SECTION 1

1. Introduction

1.1 The Department for the Economy came into being shortly after the NI Assembly Election in 2016 and is one of nine government departments headed by Ministers of the Northern Ireland Executive. The Department encompasses:

- The functions that existed within the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment; and,
- The functions that existed within the Department for Employment and Learning with the exception of the Employment Service.

1.2 The Department's vision is for Northern Ireland prospering through a decade of innovation which will deliver an economy that is ten times better than it is today, with benefits for all our people.

1.3 The Department's strategic objectives are:

1. Launching a Decade of Innovation
2. Economic Recovery Action Plan
3. The Skills Agenda
4. Responding effectively to the outworking of EU Exit
5. The Energy Strategy
6. Enabling Digital Connectivity
7. Parental Bereavement Leave and Pay
8. Covid-19 Grant Schemes
9. City Deals

2. Retention and Disposal of Records Policy Statement and Schedule

2.1 It is the policy of the Department for the Economy to maintain authentic, reliable and useable records, which are capable of supporting business functions and activities for as long as they are required. The Department is therefore committed to the operation and continuous improvement of effective records management policies and procedures.

2.2. Understanding what information to retain and disposing of information that is no longer needed is an important part of effective information management. Retention and disposal is something that public authorities are required to do under specific legislation such as the Public Records Act (NI) 1923, the Disposal of Document Order (NI) 1925 and Data Protection Act 2018. In addition, section 12 of the Lord Chancellor's Code of Practice on the management of records issued under Section 46 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, states that:

'Authorities should define how long they need to keep particular records, should dispose of them when they are no longer needed and should be able to explain why records are no longer held.'

2.3 The Department commits to:

- The operation and active use by all departmental staff of an electronic document and records management system (EDRMS) which delivers an efficient tool for digital document management by business users, along with the audit trail mechanisms that enable the capture and management of key events in a record's lifecycle (i.e. from creation, through access, editing, destruction or preservation).
- The production and use of retention and disposal schedules that have been agreed with the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland and have been approved by the Northern Ireland Assembly, to ensure compliance with the Data Protection Act 2018, the UK General Data Protection Regulation, Freedom of Information Act 2000, Environmental Information Regulations 2004 and Public Records Act (NI) 1923.
- Embedding the requirements for retention and disposal functionality and audit logging in all digital and line of business applications.
- The consolidation, review and disposal of information held in legacy systems such as paper registry files, following the retention periods set out in agreed departmental retention and disposal schedules, in line with business need and legislative, statutory and regulatory requirements.
- The regular review of destruction arrangements to ensure that correct procedures for the disposal of business information are followed and all disposal decisions fully documented.
- Establishing strong links between PRONI and Northern Ireland Civil Service Departments and Public Authorities to ensure best practice in records management and the transfer of records identified for permanent preservation.
- Detailed archive transfer arrangements from PRONI including advice and guidance on how to securely transfer records to the archive, define the appropriate access status of various records and identify any relevant exemptions and exceptions under FOI/EIR.
- The review and audit of records management policy and procedures to ensure compliance with the UK GDPR and DPA, and the fair, lawful and transparent processing of all personal data collected, processed and stored.
- The review and audit of records management policy and procedures in order to protect records and systems from unauthorised access, use, disclosure, disruption, modification or destruction including maintenance of an Information Asset Register.
- Maintaining a network of Information Asset Owners who responsibility for information for which they are accountable for including regular reviews of personal data, assessing information risks, promoting 'duty to document' decisions and work, timely closure of files, containers and other digital data and the subsequent application of the Retention and Disposal Schedule including the destruction of records.

3. Operation of the Retention and Disposal Schedule

3.1 Closing of Records

3.1.1 Containers and files should be closed as soon as they have ceased to be of active use, other than for reference purposes. Closure reasons are:

- The subject is finished;
- It relates to the last calendar or financial year; or
- The last date any new information has been added is 2 or more years ago;
- The container or file is more than 5 years old.

3.1.2 However, there may be circumstances where files / containers need to remain open for an extended period, but this can only be with the express authorisation of Information Asset Owners and Information Management Unit. Some examples are:

- project / case / contract is ongoing
- employment is ongoing
- legislation or policy is still in use
- asset is still operational

3.1.3 IMU staff will monitor and identify containers that have not had any new records added in two years and will close the containers. IMU will also monitor any files / containers with an authorisation to remain open on an annual basis to ensure that closure occurs at the appropriate time.

3.1.4 When a record is due to be closed, IMU will, in consultation with the business area, complete the applicable administrative procedures for closure. Closing a record means that no documents can be edited and no further documents can be added. The record has now entered into its retention period, but can continue to be used for reference purposes, known as 'read-only'.

The date of closure of both paper and electronic files is the date of last paper / document added.

3.2 Retention Period

3.2.1 The retention period for each record is calculated from the point the record is closed. For example, if the retention period recorded on the Schedule is 5 years and the action is destroy then a record closed on 10 October 2014 is retained until 10 October 2019.

