FOREWORD FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 MARCH 2015

The annual accounts for the year ended 31 March 2015 have been prepared in accordance with the North/South Implementation Bodies Annual Reports and Accounts Guidance, other guidance which either Finance Departments may issue from time to time in respect of accounts and any other specific disclosures required by sponsoring Departments.

The annual accounts have been prepared so as to give a true and fair view of the income and expenditure and cash flows for the financial year and the state of affairs at the year-end except where agreed otherwise with Finance Departments, in which case the exception shall be described in the notes to the accounts.

A Brief History & Statutory Background

Middletown Centre for Autism began offering services to children and young people with autism, their parents and the education professionals who work with them in 2007 following the completion of a detailed Memorandum of Understanding agreed between the Department of Education (Northern Ireland) and the Department of Education and Skills (Ireland) in 2004 and the appointment of the Centre's first Board of Directors and Chief Executive in 2007.

The Centre is established as a company limited by guarantee.

The Board of Directors comprises of 5 Department of Education and Skills nominees and 5 Department of Education appointees. The Centre is a cross-border facility jointly funded by the Department of Education in Northern Ireland and the Department of Education and Skills (DES) in Ireland.

In April 2012 it was announced that the Centre would become a non-departmental public body in Northern Ireland.

The original plans for the Centre's development have been reviewed by officials from both departments and staff from the Centre. At the North South Ministerial Council education meeting of 15 June 2012, the Council announced that there would be "a limited expansion of services delivered by the Middletown Centre for Autism and the focus on ensuring a sustainable future for the Centre". The expansion of services has commenced.

The Centre's remit:

The Centre has been given the remit to improve and enrich the educational opportunities for children and young people with autism, to provide support, advice, guidance and training to their parents and the professionals who work with them throughout the island of Ireland.

The Centre offers specialist, second level, autism support services that are currently providing school and home based support throughout Northern Ireland as well as an extensive training programme aimed at parents and school staff in both jurisdictions. This work is underpinned by the latest research and the Centre's own Research Department undertakes studies and disseminates information on evidence based educational developments in autism.

Established as an all-Ireland Centre of Excellence, Middletown Centre has engaged key professionals, experienced in working with children and young people with autism, to deliver a range of specialist services not previously available in Ireland.

Results

The financial results for the year are set out on page 32.

The non financial results for the year are set out in the Chief Executive's Statement and Report for the Year on pages 18 – 30.

Principal activities

The principal activities of the Centre are the establishment, development and management of the Centre for which the purpose shall be supporting the promotion of excellence in the development and co-ordination of education and allied services to children and young people with Autism throughout Ireland.

Financial Position

At 31 March 2015 the Centre had cash at bank of £64,254 (2014: £57,450) and a deficit of reserves of £362,573 (2014: £364,410) split as follows:

General Reserves	£13,427
Pension Liability	(376,000)
	(362,573)

Fixed Assets

During 2012 the Centre and Departments agreed a programme of work to complete the refurbishment of part of the estate to meet the requirements identified in the Joint Inspection Report and to support the expansion of services agreed with the Departments following the North South Ministerial meeting in June 2012. Most of this refurbishment work was completed in July 2013 and the Centre is working with the Departments to finalise a programme for the remaining work.

Details of fixed assets are set out in note 6 to the accounts.

Pension Scheme

The valuation of the company's NILGOSC pension scheme at 31 March 2013, for the purposes of FRS 17, showed a funding deficit of £376K.

This deficit represents the difference between the liabilities of the pension fund and the value of its underlying assets; it does not represent an immediate commitment, as the cash flow required to meet the deficit relates to future pension contributions. Therefore, this liability is expected to arise over the long-term rather than the immediate future. The valuation of the pension schemes assets under FRS 17 is different from the triennial actuarial valuation which determines the contributions required to reduce the deficit.

A guarantee agreement dated 16 November 2007 is in place between NILGOSC, Department of Education for Northern Ireland and Department of Education and Skills in Ireland whereby the Departments guarantee payment in full of any pension liabilities of Middletown Centre for Autism Limited if the Centre ceases to exist or is otherwise unable to discharge its pension liabilities.

