted weekly rest period of not less than 24 hours in each seven-day period.

The weekly rest period can be taken as either two periods of at least 24 hours in each 14-day period or one uninterrupted period of no less than 48 hours in each 14-day period.

I have no plans at present to amend current working time legislation for Northern Ireland. In the immediate term, Departmental resources will be focused on Northern Ireland's economic recovery as it emerges from lockdown.

However, I am always open to working with Executive Colleagues, the Assembly and stakeholders regarding wider plans for ensuring our employment legislation framework meets the needs of our regional economy.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy to publish a comprehensive list of the reasons given to Invest NI by potential investors who were invited to consider investing in the Derry City and Strabane Council area but chose not to, for each of the last three financial years.

(AQW 5196/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Invest NI promotes Northern Ireland as an attractive and viable location for inward investment opportunities to new investors, along with the parent companies of existing foreign owned investors. Northern Ireland's investment proposition combines the strengths of our talented and loyal workforce, advanced telecoms infrastructure, high skilled business clusters, pro-business environment, competitive operating costs and proximity to major markets.

Investor requirements will vary depending on the nature of the project but will typically include a consideration of the aforementioned factors. An area with a profile that clearly and closely aligns with investor needs is better placed to attract potential investment.

Ultimately, the investor will make the decision as to if, and where, they establish operations based on their specific business needs and having considered the options available to them. There may also be a range of corporate considerations and commercial reasons taken into account that may mean a planned overseas investment does not proceed, not all of which are necessarily shared in granular detail with Invest NI.

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister for the Economy, in light of the announcement by the Scottish Executive to make an additional £75 million available to Scottish institutions to support research, what support her Department is providing to universities who face a drop in income due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Mrs Dodds: I approved £2.6m funding to enable NI universities to collaborate with Republic of Ireland (RoI) institutions in Science Foundation Ireland's Covid-19 Rapid Response Research & Innovation Funding Call. This will give NI researchers an important opportunity to engage with counterparts in RoI to make significant and impactful breakthroughs that will address the manifold challenges posed by the COVID-19 virus.

I also approved £2.0m funding for paid extensions for students on the DfE Postgraduate Award Scheme, to ensure they do not suffer economic hardship as a result of Covid 19 and are able to complete their PhDs.

In response to my bid for additional funding to offset universities' lost commercial income, the Executive has recently approved £1m. I have made the case to the Joint BEIS/DfE Ministerial Taskforce that the needs of NI universities should be taken in account when considering any proposed UK-wide research stabilisation package. BEIS has now announced the outline of the resulting funding package, which can be found at <https://www.gov.uk/government/news/government-to-protect-uk-research-jobs-with-major-support-package>.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy (i) whether she has referred to specific scientific advice in deciding whether to advocate for a reduction in the social distancing rule from two metres to one metre; and (ii) will she publish this advice.

Mrs Dodds: I advocated the reduction of social distancing to one metre based on published World Health Organisation advice. The final decision on the reduction of social distancing to one metre, with mitigations, was made by the Executive after receiving advice from the Chief Medical Officer.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for the Economy in relation to the £10,000 Small Business Support Grant Scheme, to detail (i) the total number of applications received; (ii) the number of successful applications; (iii) the number of unsuccessful applications; (iv) the number of applications yet to be determined; and (v) whether she is confident she has enough finance to pay the remaining claims.

Mrs Dodds: A total of 24,768 applications were made to the Small Business Grant Scheme, 22,535 through the main application portal and a further 2,233 through an online portal for rental properties.

As of 26th June 2020, 23,658 payments of the Small Business Support Grants have been made to businesses in Northern Ireland. This includes payments made against applications and payments issued automatically where the bank details were held by Land and Property Services (LPS). To note, this figure does not account for failed, returned or voided payments.

A total of 1,521 e-mails have been sent to businesses who applied for a Small Business Grant but did not meet the eligibility criteria. To note, many other applications could not be processed as they held incomplete or incorrect information, or were duplicate applications. Any such applications are not included in this figure.

There are 432 outstanding applications. For the most part these remain unpaid because LPS is uncertain whether the applicant is eligible. There are a number of reasons why this might be the case but primarily it is either because there is uncertainty over whether the applicant is the eligible business trading from a premises, or because we cannot determine if the business is independent of another business which has already been paid a grant. Remaining applicants will be assessed and eligible applicants processed as quickly as possible.

The projected spending on the scheme is within the allocated budget set by the Executive. This includes funds for any outstanding applications and outcomes for any appeals.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for the Economy in relation to the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant, to detail (i) the total number of applications received; (ii) the number of successful applications; (iii) the number of unsuccessful applications; (iv) the number of applications yet to be determined; and (v) whether she is confident she has enough finance to pay the remaining claims.

Mrs Dodds: By closure on Wednesday 20 May 2020, the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure had attracted 3,624 applications. Subsequently, 22 applications received under the separate rental scheme were included, raising the total to 3,646 applications.

As of Friday 26 June 2020, a total of 2,940 applications have been approved for payment, with 2,936 paid to date through Account NI to a value of £72.15 million (125 applications were paid at a reduced rate of £15,000 having previously availed of the £10,000 scheme).

A total of 704 applications were rejected on the grounds of duplication or ineligibility.

There are six applications received that remain to be paid. A residual number of pre-applications received under the rental scheme may yet progress to full application stage for processing and payment.

The projected spending on the scheme is within the allocated budget set by the Executive. This includes funds for any outstanding applications and outcomes for any appeals.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for the Economy (i) what measures her Department is taking to protect jobs and employment rights of those who are shielding; (ii) whether she will provide further guidance on shielding for employees and employers; and (iii) to outline the work of her Department in conjunction with the Department of Health on this matter.

Mrs Dodds: Responsibility for policy relating to shielding persons falls to the Department of Health.

I can confirm that, as far as my Department is concerned, shielding persons are entitled to the same employment rights as everyone else and have the right to complain to an Industrial Tribunal if they believe those rights have been infringed or their employment contract has been breached.

Guidance for employers and employees is published on the website of the Labour Relations Agency and is updated regularly. This includes the information that an employee is protected by law against unfair treatment and dismissal because of: pregnancy; age; or a health condition that is considered a disability under the Disability Discrimination Act.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) the total grants awarded by Invest NI to foreign direct investors that had not previously invested in Northern Ireland; and (ii) the total monies loaned to companies by Invest NI to foreign direct investors that had not previously invested in Northern Ireland; in each council area, in each of the last three years.

Mrs Dodds:

  - 2 Invest NI revises performance data on a regular basis to ensure that it reflects implemented projects; therefore, the data above may differ to previously published information.
- (i) Only two new to Northern Ireland businesses were offered loans by Invest NI during this period. In 2017-18 a £1.25 million loan was offered to a business located in the Belfast Council area and in 2018-19 a £15,000 loan was offered to a business located in Antrim and Newtownabbey.

Not all of the grant / loan support detailed above is necessarily paid out by Invest NI. Financial support is offered at the start of a project based on a company's commitment to complete certain elements of that project and funding is only released when these commitments have been met in line with the plan agreed by Invest NI and the business.

  - 2 Invest NI revises performance data on a regular basis to ensure that it reflects implemented projects; therefore, the data above may differ to previously published information.
- (iii) Only two new to Northern Ireland businesses were offered loans by Invest NI during this period. In 2017-18 a £1.25 million loan was offered to a business located in Belfast West constituency and in 2018-19 a £15,000 loan was offered to a business located in South Antrim.

Ms S Bradley asked the Minister for the Economy what plans she has to financially assist those remaining businesses who are adversely impacted by COVID-19 but have not been supported to date.

Mrs Dodds: The impacts of the Covid-19 crisis continue to be felt across the Northern Ireland economy. The national support schemes as well as the local measures put in place have been critical in maintaining the local economy. However, given the scale and impact of the crisis on the economy, I recognise that there has been insufficient funding to support every business.

As part of its immediate response, the NI Executive allocated funding for three business support measures in efforts to protect jobs, prevent business closures and promote economic recovery. I understand the frustrations that not all business have been eligible for the Business Grant Support Schemes or the Micro-Business Hardship Fund. The eligibility criteria for the schemes was designed to maximise the number of eligible businesses within the funding envelope available to the Northern Ireland Executive and to provide support to businesses facing hardship as quickly as possible. I welcome that through these schemes we have been able to provide over £310million in support to date.

In addition to the three business support measures, a wide range of local support has been put in place by the Executive, including a four month business rates holiday for all businesses with the sectors hardest hit by the coronavirus pandemic paying no rates for the full financial year up until 31 March 2021. Those sectors include Childcare, retail, hospitality, tourism and leisure.

There are further UK wide support options available to businesses in Northern Ireland. These include, the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS), which covers 80% of employees' usual salaries, up to a cap of £2,500 a month, while they are furloughed.

The Coronavirus Business Interruption Loan Scheme (CBILS) administered by the British Business Bank and the Bounce Back Loan scheme which will help small and medium-sized businesses to borrow between £2,000 and £50,000.

This is an evolving situation and my Department, along with Executive colleagues, continue to consider all potential options to identify further means of offering support to as many local businesses as possible during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Further information on all UK wide and local support options available to businesses can be found at:

Mr Blair asked the Minister for the Economy, following Sensata Technologies' decision to close its factory in Carrickfergus, costing 270 jobs, and to make 160 jobs redundant at its Antrim site, what measures are being put in place to support the former workers of the company.

Mrs Dodds: My Department's Careers Service made contact with Sensata Technologies on Monday 29th June to make them aware of the advice and guidance services available to support the employees facing redundancy. The Careers Service was advised that a staff consultation process is currently taking place and it would likely be nearer the end of the summer before careers services were required.

Sensata Technologies were advised that Careers Service support is currently available via webchat, telephony and email to all employees at any stage throughout the consultation process and beyond, to support them to find alternative employment and that careers advisers can provide personalised job search support, including advice on how to transfer existing skills and experience to current job opportunities, and advice on reskilling, training, apprenticeships and options in further and higher education.

The Careers Service will maintain contact with Sensata over the coming weeks.

I understand that the Department for Communities (DfC) officials have also contacted Sensata to outline how employees can access benefits, if required. These include Universal Credit, the Discretionary Support Scheme and the New Style Job Seekers Allowance.

Mr Wells asked the Minister for the Economy how much was paid to the owners of windfarms and individual turbines in constraint payments in each of the last three financial years.

(AQW 5294/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The System Operator for Northern Ireland (SONI) has provided me with the following answer:

“From 1 October 2018 to 27 June 2020, approximately £1 million was paid to windfarm owners in Northern Ireland as a result of network constraints.”

Since the new Single Electricity Market launched in October 2018, SONI's market systems and the elements that make up “constraint payments” have changed. It is therefore not possible to provide a meaningful answer to your question for payments prior to 1 October 2018. There has only been one full SEM financial year (1 October 2018 to 30 September 2019) since the launch of the market so SONI has provided the answer as a “total to date” rather than a breakdown by year.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for the Economy whether the Advisory, Conciliation and Arbitration Service (ACAS) guidance, that employers cannot compel those shielding due to COVID-19 to take holiday leave, applies in Northern Ireland, and, if not, whether she will take steps to apply same.

(AQW 5306/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: While the ACAS guidance does not apply directly to Northern Ireland, the position on this matter is the same in Northern Ireland. That is, while employers have the right to require employees and workers to take holiday leave at a specified time, subject to the relevant notice requirements, this does not apply to those who are on sick leave, including sick leave because they are shielding, or family leave, such as maternity leave.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for the Economy, pursuant to AQW 1761/17-22, and in relation to an upsurge in noise emissions at the Kells Main substation, what her Department has been advised as to the outcome of NIEN's noise investigations and as to an explanation for the intolerable noise increase in recent days.

Mrs Dodds: I am advised that NIE Networks (NIEN) recognises that there is an issue with noise emissions from the Kells Main substation and fully appreciates the concerns raised by the community. NIEN remains committed to implementing a solution to address the issue and is engaging with the Environmental Health Department of Antrim and Newtownabbey Borough Council in that regard.

NIEN will do all that it can to progress this as soon as possible but have indicated that it is not something that can be fixed in haste. Given the strategic importance of the substation it is important to ensure that any solution does not compromise its operation as this could adversely impact upon the reliability of electricity supply both locally and across the wider customer base in Northern Ireland.

NIEN is investigating whether the system has been operating abnormally in recent days and if this has had any affect at Kells Main. It is continuing to openly engage with local community groups and political representatives and is happy for any further questions to be addressed to it directly.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) the current rate of unemployment, as of June 2020; and (ii) any projected increase in unemployment when the furlough scheme is withdrawn.

Mrs Dodds: The latest NI seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for the period February-April 2020 was estimated from the Labour Force Survey at 2.3%. The latest NI seasonally adjusted claimant count stood at 65,151 in May 2020.

On 30 June 2020, my Department published its latest macroeconomic and sectoral assessment of the impacts of Covid-19 on the local economy. It estimates that the claimant count could plausibly exceed 100,000 before the end of 2020 or shortly afterwards.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the extent of internal planning and external engagement she has undertaken to form a green recovery plan.

(AQW 5311/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: My Department's medium-term economic recovery plan outlines an objective to grow a more competitive, inclusive and greener economy. The 'Rebuilding a Stronger Economy' document recognises that climate change is a cross cutting issue which will be integral to the development of policies to deliver this objective.

A key next step set out within Rebuilding a Stronger Economy is the development of a new Energy Strategy, which will be a key mechanism in shaping how we can use the decarbonisation of energy to grow our economy. The strategy is supported by a Project Board, Joint Steering Group, Government

Stakeholders Group, Electricity Stakeholders Group and Gas Stakeholders Group, with an Expert Panel on the Future of Energy soon to be established.

To develop potential options, a further five working groups have been set up to cover the themes of consumers, energy efficiency, heat, power and transport. Input has been received from 161 different organisations and individuals through the Call for Evidence, with 89 responses specifically addressing the economic opportunities that will arise from the decarbonisation of energy, and over 300 stakeholders are now part of the Energy Strategy network.

In the longer term, my Department will lead on the development of a new Economic Strategy which will support the Programme for Government. The Economic Strategy will seek to provide long term steps to meet the objectives of becoming a more competitive, regionally balanced and greener economy that works for everyone.

Development and implementation of the Strategy cannot be done in isolation and it will require a partnership approach to delivery. Engagement will be undertaken with key stakeholders as part of the Strategy's development process. This will include engagement on developing a greener economy.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy following the announcement that Tourism NI has joined with tourism bodies of England, Scotland and Wales on the We're Good To Go industry standard and consumer mark to provide reassurance that safe working guidelines during COVID-19 have been adopted, whether there are plans to do similar with tourism bodies across the island of Ireland.

Mrs Dodds: On 23 June 2020, the Department for the Economy in partnership with Tourism NI released guidance to help tourism and hospitality businesses reopen as safely as possible during the COVID-19 pandemic. This guidance been prepared with input from the NI Tourism Recovery Working Group and in consultation with Public Health Agency (PHA) and the Health and Safety Executive NI (HSENI) and key Executive Departments.

Following the release of the guidance, the 'We're Good to Go' industry standard was introduced in partnership with tourism bodies in Scotland, England and Wales to provide assurance to businesses, customers and communities that safe working practices have been adopted with regards COVID-19.

During the process of developing the guidance, officials from Tourism NI worked closely with their counterparts in Fáilte Ireland to ensure that the guidance and the Industry Standard were as closely aligned as possible, while recognising the different legislative frameworks.

Fáilte Ireland has launched its own COVID-19 Safety Charter and, while the two schemes are independent, joint activity is planned by Tourism NI, Fáilte Ireland and Tourism Ireland to reassure visitors of the measures taken to ensure their safety.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) whether Queen's University, Belfast or Ulster University have conducted experiments on live animals in the last 3 years; (ii) if so, what type(s) of animals have been used in the experiments; (iii) how many experiments took place; and (iv) the purpose of the experiments undertaken.

Mrs Dodds: The Department does not hold this information.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) the timescale of the strategic review of petroleum licencing; (ii) the terms of reference for the review; and (iii) what model will be used to conduct the review.

(AQW 5317/17-22)

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) The strategic review of petroleum licensing is an iterative process with the next steps and timescale for delivery dependent on consideration of the results of independent research; the research tender was published on 9 June 2020 and will run for 5 weeks. It is not possible, at this time, to estimate the timescale for completing the review process, however, my Department is committed to the timely delivery of the strategic review.
- (ii) The petroleum licensing regime dates back to the 1960's and the Review is intended to ensure that the licensing framework remains fit for purpose, given the environmental and climate change challenges we now face. The underpinning terms of reference for the Review have been designed to ensure that the licensing regime continues to be effective in delivering key Programme for Government objectives, including that we prosper through a strong, competitive, regionally balanced economy and that we live and work sustainably – protecting the environment. Alongside this, the strategic issues of climate change, and the setting of challenging decarbonisation targets for the UK, including Northern Ireland, have been factored into the Review. My Department's planned new Energy Strategy will also provide an important context for decisions in relation to future Petroleum Licensing policy.
- (iii) The Review is being undertaken in accordance with the Executive's Guide to Policy Making in Northern Ireland. No specific assessment model has been chosen for the independent research into the economic, societal and environmental impacts of onshore petroleum exploration and production in Northern Ireland; the specification for the research has been designed to allow researchers to propose their own methodology, subject to my Department's approval.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the timetable for completion and publication of her Department's planned Longitudinal Education Outcomes (LEO) database for Northern Ireland.

Mrs Dodds: Preparatory work has been undertaken on establishing the LEO database for Northern Ireland and work is ongoing to establish data sharing arrangements with a number of partners, including Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs, the Department of Education (NI) and the Department for Communities. Reaching agreement with these partners is key to establishing a timetable for the creation of the database since they will be supplying some of the crucial data.

Once the legal basis for data sharing has been agreed with all partners and their data have been received by my Department, a timetable for the completion of the database can be confirmed. The LEO database will not itself be published, but will become a resource for research and statistics which will be published.

The brokering of those data sharing arrangements with partners can be time-consuming as it is often met with understandable caution. The Department would welcome support from you and others on the Economy Committee in establishing this important data linking initiative.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy (i) whether Invest NI partners with, or promotes any funds for capital investment in, Northern Ireland businesses seeking to recover from COVID-19 or expand in the future; and (ii) if so, what rates of interest are being charged by those funds.

(AQW 5323/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Through its suite of Access to Finance funds, Invest NI partners in seven funds providing circa £200 million of finance to SMEs across both debt and equity markets. The funds are designed to support both early stage and established SMEs which are growing or exporting, or which demonstrate the potential for growth.

The funds, which operate on a fully commercial basis, are managed by independent NI based FCA approved fund managers who retain responsibility for all investment decisions.

The funds are providing support to portfolio companies during the Covid-19 crisis. This includes strategic support to help SMEs position themselves for recovery and potentially additional equity or debt funding. Repayment holidays have been agreed by the debt funds where appropriate.

The equity funds take a shareholding in the SME in exchange for funding, whilst the loan funds negotiate commercial interest rates, taking account of the risk level involved. Flat interest rates are typically in the range of 6-8% and an annual charge is also negotiated by two of the loan funds. The loans are generally unsecured and complement existing secured bank debt.

The Invest NI loan and equity Funds remain available and accessible to NI businesses.

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister for the Economy how many Invest NI-backed jobs have been created in Upper Bann in this last 5 years, broken down by (i) year; (ii) location; and (iii) total investment in each project.

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) With the introduction of its Business Strategy 2017-2021, Invest NI aligned its reporting with the broad Outcome Based Accountability (OBA) approach adopted within the draft Programme for Government (PfG). By doing so, we measure the wider impact of all of our support, based on Key Performance Indicators (KPI's) gathered annually from a large cohort of businesses with which we work most closely and track progress towards the outcomes within the Business Strategy. The table below shows the number of additional jobs created in the Upper Bann constituency in 2017, 2018 and 2019 by businesses supported by Invest NI.

Invest NI Additional Jobs Created in Upper Bann Constituency (2017, 2018 and 2019)

PCA	2017	2018	2019
UPPER BANN	1,125	971	1,183

Note: "Additional Jobs" are based on all jobs created by Invest NI supported businesses that increased their employment during the period under review.

Prior to the latest Business Strategy we reported on jobs created directly from our financial support delivered through a narrower range of interventions designed to stimulate job creation. The table below shows the number of jobs created in 2015-16 and 2016-17.

Invest NI Assisted Jobs Created in Upper Bann Constituency (2015-16 to 2016-17)

PCA	2015/16	2016/17
UPPER BANN	779	550

Note: "Assisted Jobs" are based on those jobs for which Invest NI customers have received a direct offer of employment related support.

Upper Bann is the second highest constituency in Northern Ireland in terms of jobs created over the five year period.

It should be noted that the tables above are not directly comparable as different reporting methods have been applied.

- (ii) Information on the number of jobs created by Invest NI supported businesses cannot be released for individual businesses whilst their offer of support is still live, as this information is commercially sensitive. Splitting this information down further than constituency level would mean that some businesses may be identified.
- (iii) The table below shows the amount of investment that Invest NI has secured through projects approved in the Upper Bann constituency in each of the last five years. This investment includes support offered by Invest NI.

Investment Secured (£m) by Invest NI in Upper Bann Constituency (2015-16 to 2019-20)

PCA	2015-16	2016-17	2017-18	2018-19	2019-20
Upper Bann	33.95	29.33	33.78	27.39	45.14

Mr Allister asked the Minister for the Economy how many responses there have been to the recent consultation based upon the Cornwall-Insight report; and when the results of the consultation will be published.

(AQW 5353/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Department received 127 responses to the recent consultation based upon the Cornwall-Insight report. The results of the consultation will be made public in due course.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the full membership of all five Energy Strategy Working Groups (AQW 5354/17-22)

Ms Anderson asked the Minister for the Economy (i) what outreach work has been conducted with local businesses, who are feeling uninformed and unprepared, for their customs and regulatory obligations at the end of the Brexit transition period; and (ii) when this work will be intensified.

(AQW 5361/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: My Department had been in regular contact with a range of local businesses and business representative groups to discuss the implications from the implementation of the customs and regulatory obligations arising from the Protocol. This work was interrupted in March to deal with the Covid-19 crisis.

I am very keen to intensify preparatory work with local businesses as soon as there is clarity on what businesses will need to prepare for. I will continue to press urgently for clarity from the UK Government and the Joint Committee on how the arrangements will work in practice, and what businesses will be required to do to comply with the new arrangements.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy what steps have been taken in terms of monitoring lone worker potential health and safety risks that may arise due to social distancing or reduced staffing.

Mrs Dodds: Employers have a legal duty to ensure the health, safety and welfare of all employees as far as is reasonably possible, including lone workers. Any lone worker health and safety matters should be identified in a risk assessment by an employer. General advice can be found at <https://www.hse.gov.uk/lone-working/>. In the current pandemic this may include issues such as working at home or away from the normal work location. Employers should consider measures to keep in touch with employees, monitor workloads and ensure they can do their work safely.

Employers have the same health and safety responsibilities for those working from home as for any other workers. Advice can be found at <https://www.hse.gov.uk/toolbox/workers/home.htm>.

Lone workers, like any worker, must take care of their own health and safety and that of others who may be harmed by their actions at work. Lone workers must cooperate with their employers and other workers to help everyone meet their duties under the law.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy to outline (i) what communication is taking place; and (ii) data is being shared, with local government in respect of forward planning for potential redundancies.

Mrs Dodds: This AWQ has been transferred to the Department for Communities to respond to.

My Department regularly partners with other government departments and local government to provide a tailored redundancy service for employers and their employees. While there is no formal data sharing arrangements in place with local government, analysis about those sectors most impacted by Covid-19 and furlough data has been shared to inform joint plans going forward. My Department is also represented on local government Local Works Forums. In terms of planning ahead, my Department is exploring new ways of working such as virtual delivery of redundancy support via webinars to supplement our face to face socially distanced capacity to deliver redundancy support. We have already partnered with Armagh, Banbridge and Craigavon Council and the Department deliver our first virtual redundancy clinic for Thompson Aero Seating Ltd.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy (i) whether apprenticeships in Northern Ireland have the same difficulties as in England, including a significant non-completion rate; and (ii) what steps are being taken to address this.

Mrs Dodds: Due to differences in programme design, targeted outcomes and methodologies underpinning official statistics, it is not possible to make credible comparisons between the apprenticeship position in other parts of the United Kingdom, like England, and our own Northern Ireland based provision (ApprenticeshipsNI and Higher Level Apprenticeships).

That said, the latest available statistics show that since the ApprenticeshipsNI 2013 programme began, 28,469 participants left the programme. Of these, 61% achieved all targeted qualifications.

In relation to Higher Level Apprenticeships, mainstream provision was introduced in September 2017. The latest available statistics show an achievement rate of 83.7%.

A focus on retention and qualification achievement is reflected in the robust performance management arrangements that my Department has in place with training suppliers who include Further Education colleges, universities and non-statutory/contracted suppliers.

A Delivery Oversight Board, chaired by my Department's Director of Apprenticeships, Careers and Vocational Education Division, is tasked with assessing the overall performance of apprenticeship training suppliers in Northern Ireland. To this end, the Board oversees the performance of apprenticeship training suppliers and recommends remedial action where it deems it appropriate.

Much of the work of the Board relates to quality and compliance inspection arrangements (including monitoring performance against key performance indicators).

My Department places significant emphasis on the systematic improvement and development of the quality and delivery of all of its apprenticeship provision. It is noteworthy that the most recent Chief Inspector's Report (2016/18) reported that the apprenticeship brand in Northern Ireland is strong.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) her response to the findings of the Social Mobility Commission's report on Apprenticeships and Social Mobility that access to apprenticeships is particularly difficult for the most disadvantaged members of the community; and (ii) how she intends to ensure apprenticeships will be easier to access and that more support will be provided to those in the greatest need of assistance.

Mrs Dodds: My Department recognises that skills are a key driver of economic growth and provide a powerful tool to promote individual opportunity and social inclusion. This is especially true for apprenticeships that meet specific skills needs and provide a route into many careers across the economy.

Whilst the Social Mobility Commission's report on Apprenticeships and Social Mobility raises some important points, it presents analysis on the English apprenticeship system, which owing to recent reforms is distinct from the system we have here in Northern Ireland, particularly with regard to the Apprenticeship Levy.

The report indicates that the Levy arrangements in England have contributed to reduced apprenticeship uptake, particularly at 'lower' levels. This has not been the case in Northern Ireland. Around 6,000 new apprenticeships are created by employers across Northern Ireland each year, supported by my Department across a wide range of sectors and at all levels.

My Department supports apprenticeships by funding the cost of off-the-job training through both the ApprenticeshipsNI and Higher Level Apprenticeship programmes. Apprenticeship funding is paid directly to further education colleges, universities and contracted non-statutory training providers operating across Northern Ireland, several of which are located in areas of deprivation. Both the ApprenticeshipsNI and Higher Level Apprenticeship programmes include facilities for extra support and assistance, where participants require it, ensuring fair and inclusive access.

Increasing access to apprenticeships is a critically important area and that is why my officials continue to explore this area to examine what more can be done to widen access to expand the pathways to a greater range of participants, particularly under-represented groups and those from disadvantaged backgrounds.

In the current climate, I recognise that ensuring inclusive access to apprenticeships has never been more critical. They will play a significant contribution in maintaining the skills pipeline and supporting the renewal of the Northern Ireland economy. This is why my Department is currently developing a range of proposals to protect and support existing apprenticeships and the ongoing provision of apprenticeship opportunities to ensure the Apprenticeship system responds to the impact of the COVID-19 crisis.

Ms Rogan asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the number of hotel beds, broken down by constituency.

(AQW 5432/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The number of Northern Ireland hotel bed-spaces broken down by council area is detailed in the table below. Tourism Northern Ireland does not hold this information at constituency level.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for the Economy to acknowledge that, to date, taxi drivers, many coach drivers and HGV drivers have not been eligible for the COVID-19 support scheme provided to protect employment; and to advise whether she plans to bring forward further schemes for those who have previously been excluded.

(AQW 5450/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: This is not the sole responsibility of my Department, nor do I acknowledge that any individual sector of employment or workers, have been excluded from the range of financial support options that have been introduced to address the impact of COVID-19.

HGV Drivers

The Department for Infrastructure (DfI), with lead policy responsibility for the transport industry in Northern Ireland, has been leading in conversations with the UK Government, specifically the Department for Transport (DfT), in trying to secure support from HM Treasury for a DfT scheme to support the UK wide haulage sector. Thus far, this has been unsuccessful, however, going forward, DfT and NI officials will closely monitor the situation around road haulage.

It is important to clarify that there is no statutory role for my Department to lead any intervention. It is not a responsibility of the Department for the Economy (DfE) to deliver financial support for the haulage and logistics sector and my Department does not have the vires for such support.

Coach and Taxi drivers

DfI has lead responsibility for “transport licensing, enforcement and regulation”, as well as “support for transport services including grants in respect of rail and road passenger services including fare concessions”. Taxis and Coaches are clearly regarded as “transport services” and so, for the avoidance of doubt, these are clearly DfI policy areas.

The Executive and UK Government has introduced an unprecedented range of financial support to help those impacted by Covid-19. Many of these are open to all sectors and, for example, I understand that over 30 taxi firms were able to access the business support grants available locally, whilst approximately 20 companies listed as coach / bus hire or tour businesses availed of these grants, receiving either £10k or £25k, depending on their circumstances.

In addition, coach and taxi firms, as well as self-employed drivers, who met the relevant criteria, have been able to access national support packages including the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme and the Self-Employment Income Support Scheme, which have both been extended to October 2020.

It will be for the Executive, as well as the UK Government, to decide if additional financial support can be made available to support the local economy, and the respective employment and business sectors within this.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for the Economy when they expect pubs that currently do not prepare and serve food will be able to open, whilst observing social distancing guidelines.

(AQW 5454/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Executive has taken decisive action in facilitating the re-opening of most of our tourism and hospitality industry. Seeking to ensure the safety of our citizens has been, and will continue to be, the primary focus for the Executive. In all instances, decision making has been informed by scientific evidence and medical advice. Guidance has also been developed to assist tourism and hospitality businesses.

At present, pubs and bars are permitted to serve food indoors on a table service basis, with alcohol being ancillary to this. In addition, pubs and bars with outdoor spaces, such as beer gardens, have the option to sell alcohol only in these spaces, again on a table service basis.

My Department is considering, in consultation with relevant Departments and stakeholders, the position in respect of pubs and bars whose primary purpose is the sale of alcohol. I will bring forward proposals for the re-opening of this sector to the Executive in due course.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for the Economy, pursuant to AQW 4123/17-22, how many of the ten unannounced inspections recorded deficiencies in those food processing plants; and what enforcement actions were taken by the Health and Safety Executive.

Mrs Dodds: HSENI did not identify any breaches requiring formal enforcement action (enforcement notices or prosecution) in relation to COVID-19 control measures relating to the ten inspections.

A total of 76 improvements were identified by HSENI Inspectors across the 10 sites. In line with normal procedure, at each site where potential improvements were identified, these were raised by the Inspectors during the inspection and followed up by letter or e-mail to the management of the business detailing any actions to strengthen their COVID-19 (or other health or safety) controls. Timescales were set for action to be taken and followed up by Inspectors. At all sites remedial actions have been taken in line with the direction provided.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy whether she intends to repeal the Swedish derogation to the Agency Workers' Regulations.

(AQW 5470/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: While I have no imminent plans to repeal the Swedish derogation, I am aware that the Swedish Derogation was repealed in Great Britain with effect from April 2020. I will consider this matter as part of a wider plan to ensure that our employment legislation takes account of the needs of workers, while balancing the needs of business at this difficult time.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for the Economy when she intends to bring forward new grant support initiatives to assist businesses previously excluded from Coronavirus Grant Support Schemes.

Mrs Dodds: I recognise that the impacts of the Covid-19 crisis continue to be felt across the Northern Ireland economy. Whilst I welcome that around £320million has been provided in support through the three existing business support measures, I recognise that there remains gaps in coverage and not all businesses have been able to avail of that support.

This is an evolving situation and I remain committed, along with Executive colleagues to provide support to as many local businesses as possible. Any decision on the further business support measures will require consideration and consensus by the Executive. I am working with the Minister of Finance to bring forward further options for discussion and decision by the Executive.

Northern Ireland Assembly Commission

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission what steps have been taken to honour the commitments in paragraph 3.7 of Annex C of New Decade, New Approach.

(AQW 5178/17-22)

Mr Butler (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): On 9 January 2020 the UK and Irish Governments published 'New Decade, New Approach' ('NDNA'), a "deal which the UK Government and Irish Government are inviting the parties to endorse as a basis for restoring the Executive".

Paragraph 3.7 of NDNA states:

"3.7. The parties recognise that additional funding should be made available to parties who form the Opposition. In the context of the agreed programme of measures to enhance the sustainability of the institutions, the relevant Assembly authorities should also commission a review of the adequacy and effectiveness of the Statement of Entitlements for an Official Opposition as set out in the Fresh Start Agreement. An appropriate independent person should be appointed to conduct such a review, and the review should have regard to relevant comparators. This review should be submitted to the relevant Assembly authorities within 6 months of the first meeting of the Assembly. If further resources are deemed appropriate the Assembly Commission should seek additional resources. The review should recommend increased allowances for Opposition parties and should explore the creation of additional funding for the Offices of the Leaders of Opposition parties.”

NDNA was not published with an associated implementation plan, and whilst the action at paragraph 3.7 was not specifically attributed to the Assembly Commission, on 19 February 2020 the Commission met to consider a paper on the agreement. The Assembly Commission agreed that the review of funding to be made available to parties who form the Opposition is a matter for consideration by the Commission, but that the review of the Statement of Entitlements for an Official Opposition as set out in the Fresh Start Agreement appeared to be a matter for consideration by the Assembly and Executive Review Committee (AERC).

The Assembly Commission agreed that Commission officials would liaise with the AERC to consider a joint approach and joint Terms of Reference between the Commission and AERC to facilitate implementation of this action at paragraph 3.7 of NDNA.

I understand that the AERC met on 26 June 2020 to consider this approach from the Assembly Commission, and that discussions between the Commission and AERC on how to progress the action set out in paragraph 3.7 of NDNA are ongoing.

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission to detail the total subsidy for catering in each of Parliament Buildings' canteens, bars and dining rooms in each year since January 2016.

Mr Butler (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The Assembly Commission's Support Services contract covers catering, cleaning and related services. All of these services have been fully operational for MLAs, their staff, Assembly staff, the media and visitors to Parliament Buildings since January 2016.

The Assembly Commission requires that catering services are provided during business hours and for events / functions. Where the cost of providing catering services exceeds the revenue generated through food and drink sales, the Assembly Commission incurs the operating cost as per the contractual arrangements. This operating cost is sometimes referred to as a subsidy.

The Assembly Commission continues to work closely with the contractor to monitor and to review the delivery of these services and to minimise costs, where possible

The operating costs for catering services at Parliament Buildings is shown below. It is not possible to provide a breakdown by individual catering outlet due to the nature of the contract.

Month	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020 (to date)
Total	£277,177	£288,294	£270,720	£181,139	£137,428

Mr Beggs asked the Assembly Commission what plans are in place for the Assembly to celebrate the centenary of Northern Ireland in 2021, as part of the decade of centenaries.

(AQW 5374/17-22)

Mr K Buchanan (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The Assembly Commission agreed an approach in 2012 in relation to how anniversaries within the decade of centenaries would be marked within Parliament Buildings. This approach is guided by a set of principles including that all events will be inclusive, of a sensitive tone and respectful of our shared history and differing views on it.

In October 2018, all parties on the Assembly Commission agreed the anniversaries which would be marked in this mandate and this includes the centenaries in 2021 of the creation of Northern Ireland/ partition and the first sitting of the Northern Ireland Parliament. In line with the agreed approach, the Assembly Commission is required to agree by consensus early next year the nature of the events it will organise and will do so in the context of the events which have previously been held during the decade of centenaries.

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission to detail (i) the statutory basis on which it is proposed to make a determination on Members' expenses; and (ii) the basis on which it is believed such a determination supersedes an existing determination made under the Assembly Members (Independent Financial Review and Standards) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011.

Mr O'Dowd (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): On 30 June 2020, the Assembly agreed to confer a function on the Assembly Commission to determine the allowances payable to Members under section 47(2A)(b) and 47(10A) (a) of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 (“the 1998 Act”).

Section 47(2A) of the 1998 Act provides that:

“The Assembly may make provision—

- (a) determining the salaries or allowances payable to members of the Assembly under this section, or
- (b) providing for those salaries or allowances to be determined by a person other than the Assembly in accordance with the provision”.

Section 47(10A) sets out the nature of the provision which may be made under 47(2A)(b). Section 47(10A) provides that the provision which may be made:

“...includes provision—

- (a) by a resolution of the Assembly conferring functions on the Northern Ireland Assembly Commission, or
- (b) by an Act of the Assembly (which may include provision establishing an office or body, provision conferring functions on an office-holder or body and ancillary provision).”

The issue considered by the Assembly Commission was whether, the Assembly having passed the Assembly Members (Independent Financial Review and Standards) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011 (“the 2011 Act”), it could now make provision under the other limb of section 47(10A) – by conferring a function on the Assembly Commission.

The Assembly Commission also considered whether the power for the Assembly itself to make determinations under section 47(2A)(a) was altered by the passage of the 2011 Act.

The Assembly Commission was advised that because section 47 of the 1998 Act is an excepted matter, the Assembly could not expressly or impliedly legislate to limit the powers conferred on it by that provision. Therefore, the 2011 Act could not remove the Assembly’s power to confer functions on the Assembly Commission. Looked at another way, if the Assembly made a determination under section 47A(2A)(a), or conferred that function on the Assembly Commission under section 47(10A)(b), it would not prevent it passing an Act under section 47(10A)(b) at some future point.

Under the framework in the 1998 Act, the Assembly Commission is clear that it is for the Assembly to decide on the mechanism for determining the salaries and allowances payable to Members. This was not altered (indeed it could not be altered) by the 2011 Act. The power of the Assembly to make determinations itself, or to confer power to make determinations on the Assembly Commission, is unchanged by the 2011 Act.

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission (i) whether it is proposed to bring forward a bill to amend the Assembly Members (Independent Financial Review and Standards) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011; and (ii) if so, in what regards.
(AQW 5395/17-22)

Mr Butler (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The Assembly Commission has agreed to bring forward a Bill to amend the Assembly Members (Independent Financial Review and Standards) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011 and that the Bill may make provision to:

- Amend the functions of the Independent Financial Review Panel (the Panel) to include only the determination of salaries and pensions payable to Members;
- Amend the name of the Panel to reflect a change in its functions;
- Require the body to publish and consult on a draft of any determination it proposes to make;
- Require that the body make a determination not less than 12 months before an election;
- Require that the body should consult the Assembly Commission or an appropriate Assembly committee before deciding that ‘exceptional circumstances’ require a further determination;
- Amend the list of persons disqualified from being appointed or serving as members of the body; and
- Make provision for temporary appointments to the body.

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission (i) how are complaints against Members currently processed given the absence of a Commissioner for Standards; (ii) why has a new Commissioner for Standards not been appointed; (iii) what steps are being taken to appoint a Commissioner for Standards; and (iv) to what timescale.
(AQW 5426/17-22)

Mr O’Dowd (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): Section 19(1) of the Assembly Members (Independent Financial Review and Standards) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011 (“the 2011 Act”) provides that “The Commissioner shall be appointed by resolution of the Assembly.” Section 19(3) provides that “A person may not be appointed as the Commissioner if that person has already held office as the Commissioner.”

Therefore, as the period of office of the former Commissioner ended during the period when the Assembly was not sitting, a replacement Commissioner could not be appointed. During this time, any complaint against a Member has been acknowledged and the complainant advised that the complaint would be retained until such time as a replacement Commissioner is appointed.

A fair and open recruitment competition to identify a Commissioner has been completed as required by section 19(4) of the 2011 Act and a motion seeking the Assembly's agreement to appoint a Commissioner is included on the Order Paper for the sitting of the Assembly on 21 July 2020.

Northern Ireland Assembly

Friday 17 July 2020

Written Answers to Questions

Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs, in light of the European Commission deadline, to provide an update on his Department's submission of plans for the designation of border control posts in relation to the operation of the Protocol on Ireland/Northern Ireland.

Mr Poots (The Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs): The publication of the UK Government's command paper on 20 May 2020, provided the necessary clarification to proceed to implement the Northern Ireland Protocol. As the lead Department for the implementation of our obligations in relation to the Northern Ireland Protocol on Sanitary and Phytosanitary (SPS) checks, my officials have had engagement with port officials following initiation of the programme on 26 May. Since then my Department has been working at pace, in conjunction with stakeholders at the ports and the wider UK government to develop the information required to formally request the designations under Regulation (EU) 2017/625 on Official Controls (OCR).

I want to again place on record my strong opposition to the Northern Ireland Protocol and in particular its implementation in a manner that would be detrimental to the Northern Ireland economy and Northern Ireland's place within the internal market of the United Kingdom. There are elements of the Protocol, which regardless of implementation, are likely to negatively impact on Northern Ireland in the absence of significant assistance from the United Kingdom Government.

Notwithstanding those major concerns I recognise that there is a legal responsibility flowing from the Protocol to ensure SPS checks will be carried out on goods entering Northern Ireland. I am aware DEFRA have made applications to the European Commission requesting an extension to the current designations and the scope of entry points in Northern Ireland to include Belfast, Larne, Foyle and Warrenpoint ports and a number of our airports. While I am committed to this I have asked my officials to consider the delivery options for the facilities at the Points of Entry, due to the lack of certainty around a number of key areas including the level of checks required.

I am working on the assumption that if both the European Commission and the United Kingdom Governments are committed to a minimalist approach, it is reasonable to assume there will be a very small number of checks. I will of course supply the details of my official's findings for the delivery options as soon as possible.

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs when we can expect to see the draft Clean Air Strategy for Northern Ireland as referenced in New Decade, New Approach.

Mr Poots: Air pollution can have a serious effect on people's health. It also has negative impacts on our environment.

In December 2016, the previous DAERA Minister, Michele McIlveen, gave a commitment to develop an air quality strategy. Since then, the Department has been working on developing a draft Clean Air Strategy discussion document. This work involved close collaboration with other Departments and officials worked together to finalise the draft discussion document on the Clean Air Strategy.

Once the draft discussion document is complete, I will consider the options for issuing the draft Clean Air Strategy discussion document for public consultation later in the year.

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs whether the island of Ireland will be treated as a single unit for live breeding stock health certificates under the Irish Protocol.

(AQW 5590/17-22)

Mr Poots: At present, all livestock intended for breeding – with the exception of horses - move from Northern Ireland to the Republic of Ireland, and vice versa, accompanied by a veterinary Intra Trade Animal Health Certificate (ITAHC).

This arrangement would remain unchanged under the terms of the Protocol on Ireland/Northern Ireland

The movement of horses from Northern Ireland to the Republic of Ireland and vice versa, without the need for veterinary certification, is currently facilitated by the Tripartite Agreement (TPA) which involves the UK, France and the Republic of Ireland.

The European Commission has indicated that the TPA will no longer apply to the United Kingdom at the end of the transition period, however a recent EC stakeholder preparedness notice states that it will continue to apply to NI with the implementation of the Protocol for Ireland/Northern Ireland. My officials are currently considering the impact of this Protocol on the movements of horses post transition and will keep the industry informed of any developments.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs whether the £25 million hardship funding for farmers includes the suckling cow sector.

Mr Poots: The £25m COVID-19 support package announced by the NI Executive on the 19th May is the most comprehensive allocation made by any UK or EU administration for the agriculture and horticulture sectors during the Coronavirus emergency. After it was announced, I consulted with numerous industry representatives and stakeholders, who provided me with their analysis of the impacts of the pandemic and their proposals for allocation of the £25m.

During those discussions, there was a clear acceptance of the need to target support based on evidence at those sectors hardest hit financially as a direct result of the COVID-19 pandemic.

On 30 June I announced that £21.4m from the £25m COVID-19 support package would be directed towards businesses in the beef, dairy, sheep, potato and ornamental horticulture sectors. This support will make a contribution towards the losses incurred but will not cover all costs or impacts.

Farmers within the suckling cow sector that presented beef cattle, cull cows or bulls for slaughter between 29 March and 16 May will be eligible for a payment of £40 per head and a second payment of £33 per head will be made if the same types of cattle were slaughtered between 16 February and 30 June.