3.2.2 The final action applied in the Schedule will be one of three categories of disposal action, approved by the relevant Information Asset Owner and the Departmental Information Manager and documented in Retention and Disposal logs.

Categories of Disposal

- Destroy

Records must be disposed of securely and in line with departmental policy and procedures. The only exception to destruction is if the information is subject to an ongoing legal, audit or FOI case.

Business Areas should review the records, and unless one of the conditions set out in the previous paragraph applies, should mark for destruction. Destruction must be approved by IAOs - records will then be destroyed by IMU.

- PRONI Appraisal

The long-term historical and evidential value of records cannot be confirmed and therefore requires appraisal by PRONI. Under PRONI Appraisal, the First Review is carried out by PRONI 5 years after file closure, and the Second Review is carried out by PRONI 20 years after file closure.

If PRONI deem that there is no long-term value, the records can be destroyed otherwise they are transferred to PRONI, in line with policies and procedures.

- Permanent Preservation by PRONI

This is based on a pre-determination; the records will transfer to PRONI as Northern Ireland public records for archival preservation, storage and access when they have reached the legal definition of 'historical records'.

- Permanent Retention by Department

This is based on a pre-determination; the records will remain in the Department as permanent living records.

3.2.3 Records identified for Permanent Preservation in PRONI will normally transfer under warrant once they have reached 20 years old (as calculated from the date of the last paper). They are therefore considered to have become Historical Records (as defined within the Freedom of Information Act 2000, Part 6), and must be accompanied by clear FOI access recommendations. Implementation of the 20 Year Rule commenced in 2013 with the Protection of Freedoms Act 2012 bringing Northern Ireland into line with the legislative changes introduced in the Constitutional Reform and Governance Act 2010. However, in line with the Public Records Act (NI) 1923 (s.3(c)), certain record classes may be designated for 'early transfer', usually because the record class is open and the information is already available in the public domain. In rare circumstances (for example, if the creating organisation is facing imminent dissolution, or a Public Inquiry wishes to transfer the complete record urgently), PRONI can accept early transfer.

3.3 Principles

3.3.1 Retention and disposal principles outlined in this policy involve managing records throughout their lifecycle to ensure authorisation, implementation and accountability actions are applied. All records must be created and used to support and document evidence of business decisions and managed to meet ongoing business, regulatory or legislative requirements.

3.3.2 When records held by the Department have satisfied all business requirements and do not need to be retained indefinitely, they will be destroyed, appraised or transferred for permanent preservation to PRONI in accordance with the principles outlined in this policy.

Principle 1: Retention and Disposal Authorisation

- The retention and disposal of records is authorised in line with the 1923 Act as well as the 1925 Order and by the development and maintenance of the Retention and Disposal Schedule, laid at the Northern Ireland Assembly to take legal effect.
- The Schedule will be signed by the required signatories.
- The following roles and responsibilities apply:
 - The Permanent Secretary will ensure that DfE complies with the requirements of legislation affecting the management of records, and with this supporting policy.
 - The Departmental Information Manager will work closely with Directors and IAOs to ensure that the Schedule is implemented.
 - All retention and disposal decisions will be approved by IAOs.
 - All managers and professional staff are responsible for ensuring that records and systems conform to this policy.
 - All staff are responsible for ensuring that records are only disposed of in accordance with the Schedule.
- All retention and disposal decisions have been determined to ensure compliance with relevant legislative, regulatory, fiscal and business requirements. Final actions will be taken at the end of retention periods. Where possible specific details relating to when records are closed will be fully documented.
- Where necessary, a retention 'hold' will be placed on any records and information which are subject to investigations, Public Accounts Committee scrutiny, ongoing FOI/EIR and/or subject access requests/appeals for information, litigation or Public Inquiries to ensure continued access, and in all cases this process will be fully documented and time-limited.

Principle 2: Implementation

- Operational procedures / forms are available to ensure efficient and effective implementation of retention and disposal decisions relating to all departmental records and information and are published on the Department's intranet.
- Records identified for transfer to PRONI for permanent preservation will be appropriately protected while at the same time being available for continuing access as appropriate. This will involve appropriate access arrangements, metadata requirements relating to the authenticity, integrity, accessibility and usability of the record, classification, storage, package requirements for transfer and assessing information risks.

- PRONI formally requests the transfer of departmental records and information from the Departmental Information Manager for permanent preservation by issue of a warrant for Northern Ireland public records. When PRONI warrants are received by the Department, the Departmental Information Manager will ensure these are acted upon including being assessed for de-classification requirements and all relevant access recommendations in line with the Freedom of Information Act (2000), Environmental Information Regulations (2004) or Data Protection Act (2018).
- Records and information will only be transferred or destroyed in a manner which is secure and which is appropriate to their protective marking and content. Approved destruction of records and information will comply with Departmental information security and records management policies and guidelines and will be complete and irreversible for all media formats.
- Content provided by the Department on its official websites is captured by the PRONI Web Archive.