Research

The Centre's training, learning support, assessment and guidance work is underpinned by focused research work. Details of the research carried out by the Centre are included in the Chief Executive's statement.

Planned Future Developments

At the North South Ministerial Council education meeting of 15 June 2012, the Council announced that there would be "a limited expansion of services delivered by the Middletown Centre for Autism and the focus on ensuring a sustainable future for the Centre"

The Centre, in agreement with the funding Departments, has commenced an expansion of its services.

Further details can be found in the Chief Executive's Statement and Report for the Year on pages 18 – 30.

Statement of directors' responsibilities

The directors are responsible for preparing the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the directors, to prepare the financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the directors have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law). The financial statements are required by law to give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the surplus or deficit of the company for that year.

In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis, unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and all Regulations to be construed as one with that Act. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Statement of disclosure of information to auditors

So far as the directors are aware:

There is no relevant audit information (information needed by the company's auditors in connection with preparing the auditors' report) of which the company's auditors are unaware; and

The directors have taken all the steps that they ought to have taken as directors in order to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the company's auditors are aware of that information.

Employees with a disability

Middletown Centre for Autism Limited is an equal opportunities employer and welcomes disabled persons as employees.

Equality

Middletown Centre for Autism Limited in carrying out its functions has a statutory responsibility, to have due regard to the need to promote equality of opportunity.

Its rules for the recruitment and management of staff create an inclusive culture in which diversity is fully valued; where appointment and advancement is based on merit; and where there is no discrimination on grounds of gender, marital status, domestic circumstances, sexual orientation, race, colour, ethnic status and membership of the travelling community, in order to comply with legislative requirements in Northern Ireland and Ireland.

Employee Involvement

Middletown Centre for Autism Limited implements its business strategy through its staff. In achieving business objectives, the involvement of staff in the planning and decision making process is key. Staff involvement is maximised through the combined use of appropriate access to expert advice and training opportunities in order to enable them to exercise the responsibilities effectively.

Payment to Suppliers

Middletown Centre for Autism Limited is committed to the prompt payment of bills for goods and services received in accordance with the UK Late Payment Of Commercial Debts (Interest) Act 1998, as amended by the Late Payment Commercial Debts Regulations 2002 – Statutory Instrument 2002 No. 1674 and the Irish Prompt Payment of Accounts Act, 1997, as amended by the European Communities (Late Payment in Commercial Transactions) Regulations 2002.

Unless otherwise stated in the contract, payment is due within 30 days of the receipt of the goods or services, or presentation of a valid invoice or similar demand, whichever is later.

Health & Safety

The policy of the Board is to ensure the continued safety, health and welfare of the employees at work by maintaining a safe and healthy work environment based on compliance with the provisions of Health and Safety at Work (Northern Ireland) Order 1978.

Directors' Register of Interests

None of the Board Members, members of the key management staff or other related parties has undertaken any material transactions with the Centre during the year other than those disclosed in emoluments of senior post holders and remuneration report. A register of members' interests is available and can be inspected on application to the Chief Executive's office.

Auditors

In accordance with article 392 of the Companies Act 2006, a resolution proposing that PKF-FPM Accountants Limited be reappointed as auditors of the company will be put to the Annual General Meeting.

Responsibilities of the Accountable Person

The responsibilities of the Chief Executive, as the Accountable Person for Middletown Centre for Autism Limited, including responsibility for the propriety and regularity of the public finances and for the keeping of proper records, are set out in the Management Statement and Financial Memorandum of the Company.

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

I have pleasure in presenting Middletown Centre for Autism's Annual Report for the year ended 31 March 2015.

The Centre, now in its eighth year, has continued to grow and to develop the services which it offers throughout Ireland to children and young people with autism, their parents, carers and professionals who work with them. It has through the work and the expertise of its staff gained recognition as a provider of high quality specialist services throughout the island. The Centre is one of the first cross border initiatives and is funded by the two governments. It works on an all Ireland basis and the principal objectives are:

- the provision of a Specialist Training Service
- the provision of a Learning Support and Assessment Service
- the provision of a Research and Information Service

This year has been one of significant expansion and progress. Some of the matters I would like to highlight are:

- The development and delivery of a comprehensive programme of specialist training for some 7,805 professionals from the education and health sectors in Ireland, both North and South during the year.
- The delivery of a comprehensive training programme for 4,141 parents throughout Ireland during the year.
- The provision of a trans-disciplinary Learning Support and Assessment service in Northern Ireland dealing directly with children and young people with autism, the professionals who support them and their parents and the commencement of a similar service in Ireland.