I am also aware that the autumn period is a critical time for the suckling cow sector with a large proportion of farmers marketing weaned calves and store beef cattle. We cannot rule out the possibility of further market disturbance during this period as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. For this reason I have retained a budget of just over £7m based on the residual funding of £3.6m (from the £25m) and the £3.6m that was reprioritised within my Department. This will allow me to address additional issues and challenges Covid-19 may present for this sector and others in the weeks and months ahead.

Miss Woods asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (i) for an update on the re-designation of Conlig Lower Reservoir as a coarse fishery; (ii) how many requests his Department has received to redesignate Conlig Lower Reservoir since 2017; (iii) to detail any outstanding steps required in order to redesignate Conlig Lower Reservoir; and (iv) whether redesignation of reservoirs requires any legislative changes.

Mr Poots:

- (i) My Department's Inland Fisheries Branch is developing a substantial legislative programme to be taken forward over the next twelve to eighteen months and the re-designation of Conlig Lower Reservoir as a coarse fishery will be included if no objections to this proposal are received.
- (ii) My Department has received two written requests on 18 July 2019 and 16 January 2020 to re-designate Conlig Lower Reservoir. There were also numerous requests in telephone conversations with staff when discussing other angling related issues.
- (iii) A key next step in the designation process shall be consultation with Conlig Lower's owner, Northern Ireland Water.
- (iv) The re-designation of Conlig Lower to a coarse fishery will require legislative changes and will be considered in the legislative programme to be taken forward over the next twelve to eighteen months.

Department for Communities

Ms Sugden asked the Minister for Communities, further to government response of COVID-19, how Jobs and Benefits Offices will process new claims for Jobseekers Allowance which currently require claimants to attend an interview at their local office.

(AQW 3798/17-22)

Ms Hargey (The Minister for Communities): All appointments at local Jobs & Benefits offices have been postponed from 16 March 2020 as a response to COVID-19. This means that customers who would normally attend Jobs and Benefits Offices for their New Claim interview are no longer required to do so. In order to ensure that claimants are not disadvantaged by the circumstances surrounding COVID-19 my Department is providing a contingency arrangement during this unprecedented period.

My Department will continue to provide a Telephony Support service to those wishing to make a claim to New Style JSA. In order to maximize efficiency and to negate the requirement for the claimant to attend a Jobs and Benefit Office for a New Claim interview, my Department has introduced a telephony based model, from 19 March 2020, whereby the Benefit Processing Centre will contact the claimant after they have made a request to claim New Style JSA via the Telephony Support service.

The Benefit Processing Centre will establish the claimant's identity, advise them of options and if required complete the claim to New Style Jobseekers Allowance with the customer whilst they are on the telephone. The Benefit Processing Office will accept the oral evidence provided by customer during the call as sufficient to process the claim and award any entitlement due.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities to detail the communications she and her departmental officials have had with the Minister for Economy on when the current exclusion of the sports sector from the £10,000 small business grants for the purposes of COVID-19 will be lifted; and when sporting clubs will have access to the £25,000 leisure, tourism and hospitality grants.

Ms Hargey: I can advise that on 3 April 2020, Minister Hargey wrote to the Minister for the Economy, Diane Dodds MLA, asking that she consider including sporting businesses, such as Governing Bodies and clubs, in the Small Business Support Grant Scheme and to ensure that larger entities, that fall into the relevant NAV threshold, could apply to the Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure fund.

Minister Dodds advised in a letter to the Executive on 15 April, that she intended to include the sports businesses in the £25,000 scheme. The sports sector remains excluded from the Small Business Support Grant.

My officials have engaged on a regular basis with colleagues in the Department for Economy (DfE) in relation to the various COVID-19 relief grant schemes. That engagement will continue around identifying potential gaps where businesses, including Governing Bodies and clubs, are not eligible for any form of financial support.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister for Communities to detail the (i) number of claimants for Universal Credit during (a) March 2020 compared to March 2019; and (b) April 2020 compared to April 2019; and (ii) number of claimants who have been refused Universal Credit during March and April 2020 whose primary place of employment is the Republic of Ireland.

Ms Hargey: The Department publishes quarterly statistics on people and households who are in receipt of Universal Credit. The most recent quarterly statistical bulletin was published on Wednesday 26 February 2020 and provides information up to November 2019. That report along with previous reports, is available at www.communities-ni.gov.uk/articles/universal-credit-statistics.

The official statistics bulletin that will provide statistics on the March – April 2020 period is not due to be published until August. However, due to the significant interest in Universal Credit applications since March, the Department has published Management Information on the Departmental website providing information on claims, advances and payments for the period from 2 March 2020 to 26 April 2020. That information is available at:

<https://www.communities-ni.gov.uk/publications/management-information-related-universal-credit-claims-payments-and-advances>.

It is important to note that the Management Information does not replace the official statistics that will be published in due course. It should also be noted that the Management Information for March and April 2020 is not directly comparable with the official statistics for 2019 which have been through a formal testing and quality assurance process.

The department does not hold information in relation to (B-ii)

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for Communities whether she will review the need for a men's refuge shelter.

(AQW 5419/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Housing Executive's Supporting People Team is producing a three year strategy for 2020-2023 which will consider the existing needs and emerging demands on Housing Support Services. It will be informed by and be in support of other strategies, including the Housing Executive Homelessness Strategy, wider strategies of health and criminal justice and aligned to outcomes identified in the Draft Programme for Government.

Following the successful team work with the PSNI Public Protection Branch, the Housing Executive's Homelessness Strategy and Policy Unit (HSPU) have been meeting with the Men's Advisory Project (MAP) and Men's Action Network (MAN) to discuss how it can work more closely to meet the needs of males experiencing domestic violence. As a result, HSPU has planned a series of meetings in relation to improving the service provided to males experiencing violence within their home. HSPU appreciate that the introduction of the new Domestic Abuse and Family Proceedings Bill will incur additional legal requirements in relation to the Housing Executive's statutory responsibility and it will endeavour to work with all groups to ensure an equitable service to all.

Mr Butler asked the Minister for Communities what steps have been taken to ensure that post-pandemic we achieve and maintain a zero rough sleeper target.

Ms Ní Chuilín: Housing Executive is working to consider the way forward in terms of finalising an exit strategy for the current arrangements which actively looks to reset the approach to dealing with rough sleeping, learn from the current initiatives and also outlines the contingency plans to meet any future threat. This work is something that the Housing Executive will take forward with the Department and its partners, building on what has been learned across the whole sector.

We actively encourage our voluntary and statutory partners to advise us if they become aware of any individuals that are rough sleeping and will work with them and the relevant individuals to make accommodation available.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities what discussions she has had with the Minister of Finance regarding proposals to deliver shared housing funded by the £500m funding for shared and integrated education.

Ms Ní Chuilín: Shared Housing is an important part of the overall housing programme my Department is committed to delivering. In that regard, officials from my Department have engaged with colleagues in DoF to avail of the financial flexibilities which allow Fresh Start funding for shared and integrated education to be used for the delivery of Shared Housing.

DoF has transferred approximately £16.9m funding this financial year. This includes a capital allocation of £14.4m to support the building of homes and £2.5m resource which will support the delivery of Good Relations plans within those neighbourhoods and the local community. My Department is currently delivering 36 shared housing schemes through the Shared Housing Programme and this additional funding will allow that programme to expand in response to public appetite for shared neighbourhoods.

Department of Education

Mr Stalford asked the Minister of Education to provide an update on Restart Funding for schools as set out in his letter to principals on 7 July 2020, specifically what flexibilities his Department will allow in relation to supervisory and teaching staff and budgets for the same.

Mr Weir (The Minister of Education): As we enter the recovery phase I appreciate the concerns schools may have regarding the need for additional resources to allow for a safe reopening and I do not underestimate the challenges that still lie ahead in this fluid and changing environment. I fully acknowledge that additional support may be needed.

As outlined in my letter to Schools the Department of Education is currently working with the Education Authority to quantify and monitor the financial pressures associated with the Restart Programme and I will engage with my Executive colleagues in an effort to secure additional funding to facilitate the safe reopening of schools.

My Department is keeping all of these issues under review and any change in circumstances or funding arrangements will be communicated to schools as a priority.

Department of Finance

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister of Finance whether he will prioritise the shortening of supply lines and localised procurement from Northern Ireland manufacturers of personal protection equipment.

(AQW 5320/17-22)

Mr Murphy (The Minister of Finance): I fully support any actions that will provide security of supply for Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) required in the fight against COVID-19 or any future health crisis. Indeed, until end June 2020, my Department has co-ordinated 954 PPE orders placed for the Non Health Sector Departments with an aggregated value of £8m.

My Department recognises the work of local manufacturers who have re-purposed their operations to produce critical equipment and clothing during this pandemic and will develop procurement guidance to outline the factors which should be considered when developing future procurement strategies for PPE contracts, such as supply chain resilience, ethical sourcing and delivery timescales.

It will be key that commissioners implement this guidance when developing procurement strategies to meet their PPE needs.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Finance for an update on what action the NICS Pension Scheme have taken in relation to the Collective Consultation Working Group statement of 22 January 2020.

Mr Murphy: Policy representatives for the Civil Service Pension Scheme have been engaged in technical discussions on proposals to remedy age discrimination at the Collective Consultation Working Group (CCWG), which is co-ordinated by my Department and the recognised forum for employer/employee consultation on public service pension policy. A formal consultation exercise on these proposals will now follow. The scheme expects to update members on consultation arrangements in the coming weeks.

Mr Muir asked the Minister of Finance, pursuant to AWQ 4588-17-22, (i) what percentage of NICS staff are primarily desk-based and, therefore, could potentially work remotely; and (ii) to detail any guidance given on remote working to NICS staff, covering both those who benefit from remote working and those who would prefer a return to the office.

Mr Murphy:

- (i) The Department of Finance does not hold information on the percentage of NICS staff that are primarily desk-based and, therefore, could potentially work remotely.
- (ii) A range of guidance on Working from Home has been provided for staff and managers through the Coronavirus Hub. Recently this was drawn together into one document with links to where more detailed advice on particular aspects can be obtained. This is iterative guidance and will be updated as the situation evolves. The document is available on the Department of Finance Internet site at <https://www.finance-ni.gov.uk/publications/covid-19-working-home-guidance>

Guidance has also been provided in relation to return to the workplace. This is also available on the Department of Finance Internet Site at <https://www.finance-ni.gov.uk/publications/nics-recovery-plan-guidance>

Mr Muir asked the Minister of Finance (i) why, in the June Monitoring Round, £25m of Financial Transaction Capital (FTC) was replaced with £25m of grant funding for the new Ulster University, Belfast campus; and (ii) how much of the original £25m of FTC was originally expected to be paid back to the Executive, either through loan repayments or equity investments.

Mr Murphy: While the original intention was to provide £126 million of FTC, the Department for the Economy (DfE) has now made a case for providing £25 million as a capital grant now, with the remainder provided as a FTC loan.

Both the grant funding and the loan are subject to the outcome of the appraisal process. Therefore the £25m capital grant allocation is ring-fenced funding and which will only be provided to the Ulster University once the appraisal has been successfully completed.

The FTC loan will be repayable over a 30 year period, with a five year capital repayment moratorium, at a rate of 0.25%.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Finance what progress has been made on the development of three year budgetary and funding cycles.

(AQW 5698/17-22)

Mr Murphy: As you are aware, I am supportive of multi-year budgets as they support delivery by facilitating longer term planning.

The Executive's funding envelope will be determined by the outcome of Treasury's Spending Review which is expected to be announced in the autumn. The period for which the Executive can agree a budget will be restricted by the period covered by the Spending Review.

At this time we have no indication whether there will be a single year or multi-year Spending Review settlement. However, I continue to press Treasury for a multi-year settlement as that will allow us to put in place a local multi-year budget.

Department of Health

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister of Health when the Regional Fertility Centre based at the Royal Victoria Hospital will reopen; and when appointments and treatments will begin for patients.

(AQW 5288/17-22)

Mr Swann (The Minister of Health): I can only provide information on publicly-funded treatment provided by the Regional Fertility Centre (RFC) in the Belfast Trust.

I launched the Strategic Framework for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services on 9 June 2020. The focus will be on re-starting urgent services first. However, I have made it clear that I also consider re-instatement of fertility services to be a priority and the Trust is working to put plans in place to enable the service to recommence as soon as possible.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Health to detail the COVID-19 payments made in each of the last three months to independent domiciliary care providers contracted in (i) the Southern Health and Social Care Trust; and (ii) the Northern Health and Social Care Trust.

(AQW 5299/17-22)

Mr Swann: Payments made to independent domiciliary care providers in the Southern and Northern HSC Trusts are provided in the table below. Southern Trust payments are processed 6-8 weeks after the activity period therefore the figures provided are estimates.

Trust	Amount (000's)
	April	May	June	Total
NHSCT	28	253	364	645
SHSCT	245	230	240	715

Dr Archibald asked the Minister of Health to detail the current diabetic monitoring systems being offered across Health and Social Care; and whether there are any plans to provide continuous glucose monitoring systems as part of the Health Service. (AQW 5355/17-22)

Mr Swann: There are many monitoring systems available to support people living with diabetes. The most appropriate system for each individual is identified in consultation with their clinician.

Guidelines are available to indicate the frequency of blood tests required to monitor diabetes which are carried out in primary and secondary care. In addition to blood tests, blood pressure and weight checks, annual assessments of diabetes foot risk, diabetes eye disease and effects on mood are included in the healthcare essentials for diabetes care.

For some people living with diabetes self-monitoring of their blood glucose levels is required to help with day to day management of their diabetes. There are various self-monitoring systems available. Guidelines on the choice of device are available which take into account the type of diabetes, the type of device and functions required and the cost of test strips.

The Health and Social Care Board commissions standalone Continuous Glucose Monitoring (CGM) monitors in line with identified commissioning needs, within limited resources and as recommended in NICE Clinical Guidelines for patients meeting certain criteria.

The Health and Social Care Board does not pre-determine which CGM systems are to be provided to patients. Choice of specific CGM systems lies with HSC Trusts.

Department for Infrastructure

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on discussions between her Department, Translink and the Education Authority in relation to the provision of school transport in preparation for the reopening of schools in August. (AQW 5251/17-22)

Ms Mallon (The Minister for Infrastructure): I met with the Minister for Education on Monday 8 June to discuss the Education Restart Programme and the provision of school transport delivered by Translink and the Education Authority. At this meeting, it was agreed that colleagues from Translink and the Education Authority would commence the planning of transport for the return of pupils.

This work is currently ongoing and includes a review of both organisations fleet capacity, potential pupil numbers returning to school and other mitigating factors such as staggering school opening times to allow bus vehicles to be used more than once during the peak.

In addition to this, work is being undertaken to understand the requirements for school transport for all pupils who use regular timetabled bus and train services which will have an impact on the available capacity of our public transport network.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the Heavy Goods Vehicle restrictions planned for Clady village. (AQW 5257/17-22)

Ms Mallon: During the formal consultation on the introduction of a 7.5 tonne weight restriction through Clady village in 2019, a number of responses were received from owners of local businesses who expressed concerns as to the potential impact of the proposed restrictions on their operations. Further consultation and consideration of the issues raised is required before a decision is made.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister for Infrastructure when her Department will complete the planned resurfacing for the 4th Street Barcroft Park, Newry, that had previously been confirmed for March 2020. (AQW 5277/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department is currently finalising arrangements for delivery of an extensive resurfacing programme and I hope you will appreciate it is not possible to provide details of exact timescales for the completion of works at specific locations until programmes have been fully developed. However, I can confirm that resurfacing works in Barcroft Park, Newry will be completed during the current financial year.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the timescale for the resumption of driving tests. (AQW 5282/17-22)

Ms Mallon: On 22 June, I announced plans to reinstate some driver testing services in July for those licence categories, where testing can be done safely in line with Public Health Agency advice and guidance on social distancing requirements. This includes motorbike driver testing, planned from 6 July and tests for drivers of buses, tractors and module 4 CPC tests for lorry, bus and coach drivers, planned from 20 July. I have also confirmed that Driver Theory Tests have been reinstated from 6 July.

The Driver & Vehicle Agency is working on proposals to reinstate practical driving tests for cars and lorries. Once a date to resume these services has been confirmed I will ensure this is immediately communicated to our customers.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail how much has been spent on (i) road resurfacing; and (ii) road repairs, broken down by constituency; (a) in the last two years; and (b) the current year.

(AQW 5283/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department does not maintain a record of expenditure in the format requested, however I can provide the member with information on Capital and Resource Structural Maintenance expenditure by District Council area (see tables 1 & 2 below).

Carriageway Resurfacing is one of the sub functions that make up the Structural Maintenance of the road network. Other functions within Capital Structural Maintenance are Footway Resurfacing, Surface Dressing, Structural Drainage and Structural Stability.

I have also maintained the opening level of investment in Capital Structural Maintenance of the road network at £75m for 2020-21, to help generate regionally balanced growth and to improve connectivity, with £10m specifically for rural roads.

My Department allocates funding to its four Road Divisions on the basis of need, using a range of weighted indicators, tailored to each maintenance activity. Divisions use these indicators when apportioning across council areas to ensure, as far as possible, an equitable distribution of funds.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure what action is being taken to progress the issue of driving instructors being able to safely return to work.

Ms Mallon: The Executive Office has confirmed that the Regulations do not currently prevent driving lessons from taking place, if it is safe to do so for both instructors and their customers.

Given that driving instructors work in a higher risk environment, it is crucial that public health advice is followed by them to keep them and their customers safe. The ADI National Joint Council has published guidance for driving instructors and it is advised that this is reviewed to help them prepare safely: <https://www.adinjc.org.uk/training-resources/>.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the discussions her departmental officials have had with their Scottish counterparts regarding the need for investment in the A75 and A77 trunk roads linking Northern Ireland with our major GB market.

Ms Mallon: My departmental officials are familiar with the South West Scotland Transport Study – Initial Appraisal: Case for Change, published in January 2020. One of the key aims of this Transport Study is to consider the rationale for improvements to key strategic corridors, including the A75 and A77, with a focus on access to the ports at Cairnryan. The Transport Study recommends that improvements to both the A75 and A77 are carried forward for more detailed appraisal.

My departmental officials have not yet had detailed discussions with their Scottish counterparts in relation to this Transport Study but will in due course. However, as part of the Scottish governments more detailed appraisal my officials will ensure, in due course, that their counterparts are fully cognisant of the importance of the A75 and A77 to Northern Ireland.

Mr Robinson asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether she plans to adopt the infrastructure in Loughview Estate, Ballykelly.

(AQW 5308/17-22)

Ms Mallon: This development is in a former Ministry of Defence housing site, and the roads and water and sewerage infrastructure have never been adopted by the Department and NI Water respectively. As such, the residents and the Management Company are responsible for the maintenance of these assets.

For a road to be adopted, it must be 'in all respects fit and proper to become a public road'. The Department has offered advice to the Management Company about these requirements but it has chosen not to carry out the necessary works therefore, the Department is not in a position to adopt the roads and associated street lighting.

If the owners of the development wish to further discuss adoption of the roads and street lighting, they should in the first instance contact David Porter, Divisional Roads Manager for Northern Division, County Hall, Coleraine.

Similarly, NI Water may adopt the water and sewerage infrastructure within this development, but only after it has been brought up to an adoptable standard. NI Water has in the past discussed this with the Management Company and I am advised that there are renewed discussions between the Management Company and Mr R Mooney, the Developer Services Adoption Manager in NI Water.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in relation to the Glider, to detail (i) whether it is meeting the projected passenger numbers; (ii) whether it is operating within financial and budgetary targets; (iii) the level of detected non-ticket fraud; and (iv) the level and cost of vandalism to (a) vehicles; and (b) ticket machines; and (c) waiting shelters.

Ms Mallon:

- (i) During the Glider's first year of operation, the Glider exceeded its passenger carrying target by 2m; carrying 9.6m passengers as compared to the projected 7.6m within the Outline Business Case (OBC) for the service.
- (ii) Whilst the running costs for the Glider service in its first year of operation were 12% greater than projected within its OBC, this increase is due, in part, to increased staff and fuel costs as a result of the need to introduce additional Glider services to facilitate the increase in passenger numbers. To that end, fare revenue generated by the Glider service is 18.5% higher than anticipated and allowed the service to perform financially better than projected within the OBC.
- (iii) The level of detected fare evasion on Glider services in 2019/20 was approximately 5%.
- (iv) In the 2019/20 financial year, the level and cost of vandalism within the Glider service to:
  - (a) Vehicles was £25,000
  - (b) Ticket machines was £28,000 and
  - (c) In relation to Glider shelters, as Clear Channel is under contract to supply and maintain the shelters across the Glider network, there is no direct cost to Translink for vandalism.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in light of Fermanagh and Omagh District Council's expressed view in its official minutes dated 26 May 2020, that it should not be its responsibility to monitor the decisions of her Department, (i) whether it is the role of her Department to ensure that the operators of the Cavanacaw gold mine are fully compliant with all planning permissions granted by Strategic Planning Division (SPD); and (ii) what monitoring of planning conditions the SPD has carried out since 1 April 2015.

Ms Mallon: The former Department of the Environment granted planning permission for the operations at Cavanacaw in 2015 subject to 59 conditions, several of which contained requirements for submissions to the Department.

Accordingly, my Department has implemented an ongoing monitoring regime for the goldmine at Cavanacaw in collaboration with Fermanagh and Omagh District Council. Monitoring includes site inspections, review of the submissions required by conditions, e.g. noise and dust reports; and assessment of progress on matters such as landscaping and restoration.

My Department will notify the local council of alleged breaches and provide follow up assessments of compliance.

I understand that the local council has already taken enforcement action subsequent to the receipt of complaints from the Department and its own investigations.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) for an update on the public consultation on Vehicles of Historic Interest (VHI) which closed in August 2019; and (ii) when VHI MOT exemption legislation will be brought to the Assembly to bring Northern Ireland into line with Great Britain.

(AQW 5335/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I announced on 2 July 2020 that I intend to introduce the exemption from periodic roadworthiness testing for Vehicles of Historic Interest in Northern Ireland. This exemption, which will align NI legislation with that in GB, will apply to those vehicles that were first registered at least 40 years ago, are no longer in production and have not been significantly modified. The exemption will not apply to those vehicles that are still in public service. I have instructed my officials to begin the process of progressing the legislation through the Assembly with the aim that the regulations can be laid and brought in to operation as soon as possible.

Mr McGuigan asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in the context of increasing the use of public transport, whether she will reinstate facilities to allow for a train stop in Dunloy, on the Derry to Belfast route.

Ms Mallon: I am committed to improving transport connectivity for the benefit of our economy and communities across Northern Ireland. Our rail network, whilst relatively small, does present a unique opportunity to improve the sustainability of the Department's transport operations. In line with that, my Department is currently developing proposals for a new Regional Strategic Transport Network Transport Plan (RSTNTP) which will help inform priorities for future development of the main road and rail networks, including the potential for additional railway stations on existing routes.

Timescales for the publication of the RSTNTP have been affected by the COVID-19 emergency, however, when published, this will give the public an opportunity to respond and share their view on the proposals brought forward and I would welcome any feedback for a train halt at Dunloy through this process.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister for Infrastructure, following the flooding of homes and properties at the bottom of the Ballycolman estate, Strabane, whether her Department will undertake a full appraisal and review of the drainage system in this area, including the functionality of the discharge pumps, to establish the cause of flooding in this area over the past two decades.

Ms Mallon: NI Water has advised me that, following a flooding event at the lower section of the Ballycolman Estate on 26 June 2020 an investigation found that an access cover on a sealed sewer system had been tampered with, thus allowing a spill at that point. NI Water aims to complete a full CCTV inspection of the foul and storm sewers at this location by the end of July 2020, before resealing the access cover.

In addition, my officials in DfI Roads will cleanse and investigate the existing road drainage system at the lower section of the Ballycolman Estate, and carry out remedial works if any defects are identified.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Infrastructure, pursuant to AQW 4937/17-22, whether (i) she intends to increase the distance between residential property and blasting; and (ii) she will commission a review of these guidelines.

Ms Mallon: There is currently no intention to increase the minimum distance between residential property and blasting or to commission a review of the guidance. Whilst 100 metres is the minimum distance set out in guidance, this can be increased, if required, on a case by case basis depending on factors such as the nature of operations, intervening topography and the layout / design of the housing development.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Infrastructure, pursuant to AQW 31073/11-15, (i) what measures were put in place to ensure the monitoring and enforcement of quarry operations established in 2014; (ii) whether such measures remained effective post Local Government Reform; and (iii) to outline any evidence that these measures continued and were successful after the transfer of planning functions to local authorities on 1 April 2015.

Ms Mallon: Following the reform and transfer of planning functions in April 2015, enforcement of planning control (including quarries) became the responsibility of the new local council planning authorities. Additionally, transitional provisions transferred the majority of existing planning applications, planning approvals and enforcement cases to the local councils.

In order to support this new two tier planning system, the Department published a series of practice notes which provide the council planning authorities with advice and guidance on matters such as enforcement responsibilities and practice.

Local councils should have in place their own measures to ensure effective monitoring and enforcement of post decision compliance and a council's approach to enforcement should be set out in their respective Enforcement Strategies.

The Department monitors enforcement performance across councils and the latest annual performance statistics for 2019/20, published on 2 July 2020, show that 81.4% of enforcement cases were concluded within 39 weeks, which exceeds the statutory target of 70%.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Infrastructure, pursuant to AQW 260/17-22, (i) whether the delay in the implementation of the Review of Old Minerals Permissions has caused (a) environmental harm contrary to the precautionary principle; and/or (b) breaches of any European environmental directives; and (ii) whether the delay undermines the effectiveness of her Department's Environmental Governance Work Programme.

Ms Mallon: The legislative provisions relating to review of old mineral permissions (ROMPs) within the Planning Act (NI) 2011 have not been commenced. There is no assessment of positive or negative impacts of the absence of these legislative provisions. All requirements of European Directives in relation to the land use planning system have been properly transposed in domestic Northern Ireland legislation and there is no requirement under the directives to commence these legislative provisions.

The Environmental Governance Work Programme being taken forward by my Department is not contingent on these legislative provisions.

I can assure you that I am committed to protecting the environment and I have asked officials in my Department to prepare an options paper regarding ROMPs. This will require an up to date assessment of the operational effectiveness of the legislation, as well as further engagement with stakeholders to consider the practical impacts of ROMPs.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether she will commission a further feasibility study on improving rail services in the North West, which would include reconnecting (i) the cross border Derry to Letterkenny rail route; and (ii) the Derry to Strabane rail route.

Ms Mallon:

- (i) I am committed to improving connectivity, including all-island, for the benefit of our economy and communities across Northern Ireland. Our rail network, whilst relatively small, does present a unique opportunity in this regard and I am keen to see it enhanced across the island. However, a feasibility study on a railway link between Derry and Letterkenny could not be taken forward without the agreement of the Irish Government as the majority of infrastructure and investment would be required in the South. I understand this was considered as part of Irish Rail's 2030 Rail Network Strategy Review, and am advised it concluded that the creation of a new rail connection from Derry to Donegal was not economically viable.
- (ii) My Department is currently developing proposals for a new Regional Strategic Transport Network Transport Plan (RSTNTP) which will set out the priorities for future development of the main road and rail networks up to 2035. The draft RSTNTP will be published for public consultation providing the opportunity for representations to be made for projects including proposals on extending the rail network.

Mr Stewart asked the Minister for Infrastructure, pursuant to AQW 2341/17-22, in light of the current Department for Transport consultation regarding e-scooters in England, whether consideration is being given to carry out similar trials in Northern Ireland.

Ms Mallon: I can advise that currently it is illegal to use electric scooters on public roads or public spaces such as footpaths in Northern Ireland, which aligns with the current position in GB.

Following a public consultation, DFT is planning to offer pilot schemes to local authorities on e-scooter usage, which are due to begin shortly. The aim of these schemes is to trial e-scooter rental systems, which will help to assess their safety and impact on public spaces.

As the schemes do not extend to Northern Ireland, I have asked my officials to monitor their progress and report back to me in due course. Once the analysis of the GB consultation and the pilot scheme is available I will carefully consider both to help inform my thinking about the potential use of e-scooters here.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for Infrastructure what work has been undertaken by her Department's racial equality champion in the last five years.

(AQW 5420/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department's Racial Equality Champion has been working closely with the Racial Equality Unit in The Executive Office, other NICS champions and the Racial Equality sub-group to identify and tackle any barriers to addressing racial inequality and be the point of contact for DfI on Racial Equality issues.

A particular action for my department has been preparing model conditions for the site licences for Traveller's sites. The DfI Racial Equality Champion also made sure that arrangements are in place to help provide awareness for minority groups about the services provided by DfI and our partners.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister for Infrastructure, given safety concerns raised by local residents and community groups, whether she will address outstanding problems previously highlighted with her Department regarding the Colin Town Centre Transport Hub, including the need for (i) CCTV; (ii) extended opening hours; and (iii) additional railings.

Ms Mallon:

- (i) My Department and Translink have been working closely with local community representatives in the Colin area as well as with colleagues in the Executive Office to address the issues raised around the Colin Town Centre Transport Hub. To this end, I can confirm that options to improve the CCTV coverage within the Hub are currently being explored by Translink.
- (ii) In response to the Covid-19 pandemic and in line with the reduction in public transport that I introduced in March 2020, the Colin Town Centre Transport Hub closure time was brought forward to 7pm. However, I can assure you that this will be kept under review in line with Government advice on public health and as restrictions ease as we progress through the Northern Ireland Executive's COVID-19 Recovery Plan.
- (iii) The safety of our public transport users is of the highest priority to me. In this regard, I have requested that Translink continue to consult with local community representatives on this matter and to explore the feasibility of railings or any other safety measures that could be implemented at the Colin Town Centre Transport Hub.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the COVID-19 support currently offered to taxi drivers.

Ms Mallon: My remit in relation to taxis is regulatory, and a priority for me during the current public health emergency has been to facilitate the necessary rapid two way communication with the industry on regulatory issues that need to be addressed. My officials and I have been in regular and ongoing contact with the industry, including with individual drivers and operators, augmented by open letters to the industry. Most recently I met with a delegation of taxi drivers who were making representations on behalf of their industry at Stormont.

I have already put in place a number of regulatory measures to support the taxi industry during this crisis. This includes a 6 month taxi vehicle licence extension, automatically and free of charge, to vehicles whose previous licence expired between 10th March 2020 and 9th October 2020. Driver CPC training providers are now authorised to delivery taxi periodic training remotely, via online video platforms.

This enables drivers to continue to undertake some training online during the lockdown. With regards to medicals required for the renewal of a taxi driver's licence, the BMA and GPs have agreed to prioritise the processing of medical forms for those key workers who need them to renew their licences. In addition, and with effect from 26th May 2020, taxi drivers who do not have a medical condition to declare will have their taxi driver's licence renewed without a medical report. From 20 July, the DVA plans to resume MOT testing for priority vehicle groups, including those vehicles that cannot avail of a temporary exemption. This group includes taxis due a first time test.

In addition I have also been raising the financial and safe work practices concerns of taxi drivers which fall outside of my vires with the responsible Ministers. I would advise that Minister Murphy informed me on 30th March of some of the measures which would directly assist the taxi industry, both self-employed individuals and those running taxi operations. These included the measures announced by the UK Chancellor to support the self-employed impacted by the coronavirus through the Coronavirus Self-employment Income Support Scheme. This scheme provides for a taxable grant being paid to the self-employed or partnerships which have suffered a loss of income, worth 80% of their profits up to a cap of £2,500 per month. For taxi operators he advised of help available through zero rates bills for April, May and June and the opportunity for small businesses to avail of a grant under the Small Business Rate Relief Scheme.

I understand from taxi drivers that a number have not been able to avail of any of the current hardship support schemes on offer. The Minister for the Economy has submitted an options paper to the Executive which includes consideration of support for those in the taxi sector who have not been able to avail of help to date. I have written to the Minister for the Economy to confirm my support for this option and have reiterated my offer to utilise the data my department holds as Regulator to assist in communicating with those in the taxi industry in respect of any new scheme.

I will continue to engage with the industry and work to find solutions to any of the regulatory challenges that emerge and are causing difficulty for taxi drivers during this crisis, while also continuing to work with my colleagues on the Executive and the Committee to support the industry.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure what steps she is taking to ensure that charge points for electric cars are included in new (i) infrastructure projects; and (ii) homes.[R]

Ms Mallon: In the UK-wide Road to Zero Strategy, the UK Government set out its intention for all new homes to be electric vehicle ready and committed to consult on requirements for every new home to have a charge point, where appropriate. The UK Government consultation exercise also outlined how it proposes to transpose the requirements from the EU Energy Performance of Buildings Directive (Article 8) to set minimum requirements for electric vehicle charging infrastructure in new residential and new and existing non-residential buildings. The consultation report is still awaited.

The transposition of Article 8 of the Energy Performance of Buildings Directive (EPBD) 2018 will require amendment of the Northern Ireland Buildings Regulations. In addition, new legislation to implement parts of the Directive in respect of charging infrastructure in existing buildings will also be required. Officials in my department are currently working with officials in the Department of Finance and the Department for Transport on this matter. My officials are also looking at how this would impact on new infrastructure projects.

I am committed to exploring all options and new solutions to enhance the charge point infrastructure, improve lives and tackle the climate emergency. My Department continues to closely monitor funding opportunities for the installation of additional charge point infrastructure and will work with commercial providers to ensure that the installation of any additional charge point infrastructure remains fit for purpose commensurate with growth.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the action her Department and its agencies are taking to prevent destruction of the pavement on Malone Road by the Consulate of the People's Republic of China during the construction works at the site.

Ms Mallon: You may be aware that Belfast City Council issued proceedings in the High Court in Belfast against the Consulate General of the People's Republic of China, Belfast seeking an injunction to restrain her, her servants or agents, from carrying out the development works at the Chinese Consulate premises at 75-77 Malone Road.

Following hearings on 16 and 23 June 2020, the presiding judge concluded that the works being carried out at the Chinese Consulate are for security purposes and are therefore consular functions for which there is diplomatic immunity. The council's application was therefore dismissed.

Separate to the planning process, local Departmental officials have granted Consent, under Article 72 of the Roads (NI) Order 1993, for the erection of the temporary hoarding at the site. This was granted without prejudice to any permanent development works ongoing behind the hoarding. Its purpose is to confirm the applicant's responsibilities for health and safety, road safety, signing and guarding of the works. The Article 72 consent requires the person to whom it is issued to indemnify my Department against any claim in respect of injury, damage or loss arising out of the erection or presence of that hoarding on a road.

I am advised that Agents for the Consulate General have confirmed that reinstatement of the pavement will be carried out in accordance with all relevant construction standards following completion of the development works. Once the hoarding is removed, Departmental officials will inspect the pavement to confirm that the footway has been restored to a satisfactory condition.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure what consideration has been given to increasing park and ride provision in the Bangor area.[R]

(AQW 5516/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I appreciate the important role of Park & Ride and Park & Share in encouraging a shift from the private car to public transport, both bus and train. I am also aware of the high demand for Park & Ride spaces in the Bangor area and that existing provision at Bangor, Carnalea and Bangor West (over 350 spaces) is fully utilised on a typical day. Site availability is a major obstacle in providing additional capacity and unfortunately, despite extensive searches, Translink is not aware of any suitable, available land at this time. In partnership with Translink, I remain committed to prioritising, planning and delivering Park & Ride facilities through the joint Park & Ride Programme Board, and I remain keen to pursue additional capacity in Bangor, should suitable land become available.

My Department and Translink are also keen to promote active travel as part of the solution and Translink has previously met with senior officials from Ards & North Down Council to discuss a multi-agency approach to improving walking and cycling connectivity to public transport interchanges.

In support of this initiative and my commitment to active travel and our Green Recovery, Translink is currently rolling out enhanced cycle storage facilities at stations and halts across the network, and plans to include Bangor in this programme.

Mr Chambers asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) why a large area of street lighting in the Bayview Road area of Bangor has been out for some considerable time; and (ii) whether she can confirm a timescale for repairs to be completed.

Ms Mallon: A number of street lights in the Bayview Road area of Bangor have been inoperable due to a failure of the electricity supply. As Northern Ireland Electricity (NIE) is responsible for the repair, it was reported to them on 11 June 2020.

NIE attended the site on 8 July 2020 and carried out an interim repair to restore the electricity supply to the lights, which are now working. However, NIE has advised that further work is required to complete the repair and to ensure street lighting is available during the hours of darkness it has been necessary to leave the lights burning during daytime.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Infrastructure when practical driving tests will be allowed to restart.

(AQW 5532/17-22)

Ms Mallon: The Driver and Vehicle Agency (DVA) is reinstating some driver testing services this month for those licence categories where testing can be done safely in line with current public health advice and guidance on social distancing requirements. Motorcycle driver testing recommenced from 6 July and tests for drivers of buses, tractors and module 4 CPC tests for lorry, bus and coach drivers, are planned from 20 July.

The DVA is working on proposals to safely resume practical driving tests for cars and lorries as soon as possible. Once a date to resume these services has been confirmed I will ensure this is immediately communicated to our customers.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Infrastructure for a timeline of when MOT tests will restart for historical cars.

Ms Mallon: Vehicles constructed or first registered before 1960 are already exempt from a roadworthiness MOT test in Northern Ireland.

From 20 July, the Driver and Vehicle Agency (DVA) plans to resume MOT testing for priority vehicle groups, including those vehicles that are not able to avail of a Temporary Exemption Certificates (TEC). This includes taxis and buses due a first time test, vehicles not previously registered in Northern Ireland, vehicles whose MOTs have expired by more than 12 months that includes vehicles previously declared SORN and those sold by car dealerships. As restrictions ease, and the DVA's capacity to test vehicles increases, more services will be reinstated until such times as normal business resumes.

From 1 July, customers of priority vehicles have been able to book a vehicle test appointment. Further details can be found at <https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/coronavirus-covid-19-and-motoring>.

Mr Robinson asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail when a taxi driver licence is due for renewal, and they have not met the required training hours, whether they will be given a temporary exemption from that requirement until testing is restarted.

(AQW 5653/17-22)

Ms Mallon: Taxi periodic training is a statutory requirement that every taxi driver applying to renew a taxi driver's licence must complete before a licence can be granted. There is no exemption to this requirement.

To help mitigate the impact of Covid 19 on the taxi industry, additional online Taxi Periodic Training courses have been made available to enable taxi drivers to continue to undertake the required training online.

Details of all taxi driver periodic training courses that have been authorised for remote delivery are updated daily on the Joint Approvals Unit for Periodic Training (JAUPT) website.

Department of Justice

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice whether further guidance will be issued regarding access to children for those who have care orders in place but cannot meet physically.

(AQW 5366/17-22)

Mrs Long (The Minister of Justice): The welfare of the child is the paramount consideration in family courts.

The guidance approved by the Lord Chief Justice includes advice regarding contact arrangements and recognises that it is important that children should maintain their usual routine of spending time with each of their parents in compliance with a Contact Order unless to do so would put the child, or others at risk with regards to Government and Public Health Authority (PHA) guidance.

The decision whether a child is to move between parental homes is for the child's parents to make after a sensible assessment of the circumstances, including the child's present health, the risk of infection and the presence of any recognised vulnerable individuals in one household or the other.

The Lord Chief Justice has suggested that if direct contact cannot be achieved alternative arrangements should be made to establish and maintain regular contact between the child and the other parent, for example remotely – by Face-Time, WhatsApp Face-Time, Skype, Zoom or other video connection or, if that is not possible, by telephone.

Where a party to the proceedings feels a matter of contact is urgent they may request a hearing by lodging the requisite form. On receipt of the form the judge will determine whether the matter is urgent or necessary and if it can be dealt with administratively or will require a hearing.

Breach of contact orders made under the Children (Northern Ireland) Order 1995 can be dealt with by way of contempt of court proceedings or initiated under enforcement powers in the Magistrates' Courts (Northern Ireland) Order 1981.

The guidance approved by the Lord Chief Justice states that if any court directed contact arrangements are missed or found to be unreasonable, the court may take this into consideration when making further orders, and it may be possible to 'make up' time with the child after the restrictions are lifted.

The Lord Chief Justice has initiated a programme of work to incrementally recover court business. This is being informed by Public Health Guidance. These arrangements will be kept under review and will be revisited as circumstances develop.

Department for the Economy

Mr Beattie asked the Minister for the Economy how much her Department has spent on producing materials in Irish, in each of the last five years.

(AQW 3429/17-22)

Mrs Dodds (The Minister for the Economy): My Department has spent a total of £13.52 for Irish translation services, paid to Global Connects in August 2019.

Mr Stewart asked the Minister for the Economy what special measures can she implement to help childminders, and other self-employed people in similar roles, who cannot continue to operate in their own houses at present because of UK Government guidance on self-isolation due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Mrs Dodds: The Covid-19 Childcare Support Scheme includes support for childminders who have remained open and caring for vulnerable children and the children of key workers. Those childminders continuing to operate may be eligible to claim for payments for a fixed monthly allowance of £125 per child per month up to a maximum of £500. However I am aware not all childminders have been able to remain open during this difficult time.

On 5 May 2020 I announced the development of the NI Microbusiness Hardship Fund to help micro-businesses and social enterprises who have been negatively impacted by the Covid-19 pandemic and have been unable to access other regional and national support measures. My Department will make up to £40 million available through this fund, which is being administered by Invest Northern Ireland. Self-employed people who employ at least one other person are able to apply for the fund. An Eligibility Checker and the application portal are available at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/content/coronavirus-ni-micro-business-hardship-fund>. Applications can be made until 12 June 2020.

Many other means of support are offered on a UK-wide basis. The Chancellor has announced the Self-employed Income Support Scheme and childminders may be eligible. This offers 80% of trading profits up to a maximum of £2,500 per month for 3 months. Other support is available such as HMRC Time to Pay and Income Tax Deferral. Further details are available at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy (i) how many premises in East Antrim are expected to benefit from Project Stratum; and (ii) whether she will consider ways to speed up progress on the project.

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) There are 1,956 premises in the East Antrim constituency within the Project Stratum target intervention area. It is important to note, however, that the number and location of premises that will benefit from this intervention will not be known until the procurement is complete and a contract has been awarded. My Department's objective is to maximise the number of premises to benefit from available public funding of £165m, in addition to vital industry contribution.
- (ii) The closing date for receipt of tenders for Project Stratum has now passed. The evaluation of bids is underway and contract award is expected in late September 2020. My Department's engagement with industry indicates that a 6-9 month period is required for network design and delivery preparation prior to deployment. It is anticipated, therefore, that deployment of infrastructure will commence a number of months after contract award, with completion by 31 March 2024.

In the current environment, the importance of telecommunications services has become prominent. Project Stratum has been developed under very robust corporate governance arrangements, to ensure efficient delivery. These will provide the necessary safeguards for the public investment. It is not possible to fast track the procurement or the required governance procedures, notwithstanding my Department's continued efforts to ensure that the project fully aligns with the envisaged timeline so that as many premises as possible can benefit.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister for the Economy what plans are in place to monitor and inspect the hospitality sector as COVID-19 restrictions are lifted, if complaints and concerns arise.

Mrs Dodds: The Executive has taken decisive action in facilitating the re-opening of most of our tourism and hospitality industry. Seeking to ensure the safety of our citizens has been, and will continue to be, the primary focus for the Executive. In all instances, decision making has been informed by scientific evidence and medical advice. Social distancing guidance has also been developed to assist tourism and hospitality businesses.

The industry has a key role to play in ensuring that businesses operate in a manner which is as safe as possible, for both employees and customers. Hospitality Ulster and the Northern Ireland Hotels Federation have been pro-active in helping businesses prepare for opening and in the application of social distancing guidance. Bodies such as the Police Service of NI and Local Authorities have a role to play in respect of issues such as liquor licencing and environmental health.

In addition, Tourism NI has partnered with the national tourism bodies of Scotland, England and Wales to introduce a new industry standard called 'We're Good to Go' to provide reassurance to businesses, customers and communities that safe working guidelines in relation to COVID-19 have been adopted. Moderation of Industry Standard participants is required and spot checks will verify that key elements of the standard requirements are in place.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for the Economy for an update on Project Stratum.
(AQW 5594/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Project Stratum continues on schedule. The closing date for receipt of tenders was 5th May, and the evaluation of bids is underway. Contract award is expected in late September 2020. My Department's engagement with industry indicates that approximately 6 months will be required for network design prior to deployment. It is anticipated, therefore, that deployment of infrastructure will commence a number of months after contract award, with completion required by 31 March 2024, under the terms of the contract.