Principle 3: Accountability

- All retention and disposal actions will be fully documented to ensure compliance with this policy and Schedule. Disposal records provide an overview of all actions undertaken in line with the Schedule and will be permanently retained by Information Management Unit as evidence of compliance with this policy.
- The Schedule will be reviewed every three years from the published date of the latest version (or earlier if required) to consider possible changes to legislative or regulatory requirements, ongoing business needs, legal action and administrative changes affecting the Department's functions or business activities.
- Reviewers undertaking and implementing retention and disposal actions will have appropriate knowledge of the functions and business activities and have their IAO approval for all final decisions. All IAOs are accountable for retention and disposal decisions undertaken in this policy and Schedule.

3.4 Recording Disposal Actions

- 3.4.1 All records due for disposal must be recorded onto a Disposal List by each Business Area. These may take the form of a spreadsheet or database and contain the file/container name, relevant closure and disposal dates and IAO approval details. This list must be retained permanently to provide transparency and accountability for the Department's disposal actions.

4. Statement of Commitment to Preserving Records

The Department for the Economy declares that it will take measures to ensure that the records it creates will be appropriately stored and maintained while they are in its custody until either destroyed or transferred to PRONI for permanent preservation. These measures will include:

- Storing records in an appropriate environment, physical or electronic, on or off-site;
- Ensuring appropriate access control mechanisms are put in place to facilitate staff who require continued access to records and information but restrict others;
- Providing searching facilities, electronic or physical index systems, to ensure staff understand what they are holding or not holding;
- Putting in place auditing, finalising and backup policies and regularly testing business continuity procedures and plans for the use of vital records and information.

5 An Overview of DfE Functions

5.1 Operational Functions

5.1.1 The Department is organised into five separate Groups, covering respectively:

Economic Strategy Group – develops and implements strategies for -

5.2 Corporate Functions

1. Accommodation & Services

This function includes managing land and buildings owned, rented or leased, as well as the provision of related services. Refers to activities associated with constructing, maintaining, repairing, protecting and disposing of premises, equipment, and stores. The provision of support services such as cleaning, postage and courier.

2. Audit & Accountability

This function includes managing information relating to auditing of the Department, its arms-length bodies as well as risk management and governance. Relates to activities associated with planning, auditing, consulting and producing audit reports and risk assessments, strategies and governance reports.

3. Financial Management

This function includes information relating to the management of financial resources. Refers to activities associated with financial planning, accounting, monitoring and operating accounts, budget allocations and submissions, allowances, assets and funding. Records held on the NICS shared service Account NI are included.

4. Human Resource Management

This function includes managing all employees. Includes permanent, temporary and part-time staff as well as those employed under graduate recruitment schemes and traineeships. Refers to activities associated with the management of working conditions, leave, pay, staffing requirements and employee development and performance. Also includes the development of initiatives in relation to equal opportunity, diversity and health and safety. The Employee Record held on the NICS shared service HR Connect is specifically covered within this function.

5. Information & Communication

This function includes information relating to managing information and communication resources and includes networking and interactions with other areas of government and the community. Refers to activities associated with the maintenance of records and publications, the handling of enquiries received from the public and briefing material prepared for ministers and senior management in order to provide information regarding initiatives and development.

6. Strategic Management

This function includes managing medium to long-term organisational strategies and objectives. Refers to activities associated with monitoring and reviewing organisational performance, developing business plans and improving business processes. Also refers to the development of business continuity plans, equality and meetings.

7. Technology and Telecommunications

This function includes information relating to acquiring, developing and managing electronic information systems and communication technology/telecoms. Refers to activities associated with maintaining hardware and software, the implementation of new systems such as telephones and websites.

Section 2

Retention and Disposal Schedule

Ref. No.	Denotes entry in Retention & Disposal Schedule
Class	Relates to the activity the records represent.
Series	Relates to the record types or the types of transactions the records represent.
Retention Period	The period for which records must be retained before disposal is undertaken ¹ .
Final Action	Describes the final action that prompts the end of the retention period and the disposal method.

Destroy – All records which have a destroy schedule must be destroyed. Business Areas will carry out an assessment (at the end of the retention period or, in exceptional circumstances, where a function, service or activity discontinues) to determine if there is a continuing business need to retain the records. The continued retention of records after the end of the retention period should only be considered if the information is subject to an ongoing legal, audit or FOI case. Destruction must be approved by IAOs. Where there is no continuing business need to retain, the records will be destroyed by the Department's IMU.

PRONI Appraisal– following a review by business areas, a further assessment of the records by PRONI will be carried out to determine historical value and if so determined, the records will transfer to PRONI for archival preservation, storage and access when they have reached the legal definition of 'historical records'.

Permanent Preservation by PRONI – based on a pre-determination, the records will transfer to PRONI as Northern Ireland public records for archival preservation, storage and access when they have reached the legal definition of 'historical records'.

Permanent Retention by Department – based on a pre-determination, the records will remain in the Department as permanent living records.

¹ In relation to a physical file, this is calculated from the date of the last paper; for electronic records, calculated from the date of the final record.