- Hosting the Centre's first and very successful International Conference held in early January 2015 at the City North Hotel, Dublin which attracted over 1000 delegates from all over Ireland over two days.
- The publication of comprehensive research bulletins and the continuing work on innovative research projects which involve schools throughout Ireland and international higher education partners.

Our financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2015 upon which our auditors PKF-FPM Accountants Limited have reported on without reservation, are set out in pages 32 to 47. The accounts are maintained in pounds sterling and are also reported upon in Euros. Our income for the year amounted to £2,133,577 (€2,753,432) virtually all of which has been in the form of grants from the two administrations. Our expenditure of £2,131,740 (€2,750,894) closely matches our income and can be apportioned as follows:

- Service delivery
£2,036,461 €2,627,934
- Overheads and infrastructure costs
£94,205 €121,574
- Interest payable and similar charges
£1,074 €1,386

During this past year I met with both Ministers of Education and have been impressed by their commitment to the future development of the Centre. They both recognise the value of the services being developed and delivered by the Centre.

The Board is committed to building on the joint Ministerial agreement for the future development of the Centre and will work closely with the Department of Education NI and the Department of Education and Skills, Ireland to ensure that appropriate plans are in place to meet the needs of children and young people with autism throughout Ireland.

I would like to acknowledge the valuable work and contribution of my fellow members of the Board, who through their broad backgrounds in education, public service and administration in the UK and Ireland have provided enthusiastic support and wise counsel throughout the year.

I also wish to pay tribute to the support and work of the dedicated staff under the leadership of our Chief Executive Officer Mr Gary Cooper for their great commitment to the work at the Centre.

The Centre has through the combined efforts of the Board, staff and our colleagues and Ministers in the funding Departments has become an essential partner in delivering new and innovative educational services to children and young people with autism throughout Ireland. I and my colleagues on the Board look forward to continuing to build on our achievements in future years.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORT FOR THE YEAR

I have pleasure in presenting this account of the operation of Middletown Centre for Autism, detailing the work undertaken by the Centre from April 2014 to March 2015.

Over the past year the Centre and its staff have delivered services to three main groups throughout Ireland:

- Professionals working in the autism sector, mainly those based in the education sector but including some health professionals who are school based; places are also provided for some staff working in the voluntary sector
- Parents (and guardians) and family members of children and young people with autism. The Centre's work with this group is provided within an educational context.
- Children and young people with autism.

It has been a year of outstanding success for the Centre built on the second year of our expansion programme which had been formally announced at the North South Ministerial Council meeting of 15 June 2012. Business targets have been met in all areas and exceeded in a significant number.

Throughout the year the Centre has continued to develop and deliver an extensive range of training opportunities to both parents of children and young people with autism and the educational professionals who support them. In addition, the Centre's Research Department has continued to develop and publish its Research Bulletins as well as undertake research in the area of autism and sensory difficulties and comprehensive follow-up on all children and young people who were referred to the Centre. Findings from the research follow-up work are integrated into the Centre's training programme and are also used as the basis of resource development. The Learning Support and Assessment Service has also expanded its work with young people referred to the service from the Education Authority in Northern Ireland. During the course of the year the service has expanded into the Republic of Ireland with a pilot programme involving 14 children from areas across the country.

Our Training Service

Training is a key feature of the Centre's work and during the course of last year over 14,000 delegates attended training delivered by the Centre (this is an increase of 75% on the previous years figure). Indeed since training commenced from the Centre in December 2007, a total in excess of 44,000 delegates have received specialist second level training from the Centre. Internal evaluation processes reflect that these sessions are rated highly and are valued by those attending. These are very commendable figures and reflect greatly the growing interest and demand for high calibre training in all aspects of autism provision.