The target intervention area consists of just under 79,000 premises. While the precise number and location of premises that will directly benefit will not be known until contract award, the aspiration of my Department continues to be to maximise broadband coverage throughout Northern Ireland from the funding

The Executive Office

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister what representations they have made about the fact that Dublin Airport continues to operate flights from places with high levels of COVID-19, including New York, without health checks, given the ease of onward travel into Northern Ireland.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill (The First Minister and deputy First Minister): This issue was raised with the Irish Government by the First Minister at a meeting involving the Irish Government and Secretary of State on Thursday 30 April.

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister (i) whether their Department, as a matter of course, provided the Renewable Heat Incentive Inquiry with departmental emails which were not on the TRIM system; (ii) in what circumstances was the RHI Inquiry supplied with departmental emails which were not on the TRIM system; (iii) whether Civil Service witnesses to the RHI Inquiry, retired or otherwise, were afforded access to their emails which had not been retained on the TRIM system; and (iv) whether staff and advisers of the RHI Inquiry were advised that departmental emails may not have been retained on the TRIM system, and told that such nonetheless could be accessed, if that was the case.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: The former Head of the Northern Ireland Civil Service provided evidence to the RHI Inquiry on two occasions in 2017 in response to the provision of Section 21 Notices requiring the provision of such evidence. As the evidence provided to the Inquiry amounted to over 1,000 pages it is not possible to determine which, if any, e-mails provided in this evidence were not on the TRIM system at that time without incurring disproportionate cost. The Executive Office does not hold information relating to other witnesses to the RHI Inquiry. In accordance with the terms of the Section 21 notices, all matters identified by the Inquiry were responded to and the relevant documentation provided.

Mr T Buchanan asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether the deputy First Minister breached any social distancing rules in her attendance at the funeral of Bobby Storey on 30 June 2020.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: Decisions on whether there has been a breach of the Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2020 are a matter for the PSNI and the Public Prosecution Service.

Mr Beggs asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister why the Troubles-related incident Victims Payment Scheme launch, originally scheduled for the end of May, has not been realised.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: Significant work has been undertaken by officials to date on the delivery structures for the Troubles Permanent Disablement Payment Scheme.

However, important issues remain to be resolved including the designation of an Executive Department to exercise the administrative functions of the Board on the Board's behalf, the source of funding for the Scheme and clarity on how exceptions are to be interpreted.

While the Westminster regulations came into force on 29 May, further time is still required to deal with outstanding issues and establish the necessary arrangements for the operation of the scheme.

We are committed to addressing all of the outstanding issues and delivering this scheme as soon as possible.

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister what advice has been sought, either from the acting Attorney General or otherwise, as to whether the deputy First Minister breached her pledge of office commitment "to support the rule of law unequivocally in word and deed" by reason of her attendance and actions at the funeral of Bobby Storey on 30 June 2020.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: By convention, requests for legal advice from the Attorney General, and the content of any such advice received, are not made public.

We have not otherwise sought advice on the matter.

Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (i) what role his Department has in ensuring the meat processing industry has sufficient Personal Protective Equipment to prevent the spread of Coronavirus; (ii) what co-ordination has taken place with (a) the Health and Safety Executive; and (b) the Department of Health regarding this matter. (AQW 4485/17-22)

Mr Poots (The Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs): Thank you for your question in relation to the role of my Department in ensuring the meat processing industry has sufficient Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) to prevent the spread of Coronavirus.

Firstly I would like to assure you that I share and appreciate your concerns at this difficult time.

The provision of PPE for meat processing workers is primarily the responsibility of individual Food Business Operators (FBOs). However, in response to, and from the outset of this crisis my officials have facilitated regular (often daily) meetings between the relevant representative industry bodies, individual FBOs, Health and Safety Executive Northern Ireland (HSENI) and the Public Health Agency (PHA). The principal objective of these meetings and associated communications is to ensure that the industry as a whole and individual FBO's in particular are familiar with and implementing the latest PHA guidance which is primarily aimed at ensuring a safe working environment for all personnel and minimising the risk of COVID transmission in the workplace.

These fora provide attendees with the opportunity to engage with officials with regard to the use of suitable PPE, according to PHA and HSENI advice. Industry, and my officials, have worked co-operatively throughout this crisis to share information on identification and procurement of suitable PPE and they report that there are currently no serious issues with PPE supply.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs for his assessment of the continued operation of meat factories, given significant recent outbreaks of COVID-19 associated with them in Wales, Germany and elsewhere. (AQW 5133/17-22)

Mr Poots: Thank you for your question in relation to the recent outbreaks of COVID-19 associated with meat factories in Wales, Germany and elsewhere.

Firstly, I would like to assure you, that, I share and appreciate your concerns around the recent COVID-19 outbreaks associated with meat factories in Wales, Germany and other countries throughout the world.

In response to, and from the outset of this crisis, my officials have facilitated regular (often daily) meetings between the relevant representative industry bodies, individual food business operators (FBOs), Food Standards Agency Northern Ireland (FSANI), Health and Safety Executive Northern Ireland (HSENI) and the Public Health Agency (PHA). The principal objective of these meetings and associated communications is to ensure that industry are familiar with and implementing the latest PHA guidance which is primarily aimed at ensuring a safe and hygienic working environment for all personnel and minimising the risk of COVID-19 transmission in the workplace.

These fora have proved hugely beneficial, providing attendees with the opportunity to engage with PHA, HSENI and other relevant officials on a range of COVID-19 related control issues including:

- Development of site specific risk assessments
- Risk mitigation measures and control strategies
- Communication strategies and plans
- Testing protocols and access to testing
- Contact Tracing
- Outbreak management plans

In addition, HSENI as the enforcement authority have strategically rolled out a series of unannounced inspections across the meat processing sector to ensure compliance with all COVID related PHA guidance.

As COVID-19 related restrictions are gradually eased across society, industry representatives have been reminded of the need to maintain vigilance and please be assured that my officials will continue to monitor the situation and keep me apprised of any new developments.

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs when AQW 4485/17-22 will be answered. (AQW 5434/17-22)

Mr Poots: AQW 4485/ 17-22 was answered on 20 July 2020.

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs whether he plans to plant trees in South Antrim as part of the afforestation programme, Forests for Our Future.

(AQW 5436/17-22)

Mr Poots: I launched the Forest for our Future programme in early March at a tree planting event where I was joined by 500 school pupils and together we planted 1,000 trees. The afforestation programme will plant 18 million trees by 2030 throughout Northern Ireland, including areas in South Antrim, to contribute to the UK's net zero carbon target and provide more woodlands for people to enjoy.

My Department is working across government and with representatives from the Local Councils, which includes the South Antrim area, to help identify available land and produce plans for its planting.

I have recently announced the opening of a revised Forest Expansion Scheme, which reduces the minimum area for application to the scheme from 5 hectares to 3 hectares, to encourage more tree planting of woodlands in all areas. In addition, my Department is also developing a new small woodland grant scheme to support farmers and other landowners to plant suitable trees in smaller areas to complement their existing holdings and land management.

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs, given the all-island nature of the supply chain of the dairy sector, for his assessment of the impacts there may be on the (i) Irish Protocol; and (ii) proposed contractual relationships that are out for consultation by the British government.

Mr Poots: The Ireland/Northern Ireland Protocol will mean that there will be no tariffs or restrictions in either direction with or without a Free Trade Agreement (FTA) between the UK and EU. This will allow all-island supply chains in the dairy sector to continue smoothly on a North-South basis.

I am committed to raising the issue of fairness for dairy farmers in the marketplace in the strongest possible terms. Therefore, I am pleased that Northern Ireland dairy farmers have the opportunity to respond to this UK-wide consultation on how contracts are used within the sector. The consultation document acknowledges the differences that exist between the dairy supply chains in Great Britain and Northern Ireland, including the higher prevalence of co-operatives here, our export orientated market, and a highly integrated cross border supply chain with the Republic of Ireland. As the regulation of contractual relationships is a reserved matter for Northern Ireland in terms of legislative competence, it is important that farmers respond to the consultation to ensure that their views are heard by the UK Government in considering whether or not to legislate in this area. Any feedback received from Northern Ireland consultees will help to inform my own position on the matter.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (i) what consideration he has given to the establishment of a trade and agriculture standards commission; and (ii) what communication there has been with the UK's Department for International Trade on the matter.

Mr Poots: An independent Trade and Agriculture Commission to advise on post-Brexit agriculture trade policy for the UK has been established by the Department for International Trade (DIT). I have had no contact with the UK's Department of International Trade on this matter.

The establishment of the Commission is a positive step in providing assurance to producers and public alike that any future trade deal will uphold the UK's high values in animal welfare, environmental protection and food quality and safety. I am delighted that NI interests will be represented on the Commission following the appointment of Ulster Farmers' Union Deputy President, Mr Victor Chestnutt.

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs for an update on the Going for Growth strategy.

Mr Poots: Going for Growth was the report of the industry led Agri-Food Strategy Board which provided advice to Ministers on action needed for the sustainable growth of the sector to 2020. The "NI Executive Response to Going for Growth" outlined agreed actions to be taken by a range of NI government departments and agencies to address various AFSB recommendations.

DAERA's actions were mainstreamed into core business as usual activities and almost all are now virtually complete. A number of these were delivered via the Northern Ireland Rural Development Programme (NIRDP) 2014-2020 (with a total value of up to £589m), including a comprehensive package of measures under the Farm Business Improvement Scheme (FBIS) and the Environmental Farming Scheme (EFS).

As of 10 July 2020, DAERA has paid claims under FBIS Capital with a total value of £21.68m, leveraging a total capital spend in rural communities of over £54.2m. Letters of Offer issued (not yet claimed or paid) would lever at least a further £14.7m investment. Spend to date for the FBIS non Capital programmes (knowledge transfer, innovation, and cooperation schemes) is £11.2 m.

The EFS, opened for applications in 2017, is one of the Department's largest schemes and after three annual intake tranches some 4900 agreements are in place. A fourth tranche is being progressed in 2020.

Following the United Kingdom's exit from the EU, and as we plan our recovery from the effects of the Covid-19 pandemic, DAERA's focus is on developing a Future Agricultural Policy Framework to deliver on the four over-arching principles of increased productivity, improved resilience, environmental sustainability and supply chain functionality, and also a Science Strategy Framework for how we will commission and use science in the future, so that it will be innovative, collaborative and transformative. Alongside this work, I have also announced my plans for a Green Growth Strategy and Delivery Framework which will facilitate economic growth and development, while ensuring natural assets continue to provide the resources and environment on which our wellbeing depends.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs, given the increasing spread of giant hogweed along the banks of our inland waterways, its potential negative consequences in terms of river bank erosion and its inherent health risks, whether he will (i) prioritise additional resources and treatment measures in an effort to reduce its spread of this invasive species; and (ii) formulate a joined up strategy in conjunction with the Department for Infrastructure, local councils and other relevant statutory agencies to ensure a multi-agency approach is being taken to address it.

Mr Poots: Giant hogweed has been recently designated as a Widely Spread Species in Northern Ireland as per the requirement of Article 19 of EU Regulation 1143/2014. This now makes it an offence to permit the spread of this species outside the boundaries of your own land. Landowners are now expected to manage and eradicate this species from their land.

It is not the Department's responsibility to remove these species from private land, ours is an advisory and enforcement role. Whilst I have no plans to prioritise additional resources, the Department will continue to follow up every record of Giant hogweed, informing landowners of their responsibilities in the near future. The Invasive Species Ireland website, managed by NIEA provides full guidance on confirming ID, management techniques and legislation:—

<http://invasivespeciesireland.com/species-accounts/established/terrestrial/giant-hogweed>

'An Invasive Alien Species Strategy for Northern Ireland' was published in 2013 following consultation. The Department works closely with other Government agencies such as Department for Infrastructure, Roads/Rivers, AFBI, Forest Service and Loughs Agency who record the presence of non-native invasive species when detected; for example The Department for Infrastructure is occasionally required to deal with Giant Hogweed, along with other invasive species, to ensure the integrity of flood defences and drainage structures, or if they cause a significant impediment to the free flow water. Angling Clubs, Wildlife Trusts, etc. undertake surveys of freshwater habitats and report incidental sightings of non-native invasive species. Local Councils also record and report presence of non-native invasive species on their estates, along with instigating extensive management plans.

The Department provides training events for a variety of organisations within Northern Ireland and in addition, it encourages community groups and farmers to manage Invasive Alien Species in their areas and to apply to the Department's various funding streams such as the Environment Fund, the Environmental Challenge Competition and Environmental Farming Schemes.

Miss Woods asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs whether he will ban the use of disposable expanded polystyrene packaging.

(AQW 5663/17-22)

Mr Poots: Through an ongoing Tackling Plastics project funded by my Department there have been trials with local businesses to voluntarily substitute polystyrene containers with compostable alternatives and the project has also funded local councils to carry out similar trials. I am also working with my Ministerial colleagues across the UK as each administration considers possible legislative restrictions on food & beverage containers made of expanded polystyrene along with other single use plastic items. Unfortunately this work has been delayed by the current Covid-19 pandemic but when appropriate I, along with my UK counterparts, will review the legislative options once more.

Department for Communities

Mr Humphrey asked the Minister for Communities, in relation to the development of residential accommodation in Belfast city centre, for her assessment of the city centre as a shared part of the city; and whether the city centre will be formally designated as a shared neighbourhood.

(AQW 2286/17-22)

Ms Hargey (The Minister for Communities): The NI Life and Times Survey indicates that over 77% of people, if given a choice, would prefer to live in a mixed religion neighbourhood. The Shared Housing Programme now offers social housing applicants that choice.

The development of residential accommodation in the city centre provides an opportunity to meet that demand whilst creating a vibrant and bustling city centre environment. It is estimated that only 3,000 people live in our city centre and there are plans to increase that by building additional homes to increase the city centre population.

Belfast City Council has indicated that social housing on a mixed tenure basis will be an important part of those plans. The Housing Executive has started work to develop a new City Centre waiting list, which will form part of the Shared Housing Programme. Like other Shared Housing developments, these will be allocated on the basis of objective need.

Mr Humphrey asked the Minister for Communities what funding provision has she made available to support community events to celebrate the forthcoming 75th anniversary of VE Day.

Ms Hargey: I understand that this event has now passed. However my Department provides funding to the 11 local councils through the Community Festivals Fund. Councils provide match funding to this and administer the scheme on our behalf. Community organisations may have been eligible to apply through their local council.

However, following consideration of the implications of Covid-19 on our community, and the pressures that it has brought to bear, the Department has concluded that the fund will be put on hold for this year. It is the Department's intention for the fund to be available again for next year, 2021-22.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister for Communities, given the number of small pots of funding and the burden of processing these, whether she is having discussions with the Minister of Finance, the Minister of Health and the Minister of Education to pool resources for funding support for groups working with people living with disabilities and learning difficulties.

Ms Hargey: My officials work extensively with the other Executive Departments and stakeholders to maximise the impact of funding to support groups working with people living with disabilities and learning difficulties.

In line with the New Decade, New Approach agreement, my Department will shortly commence work on options for the development of a new cross-departmental Disability Strategy. The new strategy will provide a further opportunity to ensure that a cohesive approach is taken to tackling the challenges faced by disabled people, both directly and through interfaces with their representative organisations.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister for Communities for her assessment of the impact of the gap in the mitigations package, which means that people have to pay the bedroom tax because they are deemed to have moved home voluntarily, even though they have moved there as no other houses are available.

Ms Hargey: To date, a total of 283 people have had their Welfare Supplementary Payment stopped due to the application of this policy. The latest available data shows that 147 Housing Executive tenants continue to be impacted by the "bedroom tax" and are not currently receiving mitigation payments.

The estimated cost of making Welfare Supplementary Payments to these tenants in the 2020/21 financial year is £90,000.

I am committed to ensuring that in future all tenants affected by the "bedroom tax" will receive full mitigation for the associated loss of benefit. I will therefore be bringing forward legislation at the earliest opportunity to remove the current restriction on entitlement.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister for Communities for an update, including the indicative timelines, on the phased construction and completion of 162 new social housing units by Habinteg Housing Association on the former Adria site in Strabane.

Ms Hargey: It had been anticipated that Habinteg's proposed mixed-use, mixed-tenure scheme at the site of the former Adria Factory (Strabane) would start on-site in March 2020. However, due to the Covid-19 pandemic, both the Planning Approval and the appointment of a works contractor were delayed at that time.

On 18th June 2020 Planning Approval was granted by Derry City and Strabane District Council for 158 units on the site. Habinteg will be meeting with their Project Team and advisors in the coming weeks to examine the most appropriate timeframes for the delivery of the development. Once a works contractor is appointed, the estimated construction period will be 3 years.

Ms Ennis asked the Minister for Communities to detail the (i) capital; and (ii) revenue funding programmes available from the (a) exchequer; and (b) lottery that will be available in each of the next three financial years to support sports clubs.

Ms Hargey: I can confirm that my Department (DfC) and Sport NI are considering a number of capital and revenue funding programmes which may be available to support sports clubs. The Exchequer programmes will be dependent on the outcome of the budget settlement for financial year 2020/21 and budget agreements for the two years following.

The Exchequer capital programmes proposed for financial year 2020/21 include an Access and Inclusion programme to improve access to, and participation in arts, cultural and active recreation activities for people with disabilities; a Small Capital Grants programme to promote partnership and collaborative working across the voluntary and community sector; and a programme to improve health and safety at sports clubs and venues covered by the Safety at Sports Grounds (NI) 2006 Order.

In terms of immediate support to deal with Covid-related pressures, I can confirm that at the recent June monitoring round, £2M was allocated to provide further financial assistance to sport, which is in addition to the £1.245M already allocated to the Sports Hardship Fund. Sport NI are currently reviewing this Fund and will also explore what other assistance will help clubs move forward as they return to activities, training and competition

In addition, over the five year period up to 2020, Sport NI is investing National Lottery funding into sports facility capital projects through its Single Facility Fund and Multi-Facility Funding. The Single Facility Fund delivered a total of 31 sports projects and there are 10 projects shortlisted to receive funding under the Multi-Facility programme.

Sport NI also has a number of Exchequer and Lottery revenue programmes which will support sports clubs during 2020/21. These include the Everybody Active 2020 Programme, which is administered through existing District Council small grants programmes to support participation in sport and physical recreation; and the Sporting Clubs programme, which is awarded to sports governing bodies to develop people to reach their sporting goals in a structured environment.

Sport NI is also currently finalising the development of a £3M Lottery Funded programme which will support the sports sector to build resilience and return to sport stronger following Covid-19.

In the meantime, I would encourage sports clubs to register with both Sport NI and their local Councils to receive information on future funding programmes and potential funding streams.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities to detail any funding streams available for businesses and community facilities to install accessible changing places; and whether she or her Executive colleagues have plans to make such funding available.[R]

(AQW 3475/17-22)

Ms Hargey: I fully recognise the importance of Changing Places facilities to ensuring dignity and equality for people with disabilities and ensuring that public buildings and facilities across the north are accessible to everyone.

I have previously indicated my commitment to the development of a new Disability Strategy, co-designed and co-produced with input from the disability sector and disabled people. There will be opportunities for people from all sections of the community to contribute to the Strategy's formulation. In the meantime I will raise the funding for Changing Places with my Executive partners.

My Department, working in collaboration with the Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs, Public Health Agency and local Councils, has developed an Access and Inclusion Programme aimed at improving access, and therefore participation, at arts, cultural and active recreation facilities across the north.

In the two years that the Programme has operated, a total of 87 projects across all 11 Council areas have received c£1.7m towards a range of improvement works including changing places in the Alley Arts and Conference Centre in Strabane, Artspace in Campsie, Derry and Derg Valley Leisure Complex in Castledearg. In addition, the existing disabled toilet facilities at Portadown People's Park were upgraded to meet Changing Places accreditation standard.

My Department has also allocated £40,000 towards the installation of a Changing Places facility in Coleraine Library which is due to be completed in August 2020.

The Neighbourhood Renewal Investment Fund can provide support for capital projects that contribute to the aims of the People and Place Strategy. Where a capital project includes the provision of accessible Changing Place facilities within a community facility, these will be considered for funding.

In relation to the £30 million 'Changing Places fund' announced by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the budget, the Department of Finance is awaiting confirmation from the Treasury on whether a Barnett consequential will be forthcoming. This confirmation is expected later this financial year.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for Communities to detail the terms of reference for her policy reviews into the welfare system.

(AQW 3585/17-22)

Ms Hargey: As part of the New Decade, New Approach Deal it was agreed that there would be a review of the welfare mitigation measures. I am fully committed to delivering this.

My officials are currently developing proposals for taking forward the review into the welfare mitigation measures. This includes potential membership and the associated terms of reference.

I will keep Assembly colleagues updated on this matter and make an announcement on the format of the review in due course.

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Communities what action they will take to support those who are (i) on zero hour contracts; and (ii) self-employed who may be in financial hardship due to the impact of COVID-19, but who are not ill themselves.

(AQW 3732/17-22)

Ms Hargey: People who find themselves with reduced or no income because of the impact of COVID 19 can apply for Universal Credit and New Style Jobs Seeker's Allowance. Everyone who makes a claim for Universal Credit can apply for an advance payment if they require financial assistance until their first payment is received. Applications for Universal Credit, including where an advanced payment is needed to meet immediate financial need, can be made online. A grant is also available through the Universal Credit Contingency Fund.

In addition, people in NI are able to apply for financial assistance through the Department's unique Discretionary Support Scheme, which provides immediate help for those in crisis or facing financial hardship. To apply, people can call Freephone: 0800 587 2750 or Textphone: 0800 587 2751 or by using the on-line application form available at <https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/extra-financial-support>.

Further information is also available at www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/extra-financial-support.

To further support self-employed people, there will be a temporary suspension of the minimum income floor used to calculate the household's Universal Credit entitlement. This will provide greater financial security during this period. Some people will also get a work allowance, and, if they have a partner who is working, help with childcare costs.

Self-employed people may also claim a grant through the coronavirus (COVID-19) Self-Employment Income Support Scheme from HM Revenue and Customs. Further detail is available at: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/claim-a-grant-through-the-self-employment-income-support-scheme#history>

The Department's website provides helpful information on new measures in response to COVID 19 and will be regularly updated to ensure people know what help is available. <https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/campaigns/coronavirus-covid-19>

I am committed to protecting the most vulnerable, and will keep the support available under review - in particular at this challenging time.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities what measures are in place to protect staff and service users from COVID-19 within public service buildings, including the Northern Ireland Housing Executive and Jobs and Benefits offices.

(AQW 3808/17-22)

Ms Hargey: During the Covid 19 pandemic period the Department has kept offices open for staff to provide essential benefit and child maintenance services to ensure the continuity of payments to customers. Jobs and Benefits Offices and other public service buildings were closed to the public and a number of alternative contact mechanisms were put in place to prevent face-to-face contact. The Department also put in place a number of measures to protect staff coming to the office including the designation of key worker status for benefit and child maintenance staff, the provision of IT equipment to work from home where this was possible, the introduction of rota based systems to ensure minimum staffing levels, the reinforcement of social distancing measures in the workplace and additional cleaning/ sanitising regimes.

With the recent easing of lockdown measures announced by the Executive the Department, as part of its recovery activity, is currently working with TU Health & Safety representatives to put in place Covid19 risk assessments for all of its office estate to ensure that increased staff numbers returning to the workplace can do so safely and in compliance with all relevant Public Health Agency and Health & Safety Executive guidance. This work will be completed by 3 July 2020.

The Housing Executive is a separate employer but has confirmed that similar actions were taken across its office estate including enhanced cleaning arrangements.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities what resources will be made available to support frontline staff in the advice sector dealing with the influx of queries from the public relating to COVID-19.

(AQW 3810/17-22)

Ms Hargey: My Department has allocated direct financial support of more than £6.5 million for 2020/21 to support over 360 jobs in the Advice Sector, delivering independent, community based advice services to citizens.

In addition, £220k was invested in supporting the Covid 19 Community Helpline which has taken more than 20,000 calls since it was established in March.

Further financial support of £1.5m was provided through the Covid 19 Community Support Fund for Councils to support grassroots organisations responding to the coronavirus pandemic by providing support for advice, access to food and to address issues of connectivity or isolation.

I am currently considering further allocations through this Fund.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities, in relation to her statement of 13 May 2020 on the suspension of recovery of benefit overpayments and loans, whether repayment terms will be renegotiated with customers; and whether the repayment term can be extended and spread over at least 12 months to help people financially recover from the COVID-19 crisis.

Ms Hargey: The suspension of recovery of benefit overpayments and loans will go some way to easing the financial difficulty that many people find themselves in during this period of uncertainty.

Repayments will be restarted at the rate which was in place at the time of cessation, however in line with normal arrangements people are able to contact the department at any time to discuss alternative payment arrangements or rates of repayment, if they are experiencing hardship. We will be taking a range of steps to ensure people are aware that they can contact the department if they are experiencing any difficulties with repayment rates. We will also be publishing this information and guidance on NI Direct and on the Department for Communities website.

For the majority of people repaying loans and overpayments to the departments, the repayment period already extends well beyond 12 months.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities how many former Northern Ireland Housing Executive properties are now within the private rental sector.

(AQW 4607/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The Housing Executive has advised the Department that as part of a broader analysis on the House Sales Scheme, draft findings indicate that of the 120,500 Housing Executive properties sold during the period under analysis just over a quarter were rented privately (the majority by private landlords but a small proportion by others).

It should be noted that the Housing Executive is currently preparing a full report on this research, which is being finalised, with a view to publication towards the end of the summer. Therefore it would advise that any figures provided at this stage are treated with some caution until the final report is published.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities what discussions she has had with HMRC to enable legislation to be amended to remove the requirement for the Housing Executive (NIHE) to have to pay corporation tax, given the liability will reduce the ability of the NIHE to deliver planned maintenance and housing support.

(AQW 4671/17-22)

Ms Hargey: Corporation Tax legislation is an Excepted Matter and any changes to tax legislation would need to be made at Westminster, supported by HMRC/ Treasury.

There has been ongoing engagement for several years. Both the Head of the Civil Service and consecutive Permanent Secretaries in the Department of Finance have raised the matter.

A 16 July, 2020 letter from the DoF Permanent Secretary, requesting a discussion on this issue, is with the Permanent Secretary for Treasury. My Department also wrote to HMRC on July 3, 2020 citing the similarity between the Housing Executive case for exemption from Corporation Tax and that successfully made by the Education Authority in 2017.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Communities to detail (i) the number of new build public sector homes completed in the Belfast East constituency in (a) 2018/19; and (b) 2019/20; (ii) the number of new build public sector homes planned in the Belfast East constituency in (a) 2020/21; and (b) 2021/22; and (iii) to confirm the housing provider.

(AQW 4746/17-22)

Ms Hargey: Within the Belfast East Parliamentary Constituency NIHE have been 132 social housing unit completions from 2018/19 to date, broken down as follows:

Year	Total social housing completions
2018/19	86
2019/20	45
2020/21	1
Total	132

The detail of these units and the housing provider are included in Table 1 below.

There are currently 154 social housing units under construction. The detail of these units and the housing provider are included in Table 2 below.

There are 224 social housing units programmed to start through the Social Housing Development Programme (SHDP) 2020/21 – 2022/23, broken down as follows:

Year	Total social housing completions
2020/21	108
2021/22	92
2022/23	24
Total	224

The detail of these units and the housing provider are included in Table 3 below.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities when the contract with Capita for Personal Independence Payment assessments will end; and whether she will consult with people with disabilities as to how the contract can be improved before it goes out for tender again.

(AQW 4834/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I can confirm that the current contract with Capita for the delivery of Personal Independence Payment health assessments expires on 31 July 2021. Due to the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic and to ensure the safeguarding of the existing service from August 2021, the Department intends to extend this contract by 24 months to the end of July 2023.

The Department will prepare a business case for approval by the end of the year to appraise a range of options for the future delivery of Health Assessment Services. This will include a full appraisal of the in-housing option and afford opportunities for engagement and consultation with the voluntary and community sector to identify improvements to the future delivery of the service.

The Department continues to engage on a quarterly basis with the voluntary and community sector regarding the delivery of PIP through the Disability Consultative Forum, a specific forum for local disability groups and the advice sector.

The Department has also commissioned Marie Cavanagh to undertake the second independent review of the PIP assessment process. A call for evidence remains open until 16 October 2020 aimed at organisations and individuals who have information that is relevant to how the PIP assessment is operating. Recommendations will be laid in the Assembly in the form of a report which is due in December 2020.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Communities what support she will offer to community organisations intending to mark the 100th anniversary of the foundation of Northern Ireland.

(AQW 5142/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My Department provides funding to the 11 local councils through the Community Festivals Fund. Councils provide match funding to this and administer the scheme on our behalf. Community organisations may be eligible to apply through their local council.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Communities for an update on the Queen's Parade redevelopment scheme in Bangor.
(AQW 5161/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Developer for the Queen's Parade Development Scheme, Bangor Marine, submitted a Planning Application at the end of January this year. A decision on that planning application is yet to be made.

My officials, in the Department's Regional Development Office, along with our counterparts in the Ards and North Down Borough Council, are continuing to work closely with the Bangor Marine team to continue to progress the scheme, insofar as is possible in the current working environment.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister for Communities for an update on her plans to reform discretionary support payments.
(AQW 5326/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Discretionary Support scheme was introduced in November 2016 as a replacement for abolished elements of the Social Fund. The scheme ensures the provision of emergency financial support for people who are in an extreme, exceptional or crisis situation.

After Discretionary Support had been operational for a period of more than two years my Department commenced a comprehensive review of the current policy and legislation. The completion of the review has been delayed as the focus of my Department in recent months has been on the response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

I can advise that the review is in the final stages and proposals for changes to the Discretionary Support scheme are currently being finalised. It is hoped that a formal announcement on the outcomes of the review will be made in the near future.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for Communities how much has been spent to address social deprivation in each of the last ten years, broken down by constituency.

(AQW 5344/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Funding to address social deprivation, broken down by constituency in each of the last ten years, can be found at ANNEX A. This information has been provided through the Government Funding Database (GFD) which is a NICS wide database that requires all NICS Departments and their ALBs to record grants to the voluntary and community sector. Data recorded on the GFD prior to the restructuring of wards, boundaries and constituencies when Councils were reduced from 26 to 11 in May 2014 has been adjusted.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for Communities how much money her Department has spent over the last five years to support men suffering from domestic abuse.

(AQW 5390/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Department through the Housing Executive funds the delivery of services that impact on men suffering from domestic abuse. They however do not record funding allocated directly to support men suffering from domestic abuse. Households which are subjected to such abuse are supported by the Housing Executive's overall homelessness funding. The Housing Executive also supports households who are homeless or threatened with homelessness through the provision of Supporting People funding. While Supporting People funding does support a range of specialist accommodation and/or support services for specific client groups there are a significant number of services which are general needs and accessible for men suffering from domestic abuse.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for Communities what work has been undertaken by her Department's racial equality champion in the last five years.

(AQW 5422/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Following Departmental restructuring in 2016, nominations for the role of Racial Equality Champion were sought from the new Departments. The first cross Departmental meeting of the NICS Racial Equality Champions Group was held in October 17.

My Departmental Racial Equality Champions have ensured that messages about the importance of racial equality and good race relations are consistent and visible to all staff including Non-Departmental Public Bodies and other service providers.

All DfC Policies are reviewed through a racial equality lens, to ensure that due regard is given when designing or delivering public services and in line with current equality legislation and best practice guidelines. Section 75 (S75) of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 requires the Department to ensure equality of opportunity and good relations are central to policy making and service delivery.

As part of a workshop with the Racial Equality Subgroup, a number of issues were identified that were followed up on by my DfC Racial Equality Champion. These included a perceived gap in the availability of qualitative and quantitative data on ethnic minorities. Research commissioned through the Department's Professional Services Unit now collects S75 data as a matter of course. S75 data is also sought from people in receipt of Welfare Supplementary Payments.

My Departmental Racial Equality Champion also attended various events including the John Hewitt International Summer School where a photographic exhibition entitled "Daily Lives – Asylum Seekers in Italy and Ireland" was launched; and a workshop at the Refugee Council office in Leeds where the NI Racial Equality roles and responsibilities were discussed and a summary of the provision of Refugee Council services was highlighted.

My Department also arranged a Race Champion Awareness Session where colleagues were invited to develop a greater understanding of racial equality issues and incorporate the spirit and practicalities of the Racial Equality Strategy into their everyday work. The key speaker, Neil McKitterick from Barnardo's NI Refugee Support Service, provided an overview of the refugee experience here in NI.

As a 'Friend of Mela', my Department has worked with Belfast Mela festival organisers to participate in this annual event. It is my intention that this participation will continue this year with officials working with festival organisers to see how DfC can be involved in the week long virtual celebration of world music, dance and art from the 24th - 30th August.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister for Communities to detail financial and other assistance that her Department, and its Non-Departmental Public Bodies, has provided to the Irish Football Association, its subsidiary companies, the Irish FA Foundation, the Irish FA Stadium Company or other, in (i) 2018-19; (ii) 2019-20; and (iii) this financial year to date.

(AQW 5472/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I can advise that the following support has been provided: -

	Funder	2018/19	2019/20	2020/21
IFA Stadium Company	DfC	£44,154	£48,545.73*	-
IFA Foundation	Sport NI Exchequer Funding	£20,595	-	-
Irish Football Association (IFA)	Sport NI Exchequer Funding	£2,000	£21,745	-
	DfC Volunteering Innovation Fund	£44,154	£58,454	£57,434

* Accrued from 2015/2016 as part of the £31million redevelopment programme for Windsor Park.

In addition, Sport NI's Sports Institute provided support services to the IFA senior international teams in 2019/20 (Euro qualifiers etc). The annual cost of this support is valued at £25,000.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities (i) whether her Department is planning to move to phase two of the redevelopment of the Upper Long Streets in the New Lodge; (ii) what funds have been ring-fenced by her Department for it; and (iii) on what date the vesting process will begin.

(AQW 5498/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Housing Executive has prepared a draft Economic Appraisal to review a number of intervention options in respect of the Upper Long Streets in the New Lodge area of North Belfast. The Economic Appraisal will now be submitted for internal approval within the Housing Executive, prior to submission to the Department for consideration. Funding for phase 2 has not been ring-fenced. This funding and the vesting process will be subject to approval of the Economic Appraisal by the Department for Communities and the Department of Finance.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Communities (i) for an update on the Tower Block Strategy; (ii) for her assessment of the strategy; (iii) to outline the level of funding that has been invested in renovation work to kitchens, bathrooms, windows, heating and wiring of flats within each of the tower blocks since the strategy was endorsed by her Department; and (iv) what assurances she can give that, at minimum, the same level of homes will be provided by the time all the tower blocks are demolished, given the existing shortage of social housing.

Ms Ní Chuilín:

(i) The Housing Executive's Tower Blocks Action Plan was approved by the Board of the Housing Executive in March 2019 and by the Department for Communities in August 2019. Given the complexity and scale of this plan the blocks have been categorised into 3 phases:

- Phase 1: Demolition (or disposal in some cases) in a 1 to 5 year time period - 14 'Short' term blocks
- Phase 2: Demolition in a 6 to 10 year period, with remedial works to be carried out in the interim - 7 'Medium' term blocks
- Phase 3: Demolition at a point beyond a 10 year period, with improvement works carried out as required - 12 'Long' term blocks.

The Action Plan is a high level document that sets out the broad timescales, actions and estimated funding required over the next fifteen to twenty years. Implementation of the proposals will be subject to approval of business cases for individual or groups of blocks as appropriate. A Central Delivery Team was established in April 2020 to prepare, coordinate, monitor and report on the Delivery Plan and the Local Implementation Plans.

The programme of business cases required for the blocks is already underway and is currently focused on the 'Short Term' blocks. A business case for the demolition of Monkscoole House was approved by the Department, and a consultant has been appointed to prepare for the demolition. A business case for the demolition of Latharna House has recently been approved by the Department. Further business cases are currently being prepared, however their completion has been delayed due to the restrictions on local consultation as a result of the Covid-19 situation.

Work is underway to procure a consultant to carry out detailed surveys for the refurbishment works to the 12 'Long' term blocks. An indicative seven and a half year programme has been drawn up and we anticipate that works will start at the first blocks in the programme in 2022 at the earliest.

A market testing exercise is currently being prepared to help determine whether there would be sufficient market interest to make a private sector disposal option a potentially viable proposition for a number of the tower blocks.

- (ii) When deciding on a strategic approach for its Tower Block portfolio the Housing Executive took into consideration all issues i.e. housing need, investment requirements, funding etc. The Action Plan was approved by its Board in March 2019 and endorsed by the Department in August 2019. The Housing Executive will submit business cases setting out their proposals for individual blocks, and these will be considered by the Department on a case-by-case basis.
- (iii) There has been no planned improvement schemes carried out in any of the blocks since the approval of the Tower Block Strategy by the Department.
- (iv) In some areas it will be difficult to provide the same number of replacement dwellings due to technical constraints. The cleared footprint of a block cannot accommodate the same numbers of low and medium rise housing as a tower block, and in some locations there are no other adjacent or nearby development sites to increase the putback. However it is also the case that in some areas the housing need analyses at present suggest that a 1-for-1 re-provision programme is not necessary to cater for the existing residents of the blocks or housing need in the locality. The development of any residual cleared footprints where there is currently no evidential requirement for new housing will be subject to future reviews of housing need.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Communities (i) what action she has taken to support staff in the Jobs and Benefits (a) on break out of the COVID-19 pandemic; (b) during the peak lockdown period; and (c) as the Executive's planned return to work is undertaken; and (ii) what action she is taking to ensure the safe return of the Jobs and Benefits offices staff to pre-COVID-19 public access hours.

Ms Ní Chuilín: I am particularly proud of the role our Jobs & Benefits office staff played since the outbreak of the Covid-19 crisis. Indeed, I was pleased to be able to tell many of them that myself, on a recent visit to Hollywood Road Job & Benefits office.

Our Jobs & Benefits public office network was closed in March to protect staff and callers alike as we could not guarantee social distancing at that time. Staff with an underlying health condition or who had been advised to shield were sent home. The remaining staff, key workers, were split into rotas to reduce the number of staff on site at any given time. They worked in their groups, at their offices, throughout this crisis, processing the unprecedented number of applications we received for Universal Credit.

As we look to return more of our people to offices, risk assessments will inform that process and ensure the continued health and safety of our people remains paramount. I have continued to excuse signing for people claiming Jobseeker's Allowance, and people claiming Universal Credit will be supported remotely to avoid people having to come into our offices.

I have not made any decision yet on a pre-Covid return of office opening, and any such decision would need to be informed by the guidance at that time and supported by a risk assessment.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Communities when a date will be set for the Northern Ireland Housing Executive and their contractors to restart external and internal maintenance on properties.

(AQW 5515/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: At the beginning of the lockdown the Housing Executive were restricted to only carrying out emergency work on their properties. In the last month however as restrictions have lifted they have been able to start other areas of work with external work and minor external adaptations (for example hand rails), which recommenced on Monday 8th June. Work also began on their vacant void properties, enabling them to be brought into use and made available to those families currently awaiting a new home.

On Thursday 18th June the Housing Executive recommenced external improvement programmes in local areas and major adaptations where the property was vacant.

From the 8th July the Housing Executive began implementation of a phased restart to all work streams, but, a significant backlog of response maintenance has developed over the last 3 months. Emergency, change of tenancy and urgent backlog works will be prioritised. Once the backlog of urgent works has been addressed routine works can recommence.

Planned stock improvement works will recommence from 20th July and the individual work streams will be phased in over a five week period. This will see the recommencement of much needed maintenance and planned investment works in its properties. It is envisaged that normal services will have resumed by early autumn.

Mrs Cameron asked the Minister for Communities what additional measures her Department is planning to support those employed in the Arts Sector affected by COVID-19 restrictions.

Ms Ní Chuilín: I appreciate the serious impact Covid-19 continues to have on individuals working in the Arts Sector. When Minister Hargey announced the £1.5m Creative Support Fund it was recognised that further support would be required for the arts sector.

My Department successfully bid for funding of £4million for the Cultural Sector in the June monitoring round. It is working closely with the Arts Council and key stakeholders, and has established a Consultative Arts and Culture Recovery Forum to assist in considering the priorities and support measures to be introduced across the Arts Sector in its entirety. The Forum will discuss the £4m COVID-19 support secured in June monitoring, the remaining £0.5m from the Creative Support Fund and the allocation from the £33m Barnett Consequential announced on 5th July.

Work is ongoing at pace to establish immediate priorities in relation to how the funding will be used to meet the needs of the sector, and to develop plans to ensure its future viability and resilience.

The arts sector is hugely important for both community well-being and our attractiveness as a tourist destination; I will continue to work with the sector and Executive colleagues to put a recovery plan in place.

Mr Middleton asked the Minister for Communities for a breakdown of funding provided to Cricket Ireland, in each of the last five years.

(AQW 5564/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Sport NI, an arm's length body of my Department, has allocated the following funding to Cricket Ireland through a range of programmes including Sporting Clubs and the Athlete Investment Programme to develop the sport of cricket in the north:-

Financial Year	Fund	Amount
2020/21	Exchequer	£29,059
2019/20	Exchequer	£100,000

Financial Year	Fund	Amount
2018/19	-	-
2017/18	Lottery	£398,195
2016/17	Lottery	£42,000

In addition, my Department allocated a total of £72,495 in 2019/20 to the Northern Cricket Union, one of five provincial Governing Bodies that make up Cricket Ireland. The funding was allocated to a Cricket Development Programme and to provide improvements to the grass practice wickets at Stormont, one of three International Cricket Council accredited cricket grounds on the island of Ireland.

Ms Bailey asked the Minister for Communities for her assessment of why social housing allocations have been minimal in the previous month, while the private housing market has not been similarly curtailed.

Ms Ní Chuilín: Both social and private tenancies have been impacted as a result of the Coronavirus Regulations put in place by the Department of Health. The Regulations, which came into effect from the 28th March, included restrictions on house moves, other restrictions on movement, and the need to adhere to social distancing guidance. This has meant that social landlords, in particular, have faced barriers to normal activity around allocations.

The Housing Executive, who are responsible for administering the Housing Selection Scheme, developed emergency plans to ensure that key and essential services were maintained throughout the pandemic, including statutory homeless services, and the continued allocation of homes where possible and within the guidance. This included the prioritising of those homeless households who had a 'reasonable excuse' or an essential need to move under the Regulations, and who were the highest pointed relevant applicants for an allocation under the Rules of the statutory Housing Selection Scheme.

As the restrictions have gradually eased, more activity is now able to take place and I am confident that social housing allocations will return to the expected levels over the coming weeks. It is important, however, to recognise the issues which have impacted on the commencement of new tenancies. These include:

- The availability and capacity of contractors to carry out work required to enable change of tenancies to take place. This has been a consequence of contractors needing to furlough staff and also the supply chain limitations within the construction sector. Whilst this is now beginning to return to normal, backlogs have inevitably built up.
- The vulnerability of prospective tenants and the reluctance of some wanting to move due to self-isolation and shielding, with guidance on shielding still in place until the 31st July.
- Prospective tenants have faced transport issues and access to the practical family support they need to physically move into a new home. Similarly, furniture removal companies have a build-up of work due to restrictions which were in place.
- During lockdown arrangements, prospective tenants were unable to acquire goods needed to establish their new homes – carpets, curtains, white goods etc. This has impacted on prospective tenants being in a position to move home. Whilst further easements continue in the retail and business sector, supply issues may continue to prevail and impact on house moves.

Monitoring of activity levels around the number of relets takes place on a weekly basis with the Housing Executive and I can confirm that these have risen significantly week on week, as Regulations and restrictions have eased as part of the staged recovery plan. In the week ending 5 July 2020, there was 80% of the activity levels compared with relets during the same period in 2019 (84 relets in 2020 compared to 107 in the same week in 2019).

I am committed to ensuring that homes are allocated as quickly as possible to households in housing need whilst remaining mindful of the need to proceed with care and in line with the latest guidance on public health and ensuring that the safety of customers, contractors and staff is paramount.

Mr K Buchanan asked the Minister for Communities to detail the number of reconsiderations for Personal Independent Payment in the Mid Ulster constituency broken down by (i) successful; and (ii) unsuccessful reconsiderations, in each year since its introduction.

(AQW 5578/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The most recently published Personal Independence Payment statistics covers the period up to the end of February 2020. The IT system used to administer PIP records mandatory reconsiderations outcomes by award changed and award unchanged.