Ministers and Board meet some parents and teachers who use the Centre

During the course of the year the Centre developed a number of new models of training which reflect the changing needs of both parents and professionals. Five week training programmes were developed further and offered to parents in Ballyshannon, Cork, Dublin, Oranmore, Balbriggan, Newcastle, Galway, Lisburn, Belfast, and Donegal. In addition to this, Joint Events involving Parents and Professionals were held in Dundalk, Dublin, Limerick, Belfast, Kilkenny, Portlaoise, Omagh and Newry. These involved international speakers such as Lynn Moxon, Ros Blackburn, Rita Jordan, Laura Klinger, Gina Davis, Lenny Thornton, Adam Harris, Mike Chapman and Fiona Knott. Of particular significance was the continuing development of the Centre's Blended Intervention Approaches which was hosted this year in St Joseph's School in Galway (an adapted version of this training also took place in Monaghan in the context of the Republic of Ireland Summer School). I would wish to put on record my particular thanks to the special school sector both in Northern Ireland and in Ireland who host a significant number of our training sessions.

Training for professional staff is a key feature of the Centre's work and staff provide a range of evening, half-day, full-day and multi-day training sessions for professionals across Northern Ireland and Ireland. This is predicated on a formal training schedule, which is developed annually and circulated to every school in Ireland and Northern Ireland. Its content includes sessions delivered by the Centre's own staff and also key speakers from the world of autism world-wide. The Centre has expanded its training beyond one-day sessions and this year provided a wide range of five week parent and professional programmes delivered across the island. These sessions were delivered by both Centre staff and invited, recognised, experts in the field of autism. These longer sessions gave education staff and parents the opportunity to have a longer learning relationship with the tutor and build supportive networks.

Autism Specific Continuous Professional Development Programmes

A key feature of the Centre's training development this year was the introduction of the "Make and Take" events which afforded attendees the opportunity to join a workshop for the production of visual strategy resources which could then be taken home with them. This was of particular value to parents/teachers of newly diagnosed children who had attended the five week trainings in the Republic of Ireland. Other training developments included "Autism and Siblings" training delivered in Naas and new parent training in art, music and drama delivered in Belfast, West Cork and at the Centre itself.

The Centre continued to develop its series of Master-class Trainings. Among those contributing were Andy McDonnell, Lynn Moxon, Laura Klinger and Brian McClean. These were very successful events attracting a diverse sector of influential educationalists both from Northern Ireland and from the Republic of Ireland and meeting the learning needs of experienced professionals with advanced learning needs.

Laura Klinger with Centre staff

The Centre is developing an Associate Trainer Programme and this is limited in the initial stage to the delivery of the Attention Autism training, an innovative social communication skills programme developed by Gina Davis, Specialist SLT. Teachers from schools or education authorities who have trained their own school/colleagues and show a flair for delivery of the programme are invited to train teachers in their local area as part of the Middletown team. The Centre provides the resources and a quality assurance programme and the schools provide the staff. It is a way of acknowledging the great work going on in many schools of providing CPD and of meeting the need for this training delivery.

A successful international conference

In many respects the highlight of the training calendar was undoubtedly the Centre’s first International Conference held in early January 2015 at the City North Hotel at Gormanston, Dublin. Original estimates were quickly exceeded and during the course of the 2 days the conference attracted over 1000 delegates. The programme was both varied and innovative with key note speakers including Prof. Roy Richard Grinker, Dr Peter Vermeulen, Dr Patricia Daly, Prof. Tony Attwood and Damien Milton. The Conference also afforded the Centre an opportunity to showcase it’s own work with individual case studies presented and school staff and parents given the opportunity to contribute to these presentations. The Conference also provided the forum for this year’s Best Practice Day which once again illustrated the extremely positive and productive work that is being carried out in schools across the entire Island. I would like to record my thanks to the Conference Planning Group who organised such an inspirational two day Conference. I, like many others look forward to the next Conference in 2017!

The Centre’s Board and Staff were particularly pleased that the Conference was jointly opened by both Education Ministers. Their interest in and commitment to the Centres work was much in evidence and this was endorsed further when they made a joint visit to the Centre in March.

Conference speakers Dr Peter Vermeulen and Prof. Tony Attwood with MCA staff.

CEO with Ministers O Dowd and O Sullivan

A great deal of time was devoted during this period to developing the Centre’s IT structure and the capability of hosting training sessions on line. This has been a welcome addition to the Centre’s training portfolio. Equally important this year has been the ongoing development of securing accreditation for some of the Centre’s training sessions. This work will be developed throughout the course of 2015/2016.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORT FOR THE YEAR

Using research to inform

Research continues to underpin all that the Centre does. During the last year four research bulletins were published covering the themes of: Visual Strategies, Transitions Vol 2, Enabling Education and Anxiety Vol. 2. The high calibre of these documents has been recognised by many not least the National Autistic Society who continue to publish them on its E- Learning Community of which the Centre was asked to become a founding member. To date the Centre's Research Bulletins are the most read and downloaded documents on the NAS site.

The Research Department has also this year completed work on "Sensory Processing & Activity Choices Research" as well as completing research work on behalf of the National Council for Special Education (NCSE) notably developing the quality standards currently being used in the evaluation of autism provision in Irish schools. The Centre sits on the steering group of this important piece of national work as well as contributing detailed country case-studies. A major focus of its work has centred on the Case Study work emanating from follow up case studies on those children and young people referred to the Learning Support and Assessment Service.

As part of the Centre's lead role in delivering on certain aspects of the Autism Strategy, the Research Department has been developing two resources for teachers and other educational professionals. These resources will be based on the single and multi-case study work already conducted by the Centre's Research Department and are designed to address common areas of difficulty that have been identified by the Centre's trans-disciplinary team. Research work has also been enhanced this year with the supervision of two PhD students based in Trinity College Dublin and Limerick University.

The two areas being researched are:- a) The strategies used and the experiences of parents and professionals in the transition from preschool to primary school of children with autism b) accessing the efficacy of sensory rooms for children with autism in the Republic of Ireland.

Supporting children

The Learning Support and Assessment Service's work continues to expand in Northern Ireland and has now also commenced in the Republic of Ireland thus ensuring that educationalists in both jurisdictions can refer children and young people who despite extensive first level intervention and support continue to encounter difficulties. In Northern Ireland to date 71 children have been directly referred to the service with a further 790 receiving direct support and a further 597 receiving indirect support.

Working with young people

These pupils are referred to the service by the Education Authority to the Centre's trans-disciplinary teams who work with children in their school, home and community settings. The Centre in its approach focuses on a capacity building model in the school and which also involves a great deal of collaborative working with a wide range of external agencies. Whole school referrals are also undertaken and involve the MCA team working with the child's parents and staff to provide a more "autism competent" learning environment. Initiatives have included the establishment of a sensory "lounge", more integration of children and young people in learning support units in the general classroom environments, training for parents and staff, delivering model lessons and helping with autism policies. The work is in the process of being evaluated and results will be available soon. Early results seem to indicate that it is a highly successful programme: a positive direction in which to develop the service.

In the Republic of Ireland a total of 14 Referrals were made last year through the pilot project with referrals being made by a group consisting of The Inspectorate, NEPs and DES. In addition to these referrals a further 40 children have received indirect support. The work in both jurisdictions aims to improve the capacity of local service providers to understand autism better and to make the necessary adjustments in their teaching environments. Similarly the team works with parents at home and in the community to provide a comprehensive learning support programme.

Listening to our stakeholders

The Centre's staff are mindful of the extensive range of stakeholders and interested parties and the need for an effective dissemination of the Centre's work and plans.

The Centre recognises that all staff as well as the Board of Directors have an important role in promoting the work of the Centre and fostering relationships with those particularly linked to the first level services and statutory organisations.

The Centre has played host to a wide range of stakeholders throughout the course of the year as well as meeting with a wide cross section of those particularly in the voluntary sector who are delivering first level autism services. The development of these relationships is not merely for an exchange of information, but is designed to complement and add value to the provision of existing services for the wider autism community.