The table below provides the breakdown in the Mid Ulster constituency since Personal Independence Payment was introduced in June 2016 into those two categories.

Virtually all decisions are changed because additional evidence is provided at the reconsideration stage, which was not available to the officer who made the initial decision.

Mandatory Reconsideration Outcomes in the Mid Ulster Constituency

Year	New Decision Award Changed	New Decision Award Unchanged
June – December 2016	10	130
2017	270	1,240
2018	360	1,740
2019	240	1,260
January- February 2020	30	220

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities for an update on the review of welfare mitigation measures.
(AQW 5586/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The New Decade, New Approach Deal committed to a review of future welfare mitigation measures to be taken forward.

My Department is currently finalising proposals for the review and it is hoped that a formal announcement on how it will be taken forward will be made in due course. Details of the review will be shared with the Committee at the earliest opportunity and members will be afforded the chance to present their views on the proposal.

The Department is not yet in a position to provide details of the specific issues that will be covered in the review, however, the over-arching purpose will be to identify the need to develop a prioritised mitigation package which will be costed and assessed for affordability.

I am committed to the principles of co-design in the development of any new mitigation measures. It is therefore planned to include representatives of the independent Advice Sector and other groups with an interest in social security at all stages of the review.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for Communities to detail the current deficit facing each local Council; and whether there will be an additional financial package to deal with the deficit.
(AQW 5591/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My Department does not collate figures on council deficits. Any deficit figures pertaining to individual councils would feature in their annual report and accounts. The most recent available audited figures are in the 2018/19 accounts since, due to the current pandemic situation, the accounts for the year ended 31 March 2020 will not be finalised until 31 December 2020.

Councils are currently in the process of preparing a bid for aid for the second quarter of the 2020/21 financial year.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Communities whether she has any plans to ensure that electric vehicle charging points are a mandatory element of new social and affordable housing builds.
(AQW 5622/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I appreciate the use of electric vehicles is on the increase. My Department is developing a climate change action plan across its various responsibilities, and this includes consideration of housing issues. I have asked my officials to consider this suggestion as they develop the plan.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Communities (i) for an update on the timescale to bring forward a gender strategy; (ii) whether she has any plans to bring forward legislation as part of any gender strategy; and (iii) what financial resources she will allocate to the strategy.

Ms Ní Chuilín: As stated in New Decade New Approach, the Executive is committed to publishing a comprehensive timetable for the development and delivery of a suite of Social Inclusion Strategies, including a new Gender Strategy.

You are aware of the significant and unprecedented pressures placed on everyone by the COVID-19 pandemic. The primary focus of the Executive and all Departments has been to address and put in place measures to resolve current and emerging issues relating to the pandemic, especially those issues affecting the most vulnerable in our society.

As we move into the recovery phase, I will be making an announcement imminently in relation to the timescales for the development and delivery of a suite of Social Inclusion Strategies including the Gender Strategy.

The principles and practice of citizen and community engagement, co-design and co-production will be a key part of the development and delivery of the Strategy.

The costs associated with stakeholder engagement and development of the Strategy will be met from my Department's budget. Financial resources needed to implement the Strategy cannot be anticipated at this time, and will require financial commitments from other Ministers in relation to their remits.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister for Communities whether she will engage with St. Joseph's Community Playgroup, Derry, to identify and explore potential funding options, in line with the submission of a robust business case, to advance plans for a new outdoor play space in Galliagh for enhanced services and activities for children and families in the area.

Ms Ní Chuilín: My officials continue to engage with St Joseph's Community Playgroup and I am pleased to learn that work is well advanced on this project.

I understand that the project has been delayed subject to agreeing a lease with the local Catholic Diocese. I have asked my officials to continue to engage with all involved to achieve resolution and work with St. Joseph's Community Playgroup to explore funding options.

In making an application there is no guarantee of funding. All applications are subject to a robust economic appraisal and budget availability.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister for Communities whether she will engage with Galliagh Resident's Centre, Derry, to identify and explore potential funding options, in line with the submission of a robust business case, to undertake refurbishment works at the centre, which has been operating out of a portacabin since 2000.

(AQW 5632/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Officials from my Department continue to engage and work with representatives of Galliagh Residents' Centre to assist in the development of this project and their application for funding.

In making an application there is no guarantee of funding. All applications are subject to a robust economic appraisal and budget availability.

I have asked my officials to continue to work with Galliagh Residents Centre to explore funding options.

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister for Communities to detail the (i) number; and (ii) location of social housing builds planned in Upper Bann in the next three years.

(AQW 5642/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: There are currently 52 social housing units under construction, details are attached at Table 1 below.

There are currently 37 social housing units programmed to start through the Social Housing Development Programme (SHDP) 2020/21 – 2022/23. The details are attached at Table 2 below.

There have also been 3 social housing units completed to-date in 2020/21. The details are attached at Table 3 below.

Programmed schemes can be lost or slip to future programme years for a variety of reasons e.g. relating to delays in acquiring sites and/or failure to secure planning permission.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Communities, pursuant to AQW 5150/17-22, (i) how foodbanks can avail of increased food supplies as part of the agreement with Fareshare; (ii) how food supplies will be distributed; and (iii) to detail the food assistance initiatives totalling £875,000.

(AQW 5665/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Our engagement with Fareshare is to support delivery of increased food supplies to community providers, including foodbanks. We are working with Fareshare, Councils and Voluntary and Community Sector partners to build on the food response developed during the emergency and to develop a distribution model specific to each Council area. In many cases this will reflect distribution from Fareshare to a number of hubs and then onward delivery to individual organisations.

The proposed assistance to Fareshare includes resource and capital funding to increase their capacity to collect, store and deliver food, as well as funding to purchase additional food items where surplus or donated stock is not sufficient

Other elements of support are at an early stage.

Mrs Cameron asked the Minister for Communities for an update on the provision of services from her Department, including for Universal Credit, via Video Relay Service for British Sign language and Irish Sign language users.

(AQW 5686/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My Department has been investigating options for a Video Relay Service which will provide both British and Irish Sign Language access for Universal Credit, Working Age Services and Discretionary Support. A number of options are being explored including the potential for a collaborative contract across a number of Departments or the extension of existing contacts for translation and interpretation. As you will appreciate we are moving out of Covid-19 contingency measures and securing a service may be subject to commercial procurement which takes time. However, my Department fully appreciates the urgency of providing accessible services for the deaf community. In the meantime, my Department has implemented an interim solution where Action for Hearing Loss and the British Deaf Association will advocate for the signing community, alerting my Department where an individual is having difficulty accessing services, my officials will then arrange an outbound Video Relay Service call to the individual.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister for Communities whether she will engage with Rainbow Child and Family Centre, Derry, to identify and explore potential funding options, in line with the submission of a robust business case, to advance plans to extend its car park and fence line.

(AQW 5716/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My officials continue to engage with Rainbow Child and Family Centre on the development of this project. I am pleased to learn that this project is well advanced however there is some delay as the group still needs to provide evidence to my Department of land transfer from Housing Executive. I have asked my officials to work with all involved to resolve this issue.

In making an application there is no guarantee of funding. All applications are subject to a robust economic appraisal and budget availability.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister for Communities whether she will work in partnership with the Housing Executive to implement a housing scheme which to renovate properties in Clooney Terrace, Dungiven Road and Duddy's Court.

(AQW 5717/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Housing Executive recently undertook an Economic Appraisal for the properties in Clooney Terrace, Dungiven Road and Duddy's Court. This explored a range of potential investment options for the blocks. The Appraisal needs the approval of my Department and was submitted to it by the Housing Executive on 15th November 2019. DfC Officials are considering the appraisal and have asked for some further considerations from the Housing Executive. These are currently being explored.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister for Communities for an update on the options sent to her Department from the Culmore Community partnership on their plans to install a lift in Victoria Hall as to fully adhere to access regulations, so that the next phase of the development for their first floor facilities can be advanced.

Ms Ní Chuilín: I am aware of Culmore Community Partnership's (CCP) plans to refurbish Victoria Hall into a multi-service community hub to meet the needs of the local community.

In December 2018, my Department agreed to provide £25,266 to meet a shortfall in the total funding package of £351,332 for the project. The Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (DAERA) was the main funder. In November 2019, CCP advised all funders of a range of additional unforeseen costs associated with their proposal including the installation of a lift.

My officials advised that, whilst the Department had no funding programmes open to which they could directly apply, CCP might be eligible for funding under the Access and Inclusion Programme which DfC delivers in partnership with DAERA and local Councils. CCP agreed to discuss their project with Derry City and Strabane District Council (DCSDC) and I understand that whilst initial discussions took place no formal application was submitted.

The 2020/21 Access and Inclusion Programme is due to launch in August 2020 and DCSDC has advised it would be willing to re-engage with CCP to discuss supporting increased accessibility at Victoria Hall.

Department of Education

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister of Education to outline (i) what action his Department is taking to place the 285 Special Educational Needs pupils who have not been placed in a school for September 2020; and (ii) to provide a breakdown of the constituency they reside in.

(AQW 5255/17-22)

Mr Weir (The Minister of Education):

- (i) The Education Authority (EA) reports that, as at 20 July, 2345 children with statements of special educational needs had been successfully placed in primary, post-primary and special schools for the academic year commencing September 2020. 97 children remain to be placed in these settings.

The EA is continuing to work with my Department and the Council for Catholic Maintained Schools to ensure sufficient places are available for all children in accordance with their assessed needs as determined by their statement. This work will include increasing the capacity of a number of special schools and provision of funding to mainstream schools for teaching and non-teaching staff to support small groups of statemented pupils.

Planning has been underway for some time to increase the number of teaching spaces within the special school estate. Despite the delays in delivery caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, the EA has secured significant investment through the minor capital works budget to provide 25 classrooms across 14 schools for September 2020. Planning has also commenced on a larger programme of teaching accommodation delivery for September 2021.

- (ii) The EA is unable at present to provide a breakdown by constituency.

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education whether there is sufficient capacity to accommodate the 285 children with a statement of special educational needs without a school place for September.

(AQW 5260/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Education Authority (EA) reports that, as at 20 July, 2389 children with statements of special educational needs had been successfully placed in primary, post-primary and special schools for the academic year commencing September 2020. 97 children remain to be placed in these settings.

The EA is working with my Department and the Council for Catholic Maintained Schools to ensure sufficient places are available for all children in accordance with their assessed needs as determined by their statement.

The EA has funded small classes for pupils with autism and other classes for pupils with learning and cognitive needs. For the 2020/21 academic year, plans are well advanced to allocate funding to 21 schools to establish additional classes.

In relation to increasing the capacity within special schools, the EA's minor capital works budget is also being used to provide the following improvements to 28 schools:

- the provision of additional modular accommodation;
- internal re-configuration of the existing school footprint, and/or;
- minor works to meet specific and individualised pupil need.

This work is progressing alongside longer term plans for two new buildings and twelve School Enhancement Programme schemes for existing special schools.

My Department will continue to work closely with the EA to secure an early and satisfactory resolution of this matter.

Mr G Kelly asked the Minister of Education for an update on the backlog in special educational needs assessment and statementing in North Belfast.

(AQO 494/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Education Authority (EA) has advised that, as of Friday 19 June 2020, there were 208 active statutory assessment / statementing cases within the Belfast North Constituency.

Through its Improvement Plan, the EA has been making significant progress in reducing the backlog of open statutory assessment cases exceeding 26 weeks, with particular focus on the longest standing cases.

Miss Woods asked the Minister of Education for an update on the Childcare Strategy.

(AQO 507/17-22)

Mr Weir: The aims of the Childcare Strategy are to improve child development and promote parental employment. The range of actions necessary to deliver these objectives will require Executive approval and a commitment to significant new and sustained funding.

The revised Strategy my Department has been working on, will take account of the current context for childcare and the policy priorities reaffirmed in the 'New Decade, New Approach'.

There are key policy and resourcing decisions needed including the consideration of the scope of any extended early education and childcare offer for children aged 3-4. With no allocation currently available for childcare within the DE budget, the full Ten Year Executive Strategy will require significant new and sustained investment by the Executive.

The level of funding made available will determine, to a large extent what can be achieved. The design, planning and phased implementation will take a number of years and may require primary legislation.

Since March of this year, the small Childcare Team in my Department has been solely focussed on the response to the Covid-19 pandemic. This work is ongoing and I do not envisage 'normal' work re-commencing on the Strategy for a number of months.

Having said that, it has not been lost time. There has been useful learning which will help shape our plans for the longer term. The importance of affordable childcare is acknowledged as an essential enabler for a thriving economy. I plan to bring forward a Strategy in due course subject to agreed Executive funding.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Education when children attending secondary school this year will have their statement of special educational needs published.

(AQW 5411/17-22)

Mr Weir: Statements of Special Educational Needs are not published.

Statements of Special Educational Needs and amended statements of Special Education Needs are issued to parents and schools throughout the year, as they are completed and ratified by the Education Authority.

In the case of those young people transferring to post primary provision this year, statements will continue to be issued to parents and schools as part of an ongoing programme of work over the course of the summer.

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education how many special educational needs learning support units there are; and in which schools they are located.

(AQW 5494/17-22)

Mr Weir: There are 104 special educational needs learning support units and they are located as follows:

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education to detail (i) how many children, who qualify as vulnerable because of their disability, applied for attendance at a special school via a special school, the Education Authority or social services; (ii) how many were placed; and (iii) how many were refused.

(AQW 5544/17-22)

Mr Weir: Throughout Covid-19 and until 30 June 2020, the Education Authority (EA) provided a school placement support process allowing parents/ guardians of vulnerable children and young people to request support in finding their child a place in special school. A number of children were also referred through health and a number of children were placed directly through the school.

In total, 247 children were placed. 209 referrals were identified through health. Of those, 40 placement offers were declined, 14 placements were not suitable or not required and 17 pupils were not placed.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Education to detail the role he plays in how the Education Authority allocates its budget.
(AQW 5613/17-22)

Mr Weir: As Minister of Education, I decide on the priorities that can be funded from within my overall budget allocation, including the total Block Grant budget allocation for the Education Authority (EA).

The EA manages the allocation of its Block Grant budget across operational and service areas based on its financial evaluation, which is subject to the Department's assessment and approval.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Education to detail the Education Authority's budget allocation for Youth Services for the 2020/21 financial year; and how it compares to the previous financial year.
(AQW 5614/17-22)

Mr Weir: The Education Authority's opening resource budget allocation for Youth Services for the 2020/21 financial year was £32,986k. This includes £300k for proposed mental health and emotional wellbeing support services delivered by the Youth Service in schools in addition to the main allocation.

At the comparable stage of the 2019/20 financial year the budget was £32,641k.

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister of Education for a breakdown of the percentage of pupils claiming free school meals in each (i) primary school; post-primary school; and (iii) grammar school in the Upper Bann constituency for the last academic year. (AQW 5643/17-22)

Ms Dolan asked the Minister of Education whether he will consider allocating more resources to the Education Restart Programme to enable schools to adapt to the new normal.

Mr Weir: I acknowledge that additional support may be necessary (e.g. PPE, some additional staffing, etc.) to support the re-opening of schools. Efforts are under way, in conjunction with the Education Authority, as schools' funding authority, to quantify the potential additional costs of the Restart Programme; options will be brought to me for a view and my Department will engage with the Department of Finance to highlight these pressures at the earliest opportunity. There is presently no additional funding in the Education budget to address the level of pressures anticipated.

It is likely that any such bids will have to be discussed at Executive level where they will be considered in the context of the overall funding available and in conjunction with other bids received from across all departments. We are operating in a fluid and changing environment where a critical balance needs to be struck between the risk of taking a short-term view of issues and meeting the longer-term objective of a return to a full, business as usual footing. Any arrangements put in place by schools should be implemented in a manner that is flexible and capable of being unwound relatively quickly should the position change.

My Department is keeping all of these issues under review and any change in circumstances or funding arrangements will be communicated to schools as a priority.

Ms C Kelly asked the Minister of Education for an update on whether a School Patrol Officer for Christ the King Primary School, Omagh, will be in place for school returning.

(AQW 5655/17-22)

Mr Weir: A School Crossing Patrol person has been appointed to fill the vacant post at Christ the King Primary School and commenced duty on 9th March 2020. The School Crossing Patrol person will be available for duty for the commencement of the new school year.

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister of Education whether the provision for testing for COVID-19 will be made available for under 5's to permit parents to return to a normal working pattern and children to return to school safely if tested negative.

(AQW 5668/17-22)

Mr Weir: The responsibility for COVID-19 testing rests with the Department of Health.

The Department of health has advised that testing for under 5s has been made available from the 16th July 2020 through the National Testing Programme in Northern Ireland.

There are two options for booking tests at Test Sites in Northern Ireland:

1 Via the internet at

<https://www.publichealth.hscni.net/covid-19-coronavirus/testing-and-tracing-covid-19/testing-covid-19#testing-for-the-members-of-the-public>

2 By ringing 119

Further information can be found on the Public Health Agency website.

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister of Education to detail the mitigations his Department will deliver to parents who are now facing extra childcare costs due to some schools only returning children on a one to two day basis, in contrast to their normal five day school week.

(AQW 5669/17-22)

Mr Weir: As schools begin to reopen, it will be important to ensure that there is alignment between school restart plans and childcare provision so that the impact on working parents is kept to a minimum.

On 30 June, the Executive announced £10.5m for the childcare sector to support childcare recovery in line with the Executive Recovery Plan. The Childcare Recovery Support Scheme, which will be launched in July and will support the re-opening of childcare provision in July and August 2020 to ensure childcare is available for more parents who need it.

Advice and support for parents on finding a suitable childcare place, and the financial support available, can be accessed on the Family Support NI website at the following link: <https://www.familysupportni.gov.uk>.

Whilst the aim, expressed and supported by many teachers, parents and young people, is to get as many pupils back to classroom teaching as quickly as possible in September with some schools able to accommodate all pupils, there will be circumstances where, due to small classrooms and other limitations, it may not be possible for all schools to move towards this at the same rate and therefore minimum levels will apply with the balance to be provided through blended learning.

My overriding aim remains a full return for every pupil to classroom learning full time. The restart arrangements that I have outlined reflect the current position, but my hope remains that, if the wider public health situation continues to improve, further decisions will be able to be taken before the start of the new term to enable schools to resume classroom teaching for all students full time, subject to protections to mitigate risk and protect public health.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister of Education what advice his Department is giving to school principals for students returning from a holiday outside Northern Ireland, when schools reopen in late summer.

(AQW 5674/17-22)

Mr Weir: In line with Public Health advice, where a student is required to self-isolate after travelling abroad, they should not attend school. Where possible, schools should put in place arrangements to enable individuals to study remotely during any isolation period.

It is appreciated that the situation concerning travelling outside the Common Travel Area is uncertain at this time and official advice may change. All schools and students should continue to ensure they follow the current Department of Health and Public Health Agency regulations and guidance.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister of Education whether (i) he will consider introducing a program similar to the £320million Physical Education and Sport Premium announced by the UK Education Minister which guarantees children 60 minutes of sport and physical education each day; and (ii) there is any related funding due to the Executive under Barnett consequentials.

Mr Weir: Physical activity contributes to a range of wider government strategies including “Making Life Better 2013-2023” the Executive’s 10 year overarching strategic framework for public health and “Sport Matters: The Northern Ireland Strategy for Sport & Physical Recreation” (Department for Communities). Together, these strategies have a number of actions to improve health and wellbeing and reduce inequalities in health whilst empowering the population to make healthy lifestyle choices. Physical Education (PE) and sport also contribute to the Programme for Government outcome 12 – “We give our children and young people the best start in life.”

My Department is the policy lead for PE in schools; however, the issue of sport and physical activity in general is a cross-cutting one. Therefore, decisions regarding funding for a programme of this nature would be for the Executive to determine. I understand the announcement of the premium for 2020-21 is a continuation of the funding provided in 2019-20 so there may be no Barnett consequential to be realised.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister of Education to provide (i) an update on the plans for the redevelopment of Bunscoil an Lúir; (ii) confirmation of the site selected for the new development; (iii) an update on the capital budget allocated; and (iv) a timeframe for the development of the new build.

(AQW 5678/17-22)

Mr Weir:

- (i) There are currently no plans for redevelopment of Bunscoil an Lúir;
- (ii) The Department has agreed to undertake a further site search on behalf of the school as part of long term planning for the potential future redevelopment of the school;
- (iii) No capital has been allocated to redevelopment though, where required, minor works will continue to be undertaken at the existing site;
- (iv) I am unable to give any definitive timescale for a new build as the school has not yet been selected and announced on a major capital works list.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Education what guidance has been issued to youth workers from the community and voluntary sector regarding the recommencement of their work; and, if none to date, will she move to address this as a matter of urgency.

(AQW 5700/17-22)

Mr Weir: Guidance to support safe working in educational settings, including youth work settings was published on 9 June 2020.

The Education Authority (EA) Youth Service published the following supplementary guidance on restarting youth services on Tuesday 7 July 2020:

- Youth Restart - providing organisational guidance and support based on the Northern Ireland Executive’s Pathway to Recovery.
- Best practice Guide for staff on a safe return to Restarting Youth Service - providing detailed guidance on managing and supporting youth staff returning to the workplace.
- Welcoming Youth, Supporting the Restarting of Youth Services - providing guidance and support to young people returning to youth services.
- Coping with Change - a personal development programme and resources to support the return of young people to youth services.

In addition, an EA training webinar will be available in August 2020 based on the documents provided, supported by open meetings (via zoom) to deal with queries and questions raised by voluntary organisations management committees based on their re-engagement with their children, young people, staff and the wider community.

Mr Stalford asked the Minister of Education when detailed guidance will be issued for home to school transport with appropriate clarity on conforming to public health regulations currently in force.

(AQW 5702/17-22)

Mr Weir: My officials are working with colleagues in the Department for Infrastructure and the Education Authority to explore how home to school transport can be safely delivered within the current social distancing restrictions and other public health guidance. It is my intention to publish guidance on this issue in the near future.

Mr Stalford asked the Minister of Education whether his Department intends to provide catch up funding to schools similar to that being delivered in England, and, if so, what the timeframe and level of such funding will be.

Mr Weir: With the NI Executive’s support, I have implemented a number of different initiatives to help support children with their learning.

Over the summer, I have supported approximately 50 primary schools with the provision of Summer Schools which will enable children to begin to socialise again and be re-introduced to learning with fun enjoyable activities both inside and outside the classroom. I have also provided funding to all Year 6 pupils entering Year 7 to access on-line resources over the next year in both literacy and numeracy.

In consultation with stakeholders, officials are developing the “Engage” programme for children and young people in primary and post-primary schools when they return in the autumn. Engage will help all pupils but particularly those from disadvantaged backgrounds who would most benefit from additional support to engage with learning following the COVID-19 lockdown period. The programme will broadly focus on supporting engagement with learning through the development of knowledge, understanding and skills in literacy and numeracy which are at the core of our curriculum.

The total budget for these initiatives is £12m.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister of Education to detail (i) what aspects of climate change education are currently in the curriculum; and (ii) whether he plans to include more education on climate change.

(AQW 5720/17-22)

Mr Weir: Climate change is covered within the curriculum via the World Around Us at primary school and through the Environment and Society area of learning at Key Stage 3. Within these areas of learning pupils explore environmental and climate change; how to exercise environmental stewardship; develop an understanding of the need for environmental change to be sustainable; gain an understanding of the interdependence of society, the economy and the environment; and develop respect for the needs of present and future generations and the importance of securing a sustainable environment.

This provides a standardised statutory minimum entitlement, which all children must receive. Beyond the minimum content, schools have the flexibility to decide which resources or programmes they use to support delivery of the curriculum and adopt approaches that best suit their pupils.

At Key Stage 4 and post-16 pupils also have the opportunity to pursue qualifications that explicitly cover issues relevant to climate change.

I do not have any immediate plans to increase the climate change curriculum. However, my Department will be supporting the Executive's commitment to develop a strategy to address immediate and longer term impacts of climate change and will review any educational outcomes arising from this work.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Education to list the schools that were successful in their application to the latest capital works call which closed on 31 October 2019; and to detail the total investment relating to the (i) Voluntary Grammar; (ii) Grant Maintained Integrated; (iii) Irish Medium; (iv) Catholic Maintained; and (v) Controlled sectors.

Mr Weir: The schools announced to progress in design under the latest call announced on 23 June 2020, broken down by sector as requested, with associated investment (estimated costs subject to full business case proposals) are as follows:

- (i) Voluntary Grammar Schools – Total Estimated Investment £20.7m
  - St Louis Grammar School
- (ii) Grant Maintained Integrated Schools
  - No successful submissions
- (iii) Irish Medium Schools
  - No successful submissions
- (iv) Catholic Maintained Schools – Total Estimated Investment £123.2m
  - Holy Trinity Primary School, Enniskillen
  - St Catherine's Primary School, Strabane
  - St Mary's Primary School, Craigavon
  - All Saints College
  - Blessed Trinity College
  - St Conor's College
  - St Patrick's College, Maghera
- (v) Controlled School – Total Estimated Investment £12 million
  - Tandragee Junior High School

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Education whether (i) children will now be required to have two full school uniforms for the new academic year to ensure a clean uniform every day; and (ii) provision for this will be included within the uniform grant.

(AQW 5775/17-22)

Mr Weir: The wearing of a school uniform is not governed by legislation but falls to schools to determine. The Department has issued guidance to schools in developing their uniform policies which encourages schools to consider the views of parents, pupils and the school community. The Department would encourage schools to show flexibility around the issue of school uniforms in these extraordinary times.

Financial assistance is available through the Education Authority's Clothing Allowance Scheme for eligible pupils at grant-aided primary and post-primary schools, or day pupils at special schools, towards the cost of school uniforms and appropriate clothing suitable for PE. The eligibility criteria is similar to those used for free school meals.

The issue of uniforms was considered and advice issued as part of the New School Day Guidance: <https://www.education-ni.gov.uk/news/weir-publishes-guidance-new-school-day>. The guidance states that while Coronavirus can land on fabrics and remain for some time, schools are not a high risk environment and while all children and young people should be encouraged to wear clean uniform or fresh clothes each day, this is not essential. On this basis the Department does not consider children will need to have two full school uniforms for the new school year and there will therefore be no change to the current Clothing Allowance scheme.

Department of Finance

Mr McNulty asked the Minister of Finance whether he will (i) update the Building Regulations to make Changing Places Toilet Provision a mandatory requirement for any new build public buildings; and (ii) bring forward legislation making the retro fitting of Changing Places Toilet Provision mandatory.

(AQW 5676/17-22)

Mr Murphy (The Minister of Finance):

- (i) I have tasked my Department's Building Standards Branch with incorporating mandatory requirements for Changing Place Toilets into local Building Regulations.
- (ii) Building Regulations are only applicable at the time that building work takes place and cannot apply retrospectively. Retro-fitting is a matter for the Department for Communities

Department of Health

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health when fertility treatment at the Regional Fertility Centre in Belfast will resume.
(AQW 4822/17-22)

Mr Swann (The Minister of Health): I can only provide information on publicly-funded treatment provided by the Regional Fertility Centre (RFC) in the Belfast Trust.

I launched the Strategic Framework for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services on 9 June 2020. The focus will be on re-starting urgent services first. However, I have made it clear that I also consider re-instatement of fertility services to be a priority and the Trust is working to put plans in place to enable the service to recommence as soon as possible.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health how many staff in each Health and Social Care Trust have been affected by being improperly FIT tested, due to differences in standard of test.
(AQW 5169/17-22)

Mr Swann: The HSC system is carrying out a validation and audit exercise of all fit-tests conducted by an independent contractor.

To date over 37,000 fit-testing certificates have been reviewed. Of this 2,802 staff have been identified as needing re-test.

It is anticipated retesting of staff will be concluded within the next two weeks.

Ms Sheerin asked the Minister of Health where reflexologists, who act as independent health professionals as opposed to carrying out spa-like complimentary therapies, are placed in the timeline for the easing of lockdown.
(AQW 5187/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Health Protection (Coronavirus Restrictions) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2020 were amended to permit the resumption of close contact services including hairdressers, barbers, beauty salons and nail bars, tattoo studios and massage therapies from 6 July 2020. Given the nature of Reflexology, it is therefore considered a close contact service and is therefore permitted to re-open.

The UK government has also published guidance for close contact businesses which you may find helpful and is available at:

<https://assets.publishing.service.gov.uk/media/5ef2889986650c12970e9b57/Keeping-workers-and-clients-safe-during-covid-19-close-contact-services-230620.pdf>.

Mr Gildernew asked the Minister of Health for his assessment of the concerns that Health and Social Care staff offered COVID-19 antibody tests, may have their applications for mortgages or critical life insurances declined or deferred as a result of the test.

(AQW 5273/17-22)

Mr Swann: I am encouraged by the joint statement from the Association of British Insurers and the British Medical Association on 19 June 2020 that there should be no detriment to healthcare workers and no one should be discouraged from having a test.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister of Health, in regards to drive-through COVID-19 testing, to detail (i) the qualifications of staff conducting patient contact swab tests; (ii) whether a medically qualified doctor is always on site; (iii) the percentage of failed tests of completed tests; and (iv) whether the results for each person tested have been shared with their GP, and for an explanation if this is not the case.

Mr Swann:

- (i) Staff working at the fixed testing sites in Northern Ireland come from a variety of non-healthcare backgrounds. Staff perform a facilities management function only and do not complete the swabbing of test subjects on site. They are fully trained to complete the role of working on the national testing programme which is a self-swab service. Staff training includes infection control, use of personal protective equipment (PPE), site management, use of test kits and packaging requirements. Staff deemed competent following training will work within the standard operating procedure of the National Testing Programme;
- (ii) There are no medical staff on site in keeping with the requirements of a self-administered testing facility. All on-site staff are regularly supervised by the on-site team leaders and there is one trained First Aider on site each day;
- (iii) Testing undertaken through the National Testing Programme is co-ordinated by the Department of Health and Social Care in London. Data in relation to people tested in Northern Ireland is provided daily by NHS Digital to the data warehouse in our regional Business Service Organisation. Information available in the data warehouse at 9 July indicates a calculated void rate of 4%. A specific 'void protocol' is operated by the National Testing Programme and people are offered repeat testing if appropriate through this protocol;
- (iv) From the 9 July, results of tests undertaken through the National Testing Programme are linked to the test subject's individual Northern Ireland Electronic Care Record (NIECR) and are therefore accessible to the person's GP. It is anticipated that a process to upload historical test results to the NIECR will start week commencing 20 July.

Ms S Bradley asked the Minister of Health to detail (i) the anticipated date, or stage in the COVID-19 recovery, when full in vitro fertilisation (IVF) provision will resume; (ii) plans to make three cycles of IVF available on the NHS; (iii) what consideration his Department has given to developing a short-term measure to ensure timely access to treatment is made available for women aged between 35 years and up to the threshold age of 40.

Mr Swann:

- (i) I can only provide information on publicly-funded IVF treatment provided by the Regional Fertility Centre (RFC) in the Belfast Trust.

I launched the Strategic Framework for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services on 9 June 2020. The focus will be on re-starting urgent services first. However, I have made it clear that I also consider re-instatement of fertility services to be an important priority and I have asked the Trust to put plans in place to enable the service to recommence as soon as possible.
- (ii) I am pleased that the New Decade, New Approach Agreement committed to providing three funded IVF cycles for eligible women. I announced, prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, my plans to establish a Project Board to take the commitment to increasing the number of publicly-funded IVF cycles forward, and although representatives to the Project Board have been nominated from the relevant areas, due to the essential temporary reconfiguration across the HSC system to ensure continuity of provision of essential healthcare services for the duration of the COVID-19 pandemic, progress on this important issue has unfortunately been temporarily delayed.
- (iii) It is not possible on equality grounds to expedite treatment for older women, as this could be seen as unfair for younger patients. Women must therefore be seen in chronological order. However, in recognition of the distress caused to women who are currently waiting for treatment at the RFC, the eligibility for anyone currently on the waiting list will be extended by a year, due to the delays caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. This will reduce the pressure for women who would otherwise breach the upper age limit before receiving treatment. This temporary extension to the age limit will only apply to women currently on the waiting list.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Health whether he plans to follow NHS England and introduce the Cystic Fibrosis drug Kaftrio in Northern Ireland.

(AQW 5368/17-22)

Mr Swann: I very much welcomed the announcement that a deal had been agreed that will allow patients to access the triple combination treatment Kaftrio for cystic fibrosis. I have asked the Health and Social Care Board to immediately commence negotiation with the manufacturer Vertex Pharmaceuticals and look forward to a successful outcome.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health what conversations took place between his office, the PSNI and the Department for Justice regarding the events that led up to the implementation of The Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) (Amendment No. 5) Regulations (NI) 2020.

Mr Swann: I can confirm that no meetings took place between officials in my Department and officials in the Department of Justice or the PSNI in relation to the making of The Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) (Amendment No. 5) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2020 on 5 June 2020.

On the morning of 5 June 2020, the Departmental Solicitors Office advised that on reviewing the draft Amendment No. 5 Regulations, it was noticed that provision for breach of regulation 6A (outdoor gatherings of up to 6 people) to be an offence had been omitted when the regulation was inserted by Amendment No. 3 Regulations, which came into operation at 11pm on 19 May 2020. The drafting error was corrected by way of a technical amendment included in the Amendment No. 5 Regulations, which came into operation at 11pm on 5 June 2020. Officials in the Department of Justice and the PSNI were advised of the position by e-mail on the day that the error came to light and were further advised that the error would be addressed by way of an amendment to the Regulations to be commenced later that day.

I can confirm that I have had no meetings with officials in relation to the making and signing of the Amendment No. 5 Regulations. I received a written briefing bringing the drafting error in the Amendment No. 3 Regulations and the subsequent action taken to my attention on 12 June 2020.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health whether minutes were taken in any of the meetings between senior officials in his Department which discussed the implementation of the Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) (Amendment No. 5) Regulations (NI) 2020; and whether he will publish these minutes.

(AQW 5413/17-22)

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health whether he had any contact, conversations or meetings with the senior civil servant who signed off on The Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) (Amendment No. 5) Regulations (NI) 2020 on the 5 June 2020, in relation to the signing off of this piece of legislation on this date.

(AQW 5414/17-22)

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health whether he plans to review the number and funding of public health awareness campaigns by the Public Health Agency, as part of the future rebuilding health of services.

(AQW 5441/17-22)

Mr Swann: There are currently no plans to change the funding available or number of public health awareness campaigns that the PHA will take forward. The PHA has a recurrent budget commitment to Communication Campaigns and submits a planned programme each year to the DoH for consideration as part of the Executive Advertising programme. There is considerable demand for campaign support from a wide range of subject matters which means that they have to prioritise what can be delivered year to year.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health to list each issue his Department (i) has commissioned; and (ii) is still formally considering commissioning, an independent investigation, or public inquiry, into since January 2020.

(AQW 5457/17-22)

Mr Swann: Since January 2020, I

- (i) have commissioned a review into the RQIA Board resignations; and
- (ii) am still considering issues relating to Muckamore and the funding of adult learning disability services in the Western Trust.

Mr Gildernew asked the Minister of Health (i) to provide the number of reported adverse reactions among pregnant women to the epilepsy drug Sodium Valproate, over the last three years; (ii) what dedicated pathways have been put in place for those affected; and (iii) whether he plans an independent inquiry into this drug.

(AQW 5473/17-22)

Mr Swann:

- (i) Significant progress has been made across Northern Ireland over the past three years to implement the Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Agency's (MHRA) Valproate Pregnancy Prevention Programme (PPP), which aims to help identify and educate women of childbearing age on the risks of sodium valproate during pregnancy, and this has included a 24% reduction in the number of women aged 10-55 years taking valproate between January 2016 and December 2019. The Public Health Agency (PHA) has established a Valproate Working Group which is working with each of the HSC Trusts in Northern Ireland on the implementation of this programme.

There is currently no mechanism, either locally, nationally or internationally, for systemic data collection on the number of children affected by sodium valproate in utero or to detect all adverse events occurring to the offspring of women taking prescribed medicines during pregnancy. This is the case for all anti-epileptic drugs, including sodium valproate. Estimates for the number of children who are still being affected by sodium valproate vary, with UK wide estimates from voluntary registries of the number of children who are exposed to valproate in utero each year varying between 176 and 336 per year. Of these, the available evidence indicates that use of sodium valproate in pregnancy is associated with a 40% risk of persistent neurodevelopmental disorders and a 10% risk of physical birth defects.

- (ii) Services exist to provide support to all disabled children and their families, such as child development teams, which would include those children who have been affected by in utero exposure to sodium valproate.
- (iii) My Department does not have any specific plans for an independent inquiry into sodium valproate. I am aware of the recent publication on 8th July 2020 of the Independent Medicines and Medical Devices Safety Review Report, which has highlighted the failure of the healthcare system in a number of areas, including the need to listen and understand patients' voices and their concerns raised around certain treatments including sodium valproate.

While the focus of the report is on the healthcare system in England, I recognise that many women from here took the time to submit their experience and it is relevant to our service. My Department will give this review report the full and careful consideration it deserves within the local and national context, and will continue to engage with colleagues in the PHA and across the UK including the MHRA in this regard.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister of Health to outline the capacity of respite for children and adults with learning disabilities in the Southern Health and Social Care Trust pre- and post-COVID-19.

(AQW 5485/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Southern Health and Social Care Trust are stepping up short breaks for adults with learning disability from 14 July, however prior to COVID-19 the Southern Health and Social Care Trust had 28 beds available to use for short breaks with most of these being provided by independent sector care homes. These homes are now no longer in a position to offer these beds due to Covid-19 and the risk of introducing new people into an environment where there are already vulnerable people. As a result the Trust now only have 4 beds at their disposal.

Whilst this will inevitably have an impact on carers, the Trust are continuing to try and increase the capacity of the available beds however they are being guided by the care homes. The Trust will also endeavour to look at all the options for carers to see what other types of short break they might benefit from.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health when all services, that existed before the COVID-19 pandemic, will return to the Mater Hospital.

(AQW 5490/17-22)

Mr Swann: You will be aware that on 9 June 2020 I published the Strategic Framework for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services and the Phase 2 Rebuilding Plans (covering the period July – September 2020) on 10 July.

The key aim is to incrementally increase HSC service capacity as quickly as possible across all programmes of care within the prevailing COVID-19 conditions.

The Mater Hospital will continue as the Belfast HSC Trust's COVID-19 Hospital and will also treat non-COVID emergency patients (arriving by ambulance only) and emergency medical admissions.

The Phase 2 Recovery Plan highlights other areas where services may return to the Mater during the period covered by the Plan. Other services temporarily transferred from the Mater will continue to be delivered at other sites at present.

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health to detail the average waiting times for assessment by an occupational therapist in each Health and Social Care Trust.

(AQW 5496/17-22)

Mr Swann: Information on the average waiting times for assessment by an occupational therapist is not available, however information on waiting times (in bands) for completed waits is collected. Please find information detailed below.

Table 1. Number of completed waits for an assessment by an occupational therapist, by waiting time-bands, in each Health and Social Care Trust, as at 31 May 2020.

HSC Trust	0-3 weeks	3-6 weeks	6-9 weeks	9-13 weeks	Over 13 weeks
Belfast	184	166	116	458	762
Northern	374	202	167	406	1,021
South Eastern	230	102	93	342	700

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health what actions his Department is taking to support Health and Social Care Trusts in recruiting staff to tackle regional shortages in occupational therapists.

(AQW 5497/17-22)

Mr Swann: My Department has been supporting the Occupational Therapy workforce by significantly increasing the number of undergraduate pre-registration training places commissioned it commissions each year. The expansion by five places, effective for the September 2020 intake, which I recently announced, means that the annual training places for that profession has grown by 37.5% since 2007/08, bringing the total number of commissioned places to 55.

In addition, my Department is nearing the completion of a regional workforce review of HSC's long-term requirements for Occupational Therapists. This will provide significant evidence to inform the future level of pre-registration training commissioning.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health what work has been undertaken by his Department's racial equality champion in the last five years.

(AQW 5500/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Department of Health (DoH) Racial Equality Champion was appointed in January 2017. The Champion position is to ensure that all the policies and operational practices of their department and agencies take account of the aims and principles of the strategy and to:

- communicate to all staff the racial equality strategy and the Department's commitment to it;
- ensure that staff have an awareness and understanding of racial equality and issues arising for specific action within the Department's policy and operational areas;
- cascade the strategy to non-departmental public bodies and other service providers and encourage and/or work with them to ensure its effective implementation; and
- to share knowledge, expertise and good practice with others.

The first meeting of the NICS Racial Equality Champions Network took place on 10 October 2017. The DoH Racial Equality Champion also represents the department at meetings of the Executive Racial Equality Sub-group and works with members as their single point of contact in DoH. This has enabled the Champion to build relationships with people working with or representing minority ethnic people and migrants, including representatives of refugees and asylum seekers.

The DoH Racial Equality Champion is a member of the Public Health Agency organised Regional Traveller Health and Wellbeing Forum and has been directly involved with the project on A Rationale for the Collection of Disaggregated Data on Ethnicity by Public Authorities in Northern Ireland.

The DoH Racial Equality Champion is the 'go to' person within the Department for issues of diversity and racial equality, raising awareness across the Department by publishing articles in the staff e-zine 'The Pulse' and on the intranet, including for example: World Refugee Day; International Roma Day; World Day for Cultural Diversity, for Dialogue and Development. As part of this raising awareness role, the DoH Racial Equality Champion produced a video profile to explain their role in promoting racial equality and social inclusion, to increase understanding of racial equality and to mainstream into all DoH policy and practices. Link to video: https://youtu.be/Ub\_s1aJZu9o(external link opens in a new window / tab)

In March 2018, as part of the NICS Racial Equality Champions Network, the DoH Racial Equality Champion visited Scotland and Leeds to learn from their experiences in order to help improve policy understanding and development in Northern Ireland.

In May 2018, as part of the UK-wide UN mission to assess the authorities' efforts in eliminating racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance, the DoH Racial Equality Champion met with the UN Special Rapporteur to outline what the department and the wider Health and Social Care System was doing to tackle these serious issues.

Since 2018 the DoH Racial Equality Champion has also led the Departments response to EU Exit which has meant less time has been spent on racial equality matters, although the raising awareness role has remained paramount.

Mr Robinson asked the Minister of Health to outline the dangers to the Health Service of a rise in the R number and second wave of COVID-19 infections.

(AQW 5508/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Executive has agreed that keeping the Reproduction Number (R) below 1 is a key objective in controlling the spread and impact of COVID-19. When R is above 1, the transmission of the epidemic will increase, resulting in more cases, leading to potentially significant increases in demand for hospital capacity, including acute and critical care beds. This would set back the rebuilding of elective care HSC services under the Strategic Framework I published in May following the first wave of Covid-19.

By using the available data, if the system reaches defined levels of capacity I will provide advice to the Executive on the need to re-introduce measures to reduce R.

In the meantime, alongside the rebuilding process, my Department is continuing to plan for further possible waves of COVID-19 to ensure that there are comprehensive surge plans in place for critical care, hospital beds and care homes, if required.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister of Health for an update on a new Bangor Health and Wellbeing Centre.

(AQW 5530/17-22)

Mr Swann: Given the challenges presented to the Health Service and my Department from the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic, there has been no change in the position of this project since my previous response.

Plans for a new Primary and Community Care Centre in Bangor continue to be included in the Primary Care Infrastructure Draft Strategic Implementation Plan.

The Draft Implementation Plan includes provision for a new health centre to serve the population of the Newtownards and North Down area. This project will be considered alongside other capital investment priorities and will be dependent on future budget availability and value for money.

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Health whether his Department recognises stem cell therapy as an alternative treatment for knee and hip replacement operations.

(AQW 5542/17-22)

Mr Swann: The use of stem cell therapy, as an alternative treatment for knee and hip replacement operations, has not been assessed by the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE) and is not commissioned routinely by the Health and Social Care Board for the NI population.

That position will be reviewed if new evidence of effectiveness becomes available and the procedure is recommended by NICE.

Ms Ennis asked the Minister of Health to list the dates, between 1 January 2020 and 8 July 2020, on which the South Down, Newry and South Armagh areas were left without ambulance cover.

(AQW 5584/17-22)

Mr Swann: It is important to note that at no stage since 1 January 2020 was the Northern Ireland Ambulance Service (NIAS) Southern Division area without ambulance cover.