Department of Education and Skills officials with Centre staff

During the year the Centre commissioned independent research to ascertain the views of key groups on the full range of services provided by the Centre.

The methods used in this research were qualitative. One of the aims was to identify and report on the views of participants and users of all of the Centre's services. The research methods were designed to elicit views, responses, attitudes and experiences of people and, where possible, to quantify them.

Service users' responses

Respondents were asked to rate their experience of using the Centre's services on a scale from a high of 5 down to a low of 1 where 5 is "excellent" and 1 is "poor". Ratings were gathered on "quality", "how informative" the service was, "usefulness" and "accessibility". The findings are presented below (Tables 1 to 5). All of the services received high ratings on quality and informativeness with 9 out of ten respondents giving a rating of 4 or 5. Ratings for "usefulness" and "accessibility" were also comparatively high overall, though for Training just over 6 out of 10 respondents (62%) gave usefulness and accessibility a score of 5.

All respondents said that they would recommend MCA Training, Information, Learning Support and Assessment and Research. Just one respondent said that they would not recommend Advice.

Collaborative working.

The Centre staff has continued to deliver and develop collaborative working arrangements with a number of service delivery agencies such as the Regional Training Unit in Northern Ireland and the Special Education Support Service in the Ireland. The Centre's research staff have also been tasked with delivering against a number of commitments in N Ireland's Autism Strategy 2013-2020 and Action Plan 2013-2016. The Centre will identify detailed actions to meet these commitments in its Corporate plan.

The Centre has been keen this year to build on its links with the teacher training colleges providing specialist input to courses for aspiring teachers and other professionals. Centre staff have been asked to provide input into the core training of students at Stranmillis University College, St Mary's University College Belfast and also for further Education Lecturers at the University of Ulster. In addition to this the Centre also delivers on the SESS supported Post Graduate Diploma in St Angela's College, Sligo.

The Centre has also been developing links with the Further Education sectors in N Ireland and Ireland, providing support for young people transitioning into further education.

SUMMARY OF SERVICES DELIVERED DURING THE YEAR

Training delivery

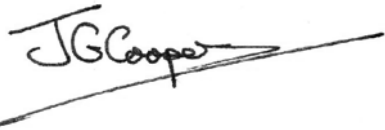

Working with children

The contribution of our staff and Directors

In closing I would like to pay tribute to the work and commitment of the Centre staff and Directors. The Centre is most fortunate in the calibre of staff it employs whose dedication and commitment ensure that high quality services are delivered across the island of Ireland. I would also like to pay tribute to the dedication of the Board of Directors and to thank them for the interest and guidance they give to the work and development of the Centre. The ongoing expansion of the Centre's services has this year necessitated the recruitment of new members of staff and I was delighted to welcome such a committed, enthusiastic and highly professional group of individuals to join our specialist team here at Middletown.

I trust that you will find this report informative and reflective of the work that the Centre has been engaged in over the last twelve months.

STATEMENT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

1. Scope of responsibility

As Accountable Person, I have responsibility for maintaining a sound system of internal control that supports the achievement of Middletown Centre for Autism's policies, aims and objectives, whilst safeguarding the public funds and departmental assets for which I am personally responsible, in accordance with the responsibilities assigned to me in Government Accounting Northern Ireland and Public Finance Procedures.

I provide assurance in respect of expenditure incurred by the Centre on programmes and schemes funded by the Department of Education and the Department of Education and Skills. I am responsible for maintaining administrative structures which enable the Centre to discharge its statutory duties which takes into account working with the Centre's sponsoring departments, other education bodies and partners both in Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland.

The achievement of these responsibilities is discussed at regular review meetings with officials of the Department of Education and Department of Education and Skills as detailed in the Management Statement and Financial Memorandum.

2. The purpose of the system of internal control

The system of internal control is designed to manage risk to a reasonable level rather than to eliminate all risk of failure to achieve policies, aims and objectives; it can therefore only provide reasonable and not absolute assurance of effectiveness. The system of internal control is based on an on-going process designed to identify and prioritise the risks to the achievement of departmental policies, aims and objectives, to evaluate the likelihood of those risks being realised and the impact should they be realised, and to manage them efficiently, effectively and economically. The system of internal control has been in place in Middletown Centre for Autism for the year ended 31 March 2015 and up to the date of approval of the annual report and accounts, and accords with the Finance Departments' guidance.