However, there have been recent challenges in the provision of ambulance cover across these areas. To address such occasions, NIAS continually assess the level of cover in place across the Southern Division and put in place a number of mitigating actions to address reduced cover. These include the provision of additional crews from other stations within the division, extended Rapid Response Paramedic hours, increased A&E support vehicles provided by non-emergency crews and increased use of voluntary and private ambulance services to deal with lower acuity calls in order to keep emergency crews free to attend more serious, life threatening calls.

Ms Ennis asked the Minister of Health to detail the number of times the South Down, Newry and South Armagh areas have been without ambulance cover, since 1 January 2020.

(AQW 5585/17-22)

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health, pursuant to AQW 4904/17-22, how many of the 7,039 patients that attended a COVID-19 centre have tested positive.

(AQW 5600/17-22)

Mr Swann: All patients who have attended COVID-19 Centres have been triaged by a GP to confirm that they have the symptoms of the disease, and require further assessment in a primary care setting.

The Department does not hold records on how many of those referred to the centres subsequently test positive for COVID-19.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health whether the drug Kaftrio will be made available to anyone in Northern Ireland with one Del508 gene, as is the case in the United States of America.

(AQW 5605/17-22)

Mr Swann: I have asked the Health and Social Care Board to commence negotiation with Vertex Pharmaceuticals to explore the potential of providing access to these drugs under the same term as the NHS England agreement.

The NHS agreement deals with the issue of access for patients with a range of rare mutations. The negotiations will consider how this will translate for similar patients in Northern Ireland. It is my hope that these drugs can be made available for all clinically suitable patients in Northern Ireland.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister of Health what measures have been put in place with the Irish Government to ensure that contact tracing does not stop at the border, and that people in border areas are protected.

(AQW 5618/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Department of Health NI and its agencies have agreed a Memorandum of Understanding ("MoU") with the Department of Health, Ireland and its agencies in response to COVID-19 demonstrating a mutual willingness to promote cooperation and collaboration in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Evidence based public health measures are central to the response to COVID-19 in both jurisdictions, including measures such as, but not limited to case detection, testing regimes and contact tracing.

Cooperation on the public health-driven response to COVID-19, including on contact tracing, builds on existing and long-established cooperation on the island of Ireland between the participants and the health services including across cancer, ambulance and congenital heart services, and the strong pre-existing cooperation between the respective offices of the Chief Medical Officers in both jurisdictions.

My officials have collaborated closely with colleagues at the Department of Health in the Republic of Ireland during the development of the NI Proximity App seeking to ensure interoperability and sharing of non-identifiable information.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister of Health what actions he will take to address understaffing in the Ambulance Service.

(AQW 5626/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Northern Ireland Ambulance Service HSC Trust (NIAS) is continuing to recruit and train additional staff, but in the longer term significant additional resources will be required to ensure that NIAS has sufficient personnel to meet current and future demand.

A new Clinical Response Model has been developed following an extensive demand and capacity review in relation to NIAS services and my Department is currently considering the business case for it.

To ensure the supply of registered paramedics, my Department recently commissioned a pre-registration Paramedic BSc degree course from Ulster University, commencing from September 2021 for an initial four years. Of the 50 places available per year, 10 places per year will be for an employer-led route through NIAS. My Department will pay tuition fees for course participants. Until then, trainee paramedics within NIAS will continue to follow the current pre-registration Foundation Degree Programme.

My Department is also taking forward a Paramedic Workforce Review to consider the longer term requirements for paramedics within Health and Social Care, recognising their changing and growing contribution to healthcare delivery.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister of Health to detail the staffing levels of the Ambulance Service in the Southern Health and Social Care Trust area (i) before; and (ii) after the temporary relocation of Daisy Hill Emergency Department to Craigavon Area Hospital.

(AQW 5627/17-22)

Mr Swann: The following tables detail the staffing levels at each grade of staff in each of the six bases of the Southern Division of the Northern Ireland Ambulance Service Trust (i) at the time the Emergency Department at Daisy Hill Hospital ceased to accept ambulance referrals (from 14:00hrs on Saturday, 27 March 2020) as part of the Southern Health and Social Care Trust's COVID-19 Contingency Plan and (ii) at 14 July 2020.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health how many bids, applications or attempts were made to secure level 2 personal protection equipment for dentists.

(AQW 5635/17-22)

Mr Swann: There have been three attempts to either secure funding approval for the purchase of level II Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) or source level II PPE itself from central stocks. One of these was solely for level II PPE while the other two were for a combination of level I and level II PPE. The combined level I and level II funding request was successful. However, BSO were unable to source the required volume of the level II PPE element from their suppliers. Therefore, the decision was taken to use all the funding available for level I PPE knowing that this would still be required for both non-AGP and AGP treatments and that otherwise practices would have to buy this PPE themselves.

The Health and Social Care Board (HSCB) has been in contact with the local dental supply houses at least 12 times in order to determine the availability of level II PPE. Contact has also been made with suppliers in England and the Republic of Ireland. HSCB has also contributed detailed information on GDS level II PPE usage data to a HSC-wide PPE modelling exercise.

There have been two successful attempts to secure level II PPE for the urgent dental care centres (which are staffed by general dental practitioners) with each attempt covering a 12 week period.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health how many meetings his Department has had with the British Dental Association, and similar representative organisations of dentists, regarding COVID-19-related issues.

(AQW 5636/17-22)

Mr Swann: Since the Covid-19 lockdown many staff have been working from home and engaging with stakeholders using video-conferencing, teleconferencing and telephone calls. Whilst we do not have the details of all telephone calls made during this time, the information below includes as many as have been recorded.

Organisation	Contact via
British Dental Association (BDA)	Telephone calls x 15

A further telecall with the BDA is due to take place on Thursday 23 July 2020.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health whether care homes were offered extra financial payments from his Department to accept people who had been discharged from hospital in March, April or May 2020.

(AQW 5637/17-22)

Mr Swann: Care homes have not been offered extra financial payments by my Department to accept people who had been discharged from hospital in March, April or May 2020.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health how much funding his Department has given the Men's Advisory Project Northern Ireland, in each of the last five years.

(AQW 5650/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Men's Advisory Project Northern Ireland received the following funding from the Health and Social Care Board for the period 2015 to 2020:

2015/16	£81,952
2016/17	£81,953
2017/18	£89,961
2018/19	£168,961
2019/20	£108,185
Total	£531,012

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health to outline the process by which an additional £60,000 was allocated to Women's Aid, as announced on 26 June 2020.

(AQW 5651/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Health and Social Care Board currently hold a contract with Women's Aid for the provision of services. A bid for additional funding of £60k for a 6 month period during the initial coronavirus surge to support families who have experienced, or been a victim of, domestic abuse was made to my Department by the Health and Social Care Board. The bid was approved following consideration with funding allocated to the Health and Social Care Board and then onto Women's Aid.

Ms C Kelly asked the Minister of Health when, and where, the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority Board vacancies will be advertised.

(AQW 5654/17-22)

Mr Swann: My Department has commenced work to initiate a public appointment competition to appoint a permanent Non-Executive Chair and Non-Executive Members to the Board of the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority (RQIA).

This forthcoming competition, expected to launch within the coming months, will comply fully with the detailed provisions outlined in the Code of Practice for Ministerial Appointments in Northern Ireland published by the Commissioner for Public Appointments.

As a minimum, the competition will be advertised in the three regional newspapers, namely the Belfast Telegraph, Irish News and Newsletter. In addition, details of the vacancies will be included in a Departmental Public Appointments Newsletter which is published on my Department's website and circulated to recipients on the Department's Public Appointment distribution mailing list. The vacancies will also be advertised on a broad range of websites including, DoH, NI Direct, RQIA, Commissioner for Public Appointments Northern Ireland, and via social media platforms including the DoH and RQIA Twitter accounts, and LinkedIn.

Mr Clarke asked the Minister of Health to detail the average waiting time for an MRI scan in each hospital, in each of the last five years.

(AQW 5657/17-22)

Mr Swann: The average waiting time for an MRI scan in HSC Hospitals over the past five years has been presented in the table below.

Mr Clarke asked the Minister of Health (i) how many personal protection equipment masks contain Ethylene Oxide were supplied to staff in Health and Social Care; (ii) how many of the masks are still in use; (iii) how many have been recalled; and (iv) what is the country of origin of the masks.

(AQW 5659/17-22)

Mr Swann: Masks used as Personal Protective Equipment do not contain Ethylene Oxide. Ethylene Oxide (EO) is a gas commonly used in the sterilisation of medical equipment and devices.

My Department has not issued instruction to withdraw any masks from use due to sterilisation using Ethylene Oxide.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister of Health for an update on the strategic outline case for implementation of the Ambulance Service Clinical Response Model.

(AQW 5666/17-22)

Mr Swann: My Department continues to work with the Northern Ireland Ambulance Service to ensure the Strategic Outline Case for the Clinical Response Model (CRM) meets the requirements of the Northern Ireland Guide to Expenditure Appraisal and Evaluation. The progression of the CRM Programme will be dependent on value for money and affordability.

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister of Health when the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority inquiry into the review of the cases of the deceased patients of Dr Watt will begin; and whether he will explain to the families affected reasons for the delay and the lack of clarity provided by his Department.

(AQW 5667/17-22)

Mr Swann: In May 2018, the Department of Health commissioned the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority (RQIA) to undertake a review of the records of former patients of Dr Watt who had died over the previous 10 years. Due to the complexity of the review it was essential that a legal framework, to ensure RQIA could obtain access to the records of deceased patients, was established. This was finalised in February 2020.

RQIA's Review Programme was paused due to the need to redirect resources to respond to the challenges posed by COVID-19 and in line with a Departmental Direction issued on the 20 March 2020. In line with further direction received from my Department on 22 June 2020, RQIA has recommenced its review programme and is scoping the next stage of this review.

This is likely to involve defining the detailed terms of reference and preparation of associated business cases to enable the work to move forward.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health whether his Department will undertake a review of the availability of prescription drugs.

(AQW 5687/17-22)

Mr Swann: There are currently no plans in place for a specific review of the availability of all prescription drugs in Northern Ireland. My Department is however considering the key issues and challenges highlighted in the NIAO's recently published report on addiction services in Northern Ireland which highlights a number of key issues and challenges including the misuse of prescription medicines in Northern Ireland. <https://www.niauditoffice.gov.uk/publications/addiction-services-northern-ireland>

Obviously my Department will need time to consider the details of this report in full, however I note many of the issues raised in this report were already identified in the review of our current substance misuse strategy published by my Department last year. Addressing these issues will form part of the new substance use strategy which my Department has been developed in conjunction with key stakeholders. This will be issued for public consultation later this year. My Department continues to actively monitor the supply and availability of certain prescription medicines in respect of their overuse and misuse in light of what continues to be a growing problem of dependence and addiction in Northern Ireland. Measures and initiatives are in place to identify and support patients who need to withdraw safely from prescribed medication.

My Department is continuing to work closely with the Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Agency in considering how it can strengthen and improve the consistency of UK regulatory measures to minimise the risk of dependence and addiction to certain prescription medicines.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health how many prescriptions for diazepam have been issued in each of the last five years, broken down by age group.

(AQW 5689/17-22)

Mr Swann: Not all prescriptions issued are subsequently dispensed and presented for payment, so the number of prescriptions issued is not known centrally. Table 1 shows the total number of dispensed prescription items for Diazepam in each of the last five years, broken down by age group. The number of prescription items refers to items that are prescribed in primary care and subsequently dispensed (by a Community Pharmacist, Appliance Supplier or Dispensing Doctor) and submitted to the Business Services Organisation (BSO) for payment.

- 1 A prescription item is a single supply of a medicine, dressing or appliance written on a prescription form. If a prescription form includes three medicines, it is counted as three prescription items. Item figures do not provide any indication of the length of treatment or quantity of medicine prescribed.
- 2 Items not having an attributed age grouping have been categorised under Unknown. Data can only be produced based on patient age groupings where the prescription form has been successfully scanned. In the past, BSO had experienced a reduction in scan rates resulting in around 25% of prescription items not having attributed patient information in 2017/18 and 2018/19. However, this has recently improved and in 2019/20 almost 90% of prescription items had attributed patient information.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health how many prescriptions for pregabalin have been issued in each of the last five years, broken down by age group.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Health to detail his waiting time targets to address alcohol and drug misuse, broken down by Health and Social Care Trust.

(AQW 5691/17-22)

Mr Swann: The current waiting standards for Mental Health services, which include addiction services, are that no patient waits longer than: nine weeks to access adult mental health services; nine weeks to access child and adolescent mental health services; nine weeks to access dementia services; and 13 weeks to access psychological therapies (any age). These waiting standards are applicable across all Health and Social Care Trusts.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health how his Department is assessing the needs of families providing fostering or kinship care, in light of the circumstances of COVID-19, with a view to augmenting funding for the voluntary sector support organisations.

(AQW 5692/17-22)

Mr Swann: All Trusts have monitoring arrangements in place, reviewing cases frequently to ensure that foster placements are being appropriately supported and, as issues are being raised, they are being addressed.

From the outset of lockdown, foster carers were given a one-off £100 payment to support children by purchasing games, craftwork or learning material. In response to the main pressures identified by foster carers, a 20% uplift per child was applied to the food and household elements of the foster care allowance for a period of up to 12 weeks.

My Department currently provides Core Grant funding to Community and Voluntary sector organisations who support children in foster care and children who have been adopted from care.

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Health whether GPs can opt out of COVID-19 Centres to ensure availability in their own surgery for safe levels of care to their patients; and whether a review will take place of the effectiveness of COVID-19 Centres and their value for money.

(AQW 5697/17-22)

Mr Swann: As outlined in AQW 5181/17-22, no change has been made to the GP contract. However in response to Covid-19, after negotiations with the HSCB and NIGPC, an agreement was reached to stand down elements of the GMS Contract and for GPs to participate in COVID centres to ensure that primary care services can be safely maintained for all COVID and non-COVID patients during the pandemic.

The number, location and operation of COVID centres is routinely reviewed by a regional project board which includes senior GP representation. In line with the reduced infection rate, staffing in these centres has been reduced in a safe and appropriate manner, whilst retaining the capacity to scale up in the event of any further surge.

Department for Infrastructure

Ms Anderson asked the Minister for Infrastructure, pursuant to AQW 4153/17-22, to detail (i) what aspects her Department is seeking legal advice on; and (ii) whether she has received a professional planning assessment from her officials on whether there is a conflict between the planning conditions and approved drawings of permission A/2008/0408/F.
(AQW 5065/17-22)

Ms Mallon (The Minister for Infrastructure): Legal advice was sought to inform my consideration of the issues raised in recent correspondence and Assembly questions regarding this case which was adjudicated upon by the Northern Ireland High Court in 2013 and is currently subject to an ongoing complaint to the Aarhus Convention Compliance Committee. That advice is subject to legal and professional privilege. Having received the legal advice it is not considered necessary or appropriate to carry out a further professional planning assessment.

Mr Wells asked the Minister for Infrastructure when she intends to implement the commitment she gave in March 2020 to exempt classic vehicles which are more than 40 years old from the need to undertake an MOT test.
(AQW 5380/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I announced on 2 July 2020 that I intend to introduce the exemption from periodic roadworthiness testing for Vehicles of Historic Interest in Northern Ireland. This exemption, which will align NI legislation with that in GB, will apply to those vehicles that were first registered at least 40 years ago, are no longer in production and have not been significantly modified. The exemption will not apply to those vehicles that are still in public service. I have instructed my officials to begin the process of progressing the legislation through the Assembly with the aim that the regulations can be laid and brought in to operation as soon as possible.

Mr Stewart asked the Minister for Infrastructure, pursuant to AQW 2341/17-22, for an update on engagement between her officials and Department for Transport officials about potential changes in regulations with regards to the use of e-scooters on public roads and cycle routes.
(AQW 5418/17-22)

Ms Mallon: As indicated in my reply to AQW 5417/17-22 I can advise that currently it is illegal to use electric scooters on public roads or public spaces such as footpaths and cycle paths in Northern Ireland, which aligns with the current position in GB.

Following a public consultation, DfT is planning to offer pilot schemes to local authorities on e-scooter usage, which are due to begin shortly. The aim of these schemes is to trial e-scooter rental systems, which will help to assess their safety and impact on public spaces.

Once the schemes have concluded, and an analysis of them is made available, I will carefully consider the results to help inform my thinking about the potential use of e-scooters here, including where they may be legally and safely operated.

Mr Butler asked the Minister for Infrastructure how many applications for retrospective street adoption have been either (i) successful; or (ii) refused, in each of the last ten years.
(AQW 5424/17-22)

Ms Mallon: While my Department has from time to time received requests to adopt private streets serving less than five dwellings that form part of larger residential developments, unfortunately we cannot individually identify such requests and as such are unable to advise how many requests have been received and assessed.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the COVID-19 support currently offered to the (i) coach; and (ii) haulage industries.

Ms Mallon: I recognise the importance of both the coach and haulage sectors in supporting Northern Ireland's economic recovery in the coming weeks and months.

I have put in place a range of measures to support the sector including: securing a financial package for Ferry Operators funded jointly by the UK Government and the Executive; introducing a range of regulatory measures such as extending driving licenses for a period of seven months if they expire between Feb 2020 and the end of August 2020 and I have been working with DfT colleagues to further extend this temporary license renewal. Most recently I introduced a Legislative Consent Motion in the Assembly for the North to be included in UK legislation for the issuance of 1 year licenses if required. In addition to this I have put in place a range of operational measures such as a suspension of all MOT tests for commercial/passenger vehicles; and relaxations of other requirements in areas such as CPC, tachographs, medical assessments and planning restrictions.

The UK Government has recently decided to suspend the Heavy Goods Vehicle Levy for a year, with effect from 1 August 2020. The levy suspension will provide haulage companies with some relief over the next year and help to ensure that they can continue to operate, avoiding a potential bottleneck to economic recovery.

My Department has been in regular contact with the Department of Transport on their discussions with Treasury on financial relief for passenger and goods vehicle operators, however it should be noted that DAERA through its food security work, is the local lead on establishing the evidential basis for specific financial intervention to support the haulage industry and that work is ongoing.

My remit in relation to private tour operators is regulatory, and a priority for me during the current public health emergency has been to facilitate the necessary rapid two way communication with the industry on regulatory issues that need to be addressed. My officials and I have been in regular and ongoing contact with the industry, including with individual drivers and operators, augmented by open letters to the industry.

I understand from the industry that a number have not been able to avail of any of the current hardship support schemes on offer. The Minister for the Economy has submitted an options paper to the Executive which includes consideration of support for those in the industry who have not been able to avail of help to date. I have written to the Minister for the Economy to confirm my support for this option and have reiterated my offer to utilise the data my department holds as Regulator to assist in communicating with those in the industry in respect of any new scheme.

I will continue to engage with the industry and work to find solutions to any of the regulatory challenges that emerge and are causing difficulty for private tour operators during this crisis, while also continuing to work with my colleagues on the Executive and the Committee to support the industry.

Ms Sheerin asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether (i) she can ensure that requests by drivers to have their name and address in Irish on their license is respected by the Driver and Vehicle Agency; and (ii) drivers can change their license if this request has not been met.

(AQW 5477/17-22)

Ms Mallon: An applicant for, or holder of, a Northern Ireland driving licence may, at any time, request that their name appears in traditional form. Such a request does not constitute a change of name and the applicant or holder is not required to provide identity documentation bearing the name in Irish.

Similarly, where an applicant for, or holder of, a Northern Ireland driving licence requests that the address is displayed in Irish, such a request will be met provided the relevant council confirms that the street name has been legally adopted. Currently this does not extend to other addresses.

As you will be aware, it was agreed in New Decade New Approach that the Executive Office would bring forward new language legislation and appoint a Commissioner to protect and enhance use of the Irish language. It is important that this legislation is brought forward as soon as possible and I will seek to ensure that my department plays its role and fulfils its commitments.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the permitted development right amendments being reviewed by her Department.

Ms Mallon: As you may be aware, in 2016 my Department consulted on a range of proposals in relation to permitted development rights including telecommunications and mineral exploration.

Improving our digital infrastructure is vital to Northern Ireland's economy. Planning has a crucial role to play in supporting delivery of this infrastructure and facilitating appropriate proposals which deliver a high level of digital connectivity whilst ensuring that siting and design keeps environmental impacts to a minimum. I am currently considering the proposals and responses to the previous consultation, as well as health concerns raised more recently regarding 5G.

I am aware that exploratory drilling for petroleum at Woodburn Forest, Carrickfergus, raised widespread public concern that the existing provisions on permitted development rights for petroleum exploration do not provide a suitable balance between supporting exploration and protecting amenity and the environment. I will be considering the proposed options for removing the permitted development rights for petroleum exploration in the coming months.

Mr Newton asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) to detail the areas of traffic congestion in the Belfast East constituency; and (ii) what plans she has to address each of these areas.

(AQW 5511/17-22)

Ms Mallon: Other than traffic congestion issues in and around the Dundonald area I am not aware of any other significant problems in the East Belfast constituency area. If the member has any specific areas in mind I would be happy to investigate these.

In relation to Dundonald, as previously advised, prior to the current health crisis officials had been monitoring traffic flows through the village in order to understand the issues experienced there. Observations had concluded that traffic turning right into Cherryhill Road on occasion blocked the Upper Newtownards Road causing traffic to queue back through the Dunlady Road/ Robb's Road junction.

Some modifications were recently made at this location, to encourage traffic to pass right-turning traffic on the inside (by entering the bus lane) which officials hope will help to improve traffic flow. My Department also has a CCTV camera installed at the Dunlady junction and this allows officials to monitor live traffic conditions.

The problem of dealing with congestion in our main cities and towns is not something I believe can only be addressed with localised road improvements, so I am focussing on a recovery where we will have less car travel, more walking and cycling and more park and rides. I believe that by changing travel habits, we can transform our communities to inspire a new way of living that will be our new normal.

Mr Chambers asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) whether a dedicated elected representatives' point of contact around street lighting issues is in place beyond the public internet reporting site; and (ii) if not, whether she would consider setting up such a facility.

(AQW 5522/17-22)

Ms Mallon: In addition to the online reporting system, where elected representatives can track the progress of repairs (<https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/services/report-street-light-fault>), my Department has in place a central telephone number to facilitate reporting of street lighting and other issues. Elected representatives and members of the public may report any urgent street lighting issues by telephone on 0300 200 7899.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether she would consider retrospectively extending driver theory certificates that have expired during the closure of test centres.

(AQW 5524/17-22)

Ms Mallon: On 8 July, I announced plans to amend the Driving Licence Regulations that would allow an eight month extension to the validity of theory test pass certificates, which expire between 1 March and 31 October 2020 and a 6 month extension to the validity of off-road motorcycle test pass certificates, which expire between 1 March 2020 and 31 August 2020. This legislative change is intended to come into effect in September 2020 and when it becomes law will apply retrospectively to those theory test certificates and off-road motorcycle test pass certificates that have expired from 1 March.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the cost of grass cutting, including overtime, of road verges in North Down during the 2019/20 financial year.

(AQW 5529/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I can advise the Member that the cost of grass cutting, including overtime, and overheads, in North Down amounted to £160k during the 2019/20 financial year.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) what date the Strangford Ferry will return to pre-COVID-19 sailing times; (ii) whether a cashless payment option on the ferry will continue; and (iii) what measures she is taking to ensure school children using the ferry from late August will be able to travel safely in line with social distancing requirements.

(AQW 5538/17-22)

Ms Mallon:

- (i) The ongoing requirement to comply with Covid-19 related restrictions means that it is not yet possible to set a date for when the Strangford Lough Ferry Service will return to the pre Covid-19 timetable. I am continuing to monitor passenger demand and crew availability and intend to return to the normal timetable as soon as practicable.
- (ii) Cashless payment was introduced in early 2019 and has proved successful as an efficient and effective method of payment. It will continue going forward.
- (iii) The passenger capacity of the ferry is currently being reviewed, in order to maximise capacity whilst complying with Covid-19 restrictions. All ferry passengers will be required to adhere to the social distancing requirements applicable at the time.

The majority of schoolchildren on the Strangford Ferry complete the remainder of their journey by bus. On Monday 8 June I met with the Minister for Education to discuss the Education Restart Programme. Colleagues from Translink and the Education Authority are developing transport plans for the return of pupils. Consideration is being given to the potential number of pupils returning to school and mitigating factors such as staggering school opening times. My officials are in consultation with Translink so that arrangements for schoolchildren travelling on the ferry can be finalised when there is a clearer understanding of what the requirement will be.

Mr Middleton asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether her Department has considered supporting and developing a Glider scheme in Londonderry.

(AQW 5560/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department is currently preparing a suite of Transport Plans which aim to maximise integration between transport planning and Local Development Plans. Transport Studies form the first stage of the processes. The North West Transport Study (NWTS) has been developed in parallel with the Derry City and Strabane District Council Plan Strategy. A recommendation in the draft NWTS is to investigate improvements to the Foyle Metro bus network, including a flagship high quality cross-city route running at high frequency between Park & Ride termini.

Recommendations in the NWTS will be developed subsequently in the North West Transport Plan (NWTP). The NWTP will be developed in parallel with Derry City and Strabane District Council Local Policies Plan which is programmed to commence next year. The NWTP will help inform my priorities for developing active travel, road, bus and rail public networks in Derry. Whilst detailed proposals have not yet been developed, a high frequency, cross-city bus service, with many of the features of the Glider system, is under consideration to help reduce dependency on private car use.

Belfast saw a 30% increase in passenger numbers along routes served by the Glider service since its introduction in 2018, and so the feasibility of rapid transit measures will be carefully considered as part of the broader NWTP proposals to reduce traffic congestion and improve air quality in the North West.

Mr Middleton asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) for an update on the development of the A6 upgrade; and (ii) to outline the timescales for completion of each phase.

(AQW 5562/17-22)

Ms Mallon: The Department is currently progressing two separate projects, the Randalstown to Castledawson and Drumahoe to Dungiven dualling schemes, on the A6 route improving connectivity between Derry and Belfast. Funding for both these schemes is committed as the contracts have been awarded and the works are progressing well.

While the Covid-19 pandemic has impacted construction work on both of the A6 sites, it is hoped that the Randalstown to Castledawson scheme will finish next year, with the Dungiven to Drumahoe scheme completing in 2022, largely as planned.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure how the rural roads fund will be allocated, broken down per Division.

(AQW 5573/17-22)

Ms Mallon: A breakdown, by DfI Roads Division, of the £10m of Capital I made available for rural roads is provided in the Table below.

Division	North	South	East	West	Total
Rural Roads Allocation (£'k)	2,105	3,235	810	3,850	10,000

Mr K Buchanan asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) road; and (ii) footpath resurfacing schemes scheduled for the Mid Ulster constituency this financial year.

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the LD1 junction upgrades in the north Lisburn area.
(AQW 5579/17-22)

Ms Mallon: Further to the response I provided on 5 February 2020 to AQW 641/17-22, I can confirm that since then my officials have provided the developer's technical consultants with additional comments on a number of aspects of their design to upgrade the Knockmore Road / Prince William Road Junction. When the developer's technical consultants resolve these design issues and an acceptable design is achieved, the consortium will be responsible for programming and undertaking these junction improvements.

In relation to improvements to the Ballymacash Road / Prince William Road Junction, I can confirm that my officials have completed their fifth design review, which has confirmed that many design issues have now been resolved. This information has been provided in a recent consultation response to the planning authority. Subject to resolution of the outstanding design issues and planning approval, the developer will then be responsible for undertaking the improvements to the Ballymacash Road / Prince William Road junction in line with any planning conditions that may apply.

Ms Rogan asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) for an update on the proposed Downpatrick park & ride facility; and (ii) how much will be spent in this financial year developing the proposals for this facility.

Ms Mallon: As you are aware, Park and Ride is a key enabler to deliver a number of outcomes within the Outcomes Delivery Plan by improving connections, increasing public transport use, promoting sustainability and encouraging modal shift and active travel. For that reason I have allocated £4m for the development of Park and Ride sites in 2020/21 and I will shortly be considering my priorities for this programme.

Ms Rogan asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) how much of the recently announced £150 million for waste water infrastructure will be spent in South Down; and (ii) the locations of these upgrades in South Down.
(AQW 5616/17-22)

Ms Mallon: The £150 million capital budget allocated to NI Water in 2020/21 covers both water and waste water infrastructure. In terms of wastewater, NI Water is investing approximately £270k in two rural wastewater improvement programme (RWWIP) schemes in the South Down Constituency. These schemes are in Rathfriland and Kilcoo and the details are included in the table below:-

Site Name	Location	Project Status	Construction Value
St John's Terrace Wastewater Treatment Works (WwTW)	Cabra Road, Rathfriland	Under construction, completion expected end of July 2020	£175,000 (ca £80k invested in 20/21)
Moneyscalp Wastewater Treatment Works (WwTW)	Moneyscalp Road, Kilcoo	Programmed to commence Aug 2020	£190,000

NI Water also has a base maintenance programme which covers the whole of the North and which will include some investment in the South Down constituency.

In addition to the capital investment in wastewater infrastructure detailed above, the Carlingford Lough Shared Waters Enhancement and Loughs Legacy (SWELL) Project will invest £2m at Warrenpoint Wastewater Treatment Works during 2020/21. Swell Projects are funded by the EU Interreg Programme and facilitate investment in NI Water wastewater infrastructure.

Ms Rogan asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) how much will be spent developing the Ballynahinch bypass scheme in this financial year; (ii) for what purpose; and (iii) when she will be in a position to sign the commencement order and announce a date for construction to commence.

Ms Mallon: I have allocated £8m capital funding for the development of a range of strategic road improvement projects in 2020/21. This will allow the completion of development work on the Ballynahinch Bypass this financial year.

The Ballynahinch Bypass is at an advanced stage of development. To complete the development phase, the next stage includes the finalisation of the Business Case for the scheme, reviewing the environmental reports and the making of the Direction Order. In conjunction with this work, I wish to examine how the scheme could kick-start improvements to the town - by reducing traffic travelling through the town, we would create an opportunity to reshape the town centre, providing more space for people and creating a better place for all. This will be progressed this financial year.

I recognise that many in the community support the provision of a bypass in Ballynahinch and I am committed to working to find solutions that deliver better for communities, improve lives across the North and support a green recovery.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister for Infrastructure, in relation to MOT centres reopening on 20 July, (i) what precautions will be taken; and (ii) what standard of PPE will be provided, (a) to prevent DVA staff from contracting COVID-19 from within cars being tested; (b) to ensure COVID-19 is not spread between cars being tested; and (c) to ensure members of the public attending tests are not exposed to COVID-19.

Ms Mallon: The Driver and Vehicle Agency (DVA) has carried out an extensive review of its risk assessments to ensure that all relevant control measures relating to Covid-19 have been incorporated into its vehicle testing processes to enable MOT centres to safely reopen from 20 July. The risk assessments fully comply with the latest advice and guidance published by the Public Health Agency in terms of social distancing, regular handwashing and good respiratory hygiene. The current government advice is that workplaces should not encourage the use of additional PPE to protect against Covid-19 outside of healthcare or clinical settings or when responding to suspected or confirmed cases of Covid-19. However, insofar as is relevant, the Department's vehicle examiners will be issued with suitable PPE and other equipment to reduce the risks posed by the spread of Covid-19 between staff and customers, such as disposable gloves, face masks and disposable seat covers.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister for Infrastructure, given the increasing spread of giant hogweed and its inherent health risks, whether she will (i) prioritise additional resources and treatment measures in an effort to reduce its spread on verges bounding footpaths and roads under her responsibility; and (ii) formulate a joined up strategy in conjunction with the Department of Environment, Agriculture and Rural Affairs, local councils and other relevant statutory agencies to ensure a multi-agency approach is being taken to address it.

Ms Mallon: My Department has a statutory obligation in relation to the control of noxious weeds (ragwort, thistle, dock and wild oat) and in 2020/21 my Department will continue to treat invasive weeds, such as Giant Hogweed, found growing on lands within its control. In doing so we will take specialist advice from the Department of Agriculture, Environment & Rural Affairs (DAERA) and/or specialist contractors as and when required.

Within the current funding constraints being experienced by my Department, policy and practice in relation to weed control is limited to ensuring the safety of road users and to prevent the deterioration of the road pavement. However I acknowledge that tackling invasive alien species in general is a much more complex issue involving a wide range of stakeholders and this is recognised in the document 'An Invasive Alien Species Strategy for Northern Ireland' which was published by the then Department of the Environment in 2013. This Strategy and the associated Implementation Plan set out key aims and actions to deliver a co-ordinated approach for addressing the threats posed by these species and was developed in partnership with key stakeholders which included my Department. I am aware that the Implementation Plan was revised in 2018 to reflect changes emerging from EU legislation and other policy changes in relation to invasive species.

In relation to formulation of a joined up strategy to address this problem, I would consider that this is already in place with DAERA being the lead department. However my Department will continue to be part of the ongoing efforts to minimise the risk posed, and reduce the negative impacts caused by invasive alien species in Northern Ireland.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the subordinate legislation to introduce graduated driver licensing.

(AQW 5634/17-22)

Ms Mallon: The statutory framework for Graduated Driver Licensing (GDL) is contained in the Road Traffic (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland) 2016. Full implementation of the scheme is subject to the making of three Statutory Rules (SRs). A Commencement Order will also be required to make the relevant provisions of the 2016 Act operational.

I have summarised below the purpose of the Regulations. One SR will amend existing driver licensing legislation to enable the introduction of the Programme of Training (POT) for GDL, and to require the production of a logbook at the practical test. This SR will also provide details of exemptions from the POT and logbook. A further SR will remove the prohibition on learners driving on motorways and apply certain conditions to such driving activity. Both of these SRs will be subject to negative resolution procedure.

The third SR will set out the precise details of the new 2 part 'R' plate that will apply to new drivers subject to GDL. It will also set out details of the new post-test passenger restriction. This SR will be subject to affirmative resolution and therefore will require formal approval by the Assembly.

The drafting of all 3 SRs is well advanced. Once this process is completed, the SRs will then be forwarded to Departmental solicitors for scrutiny. Thereafter, the SRs will then be referred to the DfI Committee.

I aim to bring forward these SRs as early as possible to enable the introduction of the GDL scheme in Northern Ireland. This will constitute a major change to the learner driver journey. For that reason, alongside the legislative requirements, my Department is working on the development of a digital Programme of Training to meet the needs of the core demographic, (17 – 24 year olds). We are also developing a comprehensive communications strategy, setting out a sustained 'hearts and minds' advertising campaign to announce and promote the benefits of GDL to both the target audience and the general public at large.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) for an update on the Arc21 energy from waste incinerator in South Antrim; and (ii) when a decision will be taken on it.

(AQW 5638/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My officials are continuing to progress the application in line with planning policy to a point where a decision is ready to be made. When all consultation responses are received and all statutory processes complete, a recommendation will be brought forward by my officials.

Ms C Kelly asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on whether there has been a review of flood defences in Campsie, Omagh.

(AQW 5656/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department regularly inspects and maintains the designated flood defences in the Campsie area of Omagh Town. These flood defences recently protected parts of Omagh after a period of heavy rainfall on the 8th and 9th February 2020 that caused river levels to rise significantly.

In order to further improve the level of flood protection in this area a number of flood studies have been carried out to assess the level of risk to properties and determine if a viable flood alleviation scheme could be taken forward. Unfortunately none of the proposals to date, including a joint project with the Strule Shared Education Campus, were found to be feasible or economically viable.

I can confirm that my Department is to re-visit the most recent flood study for Omagh Town, which was completed in 2016, towards the end of the 2020/21 financial year. The new study will take into account Climate Change and determine if other viable options, such as upstream flood storage and natural flood risk management solutions can be identified to reduce flooding.

Mr Clarke asked the Minister for Infrastructure which schools in the South Antrim area are being considered for the temporary reduced speed limit zones.

Ms Mallon: As Minister responsible for promoting and improving road safety, I want to work actively with partners to reduce death and serious injuries on our roads. I believe that reducing the maximum speed traffic can travel at on some of our roads, particularly those near schools, can help in this regard.

I am delighted to further demonstrate this commitment by allocating funding to introduce part-time 20 mph speed limits at around 100 schools in Northern Ireland so that parents, children and staff will be safer as they go to and from school on a daily basis. Priority listings are currently being developed for each Division and these will be based on scores calculated using the assessment framework contained within the Department's current road safety at schools policy document. I can confirm that all schools in the South Antrim area will be included in the assessment process. I am committed to moving at pace in the roll out of these new 20mph schemes.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) to detail the responses of recent consultations on Petroleum Licence Applications PLA1/16 and PLA2/16; (ii) given that the previous Minister for Infrastructure had considered the policy issues and committed to taking forward legislative changes, when permitted development rights for petroleum exploration will be removed; and (iii) whether there are any oil and gas sites operating under permitted development rights.

Ms Mallon: These applications both relate to petroleum exploration and a joint consultation request was issued by Department for the Economy to a number of organisations, including DfI. My Department's response advised that, if a license is awarded, a permitted development notification should be submitted to Fermanagh and Omagh District Council and that the developer should consult the Council's planning team at the earliest opportunity to provide any planning advice on the matter. My understanding is that there was a typographical error in this response and that the reference to "PLA2/16" should have been "PLA1/16 and PLA2/16" but that this has not affected any statutory requirement.

I am aware that in June 2016, the then Minister announced the intention to remove permitted development rights for petroleum (oil and gas) exploration and consult upon proposals for legislative change. I am also aware of the widespread public concern following exploratory drilling for petroleum at Woodburn Forest Carrickfergus, that the existing provisions on permitted development rights for petroleum exploration do not provide a suitable balance between supporting exploration and protecting amenity and the environment. I will be considering the proposed options for removing the permitted development rights for petroleum exploration in the coming months.

My Department would not normally hold information on sites operating under permitted development rights as developers proposing to exercise such rights for mineral exploration must contact the relevant council under Part 16 (Mineral Exploration) of the Planning (General Permitted Development) Order (Northern Ireland) 2015. However, my understanding is that there are no oil, or gas, sites currently operating under permitted development rights.

Mrs Barton asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the South Western bypass for Enniskillen in relation to (i) its readiness for commencement; and (ii) the expected timeline from commencement to completion.

(AQW 5680/17-22)

Ms Mallon: On 10 June 2020 I announced to the Assembly my intention to progress a number of strategic infrastructure and flagship projects as part of my plan to aid economic recovery and community transformation. I have now asked officials to push forward on the development of these important schemes, one of which is the A4 Enniskillen Southern Bypass.

Following consideration of a decision to proceed, the next step on this scheme is the making of the necessary orders. I also wish to examine how the scheme could kick-start improvements to the town, by reducing traffic travelling through the town we would create an opportunity to reshape the town centre, providing more space for people and creating a better place for all.

I hope to be in a position in the coming weeks to provide further information.

Mr Blair asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the proposed greenway project to link the former railhead at Doagh, along the valley of the Six Mile Water into Antrim town.

(AQW 5707/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I am keen to see progress on better walking and cycling infrastructure throughout Northern Ireland and my Department is working in partnership with Councils and stakeholders, in identifying and taking forward schemes that deliver on our Programme for Government outcomes and ensure lasting change for people across the North. I view Greenways as an important part of this positive change and have allocated funding to help deliver more.

The development of greenway projects however falls to local Councils rather than my Department. Under the 'Small Grants for Greenways' programme, Antrim and Newtownabbey Borough Council received funding to develop a feasibility study for the Doagh to Larne Greenway. No Council submitted a proposal to develop a feasibility study for a greenway from Doagh to Antrim.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail (i) how many; (ii) what percentage of regionally significant planning decisions were appealed to the Planning Appeals Commission; and (iii) the outcomes of each appeal, in each of the last three financial years.[R]

(AQW 5713/17-22)

Ms Mallon: In each of the last three financial years, no Regionally Significant planning decisions were appealed to the Planning Appeals Commission (PAC). In accordance with the Planning Act (NI) 2011 and unlike decisions made by councils, the decision of the Department on an application for planning permission made to it or referred to it shall be final. In this regard there is no provision available to appeal the decision to the PAC.

Department of Justice

Miss Woods asked the Minister of Justice for an update on the establishment of a Centre of Restorative Excellence.
(AQW 5402/17-22)

Mrs Long (The Minister of Justice): The Executive Action Plan (Recommendation A9) commits the Executive to put in place a dedicated fund for restorative justice initiatives to provide enhanced levels of resource over longer periods of time to deliver positive outcomes for individuals and communities. This fund is also required to resource the proposal for a centre of restorative excellence. The Executive Office leads on the creation of the fund.

As part of the recommendation the Department of Justice also committed to carry out a feasibility study to identify best options for a new centre of restorative excellence. This feasibility study was completed in March 2018.

The Feasibility Study concluded that a Centre of Restorative Excellence be developed which would contribute to the design, development and support of Restorative Justice to adult offending and would broaden the application of Restorative Practice to sectors and geographies, both within and outside the justice system, who are working in areas aligned to offending, mediation, negotiation and victim representation. It also identified the need for a physical, rather than virtual, centre.

A Cross Departmental Working Group, including representatives from the community based accredited restorative justice organisations, was established in January 2019 to take forward the work but given the cross cutting nature of the proposals, progress was hindered in the absence of an Executive.

My Department is currently consulting on the development of an Adult Restorative Justice Strategy. I also consider the delivery of a Centre of Restorative Excellence a key priority for my Department and I have been able to identify an additional dedicated resource to finalise the design proposals, including working with the Executive Office to ensure that a fund is established to support the Centre.

Ms S Bradley asked the Minister of Justice to detail the anticipated timeline for the legislation she intends to bring forward during the remainder of this mandate.

(AQW 5416/17-22)

Mrs Long: In addition to the Domestic Abuse and Family Proceedings Bill, which is currently at Committee Stage in the Assembly, I intend to bring forward three confirmed and one possible other separate Bills to the Assembly during the remainder of this mandate.

I plan to introduce a Criminal Justice (Committal Reform) Bill to the Assembly after the summer recess, which will be followed by a Protection from Stalking Bill in the autumn.

Subject to the outcome of a consultation exercise to be carried out this summer, this may be followed by a very small, very tightly focussed Personal Injury Discount Rate ("Damages") Bill in late 2020/early 2021.

I then plan to bring forward a Justice (Miscellaneous Provisions) Bill in early 2021 to legislate for a number of discrete policy areas that do not come within scope of the Domestic Abuse; Committal Reform or Stalking Bills.

Introduction of the Justice Bill in spring 2021 will ensure that the Bill can complete its Assembly scrutiny and passage before the House rises in March 2022 for the next local elections.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Justice what work has been undertaken by her Department's racial equality champion in the last five years.

(AQW 5423/17-22)

Mrs Long: A key role of the Department's Racial Equality Champion is to support delivery of the Racial Equality Strategy 2015-2025. That has included close engagement with the Racial Equality Subgroup, which is co-ordinated by The Executive Office and consists of representatives from the minority ethnic sector. As Racial Equality Champion, they have promoted awareness of the Racial Equality Strategy within the Department, emphasising the importance of racial equality and good race relations as well as being the senior point of contact for issues relating to racial equality. The Racial Equality Champion also participates in meetings of the NICS Racial Equality Champions Group which held its first meeting in October 2017.

The Racial Equality Champion has supported the development of initiatives relating to hate crime. For example, in June 2019 they facilitated a joint Executive Office/Department of Justice Workshop on Hate Crime for the Racial Equality Subgroup. The workshop provided an opportunity to discuss issues relating to reporting hate incidents; the importance of providing support to victims including through a Hate Crime Advocacy Scheme; and legislative issues relating to the protection of victims and dealing with criminal conduct motivated by hate.

In 2019, together with members of the Racial Equality Subgroup, other NICS Racial Equality Champions and Schools of Sanctuary representatives, a series of films was launched tackling racial inequalities and promoting good race relations in Northern Ireland.

In March 2018, the Racial Equality Champion met with Scottish and NCIS counterparts to discuss respective roles and challenges. They also attended formal training by the Race Equality Centre in Leeds that month.

Finally, my Department is a recognised 'Friend of Mela' and has worked with the Belfast Mela festival organisers to celebrate cultural diversity and participate in this annual event for a number of years. Officials including the Racial Equality Champion have actively been involved in preparations for those events.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Justice (i) how many orders have been made to recover costs of legal aid pursuant to Article 33A of The Legal Aid, Advice and Assistance (Northern Ireland) Order 1981 since that power came into force; and (ii) how much has been recovered.

(AQW 5506/17-22)

Mrs Long:

- (i) Four orders have been made to recover costs of legal aid pursuant to Article 33A of The Legal Aid, Advice and Assistance (Northern Ireland) Order 1981 since this power came into force.
- (ii) To date £77,898.01 has been recovered in one case with £3,000 being pursued in another case. In the remaining cases:
  - there is an Order Charging Land registered by the Enforcement Judgement Office against a property in the sum of £124,019.61; and
  - a proof of debt has been lodged with the Insolvency Service for £9,339.16.

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Justice, in circumstances where the Executive has outlined, as part of the Recovery Plan, that the housing market is now reopen, to detail when the probate process will also reopen.
(AQW 5558/17-22)

Mrs Long: The Probate Master of the High Court suspended the issue of Grants of Probate on 19 March 2020 as a result of the public health emergency, however the service was reinstated on 24 April 2020.

More information regarding the arrangements for processing probate applications can be found at <https://judiciaryni.uk/coronavirus-covid-19>

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister of Justice how many meetings she has had with representatives of local ethnic minority communities and groups, and with the PSNI, to examine what further measures should be put in place to combat racial abuse and hate crime in Northern Ireland.
(AQW 5570/17-22)

Mrs Long: I condemn any form of racial abuse and hate crime. Since taking up post I have met with a number of organisations and individuals to discuss this matter, and I meet regularly with the Chief Constable.

My Department has a number of projects in place to address racial abuse and hate crime.

In June 2019 Judge Desmond Marrinan was appointed to carry out an Independent Review of Hate Crime Legislation in Northern Ireland. Following a public consultation and meetings with stakeholders, Judge Marrinan is analysing consultation responses and will present his final report to me by 30 November 2020.

To support and encourage victims in reporting incidents, the Hate Crime Advocacy Service, which is funded jointly by PSNI and my Department, continues to provide emotional and practical support to all victims of Hate Crime and Hate Incidents. Two advocates are specifically employed within the Migrant Centre to provide this support to victims of racist attacks and to assist their reporting of such incidents to the police.

The Hate Incident Practical Action (HIPA) Scheme part funded by the Department of Justice, PSNI and Northern Ireland Housing Executive, is aimed at providing personal and home protection measures for victims of hate incidents where the incident has occurred at or in the vicinity of their home.

At an operational level, Policing Community and Safety Partnerships (PCSPs), are funded by my Department to work to make their community safer. They do this by focusing on the policing and community safety issues that matter most in that area, and in that regard a number of PCSPs are currently tackling hate crime. Further information on PCSPs can be found at <https://www.pcsp.org/>

My Department's Racial Equality Champion also supports delivery of the Racial Equality Strategy 2015-2025. This has included close engagement with the Racial Equality Subgroup, which is co-ordinated by The Executive Office and consists of representatives from the minority ethnic sector.

Keeping communities safe and helping individuals feel safe, through tackling and reducing crime, including hate crime, is a strategic priority for my Department and I will continue to meet with relevant interested parties to address this issue.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice to detail how Mr Gerry Adams met the eligibility test for legal aid support in respect of a legal challenge of unlawful imprisonment.
(AQW 5581/17-22)

Mrs Long: In criminal matters before the Court of Appeal, when determining whether to grant legal aid the Court of Appeal is required to consider the merits of the case. It is not required to consider the financial means of an appellant. In this case the Court of Appeal concluded that on the merits of the case legal aid should be granted.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice to detail the process which must be adopted when consideration is given to the granting of legal aid provision.
(AQW 5582/17-22)

Mrs Long: The process for determining entitlement to legal aid differs depending on the type of assistance sought. Generally speaking applicants have to satisfy a financial means test and a legal merit test. There are a range of exemptions prescribed in legislation which disapply the financial means test, for example in respect of advice at police stations and certain public law proceedings involving children. However, in general terms the process for granting legal aid is as set out below:

Civil Legal Services

Advice and Assistance

Solicitors assess individual's entitlement to this service which is reviewed and formally granted by Legal Services Agency. The relevant tests are;

- (a) Financial eligibility – whether the applicants
  - Disposable weekly income does not exceed £234 per week and the applicants.
  - Disposable capital does not exceed £1,000.
- (b) Legal merit
  - Whether the advice is sought on a point of Northern Ireland law.

Representation Lower Courts

Solicitors assess individual's entitlement to this service which is reviewed and formally granted by Legal Services Agency. The relevant tests are

- (a) Financial – whether the applicants
  - Disposable income does not exceed 234 per week.
  - Disposable capital does not exceed £3,000.
- (b) Legal Merit
  - Whether there are reasonable grounds for taking, defending or being a party to the proceedings to which the application relates unless it appears:
    - to be unreasonable that a certificate should be granted; or
    - that only a trivial advantage would be gained by the applicant in taking, defending or being a party to the proceedings to which the application relates, or, owing to the simple nature of the proceedings, a supplier would not ordinarily be employed.

Representation Higher Courts

The Legal Services Agency Solicitors assesses individual's entitlement to this service.

- (a) Financial – whether the applicants
  - Disposable income does not exceed £10,995 per annum in respect of claims involving personal injuries or £9,937 for any other case.
  - Disposable capital does not exceed £8,560 in respect of claims for personal injuries or £6,750 for any other case.
- (b) Merits Test
  - Whether there are reasonable grounds for taking, defending or being a party to the proceedings to which the application relates unless it appears:
    - to be unreasonable that a certificate should be granted;
    - to be more appropriate that an application for a certificate should be made under representation lower courts; or
    - that only a trivial advantage would be gained by the applicant in taking, defending or being a party to the proceedings to which the application relates, or, owing to the simple nature of the proceedings, a supplier would not ordinarily be employed.

Criminal Cases

Magistrates Courts / County Court Appeal and Crown Court cases

In all criminal cases the judiciary is responsible for determining applications for legal aid. The relevant tests are:

- (a) Financial Eligibility
  - Whether the means of an individual before the court are insufficient to enable them to obtain legal aid to fund their defence.
- (b) Merits Test
  - Whether it is in the interest of justice that they should have free legal aid.

Criminal Court of Appeal and Criminal Appeals to Supreme Court

In criminal matters before it, the Court of Appeal grants legal aid. It also determines legal aid for cases which proceed to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court does not grant legal aid. As there is no statutory financial eligibility test for these applications, the Court of Appeal determines applications against the statutory merits tests, namely

- (a) whether the individual would, if any matter arising in the proceedings is decided against him, be likely to lose his liberty or livelihood or suffer serious damage to his reputation,
- (b) whether the determination of any matter arising in the proceedings may involve consideration of a substantial question of law,
- (c) whether the individual may be unable to understand the proceedings or to state his own case,
- (d) whether the proceedings may involve the tracing, interviewing or expert cross-examination of witnesses on behalf of the individual, and
- (e) whether it is in the interests of another person that the individual be represented.

Department for the Economy

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for the Economy what work has been undertaken by her Department's racial equality champion in the last five years.

(AQW 5461/17-22)

Mrs Dodds (The Minister for the Economy): My Department has only been in existence since May 2016. The racial equality champion has over the past four years attended extensive training organised by The Executive Office, including study visits to Scotland and England. She has attended regular meetings of the Racial Equality Champions Group and has met with the Racial Equality Sub Group at least once per annum with the other champions and individually.

She has led the work on a new strategy for English for Speakers of Other Languages which will issue for consultation later this year. She provides a verbal update to the Departmental Board on the work of the Racial Equality Champions on a quarterly basis.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will consider implementing a Third Sector Resilience Fund, similar to that in Scotland.

(AQW 5535/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: My Department is currently delivering a £15.5m Executive Covid-19 Charities Fund to support organisations in the charitable sector directly impacted by the health pandemic, unable to access finance from other government schemes and facing the threat of imminent closure.

I am also pleased to say that The Dormant Accounts Fund, designed to help build third sector resilience and improve capacity to adapt to future challenges, is expected to be launched in the near future by the National Lottery Community Fund under direction from the Department of Finance.

Ms Hunter asked the Minister for the Economy (i) for an update on Project Stratum; and (ii) to detail the number of rural homes in the East Derry constituency that will benefit from Project Stratum.

(AQW 5719/17-22)

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) The closing date for receipt of tenders for Project Stratum has now passed. The evaluation of bids is underway and contract award is expected in late September 2020. My Department's engagement with industry indicates that approximately 6 months will be required for network design prior to deployment. It is anticipated, therefore, that deployment of infrastructure will commence a number of months after contract award, with completion required by 31 March 2024.
- (ii) The Project Stratum target intervention area consists of just under 79,000 premises. There are 3,068 premises in the East Derry Constituency within the target intervention area. It is important to note, however, that the number and location of premises that will benefit from this intervention will not be known until the procurement is complete and a contract has been awarded. The aspiration of my Department continues to be to maximise broadband coverage throughout Northern Ireland from the funding available, so that as many premises as possible benefit from this public intervention.

Northern Ireland Assembly Commission

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission (i) whether it is accepted that there is an ongoing statutory duty to appoint an independent panel under the Assembly Members (Independent Financial Review and Standards) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011; (ii) why such a panel has not yet been appointed; and (iii) when it is anticipated that a new panel will be in place.
(AQW 5394/17-22)

Mrs D Kelly (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The Assembly Commission has discretion in when to appoint members to the Panel – under section 17 of the Interpretation Act (Northern Ireland) 1954 a duty is to be performed “from time to time, as the occasion requires”. The Assembly Commission is agreed that it would be premature to appoint members to a Panel under the current legal framework when it has agreed on legislative reform which, among other things, will alter the criteria for membership of the Panel.

Appointments to a Panel will be made following the passage of the proposed Bill.

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission to list the occasions and subject matter when it exercised its powers under Section 2(4) of the Assembly Members (Independent Financial Review and Standards) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011.
(AQW 5396/17-22)

Mr Blair (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): Section 2(4) of the Assembly Members (Independent Financial Review and Standards) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011 provides that “the Panel may consider any other matter which is relevant to the discharge of its functions, either on its own initiative or at the written request of the Commission.”

The Assembly Commission wrote to the Independent Financial Review Panel (“the Panel”) on a number of occasions to bring a range of matters to its attention for it to consider.

The Assembly Commission wrote to the Panel in June 2013 to draw the Panel’s attention to an issue that had presented itself in relation to attacks on Members’ constituency offices and seeking the Panel’s consideration as to whether provision for expenditure incurred by Members to recover from those attacks could be incorporated into a future Determination.

In March 2015, the Commission wrote to the Panel to advise that it had reduced the permitted level of expenditure on centrally-provided office consumables and also to seek the Panel’s agreement to amend the Determination that was then in force to remove an entitlement for Members to receive a childcare allowance. This latter move was in response to a general reduction in childcare support across the wider public sector at that time.

Following the publication of the Assembly Members (Salaries and Expenses) Determination (Northern Ireland) 2016 in March 2016, there was considerable interaction with the Panel to ask them to consider a variety of matters that required clarification. These included issues relating to transitional arrangements for the implementation of the Determination, Constituency Office Operating Expenses, rent and rates, office signage, support staff costs and travel allowances.

As a result, a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between the Assembly Commission and the Panel was agreed in May 2016 to enable, liaison on issues related to the 2016 Determination to seek to resolve them in an efficient manner. That MoU led to a number of liaison meetings between senior Commission officials and the Panel to have various matters considered.

Mr Robinson asked the Assembly Commission whether any consideration has been given to testing Member’s staff for COVID-19 as offices prepare to reopen.
(AQW 5431/17-22)

Mrs D Kelly (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): As the Assembly Commission has no role in the operation of a constituency office and the health and safety of a Member’s employees is a matter between the Member and her or his employees (as set out in the Health and Safety at Work (Northern Ireland) Order 1978), the Assembly Commission has no plans to test Members’ staff for COVID-19 as constituency offices prepare to reopen.

However, guidance was previously issued to all Members on 3 June 2020 advising on how their staff could secure testing under the Coronavirus (COVID-19) Testing Programme.

Miss Woods asked the Assembly Commission (i) for an update on its model of a youth assembly; (ii) whether the detailed paper on the youth assembly has been completed; (iii) whether the youth assembly has been discussed by the Assembly Commission this year; and (iv) to lay in the Assembly Library any reports the Commission has written or commissioned in relation to the establishment of a youth assembly.
(AQW 5514/17-22)

Mr Butler (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): I am pleased to be able to update you that the Assembly Commission has today formally announced the framework it has agreed to establish the Youth Assembly and the next steps to put it in place.

The Assembly Commission has had a longstanding commitment to introduce a Youth Assembly. However, its development was delayed for a number of years, firstly by difficulties in resolving some of the details including funding, and secondly by wider political developments at the Assembly in recent years. The Assembly Commission recognises the frustration that has caused.

In February 2020, the newly appointed Assembly Commission agreed to return to the creation of a Youth Assembly as a priority. On 11 May 2020 the Assembly Commission considered a detailed paper and agreed to establish a Youth Assembly on that basis. Since then, officials have been working through a number of practical considerations to enable today's announcement to be made. The paper agreed by the Assembly Commission has now been deposited in the Assembly's Library.

The proposals for the Youth Assembly were drawn up after engagement with a wide range of stakeholders in the statutory, public and voluntary and community sectors and taking account of the issues faced by the youth forums which exist in other jurisdictions. The Northern Ireland Commissioner for Children and Young People, Koulla Yiasouma, was a lead stakeholder in this process.

The Youth Assembly will be Assembly-supported, but not Assembly-led. This will ensure that the Youth Assembly has close access to the decision making process at the Assembly, is well informed on the work being undertaken at the Assembly which it may wish to contribute to, and is directly funded by the Assembly Commission.

There will be an initial two-year development stage. During this time, it will be for the young people involved to determine the finer details of how the Youth Assembly will work and how it determines its own priorities.

It is proposed that the Youth Assembly will broadly mirror the structures of the Assembly:

- It will have 90 members, 54 of whom will be drawn from the Northern Ireland Assembly constituencies and 36 from specific sections of the community including Section 75 categories.
- The core age range of the members will be 13 to 17, but there will be an upper age limit of 21 to ensure diverse representation.
- The Youth Assembly will have two plenary sittings a year and have up to four Committees, which will meet more regularly.
- The two plenary sittings are likely to take place in Parliament Buildings and will be presided over by the Speaker in the Assembly Chamber.
- The committees of the Youth Assembly may also meet in Parliament Buildings but it is expected that they will also meet in other locations.

The Assembly's Education Service will support the initial phase of the Youth Assembly, including taking forward the arrangements and practicalities of how the first members of the Youth Assembly will be sought and chosen. In addition, the Assembly Commission plans to recruit two youth sector workers to assist in the long term development and operation of the Youth Assembly. The costs for the initial two years of the Youth Assembly will be funded directly by the Assembly Commission and are expected to be in the region of £300,000.

The Assembly Commission is also clear that it is essential for comprehensive safeguarding measures and protections to be in place, including training and support for the members of the Youth Assembly and all those working with them.

The framework agreed by the Assembly Commission is not an end to the work required to have the Youth Assembly fully operational, but it is right that its processes and procedures are co-designed by the young people who will be involved. The COVID-19 pandemic has impacted upon progress and may slow the originally intended pace of planning meetings etc. However, young people have led the way in using technology to overcome the challenges of the public health crisis and that ability will assist the development of the Youth Assembly.

The Assembly Commission hopes that the Youth Assembly will create a focal point for the voice of young people to ensure that it is heard.

Written Answers to Questions

The Executive Office

Mr McGrath asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to outline (i) when the Commission on Flags, Identity, Culture and Tradition last met; (ii) whether minutes were taken; and (iii) when they will meet again.
(AQW 5460/17-22)

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill (The First Minister and deputy First Minister): The Commission met on 10 July. Prior to that the last time it had met was 5 March. The Covid-19 outbreak has impacted on the Commission concluding its work. The Commission minutes its meetings.

Mr Carroll asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, in reference to The Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) (Amendment No. 5) Regulations (NI) 2020, what conversations, if any, took place between the deputy First Minister, the Department of Health and the Department of Justice regarding this piece of legislation.

Mrs Arlene Foster and Mrs Michelle O'Neill: The matters contained in the No.5 Regulations were agreed by the Executive collectively at its meeting on 28 May 2020.

Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs to detail his planning for Brexit Sanitary and Phytosanitary checks.
(AQW 4404/17-22)

Mr Poots (The Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs): My Department is currently scoping and implementing a cross-cutting programme of work as follows:

- understanding the processes required to reduce friction on trade as far as is possible while meeting the legal requirements of our statutory role which is to carry out Sanitary and Phytosanitary (SPS) checks at the point of entry;
- understanding the IT requirements that will facilitate movement of trade while seeking to minimise the impacts on traders;
- understanding the minimum requirements for each of the designated or potentially designated points of entry to Northern Ireland that will meet EU specifications.

This includes engaging with a range of key stakeholders to ensure appropriate measures are in place to facilitate the movement of goods and products between GB and Northern Ireland whilst complying with the statutory requirements of the Northern Ireland Protocol. I have been clear that I wish to implement the Northern Ireland Protocol in a way that maximises the flow of trade, and which works for Northern Ireland's businesses and citizens.

Miss McIlveen asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs for an updated timescale for bringing forward the Departments (Transfer of Functions) Order (Northern Ireland) 2016 in respect of reservoirs.
(AQW 4835/17-22)

Mr Poots: My officials are currently progressing the Departments (Transfer of Functions) Order in respect of the Reservoirs Act (NI) 2015 from the Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs to the Department for Infrastructure.

On 2 June 2020 Minister Mallon agreed to accept the transferred functions. My officials have therefore arranged to have the relevant functions included in legislation being taken forward by TEO, which includes transfers of functions between other Departments. The step currently being progressed is the securing of the required agreement of the First Minister/deputy First Minister.

After FM/dFM agreement the intention is to engage with the appropriate Assembly Committees and to seek approval from the Executive to make the Transfer of Functions Order. Subject to Executive approval, the Order will be laid in the Assembly under the affirmative resolution procedure and will come into operation on the day after Assembly approval.

I would welcome Executive and Assembly agreement to this Transfer of Functions Order before recess.

Ms Anderson asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs, pursuant to AQW 4592/17-22, to detail (i) what implementation his Department has carried out in line with the Protocol on Ireland/Northern Ireland, that goes beyond a scoping exercise; and (ii) what funding has been committed and secured to meet these obligations.

(AQW 5102/17-22)

Mr Poots: The Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (DAERA) is the lead Department on the programme to implement our obligations in relation to the Northern Ireland Protocol on Sanitary and Phytosanitary (SPS) operational arrangements, including Points of Entry (POE) for food products coming from GB.

With the agreement of the Northern Ireland Executive, the programme formally started on 26 May, following the publication of the UK Government's command paper on 20 May, which provided the necessary clarification to proceed. Since then my officials have been working at pace to work towards delivering a Minimum Viable Product (MVP) for process design, IT, trained staff and supporting facilities to deliver first day operational readiness for SPS checks at NIs Points of Entry (POE) by the end of December 2020.

The UK Government has indicated it remains committed to engaging specifically with the Northern Ireland Executive on the unique circumstances of Northern Ireland and the protocol as part of wider work examining funding options to support preparedness. Good governance requires us to look at options for delivery and to assess costs through the business case process. That process is in the very early stages of development and will be informed by the operational planning.

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs for an update on Equality Section 75 screening for the £25 million COVID-19 financial support package for the agri-food sector.

(AQW 5589/17-22)

Mr Poots: In line with DAERA's Equality Scheme, an equality and human rights screening exercise has been undertaken on the policy relating to the allocation of the £25m COVID-19 support fund to the agriculture and horticulture sectors.

On the basis of the answers to the screening questions, this policy has been screened out i.e. no EQIA is required. The completed EQIA screening document is available to view on the DAERA website www.daera-ni.gov.uk/publications/equality-screening-2020-screened-out

Mrs Barton asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs to detail how many (i) cattle; and (ii) sheep have been (a) stolen; or (b) reported missing, broken down by constituency, in each of the last four years.

(AQW 5679/17-22)

Mr Poots: Thank you for your question in relation to the number of cattle and sheep that have been stolen or reported missing over the last four years.

The table below shows the number of cattle reported and recorded on the Department's Animal and Public Information System (APHIS) as missing or stolen by Divisional Veterinary Office (DVO) area over the last four years.

DVO	Number of cattle reported and recorded as missing or stolen on APHIS per year
	2016	2017	2018	2019
Armagh	493	591	732	636
Ballymena	160	235	270	162
Coleraine	202	265	398	312
Dungannon	489	532	573	428
Enniskillen	162	217	284	161
Mallusk	289	322	317	517
Strabane	194	313	194	241
Newry	586	622	525	606
Newtownards	234	192	245	252
Omagh	408	412	362	373

Please note that information held on APHIS does not differentiate between missing or stolen cattle and is recorded against DVO area as opposed to constituency area.

Flock keepers rarely notify DAERA of missing or stolen sheep as there is no legal requirement for them to do so. As a result, DAERA hold no meaningful records for missing or stolen sheep.

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs for an update on the Aichi Biodiversity Targets, as outlined in the Biodiversity Strategy 2020.

(AQW 5709/17-22)

Mr Poots: An interim report on progress by DAERA, other departments and organisations for actions listed in the Biodiversity Strategy's implementation plan was produced in December 2016. Since then, further progress has been made while recognising that some of the actions have a completion date of December 2020.

The current Northern Ireland Biodiversity Strategy is in place until the end of 2020. My officials are currently engaging with Defra and the other Devolved Administrations in a framework to implement the new post 2020 Aichi international targets that will be agreed by the Convention on Biological Diversity.

My Department will be developing a new Biodiversity Strategy to fulfil Northern Ireland's commitments to the new international targets to 2030. During this process, a final report will be produced to highlight progress on the actions listed in the current strategy's implementation plan.

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (i) whether his Department plans to update the Biodiversity Strategy for Northern Ireland; and (ii) if so, when a first draft will be available.

(AQW 5710/17-22)

Mr Poots: My officials are currently engaging with Defra and the other Devolved Administrations in a framework to implement the new post 2020 international targets that will be agreed by the Convention of Biological Diversity (CBD). The CBD will consider revised targets to halt the loss of biodiversity globally.

Following this agreement, my Department will be developing a new Biodiversity Strategy to fulfil Northern Ireland's commitments to the new post 2020 international targets. It is anticipated that a first draft will be complete by late 2021.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs to detail what discussions he has had in relation to a Border Control Post at the Port of Larne.

(AQW 5738/17-22)

Mr Poots: Jobs Created by the Leader Programme

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs to detail how many jobs have been created by the Leader programme, from 2014.

(AQW 5762/17-22)

Mr Poots: The Rural Business Investment Scheme is the key economic measure within the LEADER Programme for supporting micro and small rural businesses to stimulate growth and rural employment opportunities in rural areas.

EU Commission guidance requires part time jobs to be reported as whole units i.e. Full Time Equivalent (FTE). Therefore, I can advise that at the end of June 2020 there has been 789 full time and 170 part time jobs vouched as having been created, which makes up a figure of 874 FTE jobs created in rural areas.

Mr McAleer asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (i) whether he is aware that the Irish Government is providing a one-off financial scheme for poultry farmers impacted by avian influenza, subtype H6N1; and (ii) whether he is willing to consider a similar scheme given the devastating impact this has had on poultry farmers.

Mr Poots: I am aware of the scheme recently announced by the Irish Government to reimburse poultry farmers for the costs of flock depopulation and disposal in cases where low pathogenic Avian Influenza (AI) H6N1 has been confirmed, up to a maximum limit of €10k.

My Department has no powers to compel culling nor provide compensation in cases of confirmed AI H6N1 as it is not a notifiable disease. However, in the recent outbreak of the disease in Northern Ireland, my officials assisted with the depopulation and disposal of the affected poultry and carried out an epidemiological investigation to determine the potential disease source and methods of spread. Enhanced biosecurity recommendations were also developed and implemented in conjunction with industry. I am satisfied that all possible measures to spread the disease were taken. No further cases have been reported in Northern Ireland since 23 March 2020.

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs what is the Northern Ireland Environment Agency doing to (i) increase the outcomes of complaints on pollution, fly-tipping, oil spills, fish kills and other environmental damage; and (ii) ensure these offences result in penalties for those responsible.

Mr Poots:

- (i) The Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA) seeks to protect the environment through a variety of proactive and reactive measures including; monitoring, the development and implementation of strategic plans, advice and regulation, supporting research, and on the ground response to combat or minimise the effects of pollution. These activities aim to reduce the risk of pollution incidents from occurring and therefore the risk of fly-tipping, fish kills, oil spills and other environmental damage.

The majority of what is commonly regarded as fly-tipping (the casual, ad hoc disposal of small scale wastes) is primarily the responsibility of local Councils. The NIEA's Enforcement Branch may investigate, and enforce against larger scale, higher risk, fly-tipping incidents involving hazardous wastes and quantities of waste material over 20m<sup>3</sup> by volume.

Enforcement branch also works closely with other agencies including councils, PSNI and NIFRS to help best address illegal dumping; in 2019-20 it contributed to 12 Council led multi-agency meetings to help address Environmental and Health issues relating to traditional bonfires. Earlier this year, as a proactive measure aimed at combatting fly-tipping and littering, the Department has issued a series of communications. A flyer was sent to every household in Northern Ireland with details of how to manage waste and recycling during the Covid 19 crisis, which included sections on fly-tipping.

There have also been radio adverts on local stations throughout May 2020 and a range of social media posts on various platforms continuing into June, highlighting the problems of fly-tipping, littering, illegal waste dumping, and pollution in our waterways

Pollution of our valuable water, air and land resource is both environmentally and economically damaging. Taking simple pro-active steps to prevent pollution, or reduce the risk of pollution at its source not only serves to protect the environment through greater regulatory compliance, but is cost effective in terms of clean-up costs, fines from penalties and reputational damage. There is a duty on us all to help protect our environment and I would encourage all citizens to continue to report incidents of pollution and environmental damage to NIEA as soon as it is observed. This can be done using the 24/7 hotline 0800 807060.

- (ii) All cases of pollution are robustly investigated and where the polluter can be identified NIEA will pursue formal Enforcement Action in line with the enforcement policy for significant breaches in legislation. NIEA takes a graduated risk based approach to the enforcement of pollution, from providing proactive advice and working with those responsible to resolve issues, to formal enforcement including waste clearance notices, fixed penalty notices, and the preparation of enforcement files for the Public Prosecution Service. The level of fines levied in the courts as you are aware is a matter for the Judiciary. There are current sentencing guidelines which are available to Magistrates to provide for a consistent approach to sentencing.

Mr Blair asked the Minister of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs whether he intends to use Section 75 monitoring to enable inclusion by publishing the proactive approaches taken to promote equity rather than publishing Equality Monitoring information that confirm discrimination has not happened.

Mr Poots: DAERA is fully committed to fulfilling its Section 75 duties in relation to its relevant functions. Our Equality Scheme is designed to ensure this. In compliance with our Section 75 duties, our Equality Scheme and the Equality Commission for Northern Ireland (ECNI) requirements, we publish all Equality Screening forms on a quarterly basis, as well as our Annual Progress Report to ECNI on an annual basis.

Our progress reports set out a wide range of projects that have been set up for the various groups and individuals within NI. I attach a link to these annual reports as an example of the work that my Department is doing to assist in ensuring that an equal and equitable society exists: <https://www.daera-ni.gov.uk/publications/annual-progress-reports-equality-commission-daera>

Department for Communities

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Communities what training is in place for people conducting Personal Independence Payment medical consultations.

(AQW 2785/17-22)

Ms Hargey (The Minister for Communities): Personal Independence Payment (PIP) assessments are carried out by Disability Assessors (DAs) employed by Capita Business Services Ltd. (Capita).

All DAs are registered Health Professionals who must have a minimum of two years post registration experience.

All DAs complete a 12 week training programme which consists of:

- A 5 week foundation training programme prior to carrying out PIP assessments. This training provides them with the knowledge and experience to conduct a PIP assessment which focuses on the individual's functional ability. This includes condition specific sessions, scenarios and role plays, addressing cognitive, intellectual, mental and physical conditions.

- Mental health, trauma and Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder are also comprehensively addressed throughout this programme. Following completion of the foundation programme, DA's are assigned a peer buddy for a further period of 4 weeks.
- For the final three weeks of training DAs must then complete 20 assessment reports which are fully audited. The DA must achieve 5 Grade A reports in a row before moving to the next development stage.

Following the 12 week training programme, all DAs are assigned a pro-active coaching plan for week 13 to week 17 to monitor overall performance and to provide bespoke feedback.

The decision was made to suspend face to face PIP health assessments from 16th March 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Telephony based assessments were introduced as an alternative. Capita designed a training package to assist DAs in their transition to telephone assessments.

In addition Capita have transferred their foundation training programme to remote delivery via Microsoft Teams. This consists of 4 week's training with a further week focusing on supportive development.

The Departments' Health Assessment Advisory Team (HAAT) review trainee performance prior to giving full approval for the DA to undertake assessments.

Once approved, DAs are required to complete ongoing mandatory Continuous Professional Development training modules, and have access to support mechanisms including specialist mental health leads, online forums and guidance, and telephony based advice services.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for Communities what protective measures are being put in place at medical assessment centres for Personal Independence Payments, Disability Living Allowance and Employment and Support Allowance applications for people with increased health susceptibilities.

(AQW 3672/17-22)

Ms Hargey: Minister Hargey's announcement on 16 March confirmed that face-to-face assessments for all benefits would be suspended for an initial period of three months effective from 16 March, subject to review. This measure was introduced to reduce health risks to customers. Health assessments have since been carried out by paper based review, where the necessary medical evidence exists or by telephone based assessment which was introduced as an alternative to a face-to-face assessment.

I can confirm that for Personal Independence Payment, Disability Living Allowance and Employment and Support Allowance face-to-face assessments continue to be suspended, however consideration is being given to how face-to-face health assessments can be resumed in a safe manner which adheres to social distancing measures.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Communities whether the North/South Language Body has laid its 2018 accounts before the Northern Ireland Assembly and submitted a statement of accounts for 2018 to the Comptroller and Auditor General for Northern Ireland, as required under law.

(AQW 4700/17-22)

Ms Hargey: The North/South Language Body has not laid its 2018 accounts before the Assembly.

The North/South Language Body has submitted a statement of accounts for 2018 to the Comptroller and Auditor General.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for Communities what support is available for men who have suffered from domestic abuse.

(AQW 5389/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The 24 hour Domestic Violence and Sexual Abuse Helpline is co-funded by my Department, the Department of Health and the Department of Justice. It is available for all victims of Domestic Violence and abuse.

My Department is responsible for oversight of the Housing Executive's Supporting People (SP) programme, which funds homeless temporary accommodation services, most of which cater for the housing support needs of men (86 total homelessness schemes, of which 15 are women only). As part of the implementation of the SP review, an evidence-based assessment of need for housing support services is due to be completed by September 2020, and this will inform a three year strategy for 2020-2023, which will consider the existing needs and emerging demands on housing support services.

In addition, the Sanctuary Scheme is available to all Housing Executive tenants who are victims of domestic violence. A 'Sanctuary' comprises enhanced security measures designed to enable households to remain safely in their homes and where applicable a Sanctuary room.

The Department of Justice has advised that a range of services and support mechanisms are available to victims of domestic abuse regardless of their gender. This includes the 24hr Domestic and Sexual Abuse Helpline, Multi Agency Risk Assessment Conferences as well as plans to introduce a new advocacy support service in 2021/22. Advertising campaigns to raise awareness around domestic abuse, and the support available, apply to victims irrespective of gender.

The Department of Health has confirmed that the Men's Advisory Project (MAP) are commissioned by the Health and Social Care Board to provide counselling support services to male victims of domestic abuse.

They are also piloting the IRIS (Identification and Referral to Improve Safety) programme with GP practices in two GP Federation areas (East Belfast and the Newry/Down district). IRIS provides GPs with training and support to help identify patients (male and female) affected by domestic and sexual abuse and refer them to specialist support. The pilot, which is being delivered through a 'consortium' approach by Women's Aid, MAP, Nexus NI and Victim's Support Service, is running for 12 months and will be evaluated at the end of the year to inform consideration of any further roll out.

Further information, including the contact number for the 24 hour helpline, is available through the following links:

<https://www.nihe.gov.uk/Housing-Help/Homelessness/Finding-local-services>

<https://www.psnl.police.uk/crime/domestic-abuse/who-can-help-me/>

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Communities whether his Department, after discussions between Land and Property Services and the Housing Executive, plans to bring forward new legislation to supersede the Housing (N.I.) Order 1983, to manage the requirements of lending institutions who hold concerns about the diminishing leasehold terms on flats sold under the Right to Buy scheme.

(AQW 5410/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Housing Executive has advised that they continue to engage with Land & Property Services on the available options to address the requirements of lending institutions and the diminishing leasehold terms on flats sold under the Right to Buy scheme. Consideration of the available options remains at an early stage.

Mr K Buchanan asked the Minister for Communities when Jobs and Benefits offices in Cookstown and Magherafelt will open to the public.

(AQW 5576/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The re-opening of our Jobs & Benefit offices has begun, on a very limited basis. I am conscious that the Education Authority has begun its annual exercise for eligible parents to claim Free School Meals and support to buy a school uniform. Whilst many of these applications can be made directly between the Education Authority and the applicant, I am conscious that many families use our JBO network to have their application forms validated.

I have already excused signing for people claiming Job Seekers Allowance and we will continue to manage our Universal Credit activities remotely. That will not change. I can confirm that both Cookstown and Magherafelt JBOs have now opened on this limited basis.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities what process her Department uses to ensure that all policies and legislation proactively enables inclusion and equity, particularly for people with disabilities and black and ethnic minority persons.

Ms Ní Chuilín: Under section 75 my Department, as a public authority, is required to have due regard to the need to promote equality of opportunity between the nine equality categories including people with disabilities and black and ethnic minority persons.

In accordance with Departmental Equality Scheme commitments, equality of opportunity and good relations are central to policy development with the tools of equality screening and equality impact assessment assisting policy makers to take into account the needs and effects of a particular policy on people within the section 75 equality groups.

Mrs Barton asked the Minister for Communities, with regard to the COVID-19 Hardship Fund for sports clubs, to detail (i) the sports clubs that were successful in their grant applications; (ii) the sports clubs that were not successful in their grant applications; and (iii) the sports clubs that have received funding from the further £750,000 identified.

Ms Ní Chuilín: A comprehensive breakdown of the Sports Hardship Fund including details of the sports clubs that were successful in their grant applications is published on the Sport NI website at the following link:

<http://www.sportni.net/funding/our-funding-programmes/sports-hardship-fund-2/>

Please note, this website is updated on a weekly basis.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for Communities, pursuant to AQW 4903/17/22, in relation to some staff in the investigation unit that have been temporarily redeployed to assist with urgent benefit administration in light of the pandemic, to detail (i) the normal complement of staff in the unit; and (ii) how many were redeployed.

(AQW 5776/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: There are 66 staff currently in post in the Fraud Investigation Unit.

Throughout the period of the pandemic 31 staff from this unit were redeployed to assist with urgent benefit administration in light of the increased demand for these services.

Across my Department we are actively working towards recovery of all services which includes when temporary redeployed staff will return to normal duties. Part of this work includes risk assessments of offices to ensure workplaces are safe in line with the changed environment we now find ourselves in. The staff who were temporarily redeployed from this unit are now returning to their roles on a phased basis and normal level of service will resume by end of August.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities whether her Department intends to reform the Special Rules for Terminal Illness in social security law, in line with the findings of the Rader Review in 2018, the Westminster All-Party Parliamentary Group on Terminal Illness inquiry in 2019 and the Belfast High Court ruling on 8 July 2020.

Ms Ní Chuilín: The judgment on the special rules delivered by the Court did not provide a decision around remedy. As such, legal proceedings have not concluded until the Court files a final Order dealing with the questions of remedy and costs. The Department will continue to carefully consider the implications of the judgment before taking any decisions around next steps. As the matter is sub judice I am unable to comment any further.

On the DWP review into provision for those with severe conditions and those nearing the end of life my Department has been actively involved in all aspects from the outset. My officials have been committed to ensuring that local views and experiences of claimants, charities and clinicians were captured and considered as part of that review. I understand that all of the key stages of the evaluation have now been completed and I look forward to the outcome of that review.

Mr Allen asked the Minister for Communities whether her Department intends to take action to reform the Special Rules for Terminal Illness in social security law independently of the Department for Work and Pensions UK-wide review into how the benefits system supports terminally ill people, which was launched over one year ago and for which no date has been set for the publication of its findings.

(AQW 5792/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The judgment on the special rules delivered by the Court did not provide a decision around remedy. Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Communities when her Department will issue letters of offer to local councils for the revitalisation funding.

(AQW 5945/17-22)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Letters of offer for the COVID-19 Recovery Revitalisation Programme have been issued to all eleven Local Councils.

Department of Education

Ms Bunting asked the Minister of Education what funding is available to youth centres in circumstances where they may be required to purchase perspex screens or personal protection equipment.

(AQW 5699/17-22)

Mr Weir (The Minister of Education): No specific funding for personal protection equipment (PPE) has been made available for youth organisations for the delivery of youth services.

I appreciate the concerns youth services may have regarding the need for additional resources to allow a safe reopening and I do not underestimate the challenges that still lie ahead in this fluid and changing environment. I fully acknowledge that additional support may be needed.

The Department of Education is currently working in conjunction with the Education Authority (EA) and the Department of Finance (DOF) to quantify and monitor the financial pressures associated with the Restart Programme, this includes provision of personal protective equipment (PPE).

The Department is keeping all of these issues under review and any change in circumstances or funding arrangements will be communicated as a priority.

I will continue to engage with my Executive colleagues in an effort to secure additional funding to facilitate the safe reopening of schools and youth services.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister of Education when classroom assistants will receive training or guidance on how to support children with a statement of special education needs, to ensure not only COVID-19-related protections are in place, but also to ensure children's recognised needs will be met.

(AQW 5750/17-22)

Mr Weir: Special School Principals have attended a webinar from the Department of Education (DE) and Safeguarding Board for Northern Ireland (SBNI) on the emotional impact of COVID-19 on young people. Principals will disseminate this training as is appropriate within their own schools with staff, including classroom assistants.

The required Manual Handling training will be provided by the Education Authority (EA) under usual procedures for classroom assistants, and any required First Aid or health related training will be delivered by Health Trusts directly, as is usual procedure.

Individual risk assessments in relation to delivering education for children with statements will be required as part of the overall facilitation of the return to school. Existing guidance states that Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) is only needed in a very small number of cases. These are:

- Working with children, young people and pupils whose care routinely already involves the use of PPE, due to their intimate care needs and
- Giving children medication.

A training programme for classroom assistants to support the social, behavioural, emotional and wellbeing needs of children with a statement will be available to all assistants in an online capacity from the EA from 17th August 2020. An online engagement briefing is planned with classroom assistants to seek their views on any further training requirements in supporting young people during Restart.

Training which is accessible to classroom assistants, including those working with children with statements of SEN, will continue to be provided by EA Support Services in the 2020-2021 school year through the Children and Young People Services Training Programme. This training will be adapted as required to ensure that necessary guidance is reflected in the training content. This will also be the case for any training and capacity building provided to classroom assistants as part of on-going support for individual children.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister of Education for his assessment of the need to replace school bus shelters across the wider Castlederg area.

(AQW 5765/17-22)

Mr Weir: Schools can make applications for Minor Works to the Department for works such as upgrades to bus shelters on their premises and these will be assessed along with all other competing minor works applications in line with Ministerial priorities. Due to the current volume of Minor Works applications, only those that meet inescapable statutory requirements such as Health and Safety, Fire Protection and the Disability Discrimination Act are currently being progressed.

The repair or replacement of bus shelters outside of school premises is not within the Department of Education's remit.

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education why the Emotional Health and Wellbeing Framework has yet to be published, despite the Department of Education receipt of the National Children's Bureau scoping study in February 2019.
(AQW 5769/17-22)

Mr Weir: My Department continues to work collaboratively with the Department of Health, the Public Health Agency (PHA), the Health and Social Care Board (HSCB), the Education Authority, other Government Departments and stakeholders, to develop the 'Emotional Health and Wellbeing in Education Framework'.

The National Children's Bureau study was completed in May 2019. Since then, a considerable amount of work and engagement has taken place which includes designing this framework to align with the new HSCB/PHA 'Children & Young Peoples' Emotional Health & Wellbeing Services Framework'. Both of these frameworks present the opportunity for joining services together in a way that improves access and delivers a more positive experience of services for the benefit of children & young people and their families and as such are complementary.

I can confirm that the Wellbeing in Education Framework is progressing well and is on target to meet its December 2020 deadline. The document includes a detailed implementation plan for which £5m has been allocated this year. This budget has also been baselined for future years which will enable the recruitment of permanent staff across education and health to support the proposed intervention

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Education (i) what financial support scheme will be made available for the recovery of the childcare sector; and (ii) when the scheme will open.
(AQW 5773/17-22)

Mr Weir: I announced the £10.5 million Childcare Recovery Support fund for the childcare sector on 22 July.

As part of the childcare recovery plan, the aim of the Fund is to assist childcare providers to re-open, and to support those providers that have already opened.

The Childcare Recovery Fund will provide financial support for the period 1 July to 31 August 2020. The Fund opened for applications from Monday 27 July 2020 and will be administered by Early Years – the organisation for young children, on behalf of my Department.

The package of measures will cover the following:

- Childcare Settings - different levels of flat rate funding based on the type of setting and number of registered places. This will support day care providers, stand-alone school age childcare providers and playgroups.
- Childminder Support - a flat rate grant for childminders.
- Approved Home Childcare - arrangements established under the previous childcare scheme will continue to enable childcare workers, who normally provide childcare to children in daycare and school age childcare facilities, to be matched to parents in order to care for children in their own homes.

Details of the Scheme are available on the attached link:-

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister of Education for an update on capital plans for St Mary's Primary School, Cloughcor.
(AQW 5875/17-22)

Mr Weir: On 8 May 2018 St Mary's Primary School, Cloughcor, was included in the first tranche of projects announced to advance in design under the School Enhancement Programme Second Call (SEP2).

The Business Case for the SEP2 project at the school has been approved by my Department. An Integrated Consultancy Team (ICT) was appointed in December 2019 to take the project through the Design and Construction phases.

The proposed project is to build a new standalone admin/teaching block built on existing grass play area at the rear of the site and refurbish the existing building. It is anticipated that construction work should begin in the 2021/22 financial year.

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Education what role his Department plays in promoting educational visits by schools in Northern Ireland to the Houses of Parliament; and how many schools in each constituency have availed of this scheme in each of the last ten years.
(AQW 5896/17-22)

Mr Weir: The UK Parliament provides a wide range of education services for schools. This includes not only educational visits to the Houses of Parliament but also outreach visits, online workshops and tours, curricular resources and professional development opportunities. A Northern Ireland Outreach Officer has recently been appointed. My officials engage directly with the UK Parliament's Education Service in order to highlight its work to schools, including for example providing information on UK Parliament Week.

Visits by schools in Northern Ireland to the Houses of Parliament are arranged directly with the schools and may be facilitated in a number of ways. My Department does not hold data on this.

Ms Mullan asked the Minister of Education what plans are in place to allow schools, teachers and parents to prepare for the safe return of schools on a full time basis in September.

(AQW 5980/17-22)

Mr Weir: My strategic objective has always been to achieve maximum face-to-face teaching time for all pupils at the earliest opportunity.

I provided guidance to schools on 19 June which outlined processes and requirements for schools returning at end of August. Currently, I have set out that there will be a minimum 40% face-to-face teaching time within primary schools and a minimum 50% face-to-face teaching time within post-primary schools with the balance provided through blended learning

The guidance provided in June was based on planning assumptions for August and was always subject to review and revision.

I am well aware of the improving public health position and the importance of all schools and settings resuming more normal patterns of operation and attendance, in line with standard legislative requirements. I hope this can be achieved as soon as possible in order to mitigate impact of the disruption on educational attainment and pupil well-being. I am also conscious of the changing approach in England, Scotland, Wales and Republic of Ireland and the need to ensure equity of opportunity and access for all pupils across Northern Ireland.

I am therefore currently reviewing guidance and would expect to bring forward revised proposals to the Executive shortly. As with the June guidance, it is important that proposals for the re-opening of schools are developed in co-design with practitioners, trade unions and sectoral bodies as well as being cleared through Chief Medical Officer.

It is understandable that there may be concerns regarding a more ambitious approach to Education Restart. However, I am confident that health risks can be managed and minimised, just as we have done as other restrictions have been relaxed.