3. Capacity to handle risk

Leadership has been given to the risk management process by senior management ensuring that all service managers review and evaluate their key risks and controls on a regular basis. The Board has a Risk Management Strategy and Policy which are developed under the leadership of the CEO and Senior Management Team and are endorsed by the Audit and Governance Committee. These documents specify the risk management process within the Centre and set out the roles and responsibilities of officers and members. Internal Audit has provided assistance and guidance to the Senior Management Team concerning the evaluation of risks and the completion of the required documentation.

In endorsing the Risk Management Strategy and Policy the Audit and Governance Committee has identified specific risks outside the control of the Centre's management that have the potential to impede the work of the Centre and have therefore been identified on the Centre's Risk Register. Among these are the differentials in service provision between Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland with perceived issues of inequality of access to the Centre's services; and the inherited responsibility for the convent building and its upkeep, including those parts which have been listed as well as necessary renovation work to block B to support the agreed expansion of the Centre's services. Agreement has been reached with the funding Departments on a division of responsibility for the longer term maintenance of the convent and residual estate issues, while the agreed expansion plan for the Centres services addresses some of the differentials in service provision. Any one of these risks has the potential to be an obstacle to the achievement of the Centre's aims and objectives.

4. The risk and control framework

The Risk Management Strategy for the Centre details a formal process for identifying, assessing, managing and monitoring risks faced by the Centre, including a prioritisation methodology based on risk ranking of impact and likelihood. Each manager is responsible for

- Identifying risks for their service
- Evaluating these risks in terms of impact and likelihood; and
- Establishing an adequate control mechanism, commensurate with the perceived level of risk.

This information is forwarded to the Senior Management Team who determines whether the relationship between risk and control is appropriate. These risks are then incorporated into the Board risk register. Risk management is also a feature within the corporate and business planning process. The Senior Management Team has considered the Board's objectives as detailed in the corporate plan and from these have identified corporate risks.

5. Review of Effectiveness

As Accountable Person, I have responsibility for reviewing the effectiveness of the system of internal control. My review of the effectiveness of the system of internal control is informed by the work of the internal auditors and the executive managers within the Centre who have responsibility for the development and maintenance of the internal control framework, and comments made by the external auditors in their management letter and other reports.

I have been advised on the implications of the result of my review of the effectiveness of the system of internal control by the Board, the Audit and Governance Committee and a plan to address weaknesses and ensure continuous improvement of the system is in place.

The Board, through its committees, maintains and reviews the system of internal control within the Centre's three divisions by continually monitoring the service being provided to clients to ensure it meets objectives set in the respective divisional Business Plans. Updates on Business Plans are provided to relevant committees on a regular basis. The Chairperson of the Audit and Governance Committee reports to the Board as a whole on audit activity including risk management on a regular basis. The Board undertakes an annual review of its committees and an assessment of its performance. The Board has developed and carries out performance appraisal of the Chief Executive and Senior Management Team. The Board approves all expenditure and resource allocation plans and reviews these regularly through its Finance and Personnel Committee. The Board has also established a Service Planning and Assurance Committee and a Planning and Buildings Committee to provide it with the capacity to offer strategic oversight and scrutiny in these aspects of the work of the Centre. No significant issues of internal control have been identified in the past year.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF MIDDLETOWN CENTRE FOR AUTISM LIMITED

(A company limited by guarantee, not having a share capital)

We have audited the financial statements of Middletown Centre for Autism Limited for the year ended 31 March 2015 which comprises the Income and Expenditure Account, the Balance Sheet, the Cashflow Statement, the Accounting Policies and the related notes.

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Respective responsibilities of directors and auditors

As described on pages 5 and 6 the company's directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view. Our responsibility is to audit and express an opinion on the financial statement in accordance with applicable law and International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland). Those standards require us to comply with the Auditing Practice Board's Ethical Standards for Auditors.

Scope of the audit of the financial statements

An audit involves obtaining evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements sufficient to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. This includes an assessment of: whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances and have been consistently applied and adequately disclosed; the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the directors; and the overall presentation of the financial statements. In addition, we read all the financial and non-financial information in the Foreword and other reports and statements to identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements and to identify any information that is apparently materially incorrect based on, or materially inconsistent with, the knowledge acquired by us in the course of performing the audit. If we become aware of an apparent misstatements or inconsistencies we consider the implications for our report.

Opinion on financial statements

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 March 2015 and of its results and cash flow for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 2006.

Opinion on other matter prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion the information given in the Foreword and other reports and statements for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law have not been made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

1.1. Accounting Convention

The accounts have been prepared in accordance with the historical cost convention. Without limiting the information given, the accounts are prepared on an accruals basis and comply with the accounting and disclosure requirements of the Companies Act 2006, the Irish Companies' Acts 1963 to 2013, the accounting standards issued or adopted by the Accounting Standards Board and accounting and disclosure requirements issued by the Department of Education, NI and the Department of Education and Skills, ROI, insofar as those requirements are appropriate.

1.2. Tangible fixed assets

The cost of tangible fixed assets is their purchase cost, together with any incidental expenses of acquisition.

Depreciation is calculated so as to write off the cost, or valuation of tangible fixed assets, over the expected useful economic lives of the assets concerned. The principal annual rates used for this purpose are:

Fixtures & Fittings
Reducing balance basis

33¹/₃%

Computer Equipment
Straight line basis

25%

Telecoms Equipment
Straight line basis

15%

Building Improvements
Reducing balance

1.3. Government Grants

Revenue grants receivable are recognised in the year in which they are received. Grants receivable as a contribution towards expenditure on a fixed asset are credited to a capital grant reserve and released to the income and expenditure account in the same proportion as the depreciation charged on the relevant assets.

1.4. Foreign Currencies

The accounts are maintained in sterling and are also reported on in Euro at our year end. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing at the accounting date. Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the date of the transactions. All differences are taken to the income and expenditure account.

1.5. Pensions Arrangements

The Board's employees belong to two principal schemes, the Teachers' Superannuation Scheme (TSS) and the Northern Ireland Local Government Officer's Superannuation Committee Scheme (NILGOSC).

The Teachers' Superannuation Scheme is a contributory scheme administered by the Department of Education. The conditions of the Superannuation (NI) Order 1972, the Teachers' Superannuation Regulations (NI) 1977 and subsequent amendments apply to the scheme. The scheme is presently notionally funded. The rate of the employer's contribution is determined from time to time by the Government actuary and advised by the Department of Finance and Personnel. The scheme is administered by the Department of Education, Rathgael House, Balloo Road, Bangor.

The Northern Ireland Local Government Officers' Superannuation Committee Scheme is a defined benefit pension scheme, the assets of the schemes being held in separate trustee administered funds. The scheme is administered by NILGOSC, Hollywood Road, Belfast.

The fund is valued every three years by a professionally qualified independent actuary, the rates of contribution payable being determined by the trustees of the scheme based on advice of the actuary. In the intervening years the continuing appropriateness of the rates are reviewed. Pension costs are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities on a systematic basis based on the actuary's calculations. The company pays no other post retirement benefits to its employees.

1.6. Taxation

Current tax represents the amount expected to be paid or recovered in respect of taxable profits for the year and is calculated using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantially enacted at the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date where transactions or events have occurred at that date that will result in an obligation to pay more tax in the future, or a right to pay less tax in the future. Timing differences are temporary differences between the company's taxable profits and its results as stated in the financial statements.

Deferred tax is measured on an undiscounted basis at the tax rates that are anticipated to apply in the periods in which the timing differences are expected to reverse, based on tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date.

1.7 Limited Liability Agreement

The Executive Committee, on behalf of the company, have entered into a Limited Liability agreement with their auditors. The auditors' liability is limited to an amount which is considered fair and reasonable. This has been disclosed in line with Companies legislation.

2. Income

The income of the company has been derived from funding received from Department of Education, Northern Ireland and Department of Education and Skills, Republic of Ireland.

3. Other operating expenses