Department of Finance

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance whether he was conveyed to the funeral of Bobby Storey on 30 June 2020 in an official Executive car.

(AQW 5609/17-22)

Mr Murphy (The Minister of Finance): The Minister stopped on his way from home en route to official business in Stormont.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance, in relation to the email of 17:51 hours on 27 March 2020 from Office of General Procurement in the Irish Government to the Director of Supplies and Services Procurement in Central Procurement Directorate, when (i) he; and (ii) his Permanent Secretary was made aware of the contents of this email, to the effect that no joint order for personal protection equipment had been placed nor had a supplier even been identified.

(AQW 5696/17-22)

Mr Murphy: CPD officials forwarded details of our order to their OGP counterparts on the afternoon of Friday 27 March.

My Permanent Secretary and I were made aware of the contents of the OGP email on 27 March 2020

There was ongoing communication between my officials and their OGP counterparts over the weekend and in the following days in what remained a fast moving and developing international situation.

On Tuesday 31 March, I provided an update in the Assembly.

On Thursday 2 April, despite the efforts of all involved, confirmation was received that the order would not be fulfilled through that route. No public money was spent.

Despite this setback, my officials working with their counterparts in the Department of Health and in the Executive Office continued to explore local, national and international supply lines.

Contacts made during the joint working with Dublin and continued collaborative working between my department, the Department of Health and the Executive Office resulted in a circa £60m order from China being taken to contract award; the first consignment of which was delivered at the start of June.

I gave details of the circumstances of the joint order with Dublin to the Committee for Finance on 8 April 2020.

Mr Muir asked the Minister of Finance, pursuant to AQW 5017/17-22, whether there are plans to review the current Civil Service email retention policy that was introduced in 2007.

(AQW 5711/17-22)

Mr Murphy: The current Civil Service email retention policy is in place to ensure that all members of staff apply the principles of good record keeping to emails by correctly storing them in the official records repository HPRM "TRIM" if they are to be retained.

Email systems such as Microsoft Outlook are intended to manage correspondence and do not meet the record keeping requirements in respect of accessibility or security as a long term records management repository. The NICS is reviewing its record management policies and practices, including consideration of the most effective records management system to meet the evolving needs of the civil service in the modern digital era.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Finance whether there are any criteria that employers in the hospitality sector must meet before they can avail of the Job Retention scheme.

(AQW 5736/17-22)

Mr Murphy: The Treasury has published guidance which details the eligibility criteria for support under the Coronavirus Jobs Retention Scheme (CJRS). These criteria apply to all businesses, including those in the hospitality sector, and indicate that businesses impacted by COVID-19 can claim for employees furloughed through the CJRS if they have:

- i furloughed that employee for at least 3 consecutive weeks between 1 March and 30 June 2020;
- ii. a UK PAYE scheme started on or before 19 March 2020;
- iii. enrolled for PAYE online;
- iv. submitted a report under the Real Time Information (RTI) reporting system for that employee on or before 19 March 2020; and
- v a UK bank account.

The full CRJS guidance is available at: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/claim-for-wage-costs-through-the-coronavirus-job-retention-scheme>.

Furthermore, on 8th July the Treasury announced the Job Retention Bonus Scheme which will provide a one-off payment of £1,000 to employers for every furloughed employee who remains continuously employed through to the end of January 2021. Initial criteria outlined by Treasury states that employees must earn above the Lower Earnings Limit of £520 per month on average between the end of the CJRS and the end of January 2021. Further guidance on the Job Retention Bonus Scheme is due to be published shortly.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister of Finance when the June monitoring round return was received from the Executive Office.
(AQW 5777/17-22)

Mr Murphy: The Executive Office submitted financial data on the 5 June 2020 to the public expenditure database. This was followed up by a formal submission on the 25 June 2020.

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Finance what plans his Department has in place to help local councils who currently find themselves with considerable debts due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
(AQW 5840/17-22)

Mr Murphy: On 19 May 2020 Minister Hargrey announced that the Executive was allocating £20.3m to local councils for the period mid-March – 30 June 2020, to assist them with their financial pressures as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. The funding will ensure that local councils can continue to provide essential services and support those in need.

My Department is currently preparing a bid to the Department of Finance to support councils that have lost income as a direct result of COVID-19 and also for costs directly related to COVID-19 for the remainder of this financial year.

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Finance to outline why the General Register Office wrote to all churches informing them that their right to perform marriage ceremonies could be withdrawn.
(AQW 5868/17-22)

Mr Murphy: On 1st September, the British Government laid Regulations introducing religious same sex marriage. The General Register Office (GRO) incorrectly advised that all registered churches must confirm what types of marriages they wish to carry out. This was an error as only new churches registering need to advise GRO of their position. The current registered churches must advise GRO if they wish to carry out same sex marriages. All churches currently registered have automatically been opted out of same sex marriage until GRO is advised differently. A letter of unreserved apology has been sent to all churches.

Mr Muir asked the Minister of Finance to outline the rationale for excluding Allied Health Professional businesses in Independent Practice from full non-domestic rates relief for 2020/21.
(AQW 5921/17-22)

Mr Murphy: As the Member is aware because of Covid-19 I took the decision to support all businesses here with a 4-month rates holiday from 1 April. The Executive then decided to target rate relief from 1 August to the sectors identified as having the greatest need, supporting in the region of 30,000 businesses. That identification and targeting did not include the health professional businesses in independent practice. The approach not to include this sector is consistent with that adopted in separate business rate relief schemes in England, Scotland and Wales.

Department of Health

Ms Sugden asked the Minister of Health for an update on recruitment of pharmacists into GP practices; and what impact GP-based pharmacy recruitment will have on staffing levels within community pharmacy.
(AQW 4841/17-22)

Mr Swann (The Minister of Health): Since 2016 Practice Based Pharmacists (PBPs) have been recruited over 5 waves. At January 2020 there were 274 pharmacists (233 whole time equivalent (WTE)) in post in GP practices across Northern Ireland.

The sixth wave of recruitment for PBPs was carried out in February 2020 but implementation of this final wave has been delayed and it is now anticipated that the majority of wave 6 staff will take up post in September 2020.

This will bring the total to approximately 330 pharmacists (281 WTE) and will cover every GP practice in Northern Ireland equating to approximately 1 WTE PBP per 6,500 patients.

Data provided to the Department, to inform the development of the Pharmacy Workforce Review which is currently being finalised, demonstrates that a minority of pharmacists who have left community pharmacy in recent years have been recruited into general practice, with significant movement to take up posts in hospital practice or in the Republic of Ireland or Great Britain.

The Pharmacy Workforce Review found that, unlike for HSC Trusts, there is currently no way of accurately assessing need in community pharmacies. It is intended that this will be addressed during the implementation of the Review with a proposal to develop a structured process to monitor current and projected workforce needs in all sectors.

Mr Gildernew asked the Minister of Health when he will publish the Terms of Reference for the independent investigation into the Regulation and Improvement Authority board resignations.
(AQW 5184/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Terms of Reference for the review into the Regulation and Improvement Authority Board Resignations were issued to Mr David Nicholl, who has been appointed to carry out the review, and copied to the Health Committee on 30 June 2020. They have also been published on the Department's website and can be viewed at www.health-ni.gov.uk/publications/independent-review-rqia-board-resignations-terms-reference.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health to detail the vacancies of dental staff, across all bands, in the School of Dentistry in the Royal Victoria Hospital.
(AQW 5350/17-22)

Mr Swann: At 8 July 2020 there were 9.59 Whole Time Equivalent (WTE) vacancies. Details of where these vacancies are located within the school are provided in the table below:

Position	WTE Vacancies
Medical & Dental	2.89
Nursing	1.46
Professional & Technical	3.84
Allied Health Professions	1.40

Source: Belfast Health & Social Care Trust

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Health when IVF treatment will be allowed to recommence; and whether any measures will be provided to make up for time lost due to COVID-19.
(AQW 5493/17-22)

Mr Swann: I launched the Strategic Framework for Rebuilding Health and Social Care Services on 9 June 2020 and Phase 2 Rebuilding Plans, which cover the period July to September, on 10 July. The focus will be on re-starting urgent services first.

The Belfast HSC Trust Phase 2 Rebuilding Plan states that the Trust will be working towards recommencing fertility treatment on a phased basis. I have made it clear that I consider re-instatement of fertility services to be a priority and the Trust is working to put plans in place to enable the service to recommence as soon as possible.

I appreciate that the delay in accessing fertility treatment due to the COVID-19 pandemic may have caused distress to those currently awaiting treatment. In order to mitigate this, the eligibility for anyone currently on the waiting list will be extended by a year.

Mr Dunne asked the Minister of Health what efforts are being made to fill the 180 vacant medical posts in an effort to address the £229 million bill for locum Doctors.

Mr Swann: HSC Trusts employ locum staff for several reasons, for example, cover for sickness and maternity/paternity leave; cover for existing vacancies; and when demand increases over the winter months. The primary aim of this is to ensure that safe and effective services are sustained at all times for patients and clients.

Transformation of health and social care in Northern Ireland is a priority in order to change the current configuration of services and address the rising costs of locum provision. The Department has undertaken significant work to try and alleviate the workforce pressures across HSC and it is examining all potential options, and the implications, as to how to address the issues of rising locum expenditure. The Department is currently working with HSC employers and Trade Unions on proposals aimed at reducing agency and locum spend in NI, beginning, as a first step, to reduce and eliminate off-contract agency expenditure.

HSC Trusts generally attempt to fill unfilled posts at least on 2-3 occasions within a 12 month period before exploring other options such as international targeted campaigns or locum placements.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister of Health whether each Health and Social Care Trust is deploying the same policy in terms of allowing partners to attend all appointments with pregnant mothers.
(AQW 5592/17-22)

Mr Swann: My Department recently published updated guidance, effective from 6 July 2020, revising the guidance around visiting for all Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust inpatient services including maternity services, mental health and learning disability inpatient services, Care Homes and Hospices for the duration of the COVID-19 response. All HSC Trusts in Northern Ireland are required to implement that updated guidance.

The guidance sets out the current position in respect of pregnant women in that, so long as the surge level and the Northern Ireland Executive five step approach permits:

Birth partners will be facilitated to accompany the pregnant woman to dating scan, early pregnancy clinic, anomaly scan, and Fetal Medicine Department, for induction of labour, duration of labour and birth and, to visit in antenatal and postnatal wards as appropriate.

This revised guidance represents a significant relaxing of the restrictions around partners accompanying expectant mothers. However, the underlying intention remains the reduction in footfall across all healthcare settings to reduce the risks of infection during the current crisis, so it does not extend to all scans and appointments. Our approach to managing this crisis has meant that many difficult requests have been and will continue to be made of the public around health service provision, especially regarding presence within hospitals and clinics during these unprecedented times.

The full guidance is available online on the Department's website at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/covid-visiting-guidance>.

Mr Harvey asked the Minister of Health whether he plans to reintroduce car parking charges for health care staff at hospitals.
(AQW 5660/17-22)

Mr Swann: Free car parking was provided to HSC staff for the period 1 April 2020 to 30 June 2020 in recognition of the unprecedented nature of the Covid-19 pandemic, and the work and commitment the staff were making to keep the health and social care service going during the initial surge.

Whilst the initial free staff car parking period has now concluded, the position will be kept under review in the context of the evolving position as regards the prevalence and impact of Covid-19.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister of Health whether his Department intends to make free parking permanent for Health and Social Care staff.
(AQW 5673/17-22)

Mr Swann: Free car parking was provided to HSC staff for the period 1 April 2020 to 30 June 2020 in recognition of the unprecedented nature of the Covid-19 pandemic, and the work and commitment the staff were making to keep the health and social care service going during the initial surge.

As hospital visiting and attendance at outpatient clinics is now increasing, charging for car parking on hospital sites where space is limited is an effective mechanism to encourage turnover to help ensure that spaces are available for patients and visitors. If the policy of charging staff for car parking was to permanently cease, this would not only create accessibility issues for patients and visitors, but the revenue raised to meet the cost of the provision and maintenance of car parking would similarly cease, ultimately reducing the amount of money I would have available to fund patient care.

Whilst the initial free car parking period for staff has now concluded, the position will be kept under review in the context of the evolving position as regards the prevalence and impact of Covid-19.

Mr McNulty asked the Minister of Health (i) to detail the number of additional staff required by the Northern Ireland Ambulance Service (NIAS) to meet the new Ambulance Clinical Response Model introduced last year; (ii) when the identified posts will be filled; (iii) to detail the number of frontline vacancies within the NIAS; and (iv) for his assessment of the impact of the vacancies on ambulance response times.

(AQW 5675/17-22)

Mr Swann:

- (i) The table below details the estimated numbers and roles of additional staff required by Northern Ireland Ambulance Service (NIAS) to meet the new Ambulance Clinical Response Model.

Demand and Capacity Review	WTE

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Health how his Department and the Education Authority are working with health professionals, specifically speech and language therapists, to ensure that children with special educational needs receive a school placement for September.

(AQW 5684/17-22)

Mr Swann: There is on-going engagement between the health and education sectors at a regional and local level to help support the restart of education and the HSC rebuild programme. This builds on collaborative working that was underway before the COVID-19 pandemic to improve outcomes for children with special educational needs. Alongside public health guidance, this work will inform how therapy provision can be delivered in schools in a safe manner to meet the needs of children, and the outcomes will be kept under review as the education restart programme is rolled out.

Ms Bradshaw asked the Minister of Health why people contacting the diabetes helpline, using numbers given to them by Health and Social Care personnel, are receiving a recorded message.

Mr Swann: The Diabetes Helpline was established to provide advice and information to people living with diabetes in response to COVID-19. The phone-line was set up on 7 April as a 12-week service. Following assessment of demand and patient need, it was agreed to close the helpline on 28 June 2020.

The recorded message on the Helpline telephone number and the automated e-mail response for the Helpline e-mail address now re-direct people to telephone 111 if experiencing emergency COVID-19 symptoms, the Diabetes UK website for information and advice on diabetes and COVID-19, or their GP, community pharmacy or local Health and Social Care Trust diabetes team.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health for a breakdown of the number of Department of Health officials who have been; (i) working from home full time; (ii) working from home for a portion of the week; and (iii) working within Department of Health offices or premises, broken down by month since September 2019.

Mr Swann: The Department does not hold this information.

In normal circumstances my Department's approach to 'homeworking' is as a voluntary and co-operative arrangement between a line manager and an individual officer which involves an officer carrying out some of their duties while working at home.

In response to the outbreak of COVID-19, and in line with Executive and Public Health Agency Guidance, Northern Ireland Civil Service (NICS) staff including those in the Department of Health (DoH), were instructed to work from home where possible. Staff are only to work from NICS/DoH premises, either on a daily or ad hoc basis, if their work is deemed business critical and could not be carried out from home.

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health what mental health and addiction services have been restarted to date.

Mr Swann: Statutory mental health services, including the majority of addiction services, have been operating throughout the COVID-19 period and there has been no blanket closure of services. However, many services have operated in different ways, avoiding face to face contact where possible. Plans are being made to resume face to face appointments when it is appropriate to do so. When this will take place will depend on individual circumstances.

In accordance with Trust surge planning, the 3 regional in-patient addiction units were stepped down during March 2020 at the beginning of the pandemic. The Health and Social Care Board is currently working with the Northern, Western and South Eastern Trusts on the reopening of the regional addiction in-patient units as part of plans to rebuild Health & Social Care services in a phased approach post peak of the pandemic

Ms Flynn asked the Minister of Health whether he intends to implement the recommendations from the First Do No Harm report, which was published on 8 July 2020.

(AQW 5726/17-22)

Mr Swann: This report and its recommendations requires careful consideration before my full response can be provided. My Department is now engaging with colleagues across the UK including the Medicines and Healthcare Regulatory Agency in this regard.

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Health why female dentists' maternity leave is being included in the 12 month period in which his Department is calculating Financial Support Scheme payments, leading to a lesser payment.

(AQW 5731/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Financial Support Scheme payment calculations for most General Dental Practitioners (GDPs) are based on the average monthly Item of Service (IoS) payment they received in 2019-20. However for GDPs who were on maternity leave during 2019-20 the calculations are adjusted to remove the months when a maternity leave payment was received. In addition, the approach has recently been amended to also exclude the three months with the lowest IoS payments in the remaining months.

Mr Carroll asked the Minister of Health what measures his Department has taken to look at how waiting times are measured, to reflect the entire patient journey, from referral to treatment, with appropriate targets to reflect the true length of time people are waiting for joint replacement surgery.

(AQW 5734/17-22)

Mr Swann: A move to Referral to Treatment Time (RTT) targets which measure the entire patient journey for elective care is highly desirable as it better reflects patient experience and the true length of time patients wait for elective care. To this end, the New Decade, New Approach document published earlier this year included a commitment to consider the scope for changing how waiting times are measured, to reflect the entire patient journey, from referral to treatment, with appropriate targets. The timescale for proceeding with this scoping exercise will be identified in the context of the HSC's response to the ongoing pandemic. In the interim, my focus will continue to be on improving waiting times for the individual elements of the patient pathway.

Ms S Bradley asked the Minister of Health to detail what (i) logistical; and (ii) financial support he plans to provide dentists in securing and paying for personal protective equipment.

(AQW 5745/17-22)

Mr Swann: At the end of June I agreed that dentists should be provided with Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) to assist them during the phased re-establishment of General Dental Services (GDS). Approximately £1m worth of PPE has been procured and is being distributed to individual dental practices; equating to approximately £2,600 of PPE per practice.

Throughout the Covid-19 pandemic the Department of Health has provided significant financial support to dentists, primarily through the Financial Support Scheme (FSS). There have been 4 months of FSS payments made to date between April and July 2020. The total level of FSS and net Item of Service payments made over this period is just under £20 million (£16 million FSS) which represents a 23% increase compared with the net IoS payments made over this period in 2019-20.

Further financial support arrangements are under active consideration as is the position in respect of PPE.

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister of Health whether he has developed an urgent communications strategy to encourage citizens to avail of the flu vaccine in the coming months.

(AQW 5753/17-22)

Mr Swann: Work is underway to finalise a communications plan for the forthcoming flu vaccination programme including production of communication materials

Mrs Barton asked the Minister of Health (i) for an update on the planned recruitment for the Fire and Rescue Service; (ii) for an update on the planned recruitment (a) in West Tyrone; and (b) in the Castlederg area, which has two appliances and is operating below the agreed staffing level of twenty crew members.

(AQW 5761/17-22)

Mr Swann:

- (i) Northern Ireland Fire and Rescue Service (NIFRS) is in the process of recruiting Wholetime Firefighters across Northern Ireland. The recruitment campaign launched on 28 May 2020. Initial appointments from this process are anticipated to be made in January 2021.

NIFRS is also processing ongoing recruitment for forty-one On-Call (retained) fire stations across Northern Ireland. Conditional offers have been made to forty candidates (to date) across twelve stations. Initial appointments from this process are anticipated to be made in September 2020.

NIFRS conduct a rolling cycle of recruitment for On-Call/retained firefighters. A number of stations have recommenced interviews for On-Call positions. Some interviews had been postponed due to the Covid-19 pandemic. Further conditional offers of employment for On-Call firefighter appointments are anticipated once these interviews have completed.

(ii) (a) West Tyrone

Strabane, Omagh and Fintona Stations are included in the current on-going recruitment and selection process for On-Call (retained) Stations. Conditional offers of employment for On-Call firefighter appointments are anticipated for these stations once the recruitment process has completed.

Retained/On-Call firefighter appointments were made in both Newtown Stewart and Dromore Stations in March 2019. Both these Stations are currently at full establishment.

(b) Castlederg

Castlederg is one of seven on-call stations where staffing levels have been temporarily reduced pending a full review of the service delivery model.

There are seventeen people currently employed in Castlederg Station. Three On-Call Firefighters were appointed on 20 June 2020 to manage forecasted attrition rates.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Health for an update on the proposed mental health hospital in Antrim.
(AQW 5774/17-22)

Mr Swann: In December 2018, the Northern Health and Social Care Trust was given permission by my Department to progress the proposal for a Mental Health facility in Antrim to Construction and Procurement Delivery Health Projects Stage 1 – Preparation and Briefing - subject to the necessary business case approval being in place.

Stage 1 typically includes feasibility studies, surveys of existing sites or buildings and initial cost appraisals.

The business case is in the final stages of approval.

Further progress is also subject to funding being available.

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health whether it is considered effective and safe for churches and other public buildings to use fogging machines in respect of meeting their COVID-19 obligations.
(AQW 5781/17-22)

Mr Swann: Fogging Machines can be used to enhance environmental hygiene, however it is important to stress they do not eliminate the critical requirement for effective and routine pre-cleaning of all surfaces prior to use of any type of fogging machine. In any space in which the public congregate it is important the environment is regularly cleaned with detergent and water and/or combined disinfectant particularly all touch surfaces, that there is appropriate provision for hand washing/sanitizers and that social distancing is maintained. It is also important that the use of chemical aerosol decontamination approaches such as fogging machines have been risk assessed and all chemicals used comply with Health and Safety and COSHH Regulations.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister of Health for his assessment of current measures to control the COVID-19 cluster in the Limavady area.

Mr Swann: The Test, Trace and Protect programme currently in place has been successful in identifying a number of cases linked to this cluster. Additional contact tracing staff have been brought in to facilitate the response, to date all contacts associated with the cluster have been followed up. All cases and their contacts have been given advice on self-isolation, infection control and testing if subsequently symptoms develop. A Mobile Testing Unit (MTU) was deployed to Limavady on 16/7/2020 to enable access to testing for symptomatic individuals and for asymptomatic contacts who are referred by the Contact Tracing Service. The MTU remains in place.

I would highlight the importance of asking everyone to be mindful of the risk that this SARS-CoV-2 virus continues to pose in Northern Ireland. This virus has the potential to make its presence felt in any district and at any time. Everyone should act on the basis that it might potentially be in their neighbourhood right now. That is why following the public health advice on maintaining social distance and ensuring the highest standards of hand and respiratory hygiene remains vitally important.

Any individual who is concerned that they are experiencing any of the symptoms of coronavirus infection, must self-isolate immediately, arrange a test as soon as possible and engage fully with our contact tracing service.

Mr Newton asked the Minister of Health to detail (i) the planned number of qualified Occupational Therapists; (ii) the number of qualified Occupational Therapists in post; and (iii) the average waiting time for an appointment with an Occupational Therapist, in the Belfast Health and Social Care Trust.
(AQW 5800/17-22)

Mr Swann: A regional workforce review of HSC's long-term requirements for Occupational Therapists is nearing completion and will provide significant evidence to inform the future level of pre-registration training commissioning.

I recently announced an increase in the number of commissioned undergraduate pre-registration training places for Occupational Therapy. The increase of five places, effective for the September 2020 intake, will bring the total number of commissioned places to 55.

- (i) At 31st May 2020, the Belfast Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust was funded for 315.23 whole-time equivalent Occupational Therapists.
- (ii) At 31st May 2020, 283.43 whole-time equivalent Occupational Therapists were employed in the Belfast HSC Trust.
- (iii) Information on the average waiting time for an appointment with an Occupational Therapist is not available, however information on waiting times (in bands) for completed waits is available and shown in the table below.

Table 1. Number of completed waits for an assessment by an occupational therapist, by waiting time-bands, in Belfast HSC Trust, as at 31 May 2020.

HSC Trust	0-3 weeks	3-6 weeks	6-9 weeks	9-13 weeks	Over 13 weeks
Belfast	184	166	116	458	762

Source: Health and Social Care Board Pine Lodge Care Home

Mr Newton asked the Minister of Health to detail his plans, and the time scale, for the use of the vacant Pine Lodge Care Home, Belmont Road, Belfast.

(AQW 5801/17-22)

Mr Swann: Pine Lodge was temporarily closed as a nursing home in 2016, pending the outcome of a review into the closure of nursing homes commissioned by then Minister for Health, Simon Hamilton.

The Trust is currently in the process of commissioning a feasibility study to establish the cost of refurbishment of the facility to meet statutory standards and RQIA requirements. The outcome of this will allow the Trust to assess the potential of bringing the building back into operation. It is expected the feasibility study will report in January 2021.

Mrs Cameron asked the Minister of Health for an update on progress in ensuring that hospital visitation rights, including for maternity appointments, are implemented fully across all Health and Social Care Trusts.

(AQW 5883/17-22)

Mr Swann: The Department of Health recently updated visiting guidance to apply from 6 July 2020 to all Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust inpatient services including maternity services, mental health and learning disability inpatient services, Care Homes and Hospices for the duration for the COVID-19 response. The full guidance is available online on the Department's website at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/covid-visiting-guidance>, and all HSC Trusts in Northern Ireland are required to implement that guidance.

My Chief Nursing Officer, Professor Charlotte McArdle, is in regular formal contact with the Directors of Nursing in all five of our Health & Social Care Trusts, and during such meetings receives assurance that the new guidance is being applied fully and in a uniform fashion across all Trusts including midwifery.

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister of Health what orthopaedic services and day care procedures will be removed or added to Craigavon Area Hospital or Lurgan Hospital, as a result of his statement to the Assembly on Tuesday 28 July 2020.

(AQW 5948/17-22)

Mr Swann: The initial focus for the resumption of elective orthopaedic activity will be on regional hubs located at the Musgrave Park Hospital and Altnagelvin Area Hospital sites, with the longer term aim of introducing a region wide network of orthopaedic practice based on an alliance of the existing orthopaedic units.

A Regional Network will be established and tasked with overseeing the regional planning and commissioning of elective orthopaedic activity. Only when this Regional Network has considered these issues and produced recommendations will the impact on other locations and services be known. This will be taken forward on an incremental basis, with a view to delivering the service from existing units.

In the short term the development or reconfiguration of Lagan Valley Hospital (LVH) as a regional day procedure centre will be carried out in a phased way in order to minimise the impact on existing service users.

A new Regional Network for Day Procedures, working with the South Eastern Trust, will be tasked with identifying and prioritising the procedures to be delivered in LVH in the first instance. Only when this work has concluded will the impact on other services and locations become clear.

Department for Infrastructure

Mr K Buchanan asked the Minister for Infrastructure, given an increase in passenger numbers and the return of school buses, to detail (i) her Department's discussions with; and (ii) the guidance her Department will be producing for (a) the coach industry; and (b) Translink, in relation to passenger numbers, control measures and the implementation of safety measures. (AQW 5027/17-22)

Ms Mallon (The Minister for Infrastructure):

- (i) My officials and I have met with coach industry representatives to discuss the issues within the regulatory remit of my Department. Officials have also advised coach industry representatives on the information and guidance related to COVID-19 which can be found on NI Direct, with more specific business related information and guidance available on NI Business Info. My Department also issued a notification to all bus operators on 16 March, providing advice from the Public Health Agency. Additionally, my officials have been in regular contact with Translink regarding guidance for the safety of staff and passengers throughout the course of the pandemic. Prior to the introduction of the mandatory requirement for face coverings on public transport from 10 July, my officials and I had discussions with Translink and trade unions on the implications of the proposals and consulted with private operators. My officials continue to work with Translink to monitor the new arrangements. The Executive has also agreed that the cross-departmental group that has been established to consider face coverings will engage with the tour coach and taxi industries to explore extending the requirement to these transport modes.
- (ii) My Department and Translink has also had ongoing discussions with the Department for Education and the Education Authority in relation to the return of schools and the requirements for school transport. These discussions have now moved to very detailed localised planning between Translink and the EA Transport Team as they develop the school transport network in advance of the new school year.

Mr Frew asked the Minister for Infrastructure, given that practical driving tests have been cancelled, whether she can give clarification on how cancelled practical driving tests will be reallocated on a fair and timely basis. (AQW 5054/17-22)

Ms Mallon: On 22 June, I announced plans to reinstate some driver testing services in July for those licence categories, where testing can be done safely in line with Public Health Agency advice and guidance on social distancing requirements. This includes motorbike driver testing from 6 July and tests for drivers of buses, tractors and module 4 CPC tests for lorry, bus and coach drivers, from 20 July.

I have also now announced an indicative date of 1 September for the restoration of practical driving tests for cars and lorries. This indicative date will be kept under review and is subject to sufficient progress being made on the risk assessments for driving tests so that services can be resumed safely for staff and customers. The DVA will continue to work with staff and Trade Union side in the coming weeks and will take account of all relevant public health guidance in making changes to the normal driving test process. These changes will be communicated to driving instructors and learner drivers as soon as possible.

When we are able to reintroduce practical driving tests in cars, the DVA will prioritise those requests from key workers whose role is critical to the COVID-19 response. They also plan to prioritise those customers who had their test cancelled due to the lockdown.

In order to help mitigate the impact on customers, I announced plans to amend the Driving Licence Regulations that would allow an eight month extension to the validity of theory test pass certificates, which expire between 1 March and 31 October 2020. This legislative change is intended to come into effect in September 2020 and when it becomes law will apply retrospectively to those theory test certificates that have expired from 1 March.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for Infrastructure, pursuant to AQW 4875/17-22, (i) for her assessment of the use of glyphosate in light of the International Agency for Research on Cancer report that the herbicide and its formulated products are probably carcinogenic in humans; (ii) whether she has any plans to ban the use of glyphosate products given the risk to human health; and (iii) for her assessment of the environmental harm caused by using these herbicides, including the effects on biodiversity. (AQW 5662/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department is aware of various studies, reports and opinions, including that of the International Agency for Research on Cancer as referenced, regarding the safety and environmental impacts associated with the use of glyphosate containing products. Given the complexity of the research into this subject matter and considering the range of opinions published by various bodies, we rely on the direction and expert advice provided by the relevant Northern Ireland enforcement and designated competent authorities, namely the Health and Safety Executive Northern Ireland (HSENI) and the Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (DAERA).

All pesticide approvals are subject to periodic review at EU level and this includes a rigorous assessment of safety and any risks to human health and the environment. On 28 November 2017, the EU re-approved the continued use of glyphosate following reviews of the scientific data by the European Food Safety Authority and the European Chemicals Agency's Committee for Risk Assessment. They found no safety concerns that would prevent continued use and both the Health and Safety Executive's Chemicals Regulation Division's (CRD) scientists and DAERA agree with this assessment.

The current EU approval lasts until 15 December 2022 and use beyond that date would be subject to a further decision. In light of this my Department does not have any imminent plans to ban the use of glyphosate containing products, however we will, along with HSENI and DAERA, continue to monitor any future developments and will respond accordingly.

In relation to your third question, my Department ensures that any herbicide products used within its contracts are listed on the Pesticides Register of UK Authorised Products, which is available to view on the Health and Safety Executive website. Prior to the application of pesticides, environmental contractors must produce suitable risk assessments and outline the necessary control measures to effectively manage the identified environmental and health and safety risks associated with their use.

Mr Boylan asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on the Environmental Impact Assessment guidance that her Department has been developing.

(AQW 5671/17-22)

Ms Mallon: Officials in my Department are developing a number of pieces of guidance relating to different aspects of the environmental impact assessment (EIA) process. The first element of guidance deals with unauthorised EIA development and I would anticipate that this will be ready for issue in the autumn.

Mr Blair asked the Minister for Infrastructure for an update on her Department's plans to increase the provision of pop-up cycle lanes and similar initiatives in South Antrim.

(AQW 5706/17-22)

Ms Mallon: The £20 million funding which I recently announced for blue / green infrastructure will support our communities through transformation, promoting active travel and shaping our places to live in the new normal. This funding will be community led and departmentally supported.

I am keen to see progress on better walking and cycling infrastructure throughout Northern Ireland and am currently considering the basis upon which funding may be allocated for walking and cycling infrastructure. I recently wrote to Councils seeking information on the status of their greenway projects.

No plans to implement pop up cycle lanes in the South Antrim constituency have been forwarded to my Department as yet. I can confirm, however, that in line with my commitment to improving walking and cycling infrastructure, my Department is currently developing a scheme to deliver a shared use footway / cycleway along the existing verge and hard shoulder on Paradise Walk and Parkgate Road, Antrim to improve pedestrian and cycle links between Templepatrick and Parkgate.

Mr Blair asked the Minister for Infrastructure in order to assist in the rapid rollout of mobile infrastructure in rural areas, whether her Department plans to review the planning permitted development rights for the installation of telecommunication masts.

(AQW 5708/17-22)

Ms Mallon: I recognise that improving our digital infrastructure is vital to Northern Ireland's economy and Planning has an important role to play in this.

As you may be aware in May 2016 my Department issued a consultation paper seeking views on a range of proposals to amend permitted development rights for telecommunications development. While the consultation proposals would not change the current requirement that planning permission is required for new ground based mobile phone masts, they would enhance the ability of operators to undertake works such as replacing, altering or extending an existing mast or installing antenna on a mast or building as quickly as possible, without having to go through the planning process.

I am currently considering the proposals and responses to the previous consultation as well as other views expressed more recently, including from the mobile industry.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether any consideration has been given to making it the default position in Northern Ireland that pavement parking is illegal, as is the case in Scotland.

(AQW 5714/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department is committed to increasing the level of sustainable travel in Northern Ireland and I am aware that cars parked inconsiderately on footways present real challenges for footway users. Consequently my Department carries out enforcement action against cars parked on footways where there are parking restrictions on the adjacent carriageway. The PSNI also can and does take enforcement action against cars found to be obstructing footways. To promote and encourage compliance, regular reminders of the relevant Highway Code rule on footway parking are also posted on our road safety and sustainable travel social media channels. I am, however, keen to explore if further measures may be necessary.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure whether consideration will be given to updating the Design Manual for Roads and Bridges, in light of the Inclusive Mobility and Transport Advisory Committee May 2020 recommendations concerning pavement café licensing.

(AQW 5715/17-22)

Ms Mallon: The Licensing of Pavement Cafés Act (Northern Ireland) 2014 empowers District Councils to manage Pavement Café requests. The Department for Communities (DfC) has published guidelines to assist district councils with the implementation of this statutory licensing scheme, however my Department takes an active role and is a key partner in that process.

Within the DfC guidance it is recognised that there are many factors that need to be taken into account when considering the potential for pavement cafes with traffic volumes and footfall being key considerations as well as the type of premises and facilities available. Minimum standards are identified within the DfC guidelines and I have suggested to Councils that when considering individual sites, solutions need to be developed that best meets the needs of the various stakeholders, including IMTAC and other disability groups, to ensure their concerns are taken into account.

To help with the evaluation of each site my Department has drafted further, more detailed guidance on the siting of pavement cafes on our streets and this has drawn upon various sources of guidance, including the Design Manual for Roads and Bridges and Inclusive Mobility, which is the Department for Transport guide to best practice on making transport accessible for passengers and pedestrians. My Department is currently in the process of finalising this guidance including statutory S75 Equality considerations.

I welcome the interest of IMTAC in the design of pavement cafés and fully appreciate the concerns raised. I have emphasised to Councils the need to consider the needs of all groups, including those with visual and mobility difficulties, when considering proposals for pavement cafes.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) why Strangford village is regularly gridlocked by Strangford ferry queues; (ii) when regular traffic management to stop gridlock will be provided; and (iii) to specify the reasons for not returning to the Pre-COVID-19 ferry timetable.

(AQW 5748/17-22)

Ms Mallon:

- (i) Queuing of ferry traffic through Strangford village does occur at times, but I am advised it tends to be infrequent and short-lived. Queues occur when demand exceeds the capacity of the ferry, for example during spring and summer holiday weekends.
- (ii) Traffic management measures were implemented in 2016, aimed at facilitating traffic progression during periods of increased demand for the ferry. This included provision of additional road markings and parking restrictions in Strangford village. In 2017 enhanced measures were introduced for use during predicted busy periods, including managing traffic into the marshalling area away from the main town, to hold vehicles until the next ferry sailing. During the recent busy July holiday weekends, additional resources were deployed to help manage traffic and implement more frequent sailings by using a 'load and go' system.
- (iii) Unfortunately the ferry service has experienced significant disruption primarily due to a reduction in the number of crew available, as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and shielding. The ferry service must operate in accordance with the requirements of its licence, issued by the Maritime and Coastguard Agency (MCA), to ensure the safety of both passengers and crew. A minimum of four crew members, each certified as competent by the MCA, are required for the vessel to operate. Due to the need to ensure availability of this minimum crew number from a reduced pool, while providing a reliable and sustainable service, it was necessary to introduce the temporary reduced timetable. This timetable has primarily focused on morning and evening traffic peaks, to facilitate those travelling to and from work and other essential users. The midday break is necessary, as the ferry is being operated each day by a single crew. The Department is working to safely resume the ferry timetable to pre-Covid-10 levels as quickly as possible.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister for Infrastructure what the estimated time period is for a street light fault to be repaired after being logged on the online reporting system.

(AQW 5813/17-22)

Ms Mallon: My Department has a range of response times for street lighting repairs: 1 hour for emergencies; 24 hours for urgent repairs (normally group outages); and five working days for normal outage repairs.

I am pleased to be able to inform the Member that I have allocated funding that should enable my Department to provide a full street lighting maintenance programme for the current 2020/21 financial year.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure to detail the current laws (i) to prevent trespassing; and (ii) to ensure proper use of user worked crossings on heritage railways.[R]

(AQW 5816/17-22)

Ms Mallon:

- i The current law to prevent trespassing on heritage railways is the Regulation of Railways Act 1868 (which is still extant) Sections 2, and 23. Fines are imposed on people trespassing on the lines.
- ii. The law to ensure the proper use of user worked crossings on heritage railways is Section 6 of the Railway Safety Act 2002. This Act gives the Department powers to prescribe in regulations for the placing of signs and barriers at private crossings. The Department subsequently made the Private Crossings (Signs and Barriers) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2007 which would apply to heritage railways.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for Infrastructure (i) for her assessment of the levels of compliance with the mandatory face covering rule on public transport; and (ii) what action she proposes, if any, to increase compliance.[R]

(AQW 5820/17-22)

Ms Mallon:

- (i) Since the introduction of the mandatory requirement for face coverings on public transport on 10 July 2020, Translink have reported anecdotal compliance rates of between 60-85% of passengers wearing face coverings across bus and rail services, compared to 10% previously. This corresponds with compliance figures from GB and reflects the significant educational and promotional measures undertaken by my Department and Translink to raise awareness and encourage compliance with the new legislation.
- (ii) While these initial figures are positive, there is still room for improvement and my Department and Translink continue to focus on engagement, encouragement and education to increase compliance. In line with that, Translink continues to communicate to passengers through social media, information posters in vehicles and in stations, and a public information campaign has been initiated to help educate passengers. Staff are leading by example by wearing assigned PPE and, in the early days of implementation, passengers had access to staff in various locations who offered advice and handed out free disposable face coverings. Translink staff have also been asked to remind passengers of their legal obligation and actively encourage them to wear face coverings. The measures outlined above will continue and going forward will be supported by an Executive public information campaign to encourage the wearing of face coverings in all indoor settings where social distance is difficult to maintain.

Department of Justice

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Justice, given the recently tabled amendments to the UK Domestic Abuse Bill to now include Parental Alienation and Contact Denial as coercive control, whether she will introduce a similar amendment to the Domestic Abuse and Family Proceedings Bill.

(AQW 5770/17-22)

Mrs Long (The Minister of Justice): I consider that parental alienation and contact denial can be captured by the new domestic abuse offence, depending on the specific circumstances of the case, and this will be reflected in the statutory guidance associated with the new offence. I therefore have no plans to introduce an amendment to the Domestic Abuse and Family Proceedings Bill on this issue. I understand that this has also been the position adopted in relation to the Westminster Domestic Abuse Bill.

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Justice to detail how many custodial prisoners violated parole conditions, broken down by the nature of the pre-existing offence, in each of the last five years.

(AQW 5790/17-22)

Mrs Long: Temporary release from prison is granted by the Prison Service for a number of reasons, for example on compassionate grounds or as part of a process aimed at reintegrating prisoners. The number of prisoners released on a temporary basis on at least one occasion in each of the last five calendar years is outlined in the table below.

	Year
	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019
Number released on a temporary basis	666	564	531	505	425

To collate the information requested in relation to those prisoners who breached the terms of their temporary release over the past five years would require a manual review of prisoner files and would incur a disproportionate cost.

Department for the Economy

Mr Blair asked the Minister for the Economy to outline the timetable for the conclusion of an updated tourism strategy.

(AQW 1989/17-22)

Mrs Dodds (The Minister for the Economy): Officials are currently working on a draft Tourism Strategy to 2030. The timeline for the conclusion of this Strategy will be impacted by the outcome of the public consultation exercise to be undertaken on the draft Strategy. Currently, the intention is to publish a draft for public consultation later this year.

Mr McGrath asked the Minister for the Economy what consideration is being given to the provision of a short-term basic income model especially for self employed people to assist them during the COVID-19 outbreak.
(AQW 3818/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The cost of a short-term basic income model, for the self-employed is beyond the funding envelope available to the Northern Ireland Executive. Consideration of such a proposal would be a matter for the UK Government. However, this is an evolving situation and my Department, along with Executive colleagues, continue to explore all potential options to identify further means of offering support to as many local businesses as possible during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Currently there are UK wide means of support available to the self-employed, including the Self-employed Income Support Scheme. This offers 80% of trading profits up to a maximum of £2,500 per month for 3 months. To date over 69,000 claims have been made to the scheme from individuals in Northern Ireland. Other support is available such as HMRC Time to Pay, Income Tax Deferral, the recently extended mortgage holiday and changes to the rules of Universal Credit. Further details are available at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus> .

Specific to Northern Ireland, the Minister of Finance announced a 3 months rates holiday which has been extended by one month for all businesses and for the remainder of this financial year for businesses in the retail, hospitality, tourism and leisure sectors, childcare facilities and Belfast City Airport, Belfast International Airport and the City of Derry Airport.

Additionally, on 5 May 2020 I announced the development of the NI Microbusiness Hardship Fund. Self-employed people who employed at least one other person were eligible to apply for the fund. This scheme closed to new applications 12 June 2020.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will provide financial support for the taxi sector during COVID-19.
(AQW 4118/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Regulation and policy for the transport sector is the responsibility of Department for Infrastructure. Schedules 1 and 3 to the Budget Act 2020 allocate funding to the Department for Infrastructure for “transport licensing, enforcement and regulation”, as well as “support for transport services including grants in respect of rail and road passenger services including fare concessions”. Taxis are clearly regarded as “transport services”. Within this context I have set out below my own Department’s actions, as well as those of the Executive and UK government, in providing financial support and guidance to businesses and individuals including those in this industry.

The Executive and UK Government has introduced an unprecedented number of interventions and packages of financial support to help those who have been affected by the consequences of Covid-19.

Information on current and evolving support options are being updated continuously on the NI Business Info website:

<https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/campaign/coronavirus-updates-support-your-business>

I understand that over 30 taxi firms which met the eligibility criteria, were able to access the business support grants available in Northern Ireland. In addition taxi firms and self-employed taxi drivers who met the relevant criteria are able to access national support packages including the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS) and the Self-Employment Income Support Scheme (SEISS), which have both been extended to October 2020.

I recognise that there are many businesses and individuals who have not been able to access support through the local schemes and who are facing ongoing difficulty. Any decisions on funding of further business support measures, and the respective employment and business sectors within these, will require Executive agreement.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will establish a discretionary fund to assist those excluded from COVID-19 Grant Support Schemes thus far.
(AQW 4306/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: On 28th March 2020, the First Minister and deputy First Minister, announced a series of enhanced containment measures, agreed by the Executive, designed to restrict the spread of the Coronavirus.

In addition, the Executive and the UK Government have since introduced a number of interventions and packages of financial support to help those who have been affected by the consequences of COVID-19. These include but are not limited to the following:

- Business Grants Schemes;
- Self-Employment Income Support Scheme;
- Job Retention Scheme;
- Coronavirus Business Interruption Loan Scheme;
- Coronavirus Large Business Interruption Loan Scheme; and
- Relief packages with non-domestic Rates

On 16th May 2020, I announced a new 'Hardship Fund' to help Northern Ireland based micro-businesses and social enterprises who meet the criteria and who have been unable to access other regional and national support measures. My Department will make up to £40 million available through this fund, which is being administered by Invest Northern Ireland.

Details of the Hardship Fund including the eligibility checker have been published on the NI Business Info website: <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/content/coronavirus-ni-micro-business-hardship-fund>

Information on all of current and evolving support options are being updated continuously at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk>. In addition, the Consumer Council for Northern Ireland, provides advice and guidance for small businesses and organisations experiencing difficulties during this challenging period.

Despite government's best efforts, and the significant funding that has been made available in such a short period of time, I do understand that some businesses, employers, organisations and individuals have been unable to avail of all or some of the support options thus far, nor do I underestimate how difficult a time this is for all concerned.

I have recently provided the Executive with an options paper on how any underspend in the grant schemes could be used to best serve those needing support. Some of those schemes would be delivered by other Ministers who have responsibility for those areas, and any decision on how to use that money is for the Executive, collectively.

Mr Robinson asked the Minister for the Economy whether bridal boutiques are permitted to organise private fittings for brides with upcoming weddings.

(AQW 4619/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Regulation 4(2) of The Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2020 has been amended and now states businesses offering goods for sale or hire in a shop including clothing, footwear and accessories are now free to open. Bridal boutiques fall into this category and as such are permitted to operate.

Details of the regulations and revisions are available at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/publications/health-protection-coronavirus-restrictions-northern-ireland-regulations-2020>

As with all businesses that are reopening, I would urge all members of this sector to familiarise themselves with all relevant guidance available and ensure that they have the necessary mitigations and procedures in place so that they can conduct their business in the safest manner possible.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for the Economy what financial support she intends to provide to Allied Health professional businesses in independent practice unable to access the Coronavirus Business Support Grant Schemes and the NI Micro-business Hardship Fund.

(AQW 4759/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: I am aware of the hardship faced by businesses across the economy, including Allied Health Professional businesses, as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. However, regulation and policy for Allied Health Professionals is the responsibility of the Department of Health. I will continue to work with my Executive colleagues to consider what further support we can provide as we seek to make our economic recovery. Any decisions on funding of further business support measures, and the respective employment and business sectors within these, will require Executive agreement.

Allied Health Professional businesses were eligible to apply for both the Small Business Support Grant scheme and the NI Microbusiness Hardship Fund provided the eligibility criteria were met.

Outside of the Business Support Schemes implemented by my Department, other local and UK-wide support has been available to businesses. In Northern Ireland, all businesses have received a four months rates holiday, and a full year's rates relief has been introduced for businesses in the retail, hospitality, tourism and leisure sectors. A range of UK-wide measures are available such as the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme and the Self-Employed Income Support Scheme. Details of these schemes can be found at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>.

Mr McHugh asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the financial assistance available, or forthcoming, to support the coach industry during the COVID-19 restrictions.

(AQW 5099/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Regulation and support for the transport sector is the responsibility of the Department for Infrastructure. However I recognise that the connectivity provided by coaches is particularly important to our tourism industry and

I will continue to work with my Executive colleagues to consider what further support we can provide as we seek to make our economic recovery. Any decisions on funding of further business support measures, and the respective employment and business sectors within these, will require Executive agreement.

The Executive has introduced an unprecedented range of financial support to help those impacted by COVID-19. My Department has implemented the £10k and £25k Business Support Grant schemes for which businesses in the coach industry could apply provided the eligibility criteria were met. Approximately 20 companies listed as coach / bus hire or tour businesses availed of these grants, receiving either £10k or £25k, depending on their circumstances. Coach businesses were also able to apply for the NI Microbusiness Hardship Fund, again provided the eligibility criteria were met.

Outside of the Business Support Schemes implemented by my Department, other local and UK-wide support has been available to businesses. In Northern Ireland, all businesses have received a four months rates holiday, and a full year's rates relief has been introduced for businesses in the retail, hospitality, tourism and leisure sectors. A range of UK-wide measures are available such as the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme and the Self-Employed Income Support Scheme. Details of these schemes can be found at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>

Mr Muir asked the Minister for the Economy whether she intends to bring a funding proposal to the Minister of Finance concerning a qualified support package for the haulage industry, to assist those facing extreme hardship in light of financial pressures experienced as a result of COVID-19.

Mrs Dodds: I am aware of the hardship faced by businesses across the economy, including the haulage sector, as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. However, regulation and policy for haulage is the responsibility of the Department for Infrastructure. I will continue to work with my Executive colleagues to consider what further support we can provide as we seek to make our economic recovery. Any decisions on funding of further business support measures, and the respective employment and business sectors within these, will require Executive agreement.

My Department has launched two support schemes, for which hauliers were eligible to apply, subject to the eligibility criteria being met. The £10,000 Small Business Support Grant Scheme was available to businesses in receipt of Small Business Rates Relief or Industrial derating. The NI Microbusiness Hardship Fund provided up to £10,000 of support to businesses that employ between one and nine employees via PAYE. Further details of the schemes are available at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>.

Hauliers are able to avail of UK-wide schemes such as the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme and other local measures including the non-domestic rates holiday. Details of the all business support schemes are available at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>.

Ms Kimmins asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will consider providing financial support to those businesses who are above the £51,000 Net Asset Value and have not been able to operate as a result of COVID-19, but have not been eligible for any of the grant funding schemes during this period.

(AQW 5230/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Whilst I understand the frustrations that not all business have been eligible for grant support schemes, there are no immediate plans to extend the eligibility criteria to businesses above the £51,000 Total Net Annual Value.

The eligibility criteria for the grant schemes was designed to maximise the number of eligible businesses within the funding envelope available to the Northern Ireland Executive.

This is an evolving situation and I remain committed, along with Executive colleagues to provide support to as many local businesses as possible. Any decision on funding further business support measures will require agreement by the Executive.

Further information on all local and UK wide support options available to businesses can be found at: <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the retention rate in the 2018/19 year, for each further education college.

(AQW 5405/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The retention rates for each further education college in the 2018/19 academic year are as follows:

Belfast Metropolitan College	90.6%
Northern Regional College	84.9%
North West Regional College	92.0%
South Eastern Regional College	90.6%
Southern Regional College	90.3%
South West College	90.4%

This information is also available on the Department's website at Further Education Activity Northern Ireland 2014/15 to 2018/19 Excel Tables (Table A34).

Ms Sheerin asked the Minister for the Economy, mindful of the anxiety that has been placed on our young people this year in the context of a global pandemic, whether she will work with universities to proactively issue course placements earlier than August, based on predicted grades.

(AQW 5438/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Queen's University Belfast and Ulster University have already taken steps to confirm places for local students in advance of the qualification results due in August. However I am deeply concerned that the actions taken by the institutions will cause greater uncertainty and anxiety for those students who must still await their qualification results before a place is secured.

I will therefore be seeking assurances from both institutions that any student whose place will not be secured until their results are known be provided with advice and support during this extremely worrying time.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy for an update in relation to a Mobile Action Plan.

(AQW 5471/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Responsibility for many of the issues which may need to be addressed in a Mobile Action Plan fall within the remit of other Departments. Additionally other bodies, such as Councils, also have an interest.

I intend, therefore, to establish a cross sector group to take forward the work necessary to develop a Mobile Action Plan for Northern Ireland.

Work is underway to agree the constitution and remit of that group.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for the Economy to provide details of the funding allocated to Queen's University, Belfast, for the purpose of the Queen's University Students' Union.

(AQW 5519/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: My Department has not provided any funding to Queen's University Belfast for the purpose of the Queen's University Students' Union. Funding for the operation of a Student's Union is a matter for the University.

Mr Easton asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the current religious breakdown of students attending Queen's University, Belfast.

(AQW 5521/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Information on religion is only collected for Northern Ireland (NI) domiciled students studying at Northern Ireland Higher Education institutions. Religious affiliation is not a mandatory question and therefore can have a high non-response rate.

The table below sets out the total number of Northern Ireland domiciled students enrolled at Queen's University Belfast on undergraduate, postgraduate, full and part time courses by religion for academic year 2018/19. This is the most recent data available.

Institution/Campus	Academic Year
	2018/19
	Catholic	Protestant
QUB	8,675	6,210

To prevent the identification of individuals, figures in the attached table are rounded to the nearest 5, with 0, 1 and 2 rounded to 0.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy what action her Department is taking to ensure that apprentices and interns are compensated fairly for the work they undertake for businesses.

(AQW 5534/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: An apprenticeship is a job combining work, training and study allowing the individual to earn while they learn. Apprenticeships play a hugely important role in our skills system and generate strong labour market and wage returns for participants.

My Department supports two apprenticeship programmes:

- ApprenticeshipsNI (Level 2 and Level 3)
- Higher level Apprenticeships (HLAs) (Level 4 and above)

Under the ApprenticeshipsNI programme, DfE funds the cost of off-the-job training for apprentices aged 16-24 undertaking a Level 2 or Level 3 apprenticeship programme. Funding support for off-the-job training for apprentices aged 25 years and over is set at fifty percent of that available for 16-24 year olds and is focused on priority economic areas. Funding for HLAs is not currently subject to an age cap or limited by priority economic sector.

As with any employee, apprentice wages are the responsibility of the employer.

The apprentice's wage should be commensurate with the industry rate for that job and, in accordance with the National Minimum Wage (NMW) regulations, which can be found at <https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/national-minimum-wage-and-living-wage>

The Department's Training for Success (TfS) programme, primarily designed for young people aged 16 – 17, provides participants with the opportunity to complete work related qualifications and gain experience in a work placement in their chosen occupational area to assist them in their progression to employment/further training or study. TfS participants receive a weekly non means-tested Educational Maintenance Allowance of £40 per week. In addition, assistance is provided towards the costs of travel and, where required, the cost of childcare. Disability Support is also provided for young people with a disability in order that they can fully benefit from their training.

The Further Education Colleges have a large number of students engaging in work-based learning courses, either as a core part of their programme or at the choice of the student. These courses include relevant work experience which is undertaken alongside a course of study and may include, internships, work placement and work experience.

The work experience enables the students to gain real world experience and any remuneration, which can vary considerably, is at the discretion of the employer e.g. they may reimburse for travel expenses. The colleges have no record of the nature of any discretionary payment on the part of the employer as this is not the primary purpose of internships.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) how much underspend there is, broken down by each of the COVID-19 grants and loans; (ii) what plans are in place to utilise this money to help existing businesses that were unable to apply for support; and (iii) her plans to finance a resilience package for business that will include rural proofing measures. (AQW 5539/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Although the Business Support Grant Schemes have closed and are all likely to be underutilised, a final figure for the underspend cannot be provided at this stages as a number of applications and appeals remain to be processed.

For the £10,000 Small Business Support Grant, approximately £240 million of support has been provided to date to 24,085 businesses.

For the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant, approximately £72 million of support has been provided to date to 2,946 businesses.

There were 4,949 applications to the NI Microbusiness Hardship Fund, Currently, around 900 applications are still being processed.

I recognise that many businesses have not been able to avail of the support schemes as they have fallen outside of the eligibility criteria. I have circulated an Options Paper to my Executive Colleagues which sets out proposals for utilisation of available funds following the closure of the schemes. The decision on utilising these funds, and the allocation of any additional financial support, is a matter for Executive agreement and I look forward to further discussions with Executive Colleagues in due course.

Ms Armstrong asked the Minister for the Economy (i) to provide a copy of the Tourism Strategy for Northern Ireland; (ii) what strategy there is to develop the tourism potential of the Ards Peninsula; and (iii) if there is none, why has this area been excluded. (AQW 5540/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Prior to the onset of Covid-19, officials from the Department for the Economy had been working closely with Tourism NI to bring forward a draft Northern Ireland Tourism Strategy to 2030; one which would set out the principles, vision and key aims necessary to continue to position Northern Ireland as an internationally competitive tourism destination.

The intention had been to bring the draft forward for public consultation later in 2020 (subject to the Executive's approval). However, COVID-19 delivered an immediate and full stop to international tourism right across the world with Northern Ireland being no exception.

Consequently, it became necessary to redirect our efforts into working with our tourism industry to support businesses through these past difficult months and to take the necessary actions to restart our tourism Sector. You will be aware of the mitigations implemented at a national and local level (e.g. grant schemes, business rates relief, loan schemes etc.) which have played an important part in helping to sustain many tourism and hospitality businesses through the recent difficult months.

In addition, the decisive action taken by the NI Executive to accelerate the timeframe for re-opening the industry has played a key role in enabling businesses to begin to generate the revenue needed to retain jobs across Northern Ireland.

Re-opening is a significant step forward but I am acutely aware that the road ahead will remain very challenging, and that planning to support rebuilding and enable renewed growth of the Sector in the longer term will be of singular importance.

You will be aware that I established and Chair a Tourism Recovery Steering Group, supported by a Tourism NI led Working Group, to lead on the planning and preparation for the recovery of the industry. The work being facilitated by these Groups will enable us to step through the process from restarting and rebuilding our Tourism Sector to planning strategically for the renewal and regrowth of the Sector in the longer term.

Work to develop a Tourism Strategy will progress in this context. The operational environment in which Tourism now exists, locally, regionally and internationally has altered radically. The world's current circumstances are uncertain, complex and ambiguous and thereby severely impact the effectiveness of conventional planning and management processes.

Consequently our approach to the development of a strategy will require new and innovative ways of thinking but I remain confident that we can return Northern Ireland to its rightful place as an internationally competitive visitor destination.

The strategy will be a strategy for all of Northern Ireland, including the Ards Peninsula.

You may also wish to note that my officials and Tourism NI are currently involved in advising and supporting Councils to bring forward proposals for tourism projects in the various Council areas that comprise the Belfast Regional City Deal (BRCD) Area. This includes the Ards & North Down Council area; my officials are continuing to work closely with the Council, both on a one-to-one level and through the BRCD's Tourism & Regeneration Advisory Board, which is Chaired by the Chief Executive of Ards and North Down Council.

Mrs Cameron asked the Minister for the Economy what assistance is available for registered sole traders who have been unable to access the various UK Government or NI Executive business support grants.

(AQW 5547/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: I recognise that the impacts of the Covid-19 crisis continue to be felt across the Northern Ireland economy. Whilst I welcome that around £320million has been provided in support through the three existing business support measures, I recognise that there remains gaps in coverage and not all businesses have been able to avail of that support.

Currently there are UK wide means of support available to the self-employed, including the extended Self-employed Income Support Scheme. This offers 80% of trading profits up to a maximum of £2,500 per month. Other support is available such as HMRC Time to Pay, Income Tax Deferral, the recently extended mortgage holiday and changes to the rules of Universal Credit. Further details are available at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>.

Specific to Northern Ireland, the Minister of Finance announced a 3 months rates holiday which has been extended by one month for all businesses and for the remainder of this financial year for businesses in the retail, hospitality, tourism and leisure sectors, childcare facilities and Belfast City Airport, Belfast International Airport and the City of Derry Airport.

Additionally, on 5 May 2020 I announced the development of the NI Microbusiness Hardship Fund. Self-employed people who employed at least one other person were eligible to apply for the fund. This scheme closed to new applications 12 June 2020.

This is an evolving situation and I remain committed, along with Executive colleagues to provide support to as many local businesses as possible. Any decision on the further business support measures will require consideration and consensus by the Executive. I am working with the Minister of Finance to bring forward further options for discussion and decision by the Executive.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for the Economy (i) whether guidance published on 26 June 2020 by The Insolvency Service, entitled Insolvency Act 1986 Part A1: Moratorium - A Guide to Monitors, is applicable to Northern Ireland; and (ii) if not, when Northern Ireland specific guidance is to be issued.

(AQW 5553/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Question (i)

I can confirm that the guidance referred to in the question is not applicable to Northern Ireland.

Question (ii)

Northern Ireland specific guidance is currently being prepared by the Northern Ireland Insolvency Service and will be published as soon as possible.

Mr Allister asked the Minister for the Economy, in relation to the recently enacted Corporate Insolvency and Governance Act 2020, to explain why, if the provisions for moratoriums in Northern Ireland are the same as for Great Britain, no Northern Ireland specific guidance is currently available.

(AQW 5554/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Factsheets about key aspects of the Corporate Insolvency and Governance Act 2020, including the moratorium, are available on the Insolvency Service of England and Wales website. As the provisions included in the Act for Northern Ireland are similar to those made for Great Britain, and the information contained in these factsheets is general in nature, they are applicable in Northern Ireland. Therefore, it is not intended to publish separate ones and the factsheets have been brought to the attention of Insolvency Practitioners that operate in Northern Ireland.

More detailed Northern Ireland specific guidance on moratoriums is currently being prepared by the Northern Ireland Insolvency Service and will be published as soon as possible. Once completed, the guidance will be brought to the attention of Insolvency Practitioners.

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) all gaps identified for (a) individuals; and (b) businesses in terms of receiving financial assistance for COVID-19; and (ii) the action her Department is taking to rectify.

(AQW 5595/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Executive has introduced an unprecedented range of financial support for our economy during the COVID-19 pandemic in order to prevent business closure, retain jobs and to promote our economic recovery. My Department has provided around £320 million of financial assistance to date through three business support measures; the £10,000 and £25,000 Business Support Grant Schemes and the Micro-Business Hardship Fund. The business rates relief and specific sector funds, such as sports and childcare, have also provided much needed support as well as UK-wide measures such as the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme and Self-Employed Income Support Scheme which are available to local businesses.

Unfortunately, whilst the budget allocation for regional support is recognised by all as being significant, there are still limits, and it was deemed necessary to apply criteria to the various schemes and financial supports, with the intention of supporting as many businesses and individuals as possible during these very difficult times. I am aware that there remains gaps in coverage and not all businesses and individuals have been able to avail of that support offered regionally or nationally.

The allocation of funds for the business support measures established by my Department are not expected to be fully utilised. The economy has been hit hard by the pandemic and significant investment will be required to rebuild and renew the economy. In considering the approach to COVID-19 recovery it will be for the Executive to determine how funding, including that which may be available from grant related underspends, would be allocated to support economic recovery moving forward.

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for the Economy, pursuant to AQW 5085/17-22, (i) how many of the 21 inspections were unannounced; (ii) how many of the 21 inspections recorded deficiencies in those food processing plants; and (iii) where deficiencies were recorded, what enforcement actions were taken by the Health and Safety Executive.

Mrs Dodds: HSENI carried out 21 unannounced inspections and did not identify any breaches requiring formal enforcement action (enforcement notices or prosecution) in relation to COVID-19 control measures.

A total of 115 improvements were identified by HSENI Inspectors across the 21 sites. In line with normal procedure, at each site where potential improvements were identified, these were raised by the Inspectors during the inspection and 18 sites were followed up by letter or e-mail to the management of the business detailing any actions to strengthen their COVID-19 (or other health or safety) controls.

Timescales were set for improvements to be made and the majority of the sites have completed remedial actions and the cases closed. Where longer term actions are required, follow up is continuing and the cases remain open until completion of actions is confirmed.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for the Economy (i) why there is no guidance related to collecting or retaining customer details for the purposes of contact tracing in the Working Safely during COVID-19 in Restaurants, Pubs, Bars and Food Services document; (ii) whether her Department intends to issue guidance on the collection of customer details for contact tracing; and (iii) what measures are in place for the hospitality industry to use customer details in restaurants, pubs, bars and food service premises for the purposes of contact tracing.
(AQW 5625/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The NI Visitor Economy guidance for Restaurants, Pubs & Bars which applies to any food preparation or service setting where food and drink is sold for consumption at venues or for takeaway or delivery does not currently include a requirement for businesses to retain customer details for contact tracing.

This position is under review and the guidance will be updated, following advice from health officials.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy for her assessment of the potential impact on Ulster University's balance sheet of including its full share of costs from the deficit of the university-sponsored pension scheme.
(AQW 5628/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The representation of pension schemes on Ulster University's (UU) balance sheet is a matter for the University and its advisors. However, I have asked the University to provide an understanding of its pension schemes.

UU participates in two schemes, the Universities Superannuation Scheme (USS) and the Northern Ireland Local Government Officers Superannuation Committee Pension Fund (NILGOSC). The schemes are defined benefit schemes, which are externally funded. The assets of each scheme are held in a separate trustee-administered fund. It is not possible to fully identify the institution's share of the underlying assets and liabilities of the scheme in USS.

In the financial statements to 31 July 2019 the University had a pension provision of £105.5m in the Balance Sheet as detailed below.

Pension Provision

	Obligation to Fund deficit on USS Pension	Defined Benefit Obligations	Total Provision
	£'000	£'000	£'000
At 1 August	20,171	25,416	45,587
Charged in year	38,482	4,054	42,536

	Obligation to Fund deficit on USS Pension	Defined Benefit Obligations	Total Provision
	£'000	£'000	£'000
Actuarial gain	-	17,448	17,448
At 31 July 2019	58,653	46,918	105,571

USS deficit

Following the completion of the 2018 actuarial valuation, a new deficit recovery plan was agreed. Since the year end, and with all other assumptions used to calculate the provision unchanged, this would have resulted in a revised provision of £34.5m, a decrease of £24.1m from the 2019 provision of £58.6m shown above.

USS is a mutual pension scheme and, as all institutions within the sector will face the same pressures in relation to the pension, it requires a mutual solution.

Ulster University will continue to review the situation as it develops. As an area of risk, shared amongst the sector, it remains a matter of concern for all universities.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy for her assessment of the Institute for Fiscal Study's report on UK universities, which warns that one Northern Ireland higher education institution is at risk of having negative net assets by 2024 and, therefore, may not be viable without a government bail-out or debt restructuring.

(AQW 5629/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: I note the Institute for Fiscal Study's report on UK universities and the potential for financial problems in the higher education sector and the threat of insolvency for some institutions.

I am acutely aware of the ongoing financial pressures being faced by the higher education sector here, especially those recently created as a result of Covid-19.

I have taken steps to secure additional funding for the local sector to address the short-term pressures it currently faces.

I have also been working closely with Ministerial colleagues across the UK in securing a package of support for the UK higher education sector.

I will continue to work with the sector to ensure the long term viability of our institutions.

Mr O'Toole asked the Minister for the Economy how many meetings she has had with groups representing the Northern Ireland business community to discuss concerns regarding the lack of clarity on Brexit and the implementation of the Protocol, specifically whether she has addressed when her Department plans to issue a checklist to businesses outlining the new measures they will need to implement before the end of the transition period on 31 December 2020.

(AQW 5630/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: As Minister for the Department for the Economy I regularly have meetings with business representatives and businesses. Their concerns regarding the lack of clarity on EU Exit and the implementation of the Protocol have been discussed frequently at these meetings. As such, I cannot advise on the exact number of meetings where the concerns of the business community on EU Exit have been discussed.

In regards to the checklist to businesses outlining the new measures they will need to implement before the end of the transition period, unfortunately we cannot provide this at this time as we do not have clarity on the measures businesses will have to take. I continue to raise the need for clarity on this issue with UK Government and seek the best outcome for our businesses.

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the discussions her Department has had with her counterparts in Great Britain to mitigate the effects of a customs border in the Irish Sea on the local economy.

(AQW 5639/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: I have raised the need to mitigate any impact of customs processes on East/West trade at nearly every meeting with my counterparts from BEIS and Department for International Trade. My officials have also raised these issues consistently, and worked with the business community to ensure that the business issues are understood by Whitehall Departments.

I have also consistently raised the need to mitigate any customs processes at the Executive, and worked with colleagues to come to collective positions to represent NI interests with UK Government.

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister for the Economy, pursuant to AQW 5339/17-22, what amount, broken down by year, was Invest NI support as shown at point (iii) in the original answer.

(AQW 5641/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The response to AQW 5339/17-22 included the following investment data.

Investment Secured (£m) by Invest NI in Upper Bann Constituency (2015-16 to 2019-20)

PCA	2015-16	2016-17	2017-18	2018-19	2019-20
Upper Bann	33.95	29.33	33.78	27.39	45.14

The table below provides the amount of support relating to the investment data above. This support is contained within the investment figures.

Invest NI Support (£m) by Invest NI in Upper Bann Constituency (2015-16 to 2019-20)

PCA	2015-16	2016-17	2017-18	2018-19	2019-20
Upper Bann	6.34	7.59	7.22	4.88	11.51

Mr O'Dowd asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) what measures Invest NI put in place to support local textile firms to bid for personal protection equipment (PPE) contracts during the COVID-19 crisis; (ii) what criteria was used to identify local companies which may have been of assistance in providing PPE; and (iii) how many local companies, from all sectors which received Invest NI assistance or were contacted by Invest NI, were awarded PPE contracts.

(AQW 5644/17-22)

- Mrs Dodds: At the start of the pandemic and lockdown, Invest NI set up an informal team to work closely with the DoF (Central Procurement Directorate (CPD)), DOH and Business Services Organisation (BSO) teams to identify key priorities and work with companies wishing to offer help and willing to repurpose and manufacture PPE.
- BSO supplied a list of essential items including PPE and Hand Sanitiser and asked Invest NI to identify companies which would have the capability and capacity to supply. Invest NI worked with its team of Client Executives in the sector and regional teams and provided the list of essential items to companies and invited companies to highlight what they could supply.
- Invest NI helped HSC and BSO field the offers and ensured that companies with capability and ability to deliver a secure supply were highlighted.
- Invest NI received over 400 offers of support from companies from the beginning of the pandemic in mid-March. The offers of support were categorised as follows
  - PPE- 138
  - Sanitiser- 26
  - Testing- 12
  - Ventilators- 79
  - Other supplies & support & queries- 150
- Invest NI worked with other relevant organisations (Manufacturing NI, CBI, IOD, Councils) to identify as far as possible the capabilities of local companies who were willing and able to supply the required PPE.
- As stock levels and usage models were updated, BSO/PALS (Patient Advice & Liaison Service) identified two priorities, facemasks (IIR or N95) and gowns. INI actively worked with several companies that had indicated their ability to manufacture gowns and masks.
- Invest NI provided support in terms of providing PPE specs, advising on PPE certification requirements and strategic sourcing of raw material. Several of the companies have considered further investment and are discussing investment projects with Invest NI.
- As BSO has formalised its purchasing models, it has launched a new Dynamic Purching System for PPE and a new framework for PPE was published on 25th June 2020. BSO confirmed that those companies which provided offers of assistance would be notified of the new system to enable them to register their interest accordingly.
- In addition and in anticipation that the demand for PPE would increase as companies returned to work, Invest NI also supported the development of a COVID supplies page on www.buysupplyni.com. This allowed companies to register their products for other businesses/organisations to source materials including PPE and materials to assist with social distancing. Invest NI promoted the call for Offers of Help and signposted to the relevant contact points through regular communications via newsletters and social media.
- Invest NI is not party to the contract negotiations between government departments and individual companies, however it is aware from BSO/PALS that over £52m has been spent on PPE with local companies.
- Companies which have been successful include Copeland Distillery, Echlinville Distillery, Bloc Blinds, and Denroy.

Mrs Barton asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will consider re-profiling the combined underspend from the three business support schemes her Department rolled out, to provide support for (i) sole traders; (ii) businesses who were above the £51,000 Net Asset Value; (iii) businesses below the £10,000 Net Asset Value; and (iv) a business that has multiple outlets in different locations.

(AQW 5683/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: I recognise that many businesses have not been able to avail of the previous Business Support Schemes as they have fallen outside of the eligibility criteria. I have circulated an Options Paper to my Executive Colleagues which sets out proposals for utilisation of any underspend from the schemes. The decision on how to reallocate the underspend is a matter for Executive and I look forward to further discussions with Executive Colleagues on these matters in due course.

To note, businesses with a Total Net Annual Value below £10,000 would have been eligible to apply for the Small Business Support Grant provided they were in receipt of Small Business Rates Relief or Industrial Derating and met the wider eligibility criteria of the scheme.

Outside of the Business Support Schemes implemented by my Department, other local and UK-wide support has been available to businesses. In Northern Ireland, all businesses have received a four months rates holiday, and a full year's rates relief has been introduced for businesses in the retail, hospitality, tourism and leisure sectors as well as for childcare and airports. In addition, wider support measures have been introduced including a Childcare Support Scheme, Charities Fund and a Hardship Fund for sports clubs and sporting organisations. A range of UK-wide measures are available such as the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme and the Self-Employed Income Support Scheme. Details of these schemes can be found at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>

Mr Carroll asked the Minister for the Economy whether she plans to inspect companies that are availing of the Job Retention scheme and also undermining workers terms and conditions.
(AQW 5735/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS) is a UK wide Government initiative administered by Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs (HMRC).

The Chancellor announced changes to the CJRS on 29 May 2020 including flexibility to bring furloughed employees back part time in July, and a new taper requiring employers to contribute to furloughed salaries from August. Full details can be found at: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/changes-to-the-coronavirus-job-retention-scheme/changes-to-the-coronavirus-job-retention-scheme>

My Department has no powers of inspection for companies availing of this scheme. That would be a matter for HMRC.

Employees who believe they have been unfairly treated, or their terms of contract breached, may be able to complain to an Industrial Tribunal. Anyone who finds themselves in this position may wish to consider contacting the Labour Relations Agency - Workplace Information Service on 03300 555 300 for confidential and impartial information.

In addition, the Law Centre NI provides free, independent, specialist legal advice on employment rights. The Law Centre can be contacted on its advice line on 028 9024 4401 or by email: employmentadvice@lawcentreni.org.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy what process her Department uses to ensure that all policies and legislation proactively enables inclusion and equity, particularly for people with disabilities and black and ethnic minority persons.

Mrs Dodds: Section 75 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 requires public authorities to have due regard to the need to promote equality of opportunity and regard to the desirability of promoting good relations across a range of categories outlined in the Act, including people with disabilities, and black and ethnic minority persons. My Department publishes an Equality Scheme (2016-21) that sets out how we fulfil the Section 75 statutory duties, including our procedures to promote equality of opportunity. The Equality Scheme is available at <https://www.economy-ni.gov.uk/sites/default/files/publications/economy/DfE-Equality-Scheme-2016-2021.pdf>.

Also, in line with Section 75 guidance issued by the Equality Commission for Northern Ireland, my Department undertakes an audit of inequalities to identify potential inequalities, across all of the Section 75 categories, relevant to our functions. This provides the basis for an action plan to promote equality of opportunity and good relations. Our Audit and associated Action Plan provide a strategic overview of inequalities and sets out the actions by which we intend to address inequality. The Audit of Inequalities and Action Plan are available at <https://www.economy-ni.gov.uk/sites/default/files/consultations/economy/Draft-2016-2021-Audit-of-Inequalities.pdf>

With regard to disability, my Department is required to discharge important duties under Section 49A of the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA 1995). This requires us, when carrying out our functions, to have due regard to the need to promote positive attitudes towards disabled people, and to encourage participation by disabled people in public life. These are collectively referred to as the 'disability duties'. My Department publishes a Disability Action Plan that sets out how we fulfil our obligations in respect of our disability duties under the DDA 1995. The Disability Action Plan is available at <https://www.economy-ni.gov.uk/sites/default/files/consultations/economy/Draft-2016-2021-Disability-Action-Plan.pdf> .

Mr McCrossan asked the Minister for the Economy whether the Green Homes Grant Scheme, recently announced by the Chancellor, will be available in Northern Ireland.
(AQW 5768/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Green Homes Grant Scheme applies in England only and does not extend to Northern Ireland. Furthermore, as it does not constitute a new funding commitment, it has not resulted in any additional Barnett consequential funding to deliver a similar scheme here.

Support for energy efficiency in buildings is a key theme being considered in the new Energy Strategy for Northern Ireland currently under development. My officials will be engaging closely with their counterparts in Whitehall as the new Greens Homes Grant scheme is developed, in order to identify best practice and suitable options for future support mechanisms that might be developed for Northern Ireland.

Mr Frew asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) whether the Utility Regulator approved the (a) cross-charging policy; or (b) cost allocation and recharge policy, developed by EirGrid PLC between EirGrid PLC and the System Operator for Northern Ireland Ltd; and (ii) if so, when this was approved.

(AQW 5782/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Northern Ireland Utility Regulator does not have an approval role in relation to any policy developed by EirGrid PLC as it is not a licensed entity in Northern Ireland. The Utility Regulator has not, therefore, approved the (a) cross-charging policy; or (b) cost allocation and recharge policy referenced in the question. The cost allocation and recharge policy is an internal EirGrid PLC document relating to EirGrid PLC and their group of companies, one of which is the System Operator for Northern Ireland (SONI).

The Utility Regulator scrutinises SONI costs in the context of its work on the SONI price control. It also ensures the allowances given to the company are sufficient for an effective and efficient Transmission System Operator operating on behalf of consumers in Northern Ireland.

Mr Frew asked the Minister for the Economy (i) whether the service level agreement between EirGrid Plc and System Operator for Northern Ireland Ltd, signed and dated 28 January 2011, is still enforced and practiced; (ii) if not, when was it voided; and (iii) who approved this.

(AQW 5783/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: This question does not fall within my ministerial responsibility, however, I can report that the Utility Regulator understands that the service level agreement referred to is no longer in place. The Utility Regulator has no role in the approval of that service level agreement or its termination. The Member is aware of the Utility Regulator's ongoing governance review of SONI.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy to detail, in tabular form, the total amount of foreign direct investment from 2005 to the most recent year for which data is available, broken down by (i) year; and (ii) destination sector.

(AQW 5793/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The table below shows the £4.6bn of inward investment commitments secured by Invest NI between 2005-06 and 2019-20 broken down by year and sector.

Notes:

- 1 Inward investment includes investment from Great Britain.
- 2 Totals may not add due to rounding.
- 3 Invest NI revises performance data on a regular basis to ensure that it reflects implemented projects; therefore, the data above may differ to previously published information.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy (i) for an update on the procurement process for Project Stratum; (ii) when it is expected that the contract will be awarded; and (iii) to outline the timetable for the rolling out of the project.

(AQW 5795/17-22)

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) The closing date for receipt of tenders for Project Stratum has now passed and the evaluation of bids is underway. Once complete, this will allow for the necessary corporate governance and internal approvals processes to be undertaken.
- (ii) Contract award is expected in late September 2020.
- (iii) It will not be possible to confirm the deployment plan for Project Stratum until after contract award. It is anticipated, however, that deployment of infrastructure will commence a number of months after contract award, with completion by 31 March 2024.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy to detail (i) the total amount of imported fossil fuels used to generate power in Northern Ireland; broken down by type of fuel used, for transport, heat or power; (ii) the plants in which the fuel is converted to power; and (iii) an estimate of the total cost of this imported fuel, at sale price or by estimated market value.

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) My department does not collect information on the amount of coal, gas or oil imported into Northern Ireland for the purposes of electricity generation. However, data from the most recent Northern Ireland Gas Capacity Statement published by the Gas Market Operator for Northern Ireland showed that gas demand by the power sector for the period October 2018 to September 2019 was 816 million standard cubic meters<sup>1</sup>. In addition, figures from the latest Annual Coal Inquiry published by the Northern Ireland Statistics and Research

Agency (NISRA)<sup>2</sup> show that 460 thousand tonnes of coal were imported into Northern Ireland in 2019 for 'Generation of electricity'.

- (ii) My department recently published the Energy in Northern Ireland 2020 report which provides a comprehensive and accessible overview of key statistics and information relating to energy in Northern Ireland. Within the report it sets out three major power generating sites in Northern Ireland and their fuel sources:
  - Ballylumford provides 616 MW capacity from natural gas generation with a further 116 MW capacity from diesel/gas oil generation;
  - Coolkeeragh provides 413 MW capacity from natural gas generation with a further 53 MW capacity from diesel/gas oil generation; and
  - Kilroot provides 559 MW of capacity from coal fuelled generation, alongside 143 MW from diesel/gas oil generation.
- (iii) My Department does not hold, nor produce, information on the sale price or estimated market value of imported fuel for transformation to power.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for the Economy to detail the criteria used to determine eligibility for the £25,000 Retail, Hospitality, Tourism and Leisure Grant where the business is not entirely engaged in retail, hospitality, tourism or leisure.

(AQW 5817/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The £25,000 grant was available to eligible businesses that have a Total Net Annual Value (NAV) of between £15,001 and £51,000 and operate within the retail, hospitality, tourism and leisure sectors, subject to some exclusions.

The range of activities undertaken by businesses that applied for the 25k scheme was very broad and did not always fit neatly into the broad descriptions of the four eligible sectors, retail, hospitality, leisure and tourism. Indeed the sectors themselves are not easily defined and there is not a comprehensive database from which identification of the cohort of eligible businesses in these sectors could be made.

In cases where the business is not entirely engaged in retail, hospitality, tourism or leisure, assuming all other criteria is satisfied, an application would be deemed eligible if there is evidence of reasonable activity within one of the eligible sectors. This was determined on a case by case basis on the evidence available.

Businesses within the four eligible sectors were among the first to experience an adverse economic impact of the pandemic and the most vulnerable as they rely on people to be able to travel, shop and socialise. The aim of the scheme was to provide support to as many businesses as possible in order to prevent closures and to retain jobs.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy, pursuant to AQW 5322/17-22, when the Longitudinal Education Outcomes (LEO) database for Northern Ireland is established, whether it will include data on outcomes from further education courses.

(AQW 5824/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The LEO database for Northern Ireland will include further education (FE) data relating to the six FE colleges and the College of Agriculture, Food & Rural Enterprise (CAFRE). Data on higher education courses, apprenticeships and the Training for Success programme will also be included in the database.

The creation of the LEO database, by linking education data with both earnings and benefits data, will allow research on the labour market outcomes of FE College leavers to be conducted.

Ms McLaughlin asked the Minister for the Economy (i) to outline the reasons for the disparity between financial support provided by Student Finance NI and other UK student finance bodies; and (ii) whether she has plans to bring Student Finance NI into line with other UK student finance bodies to alleviate the student hardship and distress that this disparity is causing, particularly during the ongoing pandemic.

(AQW 5825/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Higher Education is a devolved matter for the four jurisdictions of the United Kingdom. Each country has differing policy priorities around Higher Education and differing budgetary constraints, and it is therefore inevitable that financial support amounts and terms and conditions will vary in each jurisdiction.

While there are no immediate plans to change the student support package available to Northern Ireland students through Student Finance NI, I have doubled the amount of support funds available to students facing genuine financial hardship from £2.8m to £5.6m for the current financial year in response to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy for a timescale for the completion of her Department's review into Postgraduate Education in Northern Ireland.

(AQW 5856/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: The Postgraduate Loan Review is a complex piece of work comprising differing strands of the postgraduate funding systems in Northern Ireland. The appropriateness of the current Postgraduate fee loan, of up to £5,500 towards the cost of taught postgraduate courses, will be reviewed alongside a range of potential options for maintenance loans or grants. Separate from that, there will be a review of the Postgraduate Awards Scheme.

It is anticipated that a public consultation on the Postgraduate Loan Review, comprising the different options for fee loans and maintenance provision, will be published before the end of this year.

Dr Archibald asked the Minister for the Economy what advice and support is available to employers and workers impacted by the change in health advice regarding travel from Spain.

(AQW 5899/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Advice on travel is available on NIDirect at <https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/articles/coronavirus-covid-19-travel-advice>.

Anyone making a decision on travel for a holiday should consult it before making that decision. That advice sets out the requirement to fill in a Public Health Passenger Locator Form on arrival home, even where travel has been to a country on the exempt list. The advice also highlights the possibility of countries being removed from the exempt list, and the need to have a 14-day self-isolation plan in place to cover that eventuality.

The Labour Relations Agency website contains much useful advice on employment issues in the context of Covid-19. That includes advice on holidays and the importance of flexibility on the part of both employers and employees. This is at <https://www.lra.org.uk/covid-19-advice-employers-and-employees#section-846>. The Labour Relations Agency - Workplace Information Service on 03300 555 300 is also available to provide confidential and impartial information.

Advice remains that if people can work from home, they should work from home. That should be possible while quarantining. Some employers may be able to accommodate working from home for employees in quarantine even where they have not been working from home up to now.

All employees and workers have a statutory entitlement to 5.6 weeks paid leave in their current leave year. Up to now, many people have had difficulty in taking leave because of the Covid-19 situation, and DfE has made legislation allowing people who have been prevented from taking leave by Covid-19 to carry over up to 4 weeks leave to the next 2 leave years.

Where an employee has used up all their paid annual leave, it might be possible to request special paid leave or to anticipate leave from a future year. An employer might be willing to pay contractual sick pay to cover this situation – though Statutory Sick Pay is not available. Or perhaps an employee could work additional hours later in the year to make up for being unavailable for work while in self-isolation on return from holiday. All these options would be at the discretion of the employer.

If this is not possible, unpaid leave may be possible, and there are certain grounds on which this can be a statutory entitlement, such as parental leave (18 weeks for each parent for each child up to their 18th birthday).

The normal set of employment rights continues to apply to all workers – in particular, the law on unfair dismissal. Workers have the right to complain to an Industrial Tribunal if they believe those rights have been infringed or their employment contract has been breached.

Miss Woods asked the Minister for the Economy, pursuant to AQW 5317/17-22, (i) whether her Department will publish the tender; (ii) whether her Department will publish the terms of reference of the Strategic Review on Petroleum Licensing; and (iii) whether she can confirm that the Strategic Review will not replace the EU Commissioner's recommendations from 2014, where EU Member States would be required to give priority to the protection of public health via the undertaking of a Strategic Environmental Assessment in the event that hydraulic fracturing is likely to be used in the exploration and exploitation of petroleum resources.

Mrs Dodds:

- (i) The tender referred to in AQW 5317/17-22 included a Specification for research into the economic, societal and environmental impacts of onshore petroleum exploration and production in Northern Ireland. I intend to make this document available on the Department's website from 10 August.
- (ii) The high level review document which sets out the draft Terms of Reference (TOR) for the Review of Petroleum Licensing is very much a live document which is subject to change as the review process progresses. The outworking of the independent research will play a significant role in shaping the final TOR. Once the TOR are finalised they will be published.
- (iii) I can confirm that, as any policy proposals stemming from the Review of Petroleum Licensing will set the strategic direction for future oil and gas extraction, they will be subject to Strategic Environmental Assessment in accordance with the Environmental Assessment of Plans and Programmes Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2004 (which transpose European Directive 2001/42/EC).

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for the Economy whether she will provide support to businesses that have thus far received little or no assistance from COVID-19 Business Support Schemes.

(AQW 5940/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: I acknowledge many businesses have not been able to receive support despite extensive local support measures brought forward by the Executive, such as the Business Support Schemes and the business rates relief, as well as the UK-wide schemes including the Self-Employed Income Support Scheme.

The Northern Ireland economy has been hit hard by the pandemic and significant investment will be required to rebuild and renew the economy. In considering further interventions, it will be for the Executive to determine how future funding, including that which may be available from grant related underspends, would be allocated to support economic recovery moving forward.

Mr Muir asked the Minister for the Economy whether any plans exist to assist private coach operators as a result of downturn in trade due to COVID-19.[R]

(AQW 5989/17-22)

Mrs Dodds: Regulation and support for the transport sector is the responsibility of the Department for Infrastructure. However, I am aware that coach operators have been particularly badly affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. Challenges facing our coach sector have been stressed to me via the Tourism Recovery Steering Group and Working Group that I established to help our tourism industry to emerge from COVID-19. I recognise that they are a key component in our transport infrastructure and the connectivity provided by coaches is particularly important to our tourism industry. I will continue to work with my Executive colleagues to consider what further support we can provide as we plan for economic recovery. Any decisions on funding of further support measures will require be a matter for Executive agreement.

Coach operators were eligible to apply to the Business Support Schemes implemented by my Department. Approximately 20 companies listed as coach / bus hire or tour businesses availed of these grants, receiving either £10k or £25k, depending on their circumstances. Coach businesses were also able to apply for the NI Microbusiness Hardship Fund, again provided the eligibility criteria were met.

Outside of the Business Support Schemes implemented by my Department, other local and UK-wide support have been available to businesses. In Northern Ireland, all businesses have received a four months rates holiday, and a full year's rates relief has been introduced for businesses in the retail, hospitality, tourism and leisure sectors. A range of UK-wide measures are available such as the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme and the Self-Employed Income Support Scheme. Details of these schemes can be found at <https://www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk/business-support/coronavirus>

Northern Ireland Assembly Commission

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission (i) how many representations or comments were received following the decision not to illuminate Parliament Buildings for European Day for Victims of Terrorism; and (ii) of those comments, how many were (a) critical; and (b) supportive of the decision.

(AQW 5555/17-22)

Mr Blair (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The Assembly Commission's 'Parliament Buildings: Special Lighting Policy (2020)' is published on the Northern Ireland Assembly's website. The Special Lighting Policy sets out the parameters and criteria that must be met for special lighting to be allowed and the process through which applications can be made, considered and, if approved, put into effect.

The Assembly Commission considers each application for special lighting solely on the basis of the parameters and criteria set out in the Special Lighting Policy. The Commission takes decisions on the basis of the application for special lighting itself, and not on the basis of any further representations or comments.

Other than the representation from yourself as the applicant, I can confirm that no other representations or comments were submitted to the Assembly Commission following its decision not to illuminate Parliament Buildings for European Day for Victims of Terrorism.
